Oil Drum Full Of Explosives Discovered

A tense drama was played out last night off Lucas Valley Road when Marin narcotics agents, acting on a tip, found an oil drum filled with bombs, hand grenades and an automatic rifle.

Army demolition experts were testing the bombs today at Fort Cronkhite to determine what they are.

Two narcotics agents found the cache in a remote creek bed after an anonymous male caller gave directions to sheriff's Lt. James Schwedhelm after asking if he was "interested in some explosives."

Schwedhelm said he received the call about 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

The two drug abuse agents were soon joined by other sheriff's officers, Marin County firemen and bomb disposal squads from the Presidio of San Francisco and the San Francisco Police Department.

The 50-gallon oil drum was found, camouflaged by leaves and old newspapers, in a 10-foot gully off of Lucas Valley Road near Big Rock on the way to Nicasio.

With huge lights set up by the fire department casting an eerie aura around the heavily forested area, bomb demolition crews worked past 9 p.m. slowly removing the arsenal from the drum.

Hooks and long lines were used to pull three cardboard boxes, containing the weapons, from the drum, and with each slow move the officers present ducked behind trees as precaution against an explosion.

Schwedhelm said the boxes contained 17 pipe bombs, some already equipped with timers, two hand grenades and an automatic rifle, either an M-16 or an AR-15.

Orr Is Fired As Fairfax Police Chief

City Officials Will Not Talk; Details Sketchy

The firing was in the form of a "notice of dismissal" from City Administrator Robert E. Crowe.

Crowe today confirmed the dismissal but refused to detail charges against the chief. He said that he could not comment on whether the firing was on his own responsibility or by action of the city council.

Since all the action against Orr was taken behind closed doors and no open session was held at which any decision on the firing was reached or announced, details of the matter remained sketchy.

Crowe said that until he talks with Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet, that he cannot reveal what went on in three closed sessions in which the council and Crowe discussed Orr.

Van Vliet was in San Francisco on private business today and wasn't available for comment, Crowe said. Neither was Orr available for comment.

Named acting chief was Lt. Charles Grasso, who joined the Fairfax force in July 1957.

Crowe predicted that a special council session would be called by the mayor as soon as he and Crowe can confer. Apparently, at this session a decision will be made whether to reveal the charges against Orr.

Unofficially, the charges discussed in prior meetings involved Orr's failure to report juvenile alcohol purchases to the state Alcoholic Beverage Control board, neglecting to tell Crowe where he was during Orr's recent vacation, pulling a gun on a cadet in the police office two years ago and other infractions.

Orr was hired as chief in 1962 after 10 years on the San Anselmo police force.

Seven Indicted In Prison Crimes

By C. P. McCARTHY

The Marin County Grand Jury — winding up a marathon session from which three jurors reportedly decamped in disgust — today indicted six San Quentin inmates and missing attorney Stephen M. Bingham for murder and numerous other crimes committed Aug. 21 during Soledad Brother George Jackson's break for freedom.

One grand juror today leveled a scathing attack on the jury and said he was considering resigning.

The jurors listened for almost 20 hours as Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales presented his case over two days, and they deliberated another four hours before voting the seven indictments at about 1 a.m.

The inmates indicted were Louis N. Talamantes, Hugo A. Pinell, John Larry Spain, Fleeta Drumgo, David Johnson and Willie Tate.

They and Bingham were charged with five counts of murder in connection with the deaths of San Quentin guards Frank P. Deleon, Paul A. Krasenes and Jere R. Graham and inmates Johnny M. Lynn and Ronald L. Kane Aug. 21.

Bingham and the six inmates were also charged with conspiracy to commit escape, possession of a firearm by an inmate and kidnapping.

The six inmates are also charged in the 12-count indictment with assault on a noninmate by a prisoner serving a life sentence, assault by nonlifers and assault with intent to commit murder.

LEAGUE GRID PLAY OPENS TONIGHT

Marin County Athletic League football teams begin their 1971 league season this weekend with one game tonight and two tomorrow.

Tamalpais and Terra Linda high schools clash tonight, 8 o'clock, on the San Rafael High School field. Tomorrow Sir Francis Drake High plays at Redwood High School in Larkspur at 1 p.m., and Novato and San Marin meet in an intracity game, 1:30 p.m., on the Novato High School field.

San Rafael High School has a non-league game tonight at Homestead High in Sunnyvale, and Marin Catholic plays at Cardinal Newman in Santa Rosa tomorrow night.

College of Marin plays host to Butte College in Kentfield tomorrow, 1 p.m. See details of all games in today's sports section.

Behr Wild River Bill Rejected By Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An attempt to put Northern California's last free-flowing rivers off limits to dam builders has been rejected by the Senate.

A measure by Sen. Peter Behr, R-San Rafael, which would have declared the Eel, Klamath, and Trinity to be "wild rivers" was defeated 19-14 Thursday.

The bill was rejected by the Senate on the same vote in August, but needed 27 votes to pass at that time. With 21 votes needed yesterday, the measure was dead this session.

Behr took a $50,000 appropriation out of the bill to make it a 21 vote measure, but his effort went in vain.

In proposing the measure again, he said he was "perfectly ready for a prolonged debate."

But he said "the bill has been vigorously lobbied," and the lawmakers were already aware of the arguments for and against the bill.

Behr charged opponents of the bill with "falsely" arguing that it would place the rivers under the control of the federal government and end control by the state legislature.

"Steelhead and salmon have run in these rivers," he said, "now we have red herrings."

"These rivers are indeed presently threatened," he said, because the legislature has already given control of them to the U.S. Corps of Engineers and the state Department of Water Resources.

Without this bill, Behr asserted, the rivers are "at the mercy of state and federal bureaucrats."

But veteran Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, said there was no need for the bill.

Collier, whos district includes all three rivers, argued the rivers were now safe from unnecessary dam building.

He said the "wage and price freeze" meant there would be no dams on the Eel River "for many years to come," and he said the Klamath and Trinity Rivers already have small dams on them.

He also denied assertions that the bill would protect steelhead fishing on the rivers.

Collier said dams on the Klamath and Trinity improved the fishing and "fishing on the Eel River was very good."

Besides, he added, silt makes the Eel river "so dirty you wouldn't want to fish on it anyway."

Collier said that dams may be needed on the Eel in the future for flood control.

The need for flood protection, Collier said, meant he opposed the bill as "not best for the people in the area in which I live."

Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, charged the bill could cost California needed water in the future.

Cologne, one of the strongest Southern California proponents of water, said placing the rivers under the protection of federal Wild Rivers Law would mean losing them forever as a source of water.

He said he would not call Californa's current water situation "critical" but asserted future needs might mean the state would have to turn to the three free-flowing rivers. And, he said, the federal government might refuse to let California use them.

SEWERAGE FIGHT

Big Districts Balk At Union

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Dissolution of virtually all sanitary districts in Marin and transfer of their duties to the two water districts won strong support last night from small sanitary districts, but opposition from big ones.

County Administrator John F. Barrows recommended the consolidation of the 11 districts last week to county supervisors and last night furnished copies of his report to the district officials.

His report concluded that consolidation would cut administrative costs and provide "more responsive and responsible government for the people served." Barrows noted that the Federal Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations concluded that water supply and sewage disposal were related, especially because of growing pressure for reuse of water.

The commission also reported "dramatic cost reductions per million gallons of sewage treated as the size of the plant is increased," Barrows said.

Citing public lack of interest in sewer services "except when that service fails," Barrows acknowledged that the public does not care which agency provides the service. He added that the sanitary districts had performed "in a most competent manner," and that his recommendation that they be dissolved did not reflect on their performance.

Barrows also suggested consolidating the Marin Municipal and North Marin County water districts, which would handle sewerage under his proposal, but said this should be under-

Union Shuts East Ports; Nixon Reviewing Walkout

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Atlantic seaboard longshoremen went on strike Friday, effectively closing all U.S. ports except for a few on the Gulf of Mexico.

Pacific Coast ports had been shut down by a longshoremen's strike for three months when most of 45,000 Atlantic port dock workers began their walkout shortly after midnight. Their action caught ships tied up from Portland, Maine, to Beaumont-Port Arthur, Tex., 78 in New York Harbor alone.

By midday the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) was spreading to ports where dockworkers previously had voted to stay on the job—New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and Lake Charles, La. Houston and Galveston, Tex., were the main ports that remained open.

President Nixon, encouraged by negotiation progress in a West Coast dock strike, held off invoking the Taft-Hartley Act today despite the spreading walkout.

"We do not feel there is a national emergency in existence," said Ronald L. Ziegler, presidential press secretary, at

Building Halt Urged In Novato

The Novato Planning Commission last night called for preparation of a resolution aimed at halting all building in Novato until a new general plan for the city has been completed.

The action came at a meeting marked by an outpouring of concern that the city's character and the residents' way of life was endangered by present development trends.

Earlier this year, the North Marin Federation of Homeowners' Association, alarmed over a "surge of townhouse and apartment projects" in Novato, had asked a moratorium on this type of building until the city's general play could be updated.

Last night, the city's planning director, Brian W. Mattson, recommended that a halt on all building be put into effect until a new general plan is drawn.

The council at the end of a three-hour public discussion voted to ask the planning staff to draw up such a moratorium resolution to be considered at the Oct. 11 meeting.

No specific time limit on such

Reagans To Get Japan Welcome

TOKYO (UPI)—The Japanese government decided today to receive Gov. and Mrs. Ronald Reagan as official guests of the government when they visit Japan Oct. 17-23.

Official guest status means that the Reagans will be received by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato, leader of Japan's conservative government, and will be given other protocol privileges.

Pompidou Decries U.S. War Strikes

PARIS (UPI) — President Georges Pompidou Friday condemned U.S. air strikes into North Vietnam and charged that the South Vietnamese have not been allowed to hold "truly free" elections.

Pompidou, in a toast during a lavish lunch at the Elysee Palace for visiting Communist Chinese officials, repeated a demand that the United States get out of Vietnam.

Senate Presses Nixon On Total Viet Drawback

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon faces the collective pressure of the U.S. Senate to withdraw from Vietnam by spring —totally and without regard to the future of the American-backed government in Saigon.

For the second time this year, members approved Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's amendment establishing a national policy for complete disengagement from Indochina within six months. The only condition attached is that North Vietnam must simultaneously release all U.S. prisoners of war and account for the missing.

The roll call vote was 57 for, 38 against, with California's senators, Alan Cranston and John Tunney, both Democrats, voting for the amendment.

The vote came Thursday,

THE FLAMES OF DISSENT — A South Vietnamese disabled war veteran uses his crutch to scatter a fire set by pro-Thieu demonstrators near a meeting held by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. The Ky meeting was protesting the one-man — Thieu — presidential election scheduled for Sunday. Combat police used tear gas to disperse demonstrators protesting the meeting.

(UPI Telephoto)

More Anti-Thieu Demonstrations

SAIGON (UPI) — Demonstrations against the one-man presidential race of President Nguyen Van Thieu broke out today in Saigon and in Hue, 400 miles to the north. One demonstration in Saigon degenerated into a grim frolic in which 6-year-old children hurled firebombs.

In the ancient imperial capital of Hue, where police used teargas and fired rifles to break up crowds of rioting students and veterans, the demonstrations took on an antiAmerican tone. There were caricatures of President Nixon as a puppeteer manipulating Thieu and of Nixon riding in a cart dangling a carrot in front of Thieu, depicted as a donkey.

The Hue demonstrations began at the An Quang sect Buddhist school inside Hue's old imperial citadel, which was held by the Communists for 33 days during the 1968 Tet offensive. A group of 400 students marched out of the citadel into the city where they began burning election posters.

Students from the University of Hue began a second demonstration nearby. When they began stripping down election posters, police began firing tear gas cannisters and were met with a volley of rocks and firebombs. One policeman was injured.

Wounded veterans carrying firebombs joined the demonstrations.

In Saigon, an anti-Thieu demonstration at the An Quang pagoda, headquarters of militant Buddhists who are boycotting the election, got out of hand and 100 youths and small children began hurling Molotov cocktails. They scattered quickly when police fired tear gas.

Older demonstrators firebombed an American contracting company truck, the third truck the company has lost to firebombing this week. Police called in 200 reinforcements to prevent further outbreaks under Thieu's shoot-to-kill orders.

In the nearby Petrus Ky quarter, several hundred students and war veterans shouting "down with Thieu" built a barricade in the street. Police smothered the area with 60 rounds of tear gas but did not try immediately to storm the barricades.

Earlier today in Saigon, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said the people of South Vietnam should boycott Sunday's election to show they oppose Thieu's "tyranny."

South Viets, U.S. Air Support 'Break Back' Of Red Offensive

SAIGON (UPI)—A South Vietnamese commander said today government troops with massive U.S. air support had "broken the back" of a major North Vietnamese offensive along the Cambodian border designed to disrupt the South Vietnamese election Sunday.

But the North Vietnamese surrounded and kept up a heavy bombardment of an isolated American outpost on the Cambodian border. One GI has been killed and 32 wounded at the post, Fire Base Pace, since the Communist offensive began last Saturday.

B52s today hit North Vietnamese troop and storage positions three miles east and 10 miles south of Pace. Helicopter reconnaissance indicated that hundreds of NVA had been killed in the aerial bombardments, U.S. military sources said.

The overall situation along the Cambodian border 85 miles northwest of Saigon was so improved that American forces were able to withdraw a long range gun battery from Katum Fire Base 15 miles due east of Fire Base Pace.

"I think we've broken the back of the Communist offensive," said Maj. Gen. Nguyen Xuan Tinh, commander of the South Vietnamese 25th Infantry Division.

The big guns withdrawn from Katum were escorted toward Tay Ninh 50 miles north of Saigon by the 1,000-man 2nd Squadron of the American 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

American B52s today pounded North Vietnamese troop concentrations in support of the allied counteroffensive as the Communists kept up harassing attacks against South Vietnamese bases around Krek, a rubber plantation town which has been the center of the fighting for five days. But the tempo of the North Vietnamese shellings had fallen off sharply.

Carson Son Jailed On Dope Charges

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—Seaman Richard Carson, 19, son of television personality Johnny Carson, was arrested Thursday on marijuana possession charges.

Police said Carson, a petty officer first class, and Gary Golden, 21, Levittown, N.Y., were arrested driving on Interstate 95. Their car passed one occupied by three narcotics agents and "certain techniques used by Carson and his companion indicated marijuana was being used," officials said.

The men pleaded innocent to possession charges in Cranston District Court and were released.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

China Celebrates

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist China marked its 22nd anniversary today with subdued celebrations that gave no clue to the cause of what is believed to be a major leadership crisis.

The scrapping of some traditional main features of the national day activities in Peking heightened the mystery.

Instead of the state banquet usually given by the State Council Cabinet and hosted by Premier Chou En-Lai, two receptions were held Thursday night in Peking's Great Hall of the People.

One was given by the Foreign Ministry for foreign diplomats and delegations, with Vice Premier Li Hsien-nein and Vice President Tung Pi-wu acting as hosts, while the other was given by the foreign relations department of the Communist party Central Committee for "Marxist-Leninist delegations and friends from various countries." Hosts were Yao Wenyuan, a ranking member of the Central Committee's political bureau, and Keng Piao, head of the party's foreign affairs department.

Irishman Shot

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Gunmen wounded a civilian today in a fresh outbreak of shooting in Belfast's Shankill Road area, security forces spokesmen said.

The spokesmen said the civilian entered Royal Victoria Hospital where doctors attended to a wound in his hip inflicted by a sniper's bullet.

Two bombs exploded in the Falls Road area, but caused no casualties, an army spokesman said.

The new incidents followed shootings last night and an assertion by Protestant militant leader Rev. Ian Paisley that "the Protestant loyalist community has come to the end of the road" in attacks by Irish Republican Army (IRA) gunmen.

Prisoners Freed

MADRID (UPI) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco today decreed a general amnesty of prisoners, including 426 political prisoners, to mark the 35th anniversary of his ascension to power.

The decree, issued in the official state bulletin, came as thousands of banner-waving Spaniards pressed into the Plaza del Oriente to pay homage to the aging chief of state in what was called the largest political rally in Spanish history.

The pardon affects all persons serving sentences in Spanish jails except those who have been condemned to death and had their sentences commuted.

More Unrest

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Mayor Hans Tanzler called today for the city's black leadership to help cool tension in black neighborhoods following the second straight night of racial disorder.

Tanzler placed a square-mile downtown area under a curfew last night after gangs of black youths tossed rocks and bottles at motorists and firebombed and looted stores.

"We have just got to have some leadership out of the black community," Tanzler said. "They have got to stand up and be counted. If the black leadership stands up and really helps, then law enforcement can stand up and do its job."

At least 35 persons were arrested during the disturbance which calmed down about an hour after Tanzler imposed the curfew at 9:30 p.m. Several persons .

Attempt Fails

BEIRUT (UPI) — An attempt against the life of Mustafa Barzani, the leader of Iraq's Kurdish minority, failed. But it is certain to produce increased instability wihin Iraq's already shaky political structure, diplomatic sources said today.

Baghdad Radio said Thursday Barzani, 67, escaped unhurt from the assassination attempt Wednesday. Three of his guards were killed and 10 were wounded.

Prison Riot

ASHKALON, Israel (UPI) — Nearly 500 Arab guerrilla prisoners revolted for two hours in Ashkalon jail yesterday and Israeli Prisoner Commissioner Arie Nir said the inmates apparently were inspired by the Attica, N.Y., uprising.

Nir appointed an investigation commission which began today its inquiry into the worst jail rioting in Israel since the 1967 war.

A guard and 10 guerrillas were injured in the riot in the jail, a squalid police station converted to hold 480 guerrillas in 20 cells.

Disney Debut

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Walt Disney World threw open its gates more than two hours ahead of schedule today and thousands of visitors streamed into the vast entertainment complex.

The first visitors to the $400 million showplace when it opened at 7:40 a.m. were a Lakeland, Fla., couple and two small children who spent the night in a small foreign car to be the first in line.

The state highway patrol had expected about 20,000 visitors on the first day.

Regent Upholds Angela's Firing

BERKELEY (UPI) —The Chairman of the University of California Board of Regents today accused a report by a group of professors criticizing the firing of black militant Angela Davis of "evident and pervasive bias."

Chairman William French Smith said the report Thursday by the American Association of University Professors assumed Miss Davis was not reappointed because she was a Communist.

French and Dewitt A. Higgs, immediate past chairman of the board, released a reply they sent in June to the association in answer to a draft copy of the report.

"One of the principal themes of the report is that the Regents were so incensed by the fact of Miss Davis' Communist Party membership that the stated bases for their action of not reappointing her were merely a pretext to support a predetermined result," the letter from French and Higgs said.

"One cannot avoid a similar conclusion concerning the investigating report," the two added.

French and Higgs said today that "the Regents' action was based upon entirely different grounds."

"What is most disturbing about the report is its evident and pervasive bias."

The two pointed out that the Dean of College and Letters and Science at UCLA contended the rehiring of Miss Davis would give it "sudden precedence over 52 already needed positions in nearly every department of the college."

They also said Miss Davis never presented the dean of humanities with "a detailed account and evaluation" of her progress toward a Phd.

"The investigating committee compounds its bias by a display of undue solicitude for Miss Davis," the two said.

The professors report, they said, claimed Miss Davis must have had less than "normal time for research on account of the earlier actions of the Regents."

"If her speaking engagements constituted distractions," they said, "they are no justification for failure to perform scholarly obligations."

$100,000 To Callaway First Wife; $1 To Last

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Fuller E. (Clay) Callaway III, the Georgia sportsman and jetsetter who took his own life, has left $100,000 to the first of three wives and $1 to the last one.

The will, filed for probate in San Mateo County superior court, had originally left $100,000 to his third wife, New York stage actress Annette Cash, when it was drawn up in May, 1965, but was changed a year later to reduce her amount to only $1.

Callaway, who was a record-setting yachtsman, died Sept. 21 at the age of 39 of an overdose of barbiturates in his lavish Atherton, mansion.

Callaway's first wife, Wanda, now Mrs. James D. Warren of Atherton, got $100,000 and her husband $10,000 in Callaway's will. His second wife, Pia Lindstrom, New York television personality who is the daughter of actress Ingrid Bergman, also received $10,000.

WALL COMES TUMBLING DOWN

Firemen fighting a blaze in an abandoned packing plant in Omaha, Neb., scramble for safety as one wall of the huge structure collapses into a pile of burning rubble. Two firemen were injured while fighting the blaze, which Fire Chief Vernon Van Scoy said appeared to have been deliberately set. The intense four-alarm fire lit up the night sky around Omaha for hours. (UPI Telephoto)

Dixie Seeks Accord On $16,000 Athletic Field

The Dixie School District board has authorized Supt. Clifford W. Campbell to work out a joint agreement with the Terra Linda Athletic Association and the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department for development of a multi-use athletic field at Vallecito School.

Campbell said the project authorized Wednesday night by the board calls for expenditure of $7,000 each by the school district and the City of San Rafael and $2,000 by the association.

The Dixie School District Board also:

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Decided to try outdoor education by setting up nature trips in Marin including field trips to Point Reyes National Seashore, Richardson Bay, Samuel F. Taylor Park, Bolinas Lagon and various hillsides in the county.

TELEVISION — Appropriated $807 for a contract with KQED to provide its educational television service and teacher manuals. The schools would receive the service through cable television in the elementary schools.

UNIFICATION — Set an Oct. 6 meeting between the San Rafael elementary and high school districts and the Dixie School District to discuss the election in June next year for the unification of the three districts. Campbell said statistics of the districts would be discussed as well as what information to get to voters on the election required by state law.

WORKSHOP — Hired Gerhard Lust for $80 to conduct two two-hour workshops to teach teachers how to use new gymnastic and exercise equipment the district has purchased.

JOB DESCRIPTIONS — Set up job descriptions for part-time teachers, teacher-assistants, and instructional aides.

SALARY DESCRIPTIONS — Said part-time teachers would be paid on the same schedule as full-time teachers except that their salaries would be pro-rated for the number of hours worked; set $4 per hour salary for teacher-assistants (the district has two), and placed instructional aides on a salary schedule from $2.70 an hour beginning to $3.31 an hour after four years.

DELEGATE — Chose Dorothy Brown as its candidate for delegate to the California School Boards Association Assembly.

Drug Abuse Is Meeting Topic

The Novato Citizens Advisory Committee on Human Needs will hold a town meeting on drug abuse at 8 p.m. Oct. 14 at Hill Junior High School, according to Mayor Joseph D. Gargiulo.

The committee, established by the city council early this year, has scheduled the meeting to get the views of residents, he said.

It will be the first of three scheduled public meetings. Emergency services will be discussed Nov. 17 and poverty on Dec. 8, both tentatively scheduled at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community House.

Window Is Forced Bar Burglarized

Burglars obtained more than $1,000 in loot from The Cellars bar, 534 Third Street, early yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

Entry was made through a forced window. The burglars took $300 worth of liquor, $521 in cash, a $150 pair of binoculars and a box of golf balls valued at $64, police said.

Judge Orders Firm To Refund Vacation Fee

MARTINEZ (UPI) —A judge has ordered Vacations Limited, of Walnut Creek, to refund $9.95 "processing" charges to persons who were awarded "free" vacations by the firm.

Superior Judge Joseph Genser said that unless the refunds are made, James Lynch, president of the firm, and Gerald Swart, its owner, would be sent to jail for five days and fined $300 each.

The complaint filed by the Contra Costa County district attorney's office said the firm solicited persons through a "contest" in which everyone was a winner. The prize was a free vacation. However, according to the charges, the "processing fee" was imposed and many times the reservations promised were not made at hotels in Nevada resorts.

A land sale program was involved in the business.

Booze On Election Day Is Considered

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—A bill which would end the "dry blues" on election day by permitting bars to open is under consideration in the Michigan Legislature.

Election day dry laws date back to a time when it was feared unscrupulous candidates would attempt to trade drinks for a vote.

Planner — Base Use, Ecology Compatible

A new Marin County Planning Commissioner said yesterday that there can be substantial civilian use of Hamilton Air Force Base without harming the environment.

William B. Lynch, manager of North Bay operations for Coca Cola Bottling Co., told the Novato Chamber of Commerce the need to "make Hamilton more productive" has to be considered.

However, he said, he didn't mean "going in whole hog," and ruining the environment, but development within a sound plan for the environment.

Lynch spoke of the need to make Marin County "more economically viable" and said accessibility and air transportation are important to firms seeking locations.

Through the years people have become complacent about the economic stability at the base, but this cannot be assured, Lynch said.

In his business, he said, he can't rely on the volume of dollars from the base that have come in the past.

However, he said, there has been an increase in sales at the commissary and base exchange, indicating that more retired persons are shopping there.

Lynch cited the property tax burden and saw the need for the county and cities to develop new sources of revenue.

Employees such as teachers, policemen and firemen cannot afford to live where they work and "the young cannot find good stable employment," he said.

Lynch said the count is in a "transitional stage" and its master plan should be changed. He commented that the planning commission's role as a "jury" considering the merits of individual cases has "over the years" surpassed its "principal role of planning."

He noted plans for major shopping centers in Corte Madera and Novato, both of which would compete with Northgate, and felt that the county and cities will have to "find ways to share resources" and coordinate plans.

$250 Vandalism At New Homes Site

New homes under construction on Mahogany Drive, San Rafael, have sustained $250 vandalism damage, police reported today.

Contractor Horst Hanf said two windows and tiles on a swimming pool were broken sometime Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

Toronto's Outlay For Fighting VD

TORONTO (UPI) — Ontario will spend $2 million this year—$50,000 more than in 1970—to fight venereal disease, says Health Minister Thomas Wells.

Wells said the 9,368 cases reported in 1970 was the highest in the province since 1946 and that the increased budget would be used for establishment of three new clinics, free medication and a publicity campaign aimed at educating the public about venereal disease.

The Volkswagen Squareback.
It's as economical to run as our little bug.
And just about as easy to park. Because outside, it's about the same size as our bug.
But inside, it's more like our box.
It can seat 4. Plus hold just about 50% more luggage than the biggest domestic sedan.

About 80 persons attended the special meeting of the supervisors in the Civic Center to hear Barrows' recommendation. Most of the audience was composed of sanitary district board members.

Arguing against consolidation, at least now, were spokesmen for Novato, Las Gallinas Valley, Ross Valley, Tiburon and the Sausalito-Marin City sanitary districts. The last two, however, said they expected to favor some future consolidation, perhaps preferring something less than countywide consolidation.

Thomas D. Hardcastle, chairman of the Novato district, said fragmentation of sanitary districts was "a South Marin problem." He noted that Novato voters two years ago "decisively" rejected consolidation of the sanitary and water districts, "so why kick a dead horse? We're doing fine up in North Marin."

Peter A. Ribar, a director of the Ross Valley Sanitary District, insisted that "we know our business," and that existing districts were best able to assure citizens that "when you push that lever, the toilet flushes."

Sesto F. Lucchi, a director of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, said consolidation would "just take away local control." He said local control was more important than economies from consolidation.

Lucchi argued that the Marin Municipal Water District was "too busy with water problems" to tackle sewerage as well.

But the president of the water district, Robert G. Anderson, declared he was "all for" consolidation. "We ought to go all the way," he said.

Anderson referred to existing sanitary districts as "little kingdoms."

William R. Seeger, general manager of the water district, took no position on consolidation, but declared he was disturbed "over continual delay at cleaning up Marin County." It made no difference how sewage pollution problems were solved, he said, adding, "but for Lord's sake, let's get going and do it!"

Seeger was irritated by anonymous hisses that greeted him when he stood up to speak, and at first sat down angrily, then rose again to make his remarks.

Support for consolidation also came from George A. Amaroli, a director of the North Marin County Water District. "It's time to stop running 21 sanitary districts in Marin County," he declared.

Mill Valley City Councilman Jerome C. Hauke also called for consolidation of the sanitary "fiefdoms."

Hauke criticized the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission for always "defending the small districts." He called upon the commission to "wipe them out." He noted that Barrows long has been the commission's administrative officer.

Other support for consolidation came from spokesmen for the Tamalpais Community Services District, Homestead Valley Sanitary District and Theodore C. Wellman, a member of the environmental committee of the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

Wellman said that water supply and treatment of waste water "are going to have to be under one head." He suggested that Marin Municipal Water District may lose the Nov. 2 referendum on the new aqueduct from Sonoma County, thus may have to turn to recycling waste water sooner than planned.

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. commented that it "seems crazy" to spend millions of dollars to import water from the Russian River "without talking about reclamation."

Arrigoni warned that unless the county consolidated the fragmented districts, the state will. (Legislation today is awaiting the governor's signature that would create a Bay Area sewerage agency to build regional facilities when local agencies fail to do so.)

Supervisor Arnold M. Baptiste suggested an alternative to consolidation could be joint power agreements among the sanitary districts. He said he will ask the full board of supervisors to send a questionnaire to all sanitary districts for their reactions to Barrows' proposed consolidation.

The 11 districts that would be dissolved under his proposal would be the Sausalito-Marin City, Homestead Valley, Almonte, Tiburon, Alto, Richardson Bay, Ross Valley, Corte Madera, San Rafael, Las Gallinas Valley and Novato sanitary districts.

GRAPE FESTIVAL: GETTING READY

ban of San Rafael, Harold K. Graves Jr. of Mill Valley and James D. Kilty of San Anselmo left the Hall of Justice following the jury's vote on the indictments, but prior to the arrival of Judge E. Warren McGuire at about 1:20 a.m. to accept the indictments.

Grand jury foreman Milen C. Dempster told Judge McGuire that at least 12 of the jury's 19 members were present and had voted for the indictments.

Beban said today he was "disgusted" and was considering resigning from the jury.

He charged that the "society the grand jury represents is racist and paranoid" and that security measures at the Hall of Justice since the Aug. 7, 1970, shoot-out increased the paranoia.

"The good people of Marin whom this grand jury represents are inflicted with racist and economic bias," he said.

Judge McGuire scheduled arraignment of the six inmates for 9 a.m. Tuesday in his court.

Bingham, an East Bay attorney and son of a former Connecticut state senator, was previously charged by Bales in Marin Municipal Court with the five counts of murder.

The indictment eliminates the need for municipal court proceedings if and when Bingham is found.

The indictment lists eight overt acts to bolster the conspiracy charge.

It charges that Bingham smuggled an automatic pistol and ammunition to inmate George Jackson, who reportedly then launched the escape attempt in which he and the five others died.

The indictment says that Jackson, upon returning to the adjustment center from a visit with Bingham, pulled out the gun from a wig and took guard Urbano Rubiaco Jr. prisoner and ordered him to open the cells on the first floor of the adjustment center.

"Members of the conspiracy" then tied the hands and feet of three guards, including Krasenes and Deleon who were later killed when their throats were slashed.

Jackson took guard Charles C. Breckenridge prisoner and turned him over to Pinell and others who took him to a cell, according to the indictment.

Spain handcuffed Rubiaco and took him to the same cell, it said.

Spain and Jackson took guard Graham prisoner and Jackson shot and killed him with the pistol, the indictment said.

The other two guards and the inmates, who reportedly refused to go along with the escape attempt, were killed "by members of the conspiracy," the indictment charged.

Spain fled the adjustment center with Jackson, but dove into some bushes when guards opened fire. Jackson was killed, but Spain was not injured.

Talamantes is already awaiting trial in Marin Superior Court in connection with an assault on another prisoner in March 1970.

Alviso Annex Vote Held Valid

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The city of Alviso has lost another effort by some of its residents to remain independent of San Jose. Santa Clara County Superior Court Thursday found that the election by which Alviso voted to join San Jose was valid.

A group of residents had challenged the results on grounds that 22 persons voted illegally under inducements from San Jose.

A finding in an earlier trial which split the disputed votes was overturned by the state supreme court.

The vote in 1968 was 189 to 180 for consolidation with San Jose.

BUILDING

a freeze was set last night, but most speakers talked in terms of six or eight months.

The evening's theme was sounded by Guthrie R. Greene, a retired infantry colonel and president of the federation which represents 11 homeowners' groups in Novato.

Greene, who emphasized that "we are not opposed to housing for low and moderate income persons," declared the boom in townhouses and apartments in the past year, which he said had been built in accordance with the present general plan, adopted in 1967.

The colonel noted that "it is remarkable we came to the same conclusion as the planner (Mattson) without ever having any meetings with him."

Greene also asked that additional planning staff be hired and that more planning commission meetings be held in order to update the general plan, which he suggested should limit multiple housing.

He was joined by other speakers, mainly representing homeowners' groups, who, in the words of one, asked that "we reverse the trend — we've been letting the developers do our planning for us."

A San Marin resident wanted an annual limit on the number of building permits to be issued.

Only a few persons in the approximately 60-member audience spoke against a building moratorium.

Roger Strawick, who described himself as a "small builder," said that he understood the "fear that the way of life in Novato is going to change," but insisted there is no need to halt construction in order to update the general plan.

Planning commissioners present (Chairman Paul Oatis and James Picchi were absent) generally agreed with the homeowner groups, however.

Richard O'Connell said that the rate of growth in the past year "bothered" him, and John Schoonover, who chaired the session, said he thought the moratorium was needed.

Commissioner Beverly Ehreth said pointedly to the audience, that "you speak of the beauty of the land (in Novato), but it was much prettier before many of you came here."

She asked that citizens let the commission know what they want the city to become.

SENATE

three days before Sunday's South Vietnamese election in which President Nguyen Van Thieu is running unopposed.

The Thieu re-election was branded in Thursday's debate as a "Communist-style election" and a repudiation of all that the United States has fought for.

The Mansfield amendment was attached as a rider to the $21 billion military procurement bill. The language cannot become law until it is passed by the House, which rejected it in June, and the entire bill is signed by the President.

Key House members said they believed the Mansfield amendment probably would attract more support than it did when it was defeated 219 to 176 June 26. The leaders, however, declined to predict the outcome.

If Nixon vetoed the measure he would delay millions of dollars worth of new equipment for the armed services authorized in the procurement bill.

The amendment —unlike earlier antiwar proposals that have been rejected by the Senate— would not cut off appropriations for the war. But, if enacted, some members of Congress believe, it would constitutionally bind the President to execute the policy it lays down.

The amendment says: "It is hereby declared to be the policy of the United States to terminate at the earliest practicable date all military operations of the United States in Indochina and to provide for the prompt and orderly withdrawal of all United States military forces not later than six months after the date of enactment of this section subject to release of all American prisoners of war held by the government of North Vietnam and forces allied with such government."

Additionally, it urges the President to negotiate an immediate cease-fire by all parties.

The passage of the measure followed shouted exchanges across the center aisle and public confessions of guilt for the war and its casualties.

"We are all to blame," said Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., the Republican national chairman, charged that the same people who voted for the "declaration of war" in Vietnam seven years ago were now voting for a "declaration of peace."

"I object," he said. "The senator from Kansas may have voted for a declaration of war but the senator from Montana did not. The Gulf of Tonkin Resolution was not a declaration of war." "It's time Congress shared some of the blame," Dole said.

Mansfield said he was only trying to help the President remove "an albatross from around his neck" but Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott claimed the Democrats were trying to take credit "for doing what the President is already doing —ending the war."

The procurement bill, with the amendment in it, probably will be passed Wednesday. It then will go to a Senate-House conference to resolve differences with the House version, which contains no such amendment.

Second Concert Slated By Trio

a news briefing at Key Biscayne, Fla., where Nixon is spending the weekend.

Last weekend, in Portland, Ore., Nixon said use of the Taft-Hartley Act, under which the president could ask the federal courts to order the strikers back to work for an 80-day cooling off period, would be "automatic" if the dock workers struck on the East Coast while the West Coast workers were out.

Negotiatiations to head off the strike continued past the Thursday midnight expiration of the ILA's contracts with various shipping associations, but even the good offices of assistant Labor Secretary W. J. Berry Jr. could not produce a settlement.

Meanwhile, most of the nation's soft coal miners invoked their traditional "no-contract, no-work" position today after negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new pact. The talks, seemingly at an impasse, were recessed for the weekend.

A federal mediator, who has been sitting in on negotiations between the miners' union and bituminous producers, said this afternoon the participants "were not even close" to agreement.

OBITUARIES

Longtime Resident P. Caletti

Peter Caletti, longtime San Rafael businessman and property owner, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness. He was 92.

Caletti was born in Tornavento, Italy, and in 1901 came to San Rafael, where he lived the rest of his life.

Proud of having passed his citizenship test with a 100 per cent grade, Caletti shared his knowledge with hundreds of other Italian immigrants, tutoring them before their tests. He also frequently went to court as a witness for new citizens.

Caletti acquired the Mission Inn and Apartments about 60 years ago and operated it until his retirement about 20 years ago. At the time he retired, he and his wife, Maria R. Caletti, moved to a home at 220 Laurel Place.

In recent years he had managed property he owned in San Rafael.

He was a member of San Rafael Elks Lodge No. 1108 for more than 45 years. He also belonged to Club Italia.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lillian C. Bence of Los Angeles, Marie P. Caletti of San Rafael and Mrs. Rose Catalano of San Francisco; two brothers, Ernest and Angelo Caletti of Petaluma; two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Entombment will be in Mount Tamalpais Mausoleum.

San Rafael Elks Lodge No. 1108 will hold services at 8 p.m. Sunday at Keaton's Chapel.

Rodman E. Luckin of Ignacio, former president of the Loma Verde Parent-Teacher Association, died yesterday in a local hospital following a long illness. He was 45.

Luckin, who lived at 417 Alameda Del Prado, took part in Boy Scout and Little League activities, in addition to parent-teacher work. He also was a member of Valley Baptist Church, San Rafael.

Luckin was a systems analyst for a San Mateo County lead company.

Born in Williamstown, N.J., Luckin had lived in Marin eight years. He attended the University of Pennsylvania and Rutgers University.

Survivors are his wife, Beverly; four sons, Craig, Gary, Jay and Scott, all at home; his mother, Anna I. Luckin, and a sister, Arlene E. Richner of West Hollywood, Fla.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be private.

REV. WALSH

Memorial service for Rev. Stanley H. Walsh of San Rafael, former pastor of Valley Baptist Church in Santa Venetia, will be at 4 p.m. Sunday at the church, 3 North San Pedro Raod.

Walsh, 61, died Wednesday in a Las Vegas hospital, apparently of a heart attack. He was returning from a vacation in Glen Canyon National Park, Ariz., when he suffered the attack.

He was born in Calgary, Alberta, and came to California in 1918. He served as pastor at Baptist churches in three California communities before coming to San Rafael: Soledad, Monterey County; Corning, Tehama County and Dixon, Solano County.

In 1956 Walsh moved to Marin and became pastor of the Bret Harte Baptist Church. A new sanctuary was built the next year in Santa Venetia and Reverend Walsh served as pastor of that church, renamed the Valley Baptist Church, until his retirement in 1963.

After his retirement Walsh acquired a realtor's license and worked for several Marin realty firms.

He is survived by his wife, Lillian, of the home address, 1027 Las Pavadas Avenue; a son, Paul, of Novato, and a daughter, Raedell Warren, of Mineral, Lassen County; a sister, Muriel Pieper, of Malibu, Los Angeles County, and a brother, Orville, of Oakland; and five grandchildren.

The family prefers contributions to the Valley Baptist Church in lieu of flowers.

C. A. KILGER

Carl A. Kilger, 76, owner of a San Francisco machine works and avid yachtsman, died unexpectedly yesterday at his home at 622 El Arroya Place, Novato.

Coroner's deputy Bill Thomas said that Kilger, who was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital, had a history of heart illness.

Born in San Francisco, Kilger had lived all his life in California, the past 14 years in Marin County.

Kilger first worked as a printer and then founded his own company in 1928, C. A. Kilger Machine Works, in San Francisco, a firm which manufactures and repairs printing presses and other machinery.

He was a member and rear commodore of the San Rafael Yacht Club and a charter member and director of the North Bay Yacht Club.

He also belonged to the Marin Rod and Gun Club and had been a member of Machinist Lodge No. 68 of San Franciscco for 50 years.

He and his wife, Gertrude M. Kilger, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1967.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Murielle F. O'Leary of Novato; two sisters, Agnes Condrin of Santa Rosa and Ruth Bruhn of San Francisco; a brother, Alex Kilger of San Francisco; two grandchildren and six-great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Church of the Redeemer, 121 Knight Drive, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private. Friends may call at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael until 9 p.m. today.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the Marin County Heart Association.

GERAARDT HOWARD

Memorial service for Geraardt M. (Bud) Howard of Belvedere, an industrialist and founder of the Belvedere Tennis Club, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the courtyard of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Belvedere.

Howard, 53, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

He is survived by his wife, Jean; three children, Dana and Richard of Belvedere and Gregory A. Brown of Alaska; four sisters, Emmie Lou Phillips, Harriett Adams and Pauline Tennant, all of San Francisco, and Maxine Larson of Portland, and two brothers, Henry W. Howard of Hillsborough and Joseph C. Howard of San Mateo.

NELSON FAULKNER

Nelson Faulkner, 67, former San Rafael title company manager, died unexpectedly yesterday at his Salinas home.

Faulkner managed the San Rafael Land and Title Co. from 1930 to 1933. His wife, the former Dolly Hewelcke, is a member of a Marin family.

Falukner had moved from San Rafael to Salinas to manage the Monterey County Title Co., which he headed until his retirement in 1969.

He was a graduate of Stanford University and earned a law degree at George Washington University in Washington, D.C. He served as a lieutenant commander in the Navy in World War II.

He was a member of many civic organizations in Salinas.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Tod Santos of Wilton, Sacramento County; a son, James N. Faulkner of Salinas; two brothers, Dr. Robert Faulkner of San Mateo and Thomas Faulkner of Oakland, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11:30 a.m. Saturday at Struve and Laporte Funeral Chapel, Lincoln Avenue and West San Louis Street, Salinas. Burial will be in the Queen of Heaven Cemetery.

Leslie Bacon's Arrest In Bomb Case Ruled Illegal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Antiwar activist Leslie Bacon was illegally arrested in April in a Washington, D.C. commune and flown 3,000 miles to Seattle for questioning about the bombing of the U.S. Capitol, a federal appeals court ruled Thursday.

Miss Bacon, 19, arrested by the FBI as a "material witness" to the March 1 bombing, was granted a petition for habeas corpus, and her "invalid" arrest warrant was ordered quashed by the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mike Rosen, one of Miss Bacon's attorneys, called the court decision "a great victory for civil liberties in this country."

The court ruling said the arrest warrant issued by Judge Goerge Boldt in Seattle April 22 was illegal since it assumed without proper basis that Miss Bacon, of Atherton, Calif., would not answer a subpoena.

LESLIE BACON
Wins appeal round

A proper arrest warrant, the court said, must be based on probable cause that testimony of the witness is material and that it would be "impractical" to use a subpoena. Miss Bacon also was under subpoena during the grand jury questioning.

The court said the first test can be met by assertion by the U.S. attorney, but the second must be based on sufficient facts.

"Mere assertion will not do," the court said. "As a basis for Bacon's arrest, the warrant was invalid."

Rosen said the ruling would permit anyone subpoenaed as a "material witness" to go to the nearest U.S. court and challenge the original subpoena.

While in Seattle, Miss Bacon testified for several days but later refused to answer questions. She was granted "limited" immunity by a federal judge but again refused to testify further and was held in contempt.

Attica Convicts Accuse Guards Of Beatings Following Outbreak

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Three convicts accused of leading the Attica state prison rebellion have testified there was a gauntlet of guards who beat prisoners after their cellblock was recaptured.

One said inmate Elliott James (L.D.) Barkely, listed among the 42 persons killed during the rioting and recapture Sept. 9-13, was seen after the prison was attacked and retaken.

Inmates Frank Lott, Roger (Champ) Champen and Herbert X. Blyden appeared Thursday in U.S. District Court, asking that they not be returned to Attica. Judge John T. Curtin ordered the men back to the correctional facility pending further hearings Monday.

All three testified they had been threatened and beaten after the recapture, repeating a story told by James P. Watkins, 24, Buffalo, a National Guardsman and law student who said he was in the prison Sept. 13 when it was recaptured and saw prisoners stripped and forced to run a gauntlet of guards who beat them.

Lott was asked, "Did you know L.D. Barkley?"

"Oh, yeah, L.D. I knew good," he testified.

Asked if he saw him, Lott replied, "Yeah I saw him just after we were taken into custody." He said Barkley was standing behind him "when we were stripped down and searched" in an exercise yard.

Lott stuck by his testimony in cross-examination.

Assemblyman Arthur O. Eve, D-Buffalo, said he had also seen Barkley alive after the prison was stormed. Barkley was listed among the 42 guards and inmates killed in the recapturing of the prison.

Lott first told of the gauntlet. "There were officers on both sides and they hit us with sticks and belts," he said. "I was running pretty fast because they were really hitting." He said since the takeover he has been "constantly harassed by correction officers with threats of death."

Champen, a tall black who wore a plain black suit, white shirt, white socks and black shoes said he was told to "crawl on the ground" in the exercise yard and was "snatched up by the collar and was kicked in the throat and hit in my head."

On several occasions since the rioting, prison officials warned "they were going to kill me," he said.

Cairo Withholds Comment On Eban's Peace Proposal

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Arab leaders today held off comment on Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban's challenge for direct negotiations on a Middle East settlement although United Nations observers said some reaction was likely next week from Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad.

One Arab comment came from M.T. Mehdli of the American League for Arab Relations.

"The proposals represent the wrong things at the wrong time," he said. "Mr. Eban should talk not with Egypt but with the Palestinians whose home he has been occupying for years."

Eban disclosed in his policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly Thursday that Israel had proposed a Middle East conference on the estimated 1.6 million Palestinian refugees from three wars in the area.

Riad will deliver a policy speech to the General Assembly next week and observers said he would likely have something to say about Eban's direct talks on settling the Middle East crisis.

Eban outlined what he called "five roads to peace" including a five-year plan to solve the problem of the refugees.

Eban suggested a conference of Middle Eastern nations which have given relief aid to the Palestinian refugees and U.N. agencies "in order to chart a five-year plan for the solution of the refugee problem and the integration of refugees into productive life."

In Tel Aviv, the commander of the Israeli Air Force warned Thursday that his country's Arab forces were in for "more surprises" if they underrate the aerial might of the Jewish state.

"Those who think they are through with the Israeli Air Force are in for surprises if they decide to put us to the test," said Maj. Gen. Mordecai Hod.

Bank Error Almost Cost $100,000

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A $100,000 bank error slipped through Mrs. Michael Patrick's hands undetected this week, but it gave a teller the jitters.

Mrs. Patrick stopped at a branch of Central National Bank near her home in suburban Parma Wednesday and bought a $31.17 money order for an insurance payment.

Without looking at the order, she popped it into an evelope and put it in a mail box. When she got home the bank teller who made out the order called her.

"He sounded kind of nervous," she said. "He asked me if I had looked at the money order and I said, no, I had just stuck it in an envelope and mailed it."

She said he told her: "Well, it appears I made a mistake. Instead of $31.17 I made it out for $100,031.17."

IN GINGER'S WAKE

A houseboat is washed ashore by heavy waves caused by the remnants of Hurricane Ginger yesterday in Morehead City, N.C. Ginger stalled today in the state's lush eastern farm belt, already having taken a multi-million toll on area crops. Ginger exhausted most of its 90-mile-an-hour wind Thursday after moving inland from Morehead City, then plodded northwest toward Raleigh today, causing many reports of flooding on the coast.

Photos Entered In Riot Case

STANFORD (UPI) — More than 100 photographs were recorded for evidence Thursday at a hearing for H. Bruce Franklin, Stanford University faculty member accused of inciting students to violence.

Photographers said they took the pictures Feb. 10 when the university's computation center was shut down by anti-war demonstrators.

A faculty advisory board hearing the case is to recommend whether Franklin, an avowed Maoist-Marxist should be fired. The final decision is to be made by university president Richard W. Lyman who has suspended the associate professor of English.

Panel Approves Three Buildings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The city Planning Commission gave its approval for three building projects Thursday, including a skyscraper for lower Market Street.

Other projects approved were for a master plan for the $100 million Pacific Medical Center in the Pacific Heights District and a school at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Judge Throws Out Phone Tax Challenge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Three suits challenging the legality of the 10 per cent telephone "war tax" have been thrown out of court by a federal judge who termed them "almost a fraud on the court."

Plaintiffs in the suits included Roger Kent, former chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and Urban Whitaker, former congressional candidate.

The protestors, who belong to a group called the Northern California Telephone War Tax Protest, claimed that a 10 per cent federal telephone tax was illegal because it was raised to its present rate to support an undeclared war.

Judge Robert H. Schnacke of U. S. District Court ordered the suits dismissed Wednesday, making these observations: "I look upon these actions as almost a fraud on the court. They are contrived; they are fictitious; they are pretended matters."

The judge also said that the protestors had "put together a fictitious type of arrangement that has already required substantial effort on the part of the United States in responding."

He concluded that "If I had the power to impose sanctions in a matter of this sort, I would do so."

The protestors had asked the court to prohibit the Internal Revenue Service from collecting the telephone excise tax from them until a ruling was made on the legality of the tax.

In the meantime, they had placed the tax money into trust funds with instructions the money would go to the government if the tax was declared legal or to the American Friends Service Committee if it was not.

Wiley Post Airport, established in 1928, was the first commercial airport in Oklahoma City.

Navy Will Buy 48 Top Fighters

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Navy will buy 48 more swingwing F14 Tomcat fighters from the Grumman Aerospace Corp.

The order was placed Thursday, one day after the Senate repulsed an attempt to block additional funds for the carrier lanes. Opponents contended during Senate debate the F14 can be outperformed by the plane it will replace, the F4 Phantom.

The Navy plans to buy 313 F14s at a total cost of $5.2 billion —$16.7 million per plane.

Car Theft Check

MANILA (UPI)—Civil aviation authorities are planning to install a closed circuit television system around the Manila International Airport parking lot to check an increasing number of car thefts in the area.

Hub Hires Interim Recreation Director

A San Anselmo park and recreation commissioner was hired last night as the city's part-time recreation director.

According to City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel, the city council named Commissioner Lawrence B. Gapinski to the $5-per-hour position.

Gapinski, who has been on the park and recreation commission for 17 months, was granted a leave of absence from commission duties so he could accept the position, Kaeppel said.

The new recreation director is employed as a lab administrator with Marin Medical Laboratories in San Rafael. He was appointed to the unpaid commission position in May 1970.

Kaeppel said Gapinski will act as director only until a full-time man is found. Currently, he said, the city is advertising for a director of both parks and recreation.

The position of recreation director was vacated yesterday by Frank L. Quinn who resigned in August after several years of service to the city.

Quinn came under fire during a recent budget hearing by the city council for promising jobs to students without means of funding the positions.

Kaeppel said he expects a full-time director to be hired by the first of the year. Deadline for application is Nov. 18, he said.

The council, which approved the hiring of Gapinski in closed session, also discussed the city employes' lawsuit against the city, he said.

Police officers, firemen and other employes have filed suit alleging the city failed to bargain in good faith during recent salary negotiations.

NYC Statehood Attempt Fails

NEW YORK (UPI)—The city clerk threw out a petition Thursday that would have put on the ballot in November the question of whether New York City should become a state.

City Clerk Herman Katz said although the petition had more than 55,000 signatures only about 35,000 were valid. The petition needed at least 45,000 valid signatures to get the proposal on the ballot.

The petitition, which was filed by a group headed by Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., would have asked the voters to approve the election of a commission to draft a new constitution to make the city a state.

Flood Zone Board Asks New Plan

The Novato flood control zone advisory board, faced with a $54,000 proposal from its consultants, has asked for a new proposal.

The consultants, Royston, Hanamoto, Beck and Abbey, San Francisco landscape architects, submitted a proposal Wednesday for three phases of work at a total cost of $54,000, reported Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer.

The three phases were: gathering of information, development of environmental and flood control goals, and development of an alternative system.

Murphy said the board requested a proposal covering the first two phases plus an evaluation of the Army Corps of Engineers' plan to channel Warner Creek with regard to environmental impact.

Directors also pledged district cooperation with the Novato Citizens Creek Committee project to beautify Novato Creek in the area of the Novato downtown center.

Tentative Approval For Smaller Lots On Ridge

The Sausalito Planning Commission has given tentative approval to a request to reduce lot sizes on 160 acres of Wolfback Ridge, postponing formal action on the matter until its Oct. 6 meeting, planning director H. Eric Borgwardt reported.

Although the action, taken at an adjourned meeting Wednesday, would reduce lot sizes from 20,000 to 8,000 square feet, he said the planners specified that population density in the area must not exceed that which would be permitted if the larger lot size remained in effect.

In August planners denied the request for the change, which came from landowner Edward R. Fitzsimmons, but apparently changed their minds after the Sausalito City Council referred the matter back to the commission.

As soon as final action is taken, Borgwardt said the matter will again be turned over to the council, which ultimately will make the decision.

In other action, the commission tabled until its Oct. 20 meeting consideration of a development plan for the Sausalito Yacht Harbor. The planning director said the delay was designed to give architect Roland Mays time to prepare revised drawings of the plan, incorporating some new elements, including a hotel-boatel near Johnson and Humboldt streets.

The planners also completed review of regulations governing use of the central waterfront and resident commercial zones, two new zones in Sausalito. The proposed regulations will now be forwarded to the council, he said.

Counterfeit Coins Lecture Is Slated

Dr. Charles Aby of San Rafael will speak on altered and counterfeit coins at the October meeting of the Marin Coin Club, 7:45 p.m. Wednesday in the faculty lounge of Redwood High School in Larkspur.

The club's meetings the first Wednesday of each month are open to the public, according to Ida K. Schmidt, club secretary.

Bay Area Added To List On High Unemployment

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Raising the number to the highest level in a decade, the Labor Department added the San Francisco-Oakland and Gary-Hammond-East Chicago, Ind., areas Thursday to its list of major cities with "substantial unemployment."

The department also announced that it added six areas to its list of smaller cities experiencing that much joblessness, but at the same time removed four from it.

It said it made these changes based on unemployment figures mainly collected in mid-July. That was well before President Nixon's new economic program to stimulate more jobs and control inflation.

But nationwide, unemployment totaled 5.8 per cent of the work force in July and it had climbed to 6.1 per cent in September.

A city qualifies to go on the "substantial-unemployment" list when joblessness among its workers tops 6 per cent.

A business in an area included on the "substantial unemployment" lists receives a slight preference over companies in non-listed areas in bidding for federal contracts.

The highest number of major cities ever on the list was 101 in March and April of 1961. The two additions to the list Thursday raised the current total to 64, the highest since October of 1961 when 68 were listed.

Added to the list of smaller cities with "substantial unemployment" were Richmond, Ind.; Ann Arbor and South Haven, Mich.; Las Vegas, Nev.; Westerly, R.I.; and, Randolph, Utah.

Dropped from that list were Vernon, Ala.; Columbia, Ky.; Franklin-Tilton, N.H.; and, Rutledge, Tenn. This left 776 smaller cities on the list.

As for the major cities, the Labor Department said the increase in joblessness in San Francisco-Oakland was due in part to the dock strike.

In the Gary-Hammond-East Chicago area, the department said steel payrolls were cut sharply in recent months because buyers had stockpiled steel in anticipation of a strike which never came.

Tortoises Being Moved From Danger Of New Road

MOJAVE (UPI)—The blundering, lumbering tortoise, an endangered species with prehistoric beginnings, is taking a beating from civilization along a new stretch of four-lane California Highway 58.

Today, state highway officials will carry out the second phase of an experiment to relocate a number of tortoises 60 miles north to a serene region where speeding traffic can't flatten them.

"Tortoises don't adapt very well, and although they've been around here for a few thousand years, we've got to put a highway through one of their areas," said a state highway official.

The tortoises that can be scooped up will be trucked to a huge federal wildlife management area at the China Lake Naval Weapons Test Center and a few will be wired with tiny radio transmitters.

A special "tortoise tracker" loop antenna will follow the plodding beasts to determine if the transplantation from their original habitat succeeded or if by some call they begin to migrate back.

"The big question is whether these friendly little animals will winter here, hibernate and remain on the wildlife management area," said the highway official.

Teams of Boy Scouts, state Fish and Game agents and even Navy personnel from China Lake will join the desert hunt through the mesquite and brush along the under-construction highway.

"We're trying to get about a dozen so they won't be bothered by civilization," said one highway official. People shoot them, make pets of them and run them over."

Skunk Train Outing Set By Parks Unit

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department will begin a series of family-style outings with a trip by bus and skunk train from San Rafael to Fort Bragg and Willits on Oct. 16.

Reservations must be made with the department office in the San Rafael City Hall before 5 p.m. Oct. 8. Information is available by calling the office, according to Albert J. Snyder Jr., parks and recreation director.

Big Lettuce Grower Faces Boycott Again

SALINAS (UPI) —A boycott against the nation's largest lettuce producer may be resumed soon, an organizer for the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee said yesterday.

About 1,000 farm workers and their supporters held a demonstration march Wednesday to "show there is still a union here and we want a contract," according to Jan Peterson, a UFWOC organizer.

"If we don't get contracts, I guess we will have to go back to the boycott," Miss Peterson said.

A nationwide boycott sponsored by the farm workers' union against Bud Antle lettuce farms was suspended last spring when talks began between various parties in an effort to settle a union jurisdictional question.

The Antle firm's workers are under a long-standing Teamsters Union contract. The company refused to grant jurisdiction to UFWOC following agreement by UFWOC with other major lettuce growers.

The farm workers suspended their nationwide boycott efforts against Antle when high level talks began between AFL-CIO officials and Teamsters Union leaders in an effort to work out a settlement of the jurisdictional question.

Apparently the talks have gone slowly and Miss Peterson said the farm workers were tired of waiting.

The demonstrators Wednesday rallied in front of employer offices, shouting "boycott," and "We want contracts."

A spokesman said representative would be sent from Salinas soon to resume boycott operations in major cities.

Beggers' Sideline

KARACHI, Pakistan (UPI)—Three beggars arrested by police turned out to be landlords whose properties in one of Karachi's wealthier residential areas were reported by an official to "fetch a handsome monthly income" for them.

Move To Combat Oil Spills Gains In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Resolutions urging strong measures to combat oil spills, possibly including state-level strike forces, were approved today by a Senate committee.

The Assembly measures, approved on a voice vote by the Governmental Organization Committee, were the outgrowth of recent oil spills in San Francisco Bay and Southern California.

The resolutions urged that local governments make contingency plans to fight oil spills, provisions be made for citizen volunteer efforts and feasibility of using high-speed strike forces to contain spills be studied.

The state Water Resources Board was also asked to gather all data in the state regarding oil spillage.

The resolutions, all proposed by members of the Assembly Environmental Quality Committee, were sent to the Senate Finance Committee.

Standard Fined $1,000 For Role In July Oil Spill

RICHMOND, Calif. (UPI) — Standard Oil Company was fined $1,000 Thursday on charges of being responsible for a 30,000-gallon oil spill last July 28.

The company had pleaded no contest.

Municipal Judge Charles H. Baldwin imposed the maximum fine and put the company on two years probation.

Standard Oil attorney Anthony Brown objected to terms of the probation which require the company "at the earliest practical time" to institute procedures which would prevent oil spills.

The objection was that Standard was already working under a schedule for operation improvements set up with the Coast Guard. The attorney said the local county probation action might conflict with this schedule.

"Probation officials are not qualified in these matters," Brown said.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Normandie On The Miracle Mile Blends Right In With Scenery

Attractive as it is in its stucco styling, it blends in with the Miracle Mile scenery and unless you were looking for a restaurant, or this restaurant in particular, you might pass it by without notice.

This is the Normandie at 2214 Fourth Street, San Rafael, petite French dining house now in business almost two years, during which time perhaps it has become almost as well-known outside the county as it has within.

Its menu ranges through some 16 entrees, most of which are entirely familiar items to everyone when they are stripped of their French nomenclature and given English subtitles. What cannot be translated into English is the French subtlety in flavoring. Take away the sauce and what you have left is a piece of fish or meat that may be excellent quality indeed and well cooked but is completely unsatisfying to a discriminating palate.

If you are a devotee of French cooking, you will enjoy the Normandie. If you are not, it may not impress you. Since it is not a showcase restaurant you don't go there to be seen.

High in favor among its hors d'oeuvre dishes is one under the name of "Palourdes Maison." Subtitle: Clams chef's style.

If you like escargots, you should enjoy this. And if you haven't yet worked up to the point of trying escargots, this could be the dish that breaks down your resistance. Clams are served on the half shell with a butter and garlic sauce — the same sauce that goes with escargots. It's proof again that taking away the sauce leaves something less enjoyable for its own sake alone.

I'd suggest a reservation on weekends at the Normandie. Sometimes the tables get crowded. During the middle of the week you shouldn't have too much trouble — the same as in most Marin restaurants. Closed Tuesdays.

REDWOOD RESTAURANT in Mill Valley is now open for lunches from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Closing day is Thursday.

Dinners are served throughout the week, except Thursdays, from 5 to 10 p.m.

Redwood has gotten well deserved credit for its Mexican dishes — but not enough has been said about its South American offerings, of which it has several — two from Brazil (a beef stew and squash dish called "carbonada" and shrimp thermidor) and a kind of meat pie or turnover called "Empanada" from Argentina.

Owners Bob Dean, Joeen Arnone and Leon Alvey also have added a new Brazilian dessert called "Quindins," a sort of South American version of flan.

Thanks to some unsolicited publicity from across the bay, these imaginative restaurateurs have been enjoying a flourishing business from out-of-town customers recently.

ADOLPH MOTTA, active partner in Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael, has come in recently to make a few restaurant changes and one of them is a new lunch menu. Among other things it features a seafood omelet, a prime rib sandwich and steak.

Look for more changes soon — next in the dinner menu.

THE NEXT TIME you're out for breakfast and don't want a meal that's too filling, you might try apple pie. Order it with sausage — New England style.

Hospitality restaurant magazine carries the idea further and suggests for breakfast ideas: Ham and apple pie, chicken chiffon pie and also egg and potato pie. I don't know any Marin restaurant that specializes in the latter dishes, so you'll probably have to experiment with them at home.

SHAKEY'S PIZZA north of San Rafael is now featuring "chick and chips" — chicken pieces and "mojos," which are potatoes, sliced breaded and deepfried under pressure with chicken. The chicken, by the way, is marinated 24 hours with Shakey's own sauce.

There's a special on this combination, together with a pizza and salad, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays — all you can eat for $1.49 plus tax.

Now playing Friday and Saturday nights at Shakey's are Bo Bryant and Dick Fagerstrom on banjo and Jim Brennan on tuba.

A SURE SIGN that the drinking of wine with meals is gaining favor — California table wine shipments for the first six months of this year were up 28 per cent over the first half of last year. Table wines are the biggest seller of all wines.

Sparkling wines didn't do too bad either, gaining 19.8 per cent. Dessert wines (the musky drinkers are in this class) which used to be so popular are just holding their own against last year.

Incidentally, a pleasing and comparatively recent table wine in restaurants (at least, I haven't noticed it until recently) is Robert Mondavi's Fume Blanc. Quite dry, rather delicate.

THE MUSTARD SEED RESTAURANT, which closed about a year ago in the Strawberry Town and Country Village, has reopened again at Bermuda Palms, 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rfael.

Michael Peri and his associates are serving dinner from 5 to 9 p.m. and there is entertainment nightly.

JOHN STEWART is the featured entertainer tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday at the Lion's Share in San Anselmo. Also on the bill with him Sunday are Charlie Daniel and Jerry Corbitt.

AMERICANS LIKE THEIR WHISKY — many preferring the Scotch and Canadian blends. But it is still not known whether they will go for the new American "light whisky," which will not be permitted to enter the market until July 1 of next year.

At that time distillers will be permitted to sell it after four years of aging. This is the result of a 1969 change in regulations governing the making of distilled spirits which was calculated to compete with the lighter Scotch and Canadian blends.

Meanwhile, three major distillers are already selling in the San Rafael area and other key markets, products which the liquor industry believes have the taste characteristic of the coming American light whiskey.

The first to market such a product was Brown-Forman Distillers Corp. which filtered out the color from whisky to make it "white," with little taste or aroma. Four Roses blended whisky was recently changed in an attempt to produce a lighter taste. And now Barton Brands of Chicago is releasing a high-proof whisky said to have some of the light characteristics.

High or low, the "proof" still remains to be seen, next summer.

DON'T FORGET the big Columbus Day dinner to be held at Nero's Room, Nave Lanes, Ignacio on Monday night, Oct. 4.

Dinner times are 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Make reservations. Dinner price is $3.75, which includes 35 different Italian dishes. And there will be wine and music.

Farming Loss Due To Strike At $100 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California farmers already have suffered losses estimated at $100 million as a result of the 92-day old West Coast dock strike, an official of the Council of California Growers said today.

In a prepared statement, executive vice president O.W. Fillerup said additional losses are "mounting daily" and he cited state figures showing the tieup has cost the economy of California $1.5 billion.

He said rice growers in the state have had to pay nearly $1 million in extra freight costs to move shipments by rail to Canadian and Gulf Coast ports, while another $1 million was lost when Okinawa buyers cancelled an order which they filled from other suppliers.

Language School Sets Public Picnic

The German Language School of Marin will hold its fourth annual public picnic from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday in Gerstle Park, San Rafael. Games will be scheduled for children.

Proceeds from food sales will help support classes for students ranging from 4 years old through adult, held each Saturday morning at Santa Venetia School, according to Joseph F. Augustin, president of the nonprofit language school.

House Approves A New Antipoverty Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House has approved a new antipoverty bill that would reform the program of free legal services for the poor and create a multi-billion dollar plan of child care designed to help youngsters of working mothers.

The measure, approved Thursday on a 251-115 roll call vote, is similar to a Senate-passed bill, but differences will have to be worked out in a conference of House-Senate members.

The House bill would extend Office of Economic Opportucity antipoverty programs for two years, until June 30, 1973, with a total two-year authorization of $5 billion, the same figure as in the Senate-passed measure.

OEO's Legal Services program, under fire from mayors and governors who have been brought into court by project attorneys representing minority groups, would be transferred to a private corporation run by a 17-member board of directors.

President Nixon, who favors the corporation setup but wants power to pick his own people for the board, compromised with the House bill which restricts his appointments to the board.

Shipstad Named In Dissolution

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Roy L. Shipstad, co-owner of the internationally known Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies, has been named in a divorce suit by his wife of 15 years.

The dissolution of marriage petition was filed Thursday in San Mateo County Superior Court. The Shipstads live in nearby Atherton.

Eat lupper at Dominic's.
For fashionable Marinites, Sunday brunch on Dominic's colorful, umbrella-shaded patio has become a tradition. But it has also become a problem. After all, when they feel like eating again, it's too early for supper, and too late for lunch. Thus, lupper. This meal, to be enjoyed between three to four-thirty in the afternoon, is not only a fine solution to the above problem, but, in all likelihood, the beginning of a new Bay Area tradition. And after lupper, what then? Why, dinkfast, of course.

Dinkfast, sir?
Yes. A martini, and a bowl of oatmeal.

The Underlining Issue — Celibacy

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The question of priestly celibacy cast a shadow over the Third World Synod of Roman Catholic Bishops today —despite the fact everybody involved has avoided using the word.

Pope Paul VI did not mention celibacy directly when he addressed 210 delegates Thursday during the solemn opening ceremony in the Sistine Chapel. Nor did an Italian bishop when he delivered a major, 85-minute report on the state of the church.

The word was not even likely to come up during today's discussions by the cardinals, bishops and other churchmen meeting in the new audience hall, but behind-the-scenes discussions revolved around the 700-year-old celibacy law that many Roman Catholics believe is chiefly responsible for sharp drops in the number of priests.

The synod can make recommendations to the Pope, but the pontiff is supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic church and only he can decree changes.

The Pope made it clear in earlier speeches that he would not welcome public airing of the issue, although he did indicate he was willing to permit married men to become priests in areas of the world where priests are desperately needed.

Many liberal churchmen want the Pope to drop the ban on married priests altogether and their campaign threatened to divert attention from the synod's discussion of other clerical crises.

The Pope warned delegates Thursday to reject or ignore outside pressures which could disturb their work or even upset its freedom to debate various aspects of the priesthood.

The 74-year-old pontiff said delegates faced dangerous pressures —"The pressures of opinions which are in doubtful conformity with the teachings of the faith, the pressure of tendencies which seem unconcerned with traditions which are authoritative and which now form part of the authentic vocation of the church ..."

Some Vatican sources said he was referring indirectly to the furore over celibacy.

Italian Bishop Enrico Bartoletti later said the 94 national bishops conferences around the world reported —without exception—that celibacy was a problem troubling priests.

Bartoletti, who delivered the opening state of the church address, obviously referred to celibacy when he denounced newepapers, radio and television for stirring up "scandal and disturbance" by publicizing the problems of the priesthood.

These problems are scheduled to take up about two weeks of the synod. Then delegates will turn to the second theme of the synod, justice in the world, for two more weeks.

The priesthood is the more dramatic topic, but justice is likely, Vatican sources said, to stir heated debate on whether the church should become more involved in battles to denounce or combat injustice.

Annual Exhibit To Open Oct. 10

The Marin Society of Artists's 43rd annual exhibit of arts and crafts will open Oct. 10 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The show will be open daily from 1 to 4 p.m. through Oct. 31.

Co-chairmen of the show, Pat J. Mayer and Nelcy Terics, said that $525 in merit awards will be presented. Jurors will be Trude Guermonprez, David Simpson, Ronald Cooper, Fred Bauer, Douglas McClellan and Eric Oback.

A preview reception for members, patrons and their friends will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 9 in the gallery.

Veritities Destroyed By Misleading Labels

A writer for United Press International fell into a common trap the other day. Telling of plans by Street and Smith Publications to re-issue the Frank Merriwell series as paperbacks, he described Merriwell as a hero "whose deeds of derring-do helped shape the American ethic of fair play."

The trap into which the writer fell is one set by callous cynics who denigrate all values by the subtle method of giving them misleading labels.

"The American ethic of fair play," of course, is neither an American ethic nor did it start with Merriwell. It was taught to the youth of Rome and Greece before the time of Christ. It is one of the verities, and is embodied in the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

NO VERITIES EXIST, however, for the callous cynics, nor for the mis-educated fools who unthinkingly parrot their cynicisms. Writing today is full of examples.

Devotion to mother has become "momism" — an American weakness, according to these same denigrators. Patriotism has become "flag waving." Home, family, an honest day's work for an honest day's pay — all are sneered at as "middle-class values." And the great middle class itself has become "the bourgeoisie" in 1970s' imitation of Rousseau and the French Revolution.

The superficiality of the self-styled intellectuals who preach this sort of nihilism is laid bare when they refer — as they often do — to codes extending back at least to Old Testament times as "the Puritan ethic."

All forms of competition are sneered at by these pseudo-intelligentsia — and as a consequence, all forms of excellence. The results are to be seen in their "poetry" without poetic value and their "art" which has neither form nor substance.

The cynicism extends to teachers to whom a union contract is more important than teaching, to ministers of the Gospel who privately do not believe in a Supreme Being, or who use the pulpit to proclaim that "God is dead."

The lack of values implicit in this negativism is transmitted to youth who see nothing wrong in "ripping off" another person's property or in burning or killing as "gestures of protest."

ON THE ONE HAND, the "educated" sneer at the student who seeks after knowledge — instead of being content with mere slogans and prejudices — as a "conformist." On the other hand, the uneducated denigrate upholders of the law as "pigs."

Both are equally destructive of the values upon which civilization is built. And when all ideals are labeled false, all verities discarded, the educated has placed himself on the same low level as the most ignorant and degraded.

Let's forgive the UPI writer — in the spirit of fair play. After all, the trap was well laid.

Law Needed To Limit Late Payment Penalties

By MARY K. SHELL

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — There oughta be a law against excessive penalty charges for late payments on home loans.

At least that's what you readers have said — most plainly — in response to our recent invitation to send in ideas on needed legislation.

A law to limit charges would win a popularity contest hands down with you readers. The request for this type of legislation was mentioned more than any other in letters we have received.

IN OUR COLUMN suggesting some kind of legal ceiling on these penalties, we referred to a practice of some savings and loan companies charging homeowners as much as 10 per cent of the amount due when payments are late.

We find that 10 per cent is the bottom of the scale of these "gravy" payments.

One reader from San Francisco would be happy to see the limit set at 10 per cent. His savings and loan company charges twice that amount for late payments.

Another reader in San Francisco writes that the savings and loan company that carries the mortgage on her home charges a 15 per cent penalty and if property taxes to the city and county are not made on time the "savings and loan returns the monthly mortgage payment until proof is supplied that the taxes have been paid."

When the loan company returns the payment, incidentally, it also slaps on its 15 per cent late charge.

Her commentary on the practice: "This has all the earmarks of a con game that should, in fact, be handled by the bunco squad of the police force."

ACCORDING TO a spokesman from the legal division of the state real estate commissioner's office, mortgage companies are the worst offenders and savings and loan companies are next in assessing these excessive late charges.

He reported his office instituted actions against seven mortgage comapnies in the Los Angeles area last year. Some companies were charging as much as $5 a day penalty on a $40 late payment.

These firms would not notify the homeowner that a portion of his payment was going to cover late charges, so each subsequent payment would also be late. Instead of lowering the amount owed, some homeowners ended deeper into debt, in spite of regular monthly payments.

THE LATE PENALTIES charged by savings and loan companies seem to range from 10 to 25 per cent (and in some instances higher). A check with several banks indicates their penalty is from 1 to 2 per cent. It was also learned that banks make it a point to notify borrowers when a payment is late and a penalty is not added if the amount due is paid within 15 days of the due date.

Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles, tried to do something about excessive home loan penalties this year. He introduced AB 959, which would have set a 10 per cent or $20 maximum limit.

The bill didn't get very far. In fact, it didn't even make it through one hearing. On May 12, it was killed by the Assembly Finance and Insurance Committee.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Debate On Mid-East Situation Proposed

We have read with enthusiasm both the original article in your Sept. 22 issue on Nayef S. Jaber and Mahmoud M. Shaheen, two students here at the College of Marin, and the reply in this column Sept. 28 from Abdul Alim El-Abayad of the Arab League Office. Clearly, the situation in the Middle East is one which requires the attention of every American citizen. In order, however, to facilitate the public airing of the various views which they hold, we propose that they agree to a public debate in the College of Marin's Fine Arts Theater. We have several dates that are open for such an enriching experience and we feel that it is in the interest of all Marin County residents that these views be discussed and open to public questioning. We sincerely hope that they will agree.

Telethon Combats Muscular Dystrophy

On behalf of our local chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, I want to express our deep gratitude to the concerned individuals — who responded so generously and wholeheartedly to Jerry Lewis' Labor Day Weekend Telethon for the benefit of our association. Of the fabulous final total of $8,025,387 in contributions and pledges raised on the nationwide telethon network of approximately 120 public-spirited TV stations, we're extremely proud that KNTV and KBHK-TV made considerable sacrifices to relay the show to viewers here. Speaking for the MD patients we serve and for the research scientists striving to find a cure for dystrophy and related crippling disorders, all I can say is "thank you!"

Dog Controllers Not Dog Haters

This is being written in connection with the article of Sept. 22 titled "Is Belvedere Going to the Dogs?"

The article calls attention to a petition presented at the meeting of the Belvedere City Council with 40 signatures, suggesting that the city revoke the existing leash law. Mayor Price pointed out that the city has no leash law. The article does not mention the fact that within the space of a very short time 102 residents had consented to urge rigid enforcement of existing dog controls.

I would like to call further attention to the lead sentence in the article which stated "Belvedere dog lovers and haters barked out their complaints last night about the city's cavorting canines in a two hour public hearing on dog control." A large percentage of the 102 persons who urged continuance of existing controls is comprised of persons who own dogs, but who take care of their dogs and do not permit them to become nuisances to others.

There are very few persons who dislike dogs, but there are many of us who dislike the permissiveness of the owners.

Another fact brought out at this meeting was that existing dog control laws are ambiguous and that they should be more clearly spelled out.

LLOYD M. KAHN
Belvedere.

Protection Of Environment Picks Up Political Muscle

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration has been making some tough, pro-environment decisions in California in recent weeks, and an observer would not be cynical if he suspected the reason was more politics than ecology.

For example, take the decision to veto a permit for the proposed Southern Crossing bridge across San Francisco Bay. There was solid environmental justification for a decision at this time, yet the White House easily could have deferred action until after the scheduled June, 1972, referendum on the bridge proposal had been held. So why the bold move now?

For one thing, most local governmental bodies were on record opposing the bridge, and "returning power to the people" is a Nixon theme struggling to emerge. Also, a poll in the Bay Area last June found that the people were opposed to the bridge by a persuasive four-to-one margin. Furthermore, the referendum will be on the same ballot as presidential candidates in the primary election.

These are the facts, and many observers of the governmental process draw a political conclusion from them. Political pressure, after all, has become the weapon of the environmentalists. Our system of government is wholly political.

LOOK AT ANOTHER example. Since the January, 1969, blowout of an oil drilling platform in the Santa Barbara Channel, the continuing drilling has been a source of much political friction. Many candidates have made it a key issue. It has become to many a symbol of the sharpening confrontation among ecology, economics and politics.

Still, it was startling when Interior Secretary Morton three weeks ago overruled his advisers and, with the clearance of the White House, denied permits for two more drilling platforms. This does not banish drilling from the channel, but it does set a precedent for tough decisions that go against powerful special interests.

And the Environmental Protection Agency reversed its April decision when it ruled a few weeks ago that California may require that all, not just some, new cars sold in the state after January, 1973, meet exhaust emission pollution standards. It was another White House move that pleasantly surprised its ecologically oriented critics.

GOV. RONALD REAGAN appears to have picked up some signals from the White House. When he was secretly advised by the White House last February that the Southern Crossing proposal was in trouble, the governor began saying he was reconsidering his previous firm support for the bridge. And when the Simpson Timber Co. routinely received in June a state permit to clear-cut 145,796 acres of redwood trees, Reagan reacted like a charter member of the Sierra Club. The timber company gave up the permit.

One of the latest public opinion polls that help to understand how the California body politic responds to issues was taken this summer by Rep. Victor V. Veysey, a first-term Republican congressman representing Riverside and Imperial counties. This district, with its growing urban problems, heavy agricultural economy, Democratic registration edge moderate-to-conservative philosophy often is considered a political model of the state.

Veysey used unloaded questions on a wide range of issues. He also asked his constituents to rank national and local problems in the order of concern.

The fact that the environment was the top local problem, outranking law and order by better than two to one, is not lost on the White House, which called Veysey for more details. Nor is the poll's message lost on Governor Reagan, Veysey and any other citizen who wants to wield some political muscle.

Curious Response By Russia To Britain's Expulsion Of Spies

WASHINGTON — The curious response of the Russian government to Britain's expulsion of 105 Russian spies is amazing, bordering on the inexplicable.

The Soviet Union didn't deny the British accusation; it just rejected the protest.

The Russians didn't claim their spies were not operating in Britain; they only claimed that such Russian espionage activities weren't hurting Britain.

The Soviet Union never came near to admitting that massive Russian spying increases East-West tensions in Europe; instead it blandly contended that it was Britain's harassing of the Russian agents in Britain which created bad relations.

The Soviet Union made no offer to contain in the least way the activities of its operatives in Britain; instead it contended that it would be unfriendly if Britain didn't let them operate freely.

ALONG WITH ALL THIS, the Soviet Foreign Office also suggested:

That the British should have presented their complaints quietly so that they could be dealt with quietly. They did.

That the British shouldn't have delayed so long in communicating with Moscow on this matter. They didn't delay. Moscow ignored their letters for 12 months.

Finally, the Russians baldly argued that the British can have no other motive than to undermine detente and postpone the proposed East-West European security conference.

When Stalin tried to erase the independence of Yugoslavia, it was Tito who was branded the evil culprit because he didn't want Yugoslavia to become a Russian satellite.

When the Soviet Union was preparing to invade Czechoslovakia to bring down the Czech government, Moscow assured the world that it was the Czechs who were the bad guys.

When a Communist regime commits aggression, it is always the country which resists aggression which is the warmonger.

Thus it appears to be just more of the same for the Kremlin to assert that massive Soviet espionage does not imperil detente, but rather it is Britain's inconsiderate resistance to such espionage which messes up detente.

THIS SEEMS TO ME to explain Moscow's "you-did-it" response to Britain's expulsion of 105 Russian agents.

But a more perplexing puzzle remains: Why? Why has the Soviet Union simultaneously infiltrated such a huge, pervasive spy network in Britain at the very moment it appears to be genuinely interested in reducing the cold war in Europe?

Is the KGB, the Russian secret police, independent of the foreign office and the Kremlin — and out of control?

Does Moscow believe it can reduce tensions and increase them at the same time?

Is easing East-West tensions secondary in Russian policy and increasing espionage primary?

I AM NOT SUGGESTING that the Soviet Union is the only great power which uses diplomatic cover for intelligence gathering. But when the Soviet embassy and trade missions are found manned by such a high percentage of spies, it is only prudent for Britain to call a halt.

Moscow can't have it both ways — preach detente and practice massive cold war espionage.

Nominee Shirley Chisholm? She Has The Attributes

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — Shirley Chisholm for President?

It makes at least as much sense as any other candidacy based on all the ethnic formulae that have been used for ticket-making in the past. She would be a one-woman balanced ticket.

She is black. So are 11 per cent of her fellow Americans. She is Protestant. So are most American citizens. She is a woman. So are 53 per cent of America's registered voters.

What other contender for the Democratic presidential nomination can make all three of those statements? Because the answer is none, the New York congresswoman's well-publicized toying with the idea of running in four or more presidential primaries next year has to be taken seriously— at least for the time being.

She is not going to be nominated for President, but she can provoke a great deal of thought by those who have a genuine chance at the nomination, and particularly among other black politicians.

THE CONDITIONER, "for the time being," is necessary because Mrs. Chisholm, as is her habit, is independently approaching her decision on running. While an all-star collection of other black politicians was meeting in Illinois last week end to talk about holding the black vote together next year, she was off in Massachusetts talking about her own plans in terms strong enough to cause at least one reporter to believe she was formally announcing.

When the Chicago conference was over, its participants styled themselves the National Assembly for a Black Political Strategy, and said they were going to have more meetings as the campaign develops. What they did in their week-end sessions was classified secret. But one of the things that kept cropping up was what to do about Shirley Chisholm.

Her intention, she says, is to run in the Florida, North Carolina, Wisconsin and California primaries — assuming her support comes together, in both organization and money. And by being even that vaguely specific at this early date, she is anticipating any other black candidate who may enter the competition with the backing of the new NABPS mentioned above or of the Black Congressional Caucus of which she is a conspicuous member.

She has to be reckoned with. If she goes in first, any black candidate who follows her into those selected primaries can be accused of spreading the vote there. That would apply even if he comes from the organization whose stated reason for being is to keep the black vote solid in order to arrive at the Miami Beach Democratic convention in a strong bargaining position on both platform and candidates.

THE STATES SHE HAS chosen as targets, in addition to her home state of New York, vary drastically in their voter makeup. Statistics say she would have her best chance in Florida, where every Democrat even suspected of presidential ambition already is lining up support — and therefore where the vote will be split the most ways.

With a dozen other candidates on the primary ballot, anyone who could draw a nearly solid black response might conceivably win there, although black registration is only about an eighth of white registration in the state.

In North Carolina, that proportion is higher — almost a fifth of white registration. But in Wisconsin it is tiny, and in California not much greater.

Mrs. Chisholm insists on giving priority to the fact that she is a woman rather than a black, however. She would have enthusiastic backing from Women's Lib, and that would cut across racial lines. In addition, she is a fluent Spanish-speaker, which could be important in the Mexican-American wards of California. She also sits well with the newly registered college students and antiwar groups.

THEN THERE'S the matter of experience. Very few people outside Brooklyn ever heard about the lady from Bedford-Stuyvesant before she became the first bladk woman elected to Congress in 1968. But she had served a term in the state legislature before that. Compare that to Mr. Agnew's record before Mr. Nixon tapped him as his running mate.

All of which says that she is not to be taken so lightly as the abstract idea of a black woman running for President would indicate. Unless her brothers interested in racial solidarity next year make a public move soon, it may be the outspoken Mrs. Chisholm who does the talking for them at Miami — indeed, who takes the lead in trying to make Edmund Muskie eat his words about a black candidate for the vice presidency.

Prospects were dim for settlement of a Pacific Coast shipping strike by the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union. Neither side even suggested talks.

Private School At Manzanita Would Partly Fulfill Purpose

Last year Manzanita School in Marin City was filled with children and all the colorful trapping of kindergarten classes. This year it stands empty and unused, since the Sausalito School District board has decided not to use the facility for classes, having moved all pupils to Bayside and Martin Luther King schools.

In recent weeks, the Marin City Learning Center, a private school started by a group of Marin City parents, asked permission to conduct its classes at Manzanita. Currently the school and its 50 pupils are located in temporary quarters in the Village Baptist Church in Marin City.

Predictably, the Sausalito school board has turned down the learning center's request "unequivocably." One trustee, Robert A. Thompson, said he opposed use of Manzanita by the learning center because the private school was "de facto segregated," since most of its students are black. Supporters of the new school say white students are welcome and that some do attend. They also note that the center staff is integrated.

ACTUALLY, THE REASONS for the board's denial are probably much more basic than social concern about de facto segregation. For quite a while it has been fairly obvious to everyone who attends school board meetings that the majority of the board has no love for the people who started (and are actively involved) in the learning center.

Most of these persons have been frequent critics of the school district and a school board (particularly the Sausalito board) is not inclined to look favorably on its critics or do them any favors.

In addition, the learning center has taken pupils away from the district, which can ill afford to lose any pupils in the face of its continued decline in enrollment, and that is bound to make trustees somewhat disgruntled.

Now the board is talking about declaring the Manzanita property surplus and leasingor selling it. The district has even offered it to the county as a sheriff's substation, but was turned down because such a station is already planned for construction in Marin City.

WHEN THE Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency gave the Sausalito School District the land on which Manzanita sits (and other property in Marin City), the purpose of the grant was for education. The district has promised to build an elementary school in Marin City in exchange for the land, but that school was never built.

Because of the terms of the land grant, it does not seem right that Manzanita be used for any purpose other than education. To lease it as business or office space would be in opposition to the spirit of the agreement between the district and the authority and redevelopment agency.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Town And Country Club Once Available At Bargain

I thought you might be interested in this yarn. During the seven years I was secretary-manager of Marvelous Marin, Inc., one of my jobs was to help groups, who were planning to spend a day or so in the county, to program their events.

One that always gave me a lot of satisfaction and pleasure was the senior day of the graduating class of the University of California at Berkeley. More than half would spend the day at the Marin Town and Country Club, swimming, playing tennis, etc. The rest would rent horses and ride the trails on the mountain or go bass fishing on San Pablo Bay. This would be followed with a great barbecue on the club grounds — followed by a moonlight dance at the Larkspur Bowl.

They were fine young people, I can tell you. The club grounds impressed me so much that when I heard that Max Friedman might be willing to sell the property, I arranged to meet him and talk it over.

This was about 1943 or '44, after I had been elected county supervisor. After much urging, I induced the board to come out and go over the property. It could have been purchased for 10 cents on the tax rate for two years — a bargain. They gave me the horse laugh. So ended a dream.

THERE APPEARS to be a genuine and determined effort to form or bring into being a recreation district encompassing the entire county. I hope they succeed. For years, in private personal conversation and at board of supervisors' meetings I have urged that this be done.

There is a different orientation involved, that exists at the supervisor level, and that of those who are really informed and sincere advocates of parks and recreation. This should be recognized and provision made for such informed ones to go direct to the voters of the county.

I am convinced, after listening to those who are constantly shouting for "open spaces," that in most cases this is simply a cliche, the supposedly "in" thing to do.

THE TRUE recreationists are people oriented. They think and plan the use desirable land can be put to for the benefit of people, not merely to be gazed at and gloated over.

What I have just said seems to be the situation regarding the Point Reyes National Seashore. The gloaters want to seal it off and keep the people out. They want it for themselves and themselves only.

My fist is in the air. Power to the real recreationists — may they prevail!

First Review Held On Countywide Plan

Will Marin's proposed countywide general plan assure clean industries and tourism, a housing mix for all economic levels, and preservation of open areas and environment?

These were some of the questions asked last night by a gathering of about 70 persons at the first of a series of hearings on the preliminary countywide general plan. Sponsored by Marin's City-County Planning Council, the meeting was held at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. auditorium in San Rafael, with Larkspur Councilman Benton A. Sifford as chairman.

The general concepts of the countywide general plan were outlined by County Planning Director Werner Von Gundell and his aides, Sol Silver, Marjorie Macris, and Robert Harrison.

If growth were allowed to continue under existing master plans of various communities, Marin would end up with a population of 750,000, requiring a highway with 18 lanes, in addition to a well-designed transit system, said Von Gundell.

In order to forestall this type of congestion, the preliminary countywide plan seeks to limit growth to 120,000 in the next 20 years, or a total population of 330,000 by 1990.

Development would be concentrated in the eastern urban corridor along Highway 101. Civic Center-Northgate area will be the center of activity. Other major urban centers will be Novato and Larkspur-Corte Madera. Central Marin would be kept relatively rural and open.

Olema Valley and the slopes to the east of Tomales Bay would have resort-commercial development.

The shoreline along Tomales Bay and Bolinas Lagoon would be developed carefully and guarded with the same care that the Bay Conservation and Development Commission protects the bay shoreline.

Carol Staley, representing the League of Women Voters of Central Marin, said her group endorses the city-centered concept and preservation of rural areas. She asked for a variety of transportation facilities, including bicycle paths, and for a balance between land use and necessary services such as schools, water, sanitation and transportation.

Here are some of the other comments and questions posed by other individuals, and replies by county planners:

Question (submitted in writing): Is it realistic to expect high quality commercial and clean industry in view of high taxes, high land cost, and lack of moderate cost housing? Won't Marin continue to be a bedroom community for the affluent?

Von Gundell: Large industries are unlikely; just industrial parks with offices and service type industry. The general plan and the housing policy attempts to generate a housing mix, but if market conditions control development, Marin will continue to be the bedroom community for the affluent.

Question: How can the county prevent agricultural land from being developed?

Von Gundell: By zoning which would limit development to one home in three acres or one home in 20 to 30 acres.

Charles Bruce, Larkspur author: The county needs a model building ordinance that requires each developer to provide a minimum amount of open space. The plan should break up existing segregation in Marin City and disperse the blacks elsewhere in the county.

Communal living should be recognized as an existing fact, and more than one family allowed to live in single family homes, said Bruce.

Von Gundell: The county's housing policy makes an attempt to provide a housing mix and break up segregation. The requirement for open space dedication by developers and other details are matters that a broad general plan cannot cover.

Question: Even if a certain percentage of new housing must be moderate cost units, what assurance is there that they will stay moderate cost after the first owner moves out?

Von Gundell: In public housing, conditions can be attached. In other housing, the cost of the housing may be high, but financing can be subsidized to help low income families obtain such housing. Or a nonprofit group can purchase the housing and subsidize rents.

Chairman Sifford announced that the next public hearing on the countywide general plan will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 at Tamalpais High School, rooms 123 and 124.

Panel Backs Bill Allowing Road Closing

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill enabling smaller cities to close streets clogged with tourist traffic cleared the Assembly Transportation Committee yesterday.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, now goes to the lower house floor.

The legislation (SB 1355) was sought by the City of Sausalito, which has discussed plans to close the community's southern entrance during peak periods, requiring visitors to enter through northern Sausalito, park and take a shuttle bus to the downtown area.

Only city residents and emergency vehicles would be allowed to use the closed streets.

The committee vote on the bill was 9-1. Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, lone dissenter, was against restriction of public traffic.

Only Reduced Charge Is Filed In Pot Case

Joseph Wood Azevedo, 20, of Tiburon, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on misdemeanor charges of possessing marijuana and marijuana paraphernalia.

He is to plead to the charges Monday.

Azevedo was arrested Tuesday by Larkspur police after a routine traffic stop developed into a fight.

Azevedo was booked on suspicion of battery on a police officer, as well as the marijuana charges, but the battery charge was not filed against him.

Police said Azevedo began swinging at officers when they attempted to cite him for having no license plates on the vehicle he was driving.

When they took him to Marin County Jail, officers said, they found marijuana in his jacket pocket, along with a brass holder used for smoking the weed.

Firefighting Aircraft Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Air Force is testing huge C-130 cargo-carrying aircraft for possible use in fighting fires from the air, Rep. Barry Goldwater, R-Calif., reported today.

Goldwater said he had been advised Air National Guard aircraft based at the Van Nuys, Calif., Airport were being used for the tests at Edwards Air Force Base.

Each aircraft is equipped with five 500-gallon tanks carrying fire-retarding chemicals under gas pressure to provide for quicker release of the retardants when the aircraft passes over the fire.

National Drug Abuse Prevention Week is October 3-9.

And it's no cause for celebration.

Not hardly.

But the alternative isn't another stern lecture on drug abuse.

Everyone is well aware of the problem and its insidious by-products.

So, what's there to do?

We have a suggestion.

Begin.

The President of the United States already has.

The new White House Special Action Office is at work right now developing and coordinating programs of research, rehabilitation and treatment, and preventive education.

We must pry open the rusted channels of communication and, ultimately, understanding; to dig out the causes that motivate a human being toward drugs for a momentary escape from his existence.

But the effort will demand involvement. It needs the interaction of people working together. And not in the same old ways.

We have been provided with new tools, a positive direction and reachable goals.

It's a place to begin. Send a postcard now. You'll get back practical information that answers the question of "what's there to do?"

There are specific programs to involve groups; ideas for you to initiate on your own or within your family.

You have in your hands the opportunity to do something right and worthwhile.

No miracles. No easy solutions, because there aren't any.

But if enough of us get together and start to work on the beginning, we will find an answer to the enigma of drug abuse.

Once and for all.

Bigger Bus Considered On Two Runs

Peak hour patronage on the bus run between Novato and Greenbrae may be heavy enough to warrant use of a larger bus, Golden Gate Bridge District officials reported today.

Marin Transit Systems Inc., the Marin City-based company operating the service under a contract with the district, currently is authorized payment of $15 an hour to operate a 23-passenger minibus, but the number of standees apparently has been increasing.

District officials said they were considering authorization of 41-passenger bus by the company, on the peak runs, which would boost the hourly payments to $17.50.

The bridge district's payments to the company come largely from county subsidies through the district. These subsidies will have totaled $117,000 in almost two years by the time the bridge district takes over all scheduled bus service in the county on Dec. 1.

District officials said a count on the 6:42 a.m. bus from Novato on Sept. 23 found 48 passengers using the run. At any one time, the maximum aboard was 35 passengers.

Of the 48, 23 went to the College of Marin.

Total traffic on the hourly Central Marin service in August was 12,974, little changed from the 12,713 in July.

How Behr, Bagley Voted On Roll Calls

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Here is how Sen. Peter H. Behr and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, both R-San Rafael, were recorded in recent roll call votes compiled by Capitol News Service:

CREDIT — Requires credit card issuers to correct billing error within 60 days of being informed of error, or to forfeit the amount in question. Provides for treble damages and costs of suit for failure to correct errors by issuer (passed 57-3). SB 97, Song. For — Bagley.

Discussion Set On Education

Warren P. Fairbanks, an instructor at Sir Francis Drake High School's "School Within a School," will participate in a panel discussion Oct. 12 on new programs in education.

The Independent-Journal erred Tuesday in reporting Fairbanks as being a teacher at Redwood High School's "School Within a School." Redwood has no such program.

The panel discussion, sponsored by the Marin Young Women's Christian Association, will be held at San Rafael High School at 8 p.m.

Farm Fire Controls Start Today

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The annual agricultural burning season starts today, the Bay Area Pollution Control District said.

For the first time, controls will extend to burning stubble and hay by field crop farmers limiting their burning as well to meteorological conditions permitting maximum ventilation so smoke from the fires does not create pollution problems.

The field stubble burning season will run through Dec. 31, while the season for prunings and attrition losses from fruit and nut trees will run from Dec. 1 to next April 30.

Farmers will be advised daily whether to burn on KCBS Radio (740 kc) and KEEN Radio (1370 kc). The KCBS broadcasts will be at 8:59 and 9:05 a.m., except on Sunday there will be no 9:05 broadcast. The KEEN broadcasts will be at 9 and 9:30 a.m.

Fires must be started by 9:30 a.m., no new material may be added after two hours before sunset, and wind speed must be at least five miles an hour at the site and be blowing away from populated areas.

Flood Zone Aides To See Master Plan

Members of the advisory board for Flood Control Zone 7 — Santa Venetia — will review a proposed master plan for zone flood control at a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the McPhail School library.

Charles E. Murphy, county flood control engineer, has prepared the zone plan for approval by the advisory board.

Increase In Skin Cancer Is Forecast

NEW YORK (UPI)—Within the next year an estimated estimated 130,000 Americans will be found to have skin cancer, Dr. Norman Goldstein, assistant professor of dermatology at the University of Hawaii School of Medicine, reports in CUTIS, a journal devoted to reports on skin disorders.

In most cases the cause can be directly attributed to sunlight.

Novato Townhouse Plan Due Review Wednesday

The Novato Plan Review Committee will review site, architectural and landscaping plans for Boise Cascade Building Co.'s 214-unit townhouse project at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Novato Community House.

The project is sought for the former Oliva Ranch on the north side of Novato Boulevard opposite Grande Vista. The committee had hoped to review the plans Wednesday night but continued the matter until next Wednesday.

In other action, the committee granted Harry Robbins a permit for a Dudd's Casual Clothing sign on a building east of Highway 101, adjacent to Perry's Delicatessen, and granted a permit for a free-standing home savings and loan sign at 1450 Grant Avenue.

MASTECTOMY SERVICE

Volunteers On Call In Marin

By BARBARA HOSMER

Often the need for breast surgery comes up suddenly and can be a frightening, threatening prospect to women. Few know that there is a group of women just like themselves in Marin who are ready to help.

When such surgery is needed without much notice there is little time for a woman to make job or household arrangements, and that's when the volunteers of the Marin Mastectomy Services can step in to help. Numbering some 200 women in Marin who have had breast removal surgery themselves, they know exactly what is needed and get in and do the baby-sitting, household work and driving of the patient that may be needed.

One of the important things that the women do is help the post operative patient select a prosthesis and brassiere fitted to the individual and reassure her while along on the buying trip. They first visit the patient in the hospital, "preferably wearing a sweater," says Bonney Cockburn of San Anselmo, who started the Marin group some 14 years ago. Then they find out what they can do to be of service — whether running errands or taking a child to the dentist.

WHEN THE patient goes home they continue to help her with her household and drive her to doctor and treatment appointments. They also arrange for her to meet other women who have had mastectomies.

"We arrange to have her attend meetings if she wishes, and to join our swimming and skating groups, and quite quickly she will be returning the service to some other new member," Mrs. Cockburn said.

The whole service is voluntary and free and the members give some 200 to 300 hours a month in Marin, she added. Nothing is required of the members, although nearly all want to help, Mrs. Cockburn said.

"Just the knowledge that there is a group of women in the county ready to help if needed makes the patient's hospital stay more realxed," Mrs. Cockburn remarked.

The Mastectomy Service members are called by the patient's doctor when she has the mastectomy and the volunteers go to the hospital to meet her. Women who have had surgery outside of Marin and require service are referred to the volunteer service by the Marin Branch of the American Cancer Society, with whom the service has worked closely for its 14 years of existence.

Mrs. Cockburn began Mastectomy Services 15 years ago in Southern California because she had needed some help at the time of her own breast surgery.

"I DID not think that I was unique, and as I met other women who had had mastectomies I found that nearly all require at the very least advice about prostheses." She started the Marin group the following year when the Cockburns came to live in the county, and since then the group here has had letters from women in other areas interested in starting similar services.

The service takes no money — "we wouldn't have any place to put it if someone gave us some" — and members bear the cost of gasoline for the driving and make available needed stationary and postage.

The group has a pamphlet written by women who have had breast surgery, giving information, experiences and reassurance to the new patient:

"You may be worried. You may feel 'singled out' and resentful, or simply depressed and uncomfortable. We remember that we felt this way too. It is usual and temporary."

Their pamphlet also assures the woman that she can wear the same clothes, evening dress and swim suit she has always worn, that her scar will heal and her arm overcome stiffness.

They also stress the need for arm activity and list arm and limbering exercises suggested by doctors. The pamphlet is presented to patients through cooperation of the Marin Medical Society, which has given official approval to the women's service.

WITH BREAST surgery a common means of removing cancer, the mastectomy service women wish others to know that it will not change their lives. They believe their reassuring approach to the subject has encouraged women to seek medical help when they first become aware of a breast abnormality so that early detection of cancer can make cure available.

Members of the group get together for swimming weekly and lunches, and some are tennis players, bowlers, golfers and ice skaters.

On Oct. 27 they will present a fashion show with a definite purpose — to show that women who have had breast removal can wear any type of clothing from swim suits that lace down the front to the waist to low-cut evening wear. Mastectomy Service members model.

The first such show was held at a members' home last year with the emphasis on active sportswear.

"We realized how terribly valuable it is for women to see who haven't had the surgery. They are amazed," Mrs. Cockburn said.

The group invites doctors, their wives, nurses and other medical staff as well as others interested in the subject. They expect some 100 guests for the upcoming show at the home of Mrs. Rudolph E. Lindquist in San Rafael.

Marin Soroptimists Will Be Convention Hostesses

A large group of Marin County Soroptimist Club members will serve as official hostesses tomorrow when the national Soroptimists celebrate their 50th anniversary in Oakland.

The special "golden jubilee pilgrimage" will be held at Goodman Hall in Jack London Square in Oakland, where the first Soroptimist club was chartered 50 years ago.

The Marin Soroptimists will wear costumes of the 1920s to celebeate the 1921 chartering. Hostesses are Ezilda Torre, Marin Club president; Kathryn Vincilione, Marlus Kehm, Peggy Land, Claudia Goldthwaite, Carolyn Fooshee, Hazel Barbano, Dorene Peterson, Kathryn Kelly, Helen Elrod, Florence Huber and Esther Dearth.

Attending the celebration, which will feature the Sixth Army Band, a parade of clubs by charter dates and an address by Miss Ethel Lord of Morristown, N.J., the national president, will be the national vice president and members of clubs from throughout the Southwest region. Violet Richardson Ward of Berkeley, founder-president of the first club, will be an honored guest. A bronze bust of Mrs. Ward will be dedicated and each club will place a history capsule in the base of the bust, to be opened in 50 years. Oakland officials will also attend the celebration, which will begin with a brunch at 9:30 a.m.

Film Industry Hit For Playing Into Male Hands

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI)—A former star of the silent screen says the U.S. movie industry is faltering because too many pictures are aimed at men.

Lillian Gish told a lecture audience Tuesday that women comprise 85 per cent of movie audiences but that subject appeal has been toward male interests.

"Women are not interested in the popular themes such as war, murder, violence or autos chasing each other around the track," said Miss Gish, 72.

"Once our nation led the world in the number of movies produced," she said. "Today we rank ninth in the world, behind even Taiwan, thanks to poor films."

Researcher's Plea For Government Funding

By PAT BALMES

"We have to get people to encourage government spending for medical research," says Dr. Lynn Spitler of Tiburon.

The physician researches transferring normal cellular immunity from a well donor to a child who, lacking this immunity, suffers from infections which bring death in early childhood.

University of California Medical Center's research team of Lynn, Dr. Alan Levin and their chief, Dr. H. Hugh Fudenberg, has the means of giving people the ability to reject abnormal tissue by drawing blood from a person who has immunity, isolating "transfer factor" and giving it to a person not immune.

Their completely experimental work at the University of California in San Francisco originated several years ago and they took their first patient in 1969.

"WE KNOW now we can help children with infections," says the Tiburon doctor, who has received requests for transfer factor from university hospitals as far away as Switzerland, Sweden and France. She projects that it may enable cancer patients to reject their tumors.

"It's too soon to say for cancer. We chose the children first because we know that those kids are going to die. Now they are alive, well and going to school," says the researcher. Her patients will receive booster shots every six months.

"There are people who have immunity to certain kinds of cancers. We can measure their ability. We can give a substance prepared from an immune person's cells to a cancer patient," says Dr. Spitler, relaxed at her Reedlands home.

She adds with frustration,

"We anticipate that only a small percentage of President Nixon's cancer research funds will be used for extra- mural research. A large percentage will go into administration when it should be put into personnel doing research. One hundred million dollars sounds great, but it is not doing what it is supposed to."

Dr. Spitler is also working under a multiple sclerosis grant. Those patients may become allergic to their own nervous systems; their cells may react against their own nervous systems and cause disease. She is trying to suppress cellular immunity reaction so multiple sclerosis does not occur. Her team is now experimenting with animals who have a related disease.

LYNN'S DAY begins at the Spitlers' Tiburon home by waking the children, Diane, 2, and Paul, 1, "to love and play with them" before the babysitter arrives and the researcher leaves for her laboratory.

Her day is spent predominantly in research, but she also teaches residents, interns and medical students cellular immunity and internal medicine and cares for patients with related defects: multiple sclerosis, cancer and diagnosed and undetermined-cause infections. Her work is "full time, plus."

"You cannot do it and limit the time you spend. I often get tied up late at night because of experiments or people who really want to see me," she says.

"I really enjoy research. When I was a little kid I used to work out puzzles. I like the challenge of thinking about it and working it out."

The doctor is the daughter of Mrs. O. J. Dykman of Grand Rapids, Mich. Her father died when she was seven.

"My mother was good and always gave her support to whatever I wanted to do," says Dr. Spitler, adding that her mother's name, Cornelia, means "my children are my jewels."

To earn money to go to college, she worked as a waitress during high school and continued the "lucrative" part-time work during college, working at resorts in summer.

"I made it through medical school by working as a waitress and by scholarships," says the graduate of University of Michigan and its medical school. She interned at Highland Alameda County Hospital and did her two-year residency in internal medicine at University of California, San Francisco.

THEN SHE received a year's fellowship to work in New York with transfer factor's discoverer, Dr. H. Sherwood Lawrence.

Lynn had already signed the contract to work in New York when she met San Francisco attorney Harley Spitler.

RESEARCH Dr. Lynn Spitler of Tiburon spends time each morning playing with her children, Diane, 2 and Paul, 1, before leaving for her University of California Medical Center laboratory. The cellular immunity researcher also teaches residents, interns and medical students and treats patients.

"He said, 'come back' and so I did," says Lynn. They were married in 1967.

She received more fellowships in 1968 to work on cellular immunity at University of California, San Francisco.

"I was pregnant when I was doing a lot of this research. I like research; I always liked medicine," says Lynn. "A clue is that I get a lot of help from my husband. You could not do a lot of work without that.

"Number one in my life is here at home with my children. I would stop work if my children were unhappy. On weekends I don't work, except to read medical journals and write papers," says Lynn.

She relaxes at the family's swimming pool and has planted a garden. The grand prize winner of Sunny Hills' bridge tournament last year, she also likes to read novels on vacations while her husband hikes.

THE RESEARCHER travels to medical conventions across the country to speak on aspects of her cellular immunity research.

"We kind of have to; it's a way of telling people about our work," she explains.

In December Dr. Spitler will address the American Society of Hemotology in San Francisco.

Asked about newspaper reports of an important breakthrough in research on leukemia, she says,

"Those reports were premature and blown up. Treatment of leukemia is improving and we do have some long-term survival, but it is still too early to speak in terms of cure for most leukemia patients."

New Women's Group Goal: Communication

"We have formed an organization to inform the public that we do much more than cooking and sewing," says Mrs. Robert L. Cornett of San Rafael, president of the newly formed Marin County Home Economics Educators Association.

The group's purpose is to promote communication between teachers, schools, the districts and the community, says the home economics teacher at San Rafael High School.

Membership is open to any woman with a degree in home economics, and monthly meetings are held to discuss individualized learning methods, curriculum planning and exchange ideas, according to Nora Lee Cornett.

"We deal in consumer education and buying, diets and exercise, family life, grooming, textile information, wardrobe planning, pattern designing and alternations and classes for boys, geared to their needs and interests — crafts, such as stitchery, macrame, knitting and weaving," she says.

Mrs. Cornett is a native of Fresno and a graduate of Fresno State College. She has a 12-year-old daughter, Robyn. The family has lived in Marin for six years.

MRS. ROBERT CORNETT
Group president

Sewing, gourmet and camp cooking, hiking, camping and nature study are Mrs. Cornett's hobbies.

Mrs. Neta Brownne of Vallecito Junior High School is secretary of the new association, and members of the advisory board are Mmes. Sue Chelini of Redwood High School, Virginia Maloney of Sinaloa Junior High School and Marcelett Henry of Tamalpais High School.

Church's New Women's Club Elects President

Newly organized Women's Club of St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon has named Mrs. Robin Taylor of Belvedere president.

Loretta Taylor, a native Californian, attended Dominican Upper School in San Rafael, University of California and Parsons School of Interior Design in New York.

The Taylors have lived in Marin six years. Their children are Adrian, 16, Christopher, 14, and Alysanne, 3.

Active as interior decorator, Mrs. Taylor was with W. and J. Sloane in San Francisco and is now designing privately both commercial and residential interiors.

She is a frequent traveler to Europe, particularly to her husband's London home, where she buys antiques for her work and home, an Edwardian summer mansion named "La Folie" which she is restoring.

The new president says that ultimate purpose of the new women's club is to foster friendship, seek out and develop programs to meet parish needs.

MRS. ROBIN TAYLOR
"Foster friendship"

Planned are a Christmas boutique on Nov. 21, a gourmet demonstration, organization of a bridge group, spiritual discussions and an Altar Society.

Women of St. Hilary's parish and friends may join.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Block Parties: In San Antonio, They Really Have A Good Time

DEAR HELEN:
Those block parties mentioned in HHU sound interesting. Please tell us more about how to organize one. — WANTING TO KNOW OUR NEIGHBORS

DEAR WTKON:
Here's a letter that explains block parties, July 4th style:

DEAR HELEN:
T.W. and R.O. who yearn for old-fashioned block parties should move to San Antonio, Texas!

Last year we had our fifth annual Independence Day "block" parade and street dance. Of course we live on a very unusual street: no one sticks a nose in your business, but if you need help, everyone is there! We live on the best block, in the best town in the whole U.S.A.

How do we get a block party going? Everybody cooperates. We formally write to the City Traffic Engineer and request permission to have a street dance. He agrees to close off the street for the evening.

At 8 p.m. the children of the neighborhood march in a "dress-up" parade. They carry flags and sing patriotic songs befitting July 4th. In the middle of the block, we have taped music on one side, and snacks, cheese, tamales, all manner of "pot-luck" food on the other. When the children arrive there, adults join in their songs. Then we eat, dance, play, talk — and you can be sure that no one here would dream of taking a vacation away from home on this holiday!

In our small way, we're reaffirming faith in our country — and having a wonderful time. —
MRS. L.W.H.,
LANTANA DR.,
SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

NOTE FROM HELEN:
But block parties can be given ANY time of the year —for no other reason than to discover your neighbors are human too. They're kind of "grass-roots country club" without the whopping overhead. — H.

DEAR HELEN:
You've printed so many letters about couples who regret getting married and having children young that I thought I would write about a couple who doesn't regret it at all!

My husband and I were married when I was just 17 and he was 19, not only because I was pregnant, but because we wanted to. Well, our baby died at birth, and all the parents wanted us to get an annulment, which we would not do.

We moved away, and have been married for nine years now. We have two wonderful children, aged four and six, and we couldn't be happier. We've got each other and our kids! — COLETTE

DEAR HELEN:
Tell that person who got trapped into sending $10 to "earn money being a new products researcher" that she has lots of company. I complained to the U.S. Attorney for that district, and also to the U.S. Postal Service inspector, and have learned since that this company is now in bankruptcy, after being investigated (and evidently found wanting). I got my money back, but doubt that others will be so lucky. As you said, Helen, 10 bucks is a small price to pay if you've learned a good lesson — never trust a mail-order company that insists you pay out money to make money. — A. F.

DEAR READERS:
That now defunct company really got its ads around! I've been flooded with letters, all naming the same outfit (who shall be nameless) as the culprit. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

ON BEING BLACK

Pointers On How To Avoid Substandard Food Goods

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Aw, c'mon lady!" The store manager was obviously exasperated as he read the consumer bill I had just presented to him.

The neighborhood supermarket services a large black clientele, and upon a comparison of notes with several regular shoppers, it was determined that much of their produce is substandard. However, many of the people in the area — people with limited incomes — do not take time to return these foodstuffs and get their money back. Excuses range from "Oh well, another lemon," to "You can't get your money back anyway."

The fact is you can get your money back and if enough people started returning rotten merchandise and presenting consumer bills to the store, a greater effort would have to be put forth by the store to make sure that its shelves were stocked with top-quality food.

THE ULTIMATE pressure on any store to shape up, of course, is for the consumer to take his business elsewhere. But in many low-income areas, transportation is limited and the consumer is forced to shop locally. No matter, though, if a store is in business it should be forced (unfortunately this is necessary in many cases) to stock its shelves with merchandise that meets health standards.

Currently, there is much national concern about consumer rights, and there are several consumer groups in operation. In our area there is the Bay Area Consumer Protection Coordinating Committee, which channels consumer complaints to appropriate agencies for action.

After one year of operation, this committee reports that few complaints come from the consumer living in the low-income areas. A vicious cycle remains in motion — the low-income consumer does not complain, probably because he has been conditioned to expect and accept this type of business in his neighborhood. And because he does not complain, stores in these areas have no qualms about shelving outdated and rancid merchandise.

SINCE FOOD prices are staggeringly high, people with limited incomes cannot afford such low-quality merchandise.

As a small measure of protection for your family's health and nutrition, here are a few basic steps that shoppers should take: Inspect what you are buying. Look at and smell produce and meats. Check out expiration dates on packaged foods such as lucnh meats and hot dogs and other perishables, such as milk, eggs, frozen juices and biscuit tubes. These dates are required by law. If no date appears, assume the article is as old as dirt and don't buy it.

Before using, carefully inspect contents of packaged cake mixes, flour and sugar. Don't buy rusty or bulging canned goods. Be extremely suspicious of baby food.

This cautiousness is annoying but, unfortunately, because an item is on the store's shelf does not automatically make it fit for human consumption.

Food prices are too high and nutritional levels and incomes are too low for people to be subjected to such shabby consumer concern.

If you don't have money to throw away (and who does?), start now to protect yourself. Inspect foodstuffs carefully and don't hesitate to return all substandard goods. And, for added impetus, pencil out a consumer bill and whip that on 'em!

Consumer Bill

Presented to ________ supermarket for time and money (gas and auto depreciation) used for return trip made from my home to your store, necessitated by the need to return worm-infested boxed cake mixes, purchased in good faith at your store.
These goods were advertised as top-quality merchandise and paid for with top-quality consumer money.

Study Shows Pill Causes Gene Damage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A team of scientists has found evidence that women taking birth control pills appear more likely than non-users and men to suffer breakage of chromosomes, the threadlike bodies which carry genes controlling heredity.

But the researchers conducting a study for the National Institutes of Health (NIH) caution that the project is not over yet and that its implications for human health still are unclear.

"Our data show a small but significant increase in chromosomal abberations in women who are taking oral contraceptives," said the study by L. Gayle Littlefield, a geneticist, and her colleagues at Oak Ridge (Tenn.) Associated Universities.

John Zweig, Jo LaBorde Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Leo LaBorde of Amarillo, Tex., announce the engagement of their daughter, Jo Carol LaBorde, to John Zweig, son of Mrs. Walter Zwieg of Kentfield and the late Mr. Zwieg.

The future bride is the sister of Leo LaBorde Jr. of Houston, Tex. She attended Texas Technical University and is employed in Sun Valley, Idaho.

John is the grandson of Mrs. F. Cecil Davis of Kentfield. He was graduated from Redwood High School, College of Marin and San Jose State College. The future bridegroom is on a professional tennis tour and is a tennis professional in Sunny Valley.

A Nov. 6 wedding in Texas is planned.

Mrs. Toncre is president of the Golden Gate Chapter of American Women in Radio and Television and, as woman's community affairs director, conducts publicity clinics throughout the Bay Area. She also produces a weekly teenage panel show, Youth Inquires, and has done freelance publicity for Marin groups.

A native of New Orleans, Jeanne Toncre attended Louisiana State University and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York.

Her experience in television broadcasting has included work as a publicity director, assistant production manager, on-the-air personality and copywriter.

For five years she lived in Venezuela, where she was editor of the Creole Petroleum Co. weekly newspaper and columnist for the Caracas Daily Journal.

THE OLD Mill Branch of Marin General Hospital Volunteers earned $400 for the hospital at its recent "Night in Tahiti" party, according to Mrs. George Gustafson of Mill Valley.

THE CIVICS and conservation section of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. Mrs. Lyman Emerson is chairman.

This will be a planning meeting for those interested in the Mill Valley community and its problems. Mrs. Emerson will discuss the meetings and sessions she attended this summer in Washington, D.C.

PLANS FOR the Tomales High School Parent-Teacher-Student Group meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the school include a panel discussion.

Panel members will be Richard V. Godino, deputy Marin County counsel; Charles McCully, superintendent of the Shoreline Unified School District; Bert Broemmel, Marin County assessor; and Supervisor Louis H. Baar. Discussions will center on the Williamson Act (agriculture preserve and open space) and its impact on the school district and the background of the Point Reyes National Seashore and the impact of its acquisition on the Shoreline school district.

PARADISE HARBOR Yacht Club in Tiburon plans its second annual "Li'l Vallejo" race and overnight. Tomorrow at 10 a.m. 30 boats will race to a barbecue steak dinner for 116 at Vallejo Yacht Club, where a trophy will be presented by cruise master Ronn Hill. Members, families and friends will stay overnight and cruise home Sunday.

THE GOOD Shepherd Lutheran Church of Novato will have an auction and rummage sale at Lee Brothers Market parking lot, Seventh Street and Grant Avenue in Novato, at noon tomorrow.

Items for sale include oil paintings and tools. Proceeds will be used to renovate the community room at the church, which is used by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire groups.

Items to be auctioned will be available for inspection starting at 10 a.m.

Study Shows California Texts Portray Girls As Stereotypes

By LIZ LAGUE

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — "Not only do textbooks fail to help prepare girls for future realities, they contribute subtly and significantly to the formation of negative self images," according to the state Commission on the Status of Women.

"The stereotype of women pictured in textbooks," the report continues, "is not an accurate reflection of reality. Three million women in California work outside their homes — but are rarely depicted."

A 1968 commission survey of California teen-age girls found that 42 per cent of them doubted their ability to be successful in chosen fields of work, and most do not see themselves as achievers. Only one-third planned on college, and only three per cent foresaw need for retraining or education later in their lives.

SUCH STATISTICS indicate the need for incentive among girls if they are to adapt to a future in which, according to the U. S. Labor Department, half of them will be full-time members of the work force for up to 30 years.

Studies have shown that children begin to develop self image and self confidence, or the lack of them, at a very early age. The commission states that "a recent review of California elementary school textbooks reveals that 75 per cent of the main characters in stories are male, and that girls are most often presented as helpless, unoriginal and lacking curiosity."

These findings are supported by Drs. Sandra and Daryl Bem, associate professors of psychology at Stanford University. The Bems recently spoke on women's roles in American society.

"FIVE TIMES as many males as females are mentioned in the titles of children's books," say the Bems, "contributing to the homogenization of American women."

They believe women are unconsciously molded to fill only one role. "The major consensus is that most women end up full-time housewives. The important point is not the role (housewife) itself, but that so many women end up in the same role."

The solution, they feel, is to make people aware of their unconscious assumptions and to provide adequate role models.

San Rafael is first home

Couple Is Married In Afternoon Rites

Deborah Mick became the bride of John Halligan Sunday in an afternoon ceremony at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael. A reception followed in the parish hall of Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Mick of San Rafael are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Halligan of San Rafael and the late Mr. Halligan.

Laura Kane of Larkspur was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Sandra de Marta of San Rafael and Vicky Basil of Kentfield.

James Lee served as best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Pete Maffia and the bridegroom's brother, James Halligan. All are residents of San Rafael.

Deborah was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Bay Cities College of Medical-Dental Assistants. She also attended Sonoma State College. Ronald Mick is her brother. The bride is employed by Heller's Baby News Store in San Rafael.

A graduate of San Rafael High School, John served in the Navy and is now employed by a painting firm in San Rafael. He is also the brother of Jean, Mary and Robert Halligan. Mr. and Mrs. J. Emmet Halligan of San Rafael are his grandparents.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel the couple will live in San Rafael.

Missionary League Picks Mrs. Beyer As President

Mrs. Ernest B. Beyer, new president of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Mill Valley's Peace Lutheran Church, is a one-year-member of the group. It is the only organization she has joined.

Her conception of its aims includes fostering of Christian knowledge, encouraging Christian fellowship and engaging in church, charity and missionary work. She says the group welcomes women other than members of the church.

The new president says that special efforts and projects for the year will be to assist Good Shepherd Home for the Mentally Retarded in Terra Bella, delinquency prevention ministry among teen-agers, printing and distributing religious material for the deaf and blind and getting parish assistants and social workers in several California districts.

A native of Detroit, Mich., Lila Mae Beyer holds a B.S. degree in nursing from the University of Michigan School of Nursing in Ann Arbor and is employed part-time at the Permanente Medical Center in San Francisco.

She and her husband, a chemist with the Food and Drug Administration, have lived in Marin five years. They have one two-year-old daughter, Lisa Louise.

Mrs. Beyer's other interests are sewing, biking and hiking.

Other new officers of the league are Mmes. Kenneth Behnken, vice president; Sam Winters, secretary; Wilbur Reece, treasurer; and Lin Frasson and James Eddy, members-at-large.

An Enlightened Period In Fashions

Fashion has reached an awareness of enlightment where age, true age is concerned, says Rudi Gernreich.

"At last a woman over 25 no longer feels a moral obligation to look like a teen-ager," he says.

Mrs. Wallerstein To Get Teaching Award

Mrs. Robert Wallerstein of Belvedere will receive the University of California's Distinguished Teaching Award for academic year 1970-71 at the fall term opening meeting Thursday morning at the Greek Theatre on the Berkeley campus.

The Berkeley campus-wide honor to the school of social welfare lecturer reads, "You are nominated by your colleagues and students in recognition of your dedication to, and excellence in, teaching."

The $1,500 award is divided into three equal parts: the lecturer's prize, funds for her use in implementing ideas in further improving undergraduate education and a gift to the social welfare department.

Judith Wallerstein, mother of three children, came to Marin five years ago. She had been lecturer and senior children's therapist for 17 years at Menninger Clinic, Topeka, Kan., a large psychiatric training center.

Her husband, Dr. Wallerstein, is director of the psychiatry department at Mount Zion Hospital and clinical professor of psychiatry at the University of California's medical school, both in San Francisco.

A well balanced diet contains food from all four food groups developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The groups: eggs, poultry, meat fish; milk and other dairy products; fruits and vegetables; whole grain or enriched bread and cereals.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Nothing Dangerous About Play, But The Odds Are About 3 to 1

There's nothing dangerous about the play that makes today's contract as long as you remember that the odds are 3 to 1 against it in any normal hand. You should use the backward finesse only when you are sure that a normal finesse will lose. This is very seldom indeed, since you can very seldom be so sure about the location of a queen.

Opening lead — ♡ K

HEART ROUNDS

West led three rounds of hearts, and South ruffed the third. South led trumps at once, and East took the ace of trumps and got out safely with a trump.

Now South needed the rest of the tricks, and he tried to avoid losing a club trick by leading a club to dummy's king and then returning a club for a finesse with the jack. West won with the queen of clubs, and South was down one.

"Do you suppose it's something I ate?" South asked mournfully. "I haven't won a finesse all evening."

SNIFF AT SOUTH

In our wisdom, we can sniff at South. He should have known that the normal club finesse would fail. Any other plan was better.

After East showed up with the ace of spades there was no chance that he would also hold the queen of clubs. He failed to respond to the opening bid, and East would have raised hearts or bid one notrump if he held six points in high cards.

GET COUNT

After drawing trumps, South should cash the three diamonds, ending in his hand. By that time he knows that West started with only five hearts and only one spade. This leaves room for seven cards in diamonds and clubs. This means that the queen of clubs will not drop under the ace and king.

South must lead the jack of clubs for a backward finesse. West covers with the queen, and dummy's king wins. Now declarer returns a club from dummy to take a finesse with the nine of clubs. Since East has the ten, this finesse works and the contract comes in.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠- K Q 9 8
♥- 9 5 3
♦- A Q 10
♣- K 6 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one club or one diamond.

If you open with one spade, your partner will probably bid two of a different suit, and you will have to make the overbid of two notrump. If you bid a minor suit, and your partner bids one of a suit, you can bid one notrump to show that you have only a minimum opening bid. (If partner bids one spade, however, you will raise to two spades.)

Suspected Bomb Was Only Flowers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Two explosives experts were awakened early Thursday to investigate a suspected bomb in a box left in the lobby of a local radio station.

The box was opened carefully. Inside was a bouquet of white roses, surrounded by carnations.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON GREB

Guess who was born today and became famous.

1. The U.S. Navy holds high regard for this particular American whose birthday we celebrate today. During the War of 1812, he was the courageous naval captain who, though mortally wounded during a fight between his vessel and that of the British, urged his officers and men, "Don't give up the ship": (A) James Lawrence; (B) John Barry; (C) David Farragut.

2. At age eight, this next celebrity was caught in a London air raid and started singing. People in the bomb shelter liked it; so her mother sent this songbird to voice school, which led to roles like Eliza Dolittle in "My Fair Lady," Maria in "The Sound of Music," and the title part in "Mary Poppins": (A) Connie Stevens; (B) Julie Andrews; (C) Audrey Hepburn.

3. What prolific American fiction writer is 78 today? The granddaughter of missionaries, she grew up in Brooklyn and produced a new book every six months during her active career, including titles like "The Office Wife" and "The Juniper Tree": (A) Agatha Christie; (B) Pearl Buck; (C) Faith Baldwin.

4. What Russian-born concert pianist made his American debut at the age of 24 with the New York Philharmonic? His recent recordings were rated seventh in popularity in a nationwide pool of college students: (A) Vladimir Horowitz; (B) Henry Mancini; (C) Rudolf Serkin.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from California and National Parent-Teacher Association Magazine and Parent's Magazine. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Blue Water, White Death" — An outstanding documentary that records a 12,000-mile sea trek of white killer sharks.

"Endless Summer" — A beautiful exciting travel film of surfing around the world.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Andromeda Strain" — Scientists race against time in a fantastic underground labratory in trying to identify a mysterious fatal disease from outer space. The death of people and animals could be upsetting for younger children. Very tense.

"Colossus, Forbin Project" — National security is being controlled by a computer. It develops a strange unprogrammed potential and joins forces with a similar Russian computer and threatens mankind with extinction unless obeyed.

"Hellstrom Chronicle" — Fascinating and incredibly detailed study of the insect world is nothing short of miraculous. It conveys a new awareness of the world we inhabit.

"Lord of the Flies" — A group of British school boys, marooned on an uninhabited tropical island by a plane crash, regress to ancient savagery. Well acted, and film conveys author Golding's comment on human frailty.

"Omega Man" — A brilliant scientist survives a world bacteriological war uninfected. Victims with the disease become ghoulish psychotics determined to kill. A grim heavy-handed science fiction tale.

"Rio Lobo" — John Wayne is a Yankee colonel who after the war seeks an informer in a gold shipment robbery. Usual action-packed western.

"Walkabout" — An exciting adventure of two English children lost in the wilds of Australia is brilliantly presented. A stunningly photographed nature essay and a highly moral fable is perfect for discussion groups. A study guide is available, call the library for address.

"Wait Until Dark" — Hair-raising thriller, very well acted about a blind woman who is caught in the web of a heroin delivery that has gone astray.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Anderson Tapes" — An ex-convict unaware that his every move is filmed and taped plans to rob an entire apartment building of its treasures. Much foul language, sex scenes and a savagely brutal violent ending.

"Dr. Strangelove" — A merciless satire holds a deadly serious subject up to ridicule. It deals with the horrifying possibilities of nuclear holocaust resulting from a combination of human frailty and machine over man. Devastatingly cynical.

"Little Big Man" — A tragicomic view of history of Indian-white relation as seen through the eyes of a 121-year-old ex-gunfighter. Some sex scenes and much brutal violence. Well acted.

"Man Called Sledge" — Excessively violent and repellent view of American west. A successful gold robbery misfires when the thieves double cross each other.

"Panic in Needle Park" — Superb acting help to shatter any romantic delusion about the drug scene. A bit overlong but compassionate love story in the tragic world of drugs. Brutally honest view.

"Summer of '42" — Three adolescent boys at a summer resort during World War II read a medical book to learn about sex. They pick up girls and follow instruction in the book. Beautifully filmed very low-key drama.

"Vanishing Point" — A boring pointless film about a man's compulsion to drive a car from Denver to San Francisco in 15 hours, breaking all rules along the way. Sex, violence, nudity and cursing in generous portions.

"Who is Harry Kellerman" — A very successful rock song writer, approaching middle age doesn't like himself at all. A confusing glimpes of back flashes, fantasies and episodes rather boringly try to explain why. Interesting photography.

ADULTS ONLY

"Carnal Knowledge" — The sex lives of two men from college days to middle age done in a two dimensional, cynical, satirical style does become tiresome. Fine performances from cast, language and sex are explicit.

"Doctors' Wives" — Marital and extra-marital sex in medical circles with operating room gore as added attraction.

"Love Machine" — Adaptation of Susann's bestseller leaves much to be desired. An oversexed TV newscaster becomes president of the network by bedding down with everyone. Some of the serious dramatic moments are quite funny.

"McCabe and Mrs. Miller" — A mining town at the turn of the century is victimized by a petty crook who sets up a brothel. Story is tasteless in the name of realism. Much brutality, vulgarity and nudity.

A Call For Study Centers In Slum Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI)——Children of slum-dwelling parents with low IQs can develop high intelligence levels if enrolled in "intensive enrichment programs" at an early age, John G. Veneman, undersecretary of the Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) department believes.

Veneman cited an HEW study showing rapid improvement in slum children's IQs Wednesday in rejecting a proposal by William Shockley, a Stanford University physicist, that the government help pay for sterilization of persons with low intelligence.

"All my instincts tell me that the way to attack mental retardation is at its roots, not through its victims," Veneman said in remarks prepared for delivery at a mental retardation forum in Honolulu.

Teen Programs At Two Schools

An evening recreation program for teen-agers will be offered at Neil Cummins and San Clemente schools, the Town of Corte Madera has announced.

The evening program will open in school gymnasiums on Tuesdays at Neil Cummins and Thursdays at San Clemente from 7 to 9 p.m.

The program will include team sports, table tennis, music, arts and crafts under the supervision of an advisor and volunteers. Additional information may be obtained by phoning town hall.

'Road Shows' On Education Set

Lanny Berry, special assistant in the Tamalpais High School District, will take part in 11 "road show" presentations on special educational programs during October and early November.

He will discuss "Project Breakthrough," an educational program for black persons developed by the Tamalpais district with federal funds. The lectures by Berry and eight other speakers will be sponsored by the Association of California School Administrators as part of a statewide series of professional development conferences.

The "road shows" will begin Tuesday in Arcata and end Nov. 3 in Anaheim; the only presentation in the northern Bay Area will be Oct. 13 at Richmond High School.

DIMITRI FAMPAS
To perform Monday

Guiatrist Will Play On Monday

Guitarist Dimitri Fampas will give a recital in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael, Monday at 8 p.m. His program will include works by Mudarra, Bach, Sor and Albeniz.

Fampas is on his first tour of the United States. He has performed in most European capitals and has participated in the committee of International Festivals of Pilsen and Milan.

Dinner, Dance Benefits Center

A benefit dinner and dance for the Forest Meadows Development Center in San Rafael has netted between $1,500 and $1,700, a center spokesman said today.

Marlys Kehm, principal at the school for physically and educationally handicapped children, said Tuesday is dinner sponsored by Deer Park Villa restaurant in Fairfax drew more than 500 persons.

The restaurant staged the benefit assisted by volunteer ticket sellers from among the school's parents. It was the second year the restaurant has sponsored the event.

Dr. Hicks Is Rehired As County Clinical Physician

Dr. Marilyn K. Hicks, former assistant health officer before county merger of all health care services, has been rehired as clinical physician at the County Health Clinic, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

The board of supervisors set her salary for the part-time position at $11,058 for the rest of the fiscal year. The vote was 3 to 2 with Louis H. Baar and John F. McInnis dissenting.

The Independent-Journal erred in reporting on Wednesday that her position as clinical physician had been turned down by the 3 to 2 vote because a four-fiths vote was needed for the $11,058 appropriation. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said a four-fifths vote is needed for a new appropriation, but in this case, the funds will come from within the department of health care services, and therefore a majority vote only was needed.

150 Toys Are Banned By FDA

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) said today it has banned 150 toys as hazardous this year and has nearly finished inspecting 122 toy factories.

In addition, the FDA said, manufacturers have modified about 60 types of toys to eliminate hazards pointed out by the agency.

The 150 banned toys fall into five classes banned by the FDA under the 1969 Toy Safety Act.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

Cotati 'Must Replace' Its Waterworks

The Cotati City Council heard last night that the city's entire water system is aged, decayed and must be replaced.

City engineer Paul Schock told the council that the whole city should be repiped since leaks are abundant and repair work can no longer solve the problem.

He said that pressure is also a big problem since most of the city is served by only four-inch water lines. Schock said the small pipes and accompanying low pressure do not provide adequate water supply for fighting major fires and represent a hazard.

He estimated installation of new pipes would cost $362,000 and that a new well would also be needed at an estimated cost of $50,000.

The council said it would study the water plan further, but told Schock to immediately replace the four-inch water line at Old Redwood Highway and Gravenstein Highway with a six-inch line so that work could be done in conjunction with the street widening project there.

The council said it would meet in special session Monday at 6:30 p.m. to consider awarding a contract for the work.

After hearing the water system report, the council went behind closed doors to discuss personnel problems. The meeting was requested by Lester Petersen, who was appointed to the council in August.

Oregon Logger Sentenced For W. Marin Violations

What may have been the final chapter in a long controversial logging operation on Bolinas Ridge ended yesterday with the sentencing of one of the owners of an Oregon lumber company.

George E. Walker, of North Bend, Ore., having pleaded no contest earlier this week to seven misdemeanor charges, was fined $1,000, placed on probation for three years and ordered to pay the county the cost of putting out fires his firm was logging last year.

Fourteen other counts were dismissed as were all 21 counts against two codefendants, Robert L. Matthews and Jerald R. Humbert, both also of North Bend and partners in Walker's Lumber company.

The no contest plea has the same effect in the criminal court as a guilty plea but prevents the use of that plea against the defendant in any civil suit.

He was represented by San Rafael attorney William O. Weissich who reached agreement on the outcome of the case with Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas.

The charges were filed last year at the request of the county counsel's office which accused the lumber company of uncontrolled burning in connection with their logging operation on the Ethel Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge.

Walker, Matthews and Humbert were accused of allowing unattended fires on the ranch, endangering neighboring Marin Municipal Water District lands and burning ground cover and seedling trees.

Rather than piling slag and debris and burning it under controlled conditions, the county counsel's office said, they merely set fire to the entire area.

The 21 charges against were actually restatements of three offenses alleged to have occurred on seven consecutive days in April 1970.

They were charged with having an outdoor fire in the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, having an uncontrolled fire and burning within a state responsibility area on each of the seven days.

Walker pleaded no contest to each of the seven counts of having an outdoor fire within the air pollution district each day from April 7 to April 13, 1970.

County firemen using bulldozers extinguished 14 fires on the property within the seven days. Thomas estimated the costs, which Walker will have to repay to the county, at between $2,000 and $2,500.

Thomas said he agreed to the dismissal of the cases against Matthews and Humbert because he had no evidence that the two had any control over the Bolinas Ridge operation or had even been in California.

Firemen's Ball Set Saturday

The Corte Madera Fire Department will stage its 17th Annual Firemen's Ball tomorrow at the town's recreation center on Tamalpais Drive.

The event, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will feature the music of the Maury Wolohan Band of San Francisco.

Last year, more than 400 persons attended the dance which raises funds for the department's health and welfare fund.

While tickets have been mailed to nearly every household in the town, a department spokesman said, those who did not receive them may purchase tickets at the door.

TEACHERS, CLASSES PRAISED

Dominican's Male Minority Enthusiastic But Thirsty

By MARY LEYDECKER

The first group of young men admitted as undergraduates at Dominican College in San Rafael may be the most turned on students in the county.

Their enthusiasm for the "fantastic teaching and small classes" undoubtedly will cause their numbers to rise. (This fall there are 19 men undergraduates out of a total of about 400.)

About eight of them gathered for lunch one day this week and it was hard to find any complaints.

Asked about gripes, two friends, Clay Roni of Tiburon and Phil Walters of Mill Valley, both juniors in the music department, finally said laughingly they had two.

First was lack of drinking fountains and second was a shortage of clocks.

The other young men at the table quickly agreed. One said, "You have to come down two floors to get a drink of water."

"I don't have a watch and I never know what time it is," another said.

School officials promised more drinking fountains but indicated the men students probably will have to learn to live in a somewhat timeless world.

"I guess we've all been institutionalized to clock watching," Roni agreed.

While their reasons for coming to Dominican are as varied as their hair styles, the young men were unanimous in their serious search for an education.

"This is an ideal place to learn," one said, and another added, "You can concentrate more on school here because there are no other problems."

Roni, who attended College of Marin for two years, said that "I was just another number there — everything was computerized."

The youths praised the conveniences made possible by a small student body, the spacious library and expressed a belief that Dominican "is more personalized" than other schools they had attended.

"It's the first time I've ever had an instructor take an interest in me," a young man said.

As for the church's influence on the school, Walters said, "Except for the symbols (crosses and saint's pictures) and the nuns' habits," there is no reminder of the Roman Catholic church.

"They (the 20 nuns on the 90-member faculty) never mention religion unless you ask them about it," he said.

Marc Gartman, a political science major whose home is in San Rafael, transferred to Dominican after a year at the University of Nevada because he wanted to live at home. "I like Marin," he said.

Mark Jordan, another San Rafael resident who is majoring in music, said smilingly that he had wanted to go away to school but couldn't swing it financially.

"You still can, Mark," replied Gary Fishel, who at 22 seemed to be the "papa" of the group not only because he was probably the oldest but also because he was the first and only young man at Dominican last year.

Asked how it felt to be a member of the pioneer male group at the longtime women's college, Fishel replied thoughtfully that "It's probably harder on the girls than it is on us. They're having to share the fantastic teaching and small classes with us."

Sandra Michael, blond 21-year-old student body president, disagreed with Fishel. "We should have done it sooner," she said. She denied that the school "has changed."

She did tell the boys with a grin, however, that having two young men on the students' softball team made a big difference in a recent game against the faculty.

As for the youths' views of the young women in the classes, Roni compared them favorably with their counterparts at College of Marin. "They're biologically the same, I guess," he said, "but they're sure different."

Another young man, Patrick Loomis, 20-year-old junior from the State of Washington, said the college "is still being ruled by females."

Loomis, however, is taking the femininity in stride. The tall music major has a work scholarship in which his job is to organize a glee club.

At the first meeting, he said, about eight girls showed up. He described them as "pretty headstrong." However by the second session, attended by a larger group, "they did pretty well."

Loomis's one attempt so far to take part in student government was a failure. "They were going to elect a day student representative," he said, "but by the time I got to the meeting, the representative had been elected and it was a female."

All the young men at Dominican this year are day students, but the college this week announced plans to convert one of the existing dormitories, or at least a section of one, for men next fall.

Most youths live at home, but Loomis rents a room in a nearby home. Another young man, Doug Van Aman, has a job as a baby sitter for a family with children 9, 7 and 2.

"I only have to babysit a couple of nights a week and I get free room and board," he said, adding he knew about children because of a younger sister.

Most of the youths thought the girls at the school were as interested in getting an education as they are, but 18-year-old Christopher Jones, a math major from San Anselmo, disagreed.

Jones, who sports a bushy beard, round glasses and a full head of hair, said, "I don't know what some of those girls are doing here."

The little cluster of young men in the big dining room was a reminder they were only a small island of masculinity in a feminine world by a loud chorus of "Happy Birthday to You" sung in the best boarding school tradition to a young woman.

"They seem to have a birthday every day," one of the youths said in a rather fatherly fashion.

Judge's Son Gets Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The son of a Superior Court judge has been placed on three years probation for selling 12,950 LSD tablets to an undercover agent.

U.S. District Judge Robert F. Peckham granted probation Thursday to Sheldon K. Perluss, 25, son of Judge Irving H. Perluss of Sacramento.

"He realizes he has made a very grave mistake," said Peckham. "He is contrite and he is in need of continued psychiatric treatment."

Perluss pleaded guilty to selling the tablets to a federal agent and testified for the government against two other drug sellers. He has been in custody 80 days undergoing psychiatric evaluation.

Wife Held In Knifing Of Spouse

Jean Jacqueline Spoel, 41, of 47 Redwood Avenue was booked into Marin County Jail at 9:10 p.m. on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Her 61-year-old husband, Leedert, was admitted to Marin General Hospital where he was listed in satisfactory condition today from a gaping wound in the area of his left groin.

Officers said the stabbing occurred at about 6:15 p.m., shortly after Spoel, a seaman, returned home from Oakland.

Officers said Mrs. Spoel told them she argued with her husband, and picked up the French chef's knife, but could remember nothing more.

Spoel was found lying in a pool of blood outside a neighbor's apartment where he went to summon help.

Officers said a trail of blood led through the Spoel apartment.

Mrs. Spoel remained in jail in lieu of $15,000 bail and was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Annadel Is Not State Park Yet

The celebration sponsored by the Citizens Committee for Annadel Park tomorrow and Saturday at the parksite near Santa Rosa will not actually be the grand opening of a state park, according to Robert Howard, executive director for the California State Parks Foundation.

Information supplied to the Independent-Journal to accompany a photograph printed yesterday erred in saying the land had already become a state park, Howard said. He explained that the nonprofit parks foundation has obtained an option on the land, through fund support from the citizens committee and other sources. The 4,100 acre wilderness is not yet state property, Howard said.

The weekend affair actually is simply an opening of the site to the public, Howard said today.

SWEEPING VIEW

Of the Valley, Sausalito & San Francisco. We have an exciting typical Mill Valley home in a best weather area. Altho it has 3 plus bedrooms, 3 baths, a large formal dining room, it's just a bit different. One of the bedrooms and one bath are on the lower level, ideal for a maid, or an in-law or teen-ager. Let us show this $77,500 charmer.

LOVELY
IMMACULATE HOME

We have one for sale with an asking price of $44,950. This would be a great rental at $375 per month or a total of $4,500 a year. But why rent? We can obtain an 80% loan & the owner will carry back a 10% second, if needed. So with 10% down plus closing costs, this home can be yours to buy instead of to rent. After the down payment is made, & buyer takes title, the monthly payments on the loan & taxes will be approximately $383 a month, almost all of which is tax deductible. 3 bdrms., 2 baths, family room, all in excellent condition.

A MOST CONVENIENT LOCATION

For this 3 bedrooms, 1½ bath home with an asking price of $34,500. This home also has a formal dining room, electric kitchen, plus an interesting level backyard. Why not ask to see it?

COZY 6-ROOM

RESOLUTION NO. 4730

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT DECLARING THE NECESSITY FOR SAID DISTRICT TO EXECUTE A CONTRACT WITH SONOMA COUNTY WATER AGENCY BY WHICH THE DISTRICT MAY INCUR LIABILITY EXCEEDING IN ANY YEAR THE INCOME OR REVENUE FOR SUCH YEAR; CALLING A SPECIAL DISTRICT ELECTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF THE DISTRICT THE MEASURE OF AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION OF SAID CONTRACT AND INCURRING SUCH LIABILITY; STATING SAID MEASURE; FIXING THE DATE OF SAID ELECTION, PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER OF HOLDING THE SAME AND FOR NOTICE THEREOF; AND CONSOLIDATING SAID SPECIAL DISTRICT ELECTION WITH THE MARIN COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 2, 1971

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors (the "board") of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district") has required its General Manager and Chief Engineer to file with the board the Russian River Water Plan dated 1969 (including the portions thereof relating to the Russian River Project and the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct) and has also required its financing consultants, Stone & Youngberg Municipal Financing Consultants, Inc. to file with the board a report entitled "Financing of the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct" dated March 8, 1971, including in said reports estimates of the shares of the costs of the proposed improvements therein described to be paid for by the district and estimates of the bonded indebtedness or other liability of the district required therefor and said reports have been filed with the board and have heretofore been and are hereby approved by the board; and

WHEREAS, the board has determined that the most economical means of acquiring and paying for the district's share of the capacity of the Russian River Project and of Stages I, II and III of the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct (all as described and provided for in said reports) is to execute a contract with Sonoma County Water Agency, containing the substance of the draft thereof heretofore discussed by the board; and the substance of said draft of said contract has been and is hereby approved by the board, subject to such changes as counsel for the district and its bond counsel shall determine to be necessary; and said draft is hereby ordered to be filed with the minutes of this meeting and available for public inspection; and the board deems it necessary to acquire and pay for said capacities, to execute said contract and to incur the liability provided for in said contract, which liability may exceed in any year of the term of said contract the income or revenue of the district for such year, and

WHEREAS, the board has determined, pursuant to law, to submit to the qualified voters of the district the measure hereinafter set forth of whether the district shall be authorized to execute said contract and to incur said liability;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District as follows:

SECTION 1. The board deems it necessary and hereby declares the necessity for the district (a) to acquire and pay for the district's share of the capacity of the Russian River Project and of Stages I, II and III of the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct (all as described and provided for in the reports hereinabove referred to) by executing a contract with Sonoma County Water Agency containing the substance of the draft thereof hereinabove referred to and by incurring the liability provided for in said contract and (b) to submit to the qualified voters of the district the measure hereinafter set forth of whether the district shall be authorized to execute said contract and to incur said liability.

SECTION 2. A special district election (the "election") shall be held and the same is hereby called and ordered to be held in the district on Tuesday, the 2nd day of November, 1971, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the district the following measure (the "measure") to wit:

| MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT MEASURE (B) | | |
|---|---|---|
| MEASURE (B): (Contract and liability approval) Shall Marin Municipal Water District be authorized to execute a contract with Sonoma County Water Agency (containing the substance of the draft on file with the district) for acquisition, (a) by payments (now estimated to aggregate $11,500,000 plus interest thereon) over a 50 year period, of the district's share of the capacity of the proposed Russian River Project when constructed, and (b) by payments (now estimated to aggregate $23,800,000, plus interest thereon) over not to exceed 50 years, of right of use of the district's share of the capacity of Stages I, II and III of the proposed Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct from the Russian River to Petaluma; and for payment by the district of its share of maintenance and operation costs of said project and aqueduct; by which contract the district will incur liability which may exceed in any one or more years of the term of such contract the district's income or revenue for such year or years? | YES | |
| | NO | |

SECTION 3. If a majority of the votes cast at the election is in favor of the measure, then the board will be authorized to execute said contract and to incur said liability.

SECTION 4.

(a) The board does hereby submit the measure to the qualified voters of the district at the election and designates and refers to the measure as the measure to be set forth in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at the election.

(b) The election shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided; and in all particulars not prescribed by this resolution, the election shall be held according to the provisions of law governing elections in the district.

(c) All persons qualified to vote at municipal water district elections in the district upon the date of the election shall be qualified to vote upon the measure.

(d) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(e) The election shall be and is hereby consolidated with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held on the 2nd day of November, 1971, pursuant to the applicable provisions of the California Education Code and Elections Code. All of the territory of the district is located within the boundaries of Marin Community College District. The election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the area of the district for the election hereby called shall be the same as those selected and designated by the County Clerk of Marin County for said Marin Community College District Bond Election and to be set forth in the order designating precincts, polling places and officers of election for said Marin Community College District Bond Election, dated October 1, 1971, signed by the County Clerk of said County, and filed in his office, to which order reference is hereby specifically made for the designation of the precincts, polling places and officers of election for the election; provided, however, that no person not a qualified elector of the district shall be permitted to vote at the election. The County Clerk of Marin County is hereby authorized to canvass or cause to be canvassed the returns of the election with respect to the votes cast in the district and to certify the results to the board.

(f) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said Marin Community College District Bond Election and the election hereby consolidated therewith, which in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon shall state the measure. Data-vote punch card ballots will be used in the precincts and by absent voters at said elections. Each voter to vote for the measure shall punch the card ballot in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of the measure, and to vote against the measure shall punch the card ballot in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of the measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth the measure shall be issued to qualified electors of the district entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and shall likewise be canvassed or caused to be canvassed by the County Clerk of Marin County.

(g) The returns of the election shall be made, the votes canvassed and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the California Education Code and Elections Code so far as may be applicable, except as otherwise provided herein.

The board shall meet forthwith after the canvass of the returns of the election by the County Clerk of Marin County and the certification of the results thereof to the board and the board shall confirm said canvass and declare the results of the election and the Secretary of the board, as soon as said result is declared, shall enter in the records of the board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting the election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

SECTION 5. The Secretary of the Board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election. No other notice of the election need be given.

SECTION 6. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the Board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT RATIFYING, CONFIRMING AND READOPTING RESOLUTION NOS. 4730 AND 4731 AND RESCINDING RESOLUTION NOS. 4732 AND 4733, ALL ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 8, 1971; APPROVING SUBSTANCE OF 9/22/71 DRAFT OF CONTRACT WITH SONOMA COUNTY WATER AGENCY; AND DIRECTING PUBLICATION OF THIS RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors (the "board") of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district") heretofore on September 8, 1971, adopted (a) its Resolution No. 4730 (the "resolution") entitled "Resolution of the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District declaring the necessity for said District to execute a Contract with Sonoma County Water Agency by which the District may incur liability exceeding in any year the income or revenue for such year; calling a Special District Election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the District the measure of authorizing the execution of said Contract and incurring such liability; stating said measure; fixing the date of said election, providing for the manner of holding the same and for notice thereof; and consolidating said Special District Election with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held November 2, 1971" and (b) its Resolution No. 4731 (the "consolidating resolution") entitled "Resolution of the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District requesting the County Superintendent of Schools of Marin County to order the consolidation of a Special District Election with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held November 2, 1971, and requesting the County Clerk of Marin County to conduct and canvass said Election"; and

WHEREAS, California Statutes 1971, Chapter 771, (the "statute") was passed by the Legislature as an urgency statute, to go into immediate effect, and was thereafter signed by the Governor and became effective on September 23, 1971; and the statute authorizes and requires the election (the "election") called and provided for in the resolution; and

WHEREAS, in order to save the district the cost of holding the election separately, it was necessary to adopt the resolution and the consolidating resolution and to publish a notice concerning arguments before the statute became effective, so that arrangements could be made for consolidating the election with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held on November 2, 1971, and so that sample ballots containing the measure to be submitted at the election and arguments could be printed in time for mailing and so that official ballots for absent voters and for use at the precincts could be printed;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District as follows:

SECTION 1. The resolution and the consolidating resolution are hereby ratified, confirmed and readopted effective as of the date of adoption of this resolution and are hereby referred to and incorporated herein by this reference.

SECTION 2. The draft of that certain contract marked "9/22/71 Draft" (the substance of which was heretofore approved by minute order of the board entered in the minutes of the regular meeting of the board held on September 22, 1971) and entitled "Contract Between Sonoma County Water Agency and Marin Municipal Water District" is hereby approved as to substance and is hereby designated as the draft of contract referred to in the second paragraph of the recitals of the resolution and in the measure set forth in the resolution. The secretary of the board is hereby directed to file copies of said "9/22/71 Draft" with the minutes of the meeting at which this resolution is adopted and with the minutes of the meetings of the board held on September 8 and September 22, 1971, respectively.

SECTION 3. Resolution Nos. 4732 and 4733 heretofore adopted by the board on September 8, 1971, relating, respectively, to the calling of a revenue bond election in the district and to the consolidation thereof with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held on November 2, 1971, are hereby RESCINDED.

SECTION 4. The publication by the Secretary of the board on September 17, 1971, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL of the notice fixing Friday, September 24, 1971 as the final date for submission of arguments on the measure set forth in the resolution and the text of said notice are hereby approved and ratified.

SECTION 5. The Secretary of the board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published immediately following the resolution, once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election.

SECTION 6. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 24th day of September, 1971, by the following vote:

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Poor Circulation In Feet Magnifies Trivial Injuries

Normal feet can and do take a lot of punishment. When cut or bruised rapid healing is the rule. They can be placed in hot or cold water without danger and should a blister develop from a tight shoe, recovery usually is speedy. Even a poor job of paring a callus is not necessarily serious.

BUT THE same is not true when poor circulation exists. Even a trivial injury may lead to gangrene. After 60, handle your feet with kid gloves. We emphasize these warnings because most victims of poor circulation are not bothered until they hurt a foot. I have seen hundreds of elderly men and women who date all their troubles to the time they stubbed a toe or were stepped on while riding the bus or subway.

Excessive heat also is hazardous. An example is the middle-aged diabetic with poor circulation who sprained his ankle and decided to soak it in hot water. Within 24 hours, the foot was gangrenous. Heat was the culprit; his circulation was so sluggish that the tissues could not get enough blood to deal with an ordinary increase in temperature. As a result, they burn easily. An elderly woman with an infected callus was told to soak the foot in water "as hot as she could stand." The foot was soaked and by the next day it became red, then black.

THE USE of strong chemicals to eliminate ringworm may have the same aftermath. We can be thankful that ringworm remedies are now safer for "bloodless" feet. Cleanliness is one of the best methods of preventing infection. Daily foot baths in tepid water and soap are beneficial. In addition, they keep the skin soft and doscourage corns and calluses. Nightly applications of lanolin or olive oil also have a softening effect.

Blisters are avoided by wearing properly fitted shoes and hose. Wool hosiery is best because it acts as a cushion. Wrinkling should be guarded against and when holes appear, the hose should be thrown away, not darned. This is not an extravagance because rough spots are a common source of trouble.

(Questions on medical questions will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent Journal.)

HIS EARS POP

B. K. L. writes: My ears pop whenever I get a bad cold. Why does this happen?

REPLY

Because the swollen membranes at the back of the throat obstruct the openings of the eustachian tubes that lead to the ears. The obstruction is not complete and whenever the tubes open momentarily, air rushes in and produces the popping sound.

RETURN OF ADHESIONS

U.J.M. writes: If abdominal adhesions are removed, will they grow back again?

REPLY

They might. These adhesions are of no concern unless they tug on or pinch off the intestine.

INFANTILE UTERUS

Mrs. D. D. writes: Can a woman with a small uterus carry a baby safely?

REPLY

Yes, but women with an infantile uterus may have difficulty getting pregnant. Much depends on the menstrual history.

LIFTING AND PRESSURE

B.D. writes: Does weight-lifting cause high blood pressure?

REPLY

No, altho the pressure might go up temporarily while the person is exerting himself.

Mill Valley Firemen Fight Pair Of Blazes

Mill Valley firemen battled two structual fires last night but in both cases there was heavy damage to the buildings before the blazes were extinguished.

Firemen were first called at 7:30 p.m. to the home of Bonnie Allen at 95 Lovell Avenue, where they said the small house was completely in flames when they arrived.

The house was gutted but firemen had no estimate of the damage or the cause of the fire. Mrs. Allen was not home, they said.

At 11:10 p.m. a fire broke out in an office building at 20 Sunnyside Avenue which gutted two rooms and caused smoke and heat damage to four others.

Again, there was no estimate of damage and the cause was not known.

Injured Youth Still Critical

I-J Special Report

NAPA — More than three months after a horseback riding mishap, 19-year-old Leonard Strikker of Tamalpais Valley remained in critical condition today with head injuries in Queen of the Valley Hospital.

A hospital described Strikker's condition as "static."

Strikker, 19, of 302 Bell Lane, was thrown from a horse which then fell on him while riding June 19 on a Napa Valley ranch.

Taxpayers' Association Says Manpower Concept Is Wrong

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The California Taxpayers' Association says an eight month study it conducted shows that current manpower programs are failing to cut the unemployment ranks because they are based on the wrong concept.

In releasing the study Thursday, the association said the biggest barrier to employment is a lack of jobs. It added that "personality disfunctions are primarily a result of, rather than a cause of unemployment."

The study said the programs, including the state Work Incentive (WIN) Program, rely heavily on the concept that people are unemployed mainly because of personal barriers such as lack of motivation, lack of child care centers and inadequate transportation.

It said programs started in the early 1960s, such as War on Poverty plans, were found to be "counter-productive and with high expectations and low yield."

The WIN program, which is 30-months-old, "appears to be no more successful than its predecessors," the Cal-Tax staff concluded.

The conclusions were based on a study of the Alameda County Welfare Deaprtment and welfare related programs.

Based upon Alameda County, the study said, the county welfare department's manpower programs have been more effective than WIN in eliminating Aid to Families with Dependent Children cases.

In 1966, it said, 453 AFDC cases were closed to the department. In 29 months, the WIN program closed only 250 cases.

Cal-Tax concluded the most effective manpower strategy would be to concentrate on the employment market and not on the unemployed.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on August 17, 1971, the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District duly and regularly adopted the following resolution:

RESOLUTION NO. 901

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT DECLARING THE NECESSITY FOR INCURRING A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS, STATING THE PURPOSE OF THE DEBT AND THE AMOUNT THEREOF AND FIXING THE TIME AND PLACE OF A HEARING BY THE BOARD ON THE QUESTION OF WHETHER THE WHOLE OR ONLY A PORTION OF THE DISTRICT WILL BE BENEFITED BY THE ACCOMPLISHMENT OF THE PURPOSE AND IF ONLY A PORTION OF THE DISTRICT WILL BE BENEFITED WHAT PORTION WILL BE SO BENEFITED.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District in regular meeting assembled this 17th day of August, 1971, as follows:

1. This Board hereby declares that it is necessary for the District to incur an indebtedness by the issuance of general obligation bonds in order to provide water service for domestic, commercial, industrial and other beneficial uses on lands within the District.

2. The purpose for which the proposed indebtedness is to be incurred is to provide financing for the North Marin County Water District's portion of the costs incurred by Sonoma County Water Agency for importing supplemental water supplies from the Russian River to the North Marin County Water District, including all costs and estimated costs incidental to or connected with the acquisition, construction, improving and financing of said project, and including all engineering, inspection, legal and fiscal agents fees, costs of the bond election and of the issuance of said bonds and bond interest estimated to accrue during the construction period and for a period not to exceed 12 months after completion of construction.

3. The amount of the proposed debt is the sum of $1,600,000. (one million, six hundred thousand dollars).

4. This Board of Directors hereby fixes Wednesday, the 8th day of September, 1971, at the hour of 8:00 P.M., PSDT, at the offices of this District at 999 Atherton Avenue, in the City of Novato, County of Marin, State of California, as the time and place for a public hearing by this Board of Directors on the questions:

(a) Will the whole or only a portion of North Marin County Water District be benefited by the accomplishment of the aforementioned purpose?

(b) If only a portion of said District will be benefited what portion will be so benefited?

5. It is the present intention of this Board of Directors, subject to the determination to be made at said hearing, to exclude from any improvement district to be formed which describes the area to be benefited by said indebtedness all portions of North Marin County Water District located in the western part of Marin County, being those territories denominated Annexations 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, and 8 and known as Olema, Point Reyes Station, Inverness Park, Oceana Marin, and the territories of North Marin County Water District on the east shore of Tomales Bay.

6. If this Board of Directors cannot hear all interested persons desiring to be heard at the time and place aforementioned said hearing may be continued from day to day until all such persons shall be heard.

7. The Secretary of this District be, and he hereby is, authorized and directed to cause a notice of the aforementioned hearing together with a copy of this resolution to be published in the Novato Advance, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the District, for at least two weeks before the time fixed for the hearing and in the manner prescribed by law.

FURTHER NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the public hearing referred to in the foregoing resolution will be held at the time and place specified in the resolution, that is, at the hour of 8:00 P.M., PDST, on Wednesday, September 8, 1971, at the office of said District at 999 Atherton Avenue, City of Novato, County of Marin, State of California. At that time and place any person interested, including all persons owning property in the District, will be heard upon the questions stated in the resolution.

Dated: August 18, 1971
BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT

CONSUMERS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A council of California economistssays an improvement in consumer confidence should appear fairly strong by the middle of 1972 but no major changes are expected for the rest of this year.

The Economic Advisory Council of the California Chamber of Commerce said Thursday the state's economy should show "measurable improvement" before the middle of next year if President Nixon's wage-price freeze is relaxed.

However, the council said in a prepared statement that consumer confidence will not receive a "substantial jolt" during the remainder of 1971.

It said that basic economic difficulties are "presently severe enough" that a period of consolidation will be necessary before the consumer will be in a position to significantly expand his purchases.

By the end of the second quarter of next year, most council members feel, the nation should be on the way to a good employment recovery.

The council said the wage-price freeze, combined with the 10 per cent import tax, is likely to have a slightly depressing effect on the California economy for the rest of the year.

FUNERAL REFORM

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate has concurred an Assembly amendment and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan legislation proposing a measure of funeral "reform."

The upper chamber accepted the Assembly amendments Thursday on a 28-1 vote. The bill is sponsored by Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills.

It would prohibit crematories from requiring that human remains be cremated in a casket and would require funeral directors to provide a list of prices and fees before agreeing or contracting on funeral services.

The bill also would require that prices be posted conspicuously on caskets.

PLANE NOISE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill banning the sue of aircraft within the state which exceed federal noise limits for subsonic jet transports was approved Thursday by the Senate Health and Welfare Committee.

The measure by Assemblyman John Burton, D-San Francisco, was sent to the floor of the senate on a voice vote.

If you could convince the Soviets that you were HENRY SHAPIRO of United Press International you'd get in. But since you can't, better let Shapiro do it for you . . . and then write a dispatch which you can read in the I-J.

For more than 30 years Shapiro has been manager of UPI'S Moscow Bureau. He is the dean of Western correspondents there. His abilities, his writing and his honors are known and respected throughout the world—even by the Russians!

His assignment is perhaps the most difficult of any correspondent. He must maintain a delicate balance within a totalitarian world yet report to you, the reader, on events often unreported within the USSR itself. He must maintain accreditation yet maintain credibility with his audience for reliable reporting.

Such talents have enabled Henry Shapiro to cover every major event in the USSR since the treason trials of the Thirties, the siege of Leningrad, Stalin's death, Khrushchev's rise and fall from power, the Soviet space flights—the entire spectrum of the USSR.

When you read Shapiro's dispatches in the I-J you can be sure you are receiving authoritative information. He's your man in the Kremlin. In fact, one of the few men who comes out with the news . . . because he's "in."

Prediction Comes All Too True

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Television newsman Harry Martin may think twice before again asking anyone who claims to have extrasensory perception to make a prediction about him.

Martin made such a request Wednesday while interviewing Mrs. Mary Lou Smith of Orangevale during a news show on KCRA-TV. Mrs. Smith said she has used her "powers" to help locate missing persons and help neighbors find lost articles.

Martin asked Mrs. Smith to tell him something about himself. She said she had a vision of Martin in what resembled a hospital bed with his arms and legs raised like he was in a cast.

Five hours later, Martin was involved in a three-car accident while driving home from work.

He was hospitalized with a broken ankle, cracked ribs and cuts and bruises. He is confined to a bed with his ankle in a cast and in a raised position.

Couple Injured In 3-Car Wreck

Two Novato residents have suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident at Grant Avenue and First Street, according to Novato police.

Thomas Louis Nowak, 31, of 764 Sutro Avenue, one of the drivers, suffered a cut left arm, and his passenger, Rose K. Nowak, of the same address, suffered multiple scrapes and bruises. They were treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael.

The Nowak car and a car driven by Hal Kenneth Colen, 18, of 429 Ely Boulevard, Petaluma, collided in the intersection at 6 p.m. The Colen car then struck a stopped vehicle driven by Cynthia Hope Beade, 26, of 1221 Vallejo Street, Novato, Police reported.

Board Members Charged With Stealing Liquor

The King County grand jury indictment charged all three members of the Washington State Liquor Control Board and a former board member with grand larceny, fraudulent appropriation by a public officer, and using their positions to obtain special privileges.

Basically, the charges alleged the four unlawfully and willingly appropriated liquor for their own use and for the use of their families and friends.

Accused were Liquor Board Chairman Jack C. Hood, board members Leroy M. Hittle and Donald D. Eldridge, and former board member Garland Sponburgh.

Fire Prevention Week Observations

National Fire Prevention Week — Sunday through Oct. 9 — will be observed with a series of fire safety talks in Marin County schools, the county fire chiefs association reported yesterday. Most of the stations also will hold open house hours daily, according to the association.

The Fire-O-Rama held in past years will be shelved this year due to spectator competition from the World Series and professional football games, the chiefs decided earlier this week. The major demonstration effort will be saved for Fire Prevention Day next May, they explained.

Bomb Hoax At College Of Marin

College of Marin buildings were cleared for a half hour yesterday after a college switchboard operator was told a bomb had been planted on the campus. A building-by-building search produced no bomb.

According to Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, between 1,000 and 1,500 students were evacuated at 2:30 p.m. from the buildings while sheriff's deputies hunted for the bomb.

The switchboard operator told officers she received the call at 1:30 p.m. from a male voice which warned a bomb would detonate at 2:45 p.m.

The students, who appeared to take the threat in stride, spent the half hour sprawled on campus lawns under a pleasant fall sun. Some remained outside after the "all clear" buzzer was sounded at 3 p.m.

College President John A. Grasham said nine sheriff's deputies searched campus buildings for an hour after the threat was received and before clearing the buildings as an added precautionary measure when no bomb was found.

Six Cities Win Safety Awards

The California State Auto Association has presented pedestrian safety awards to six cities at the meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen in Tiburon.

Robert W. Graver of the Marin office of CSAA and Jack Craemer, a director, made the awards to Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Larkspur, Novato, Corte Madera and Sausalito at Wednesday night's meeting.

None of the honored cities reported any pedestrian fatalities in the last year; both Mill Valley and San Anselmo had pedestrian injury rates well below the norm for cities of their size.

Larkspur was honored for avoiding pedestrian fatalities for 20 years; Sausalito for 16 years without a pedestrian death, Novato, 10 and Corte Madera, six years.

Police officials of most of the cities honored accepted the safety award placques.

Innovative Classes Slated At College

Additional information on the non-credit courses may be obtained by phoning the associated students office through the college switchboard.

First College Times Issue Hits Stands

This semester's first issue of the College of Marin Times was released yesterday as a 16-page tabloid covering a wide range of subjects.

Edited by Peter Menkin, the Times will continue this semester as a weekly publication supported by the Associated Students of the College of Marin.

The first issue devotes two pages to the drama department's summer trip to Edinburgh, Scotland; a page to drug addiction in the military (complete with a cartoon of Sgt. Smack and Easy Co. which depicts a formation of men ordered to "present arms" for an injection of heroin); a page to movie reviews and another to editorial comment.

"By count, excluding ushers, there were as many as 12 people under the age of 25 in the building," the veterans memorial article says.

While last semester's Times confined itself largely to campus issues and interests, this semester's deals with subjects of "off-campus" interest to students as well.

One column deals with dreams and invites readers to submit their own. It warns, however, that dreams are quickly forgotten and advises potential dream-writers to take a large pad and pencil to bed.

A second column deals with mental telepathy, hypnotism, faith healing, precognition, psychokinesis and witchcraft along with other exotic subjects. The column advises readers of a class in tarot, palmistry and advance astrology.

"The more people who become involved the less chance these emerging powers can be used in evil ways," the column states.

Round One On Disaster Proposal

Marin County moved a step closer yesterday toward obtaining an updated plan for coping with disasters such as the killer earthquake that hit the Los Angeles area in February.

County and city officials, together with representatives of school districts, the state disaster office, hospitals and public utilities, met in the Civic Center for review of a proposal for revising the county's 11-year-old civil defense plan.

That plan, state and county officials have said, would leave Marin unprepared to handle a major emergency. (Details of the plan were published Wednesday in the Independent-Journal)

Amid scattered concern over some aspects of the new plan, prepared by Frank E. Kirby, acting county coordinator of emergency services, the group informally agreed to turn the proposal over to Marin's 11 cities for approval in concept and signing of new mutual aid pacts.

The proposal, aimed at better disaster planning and improved mobilization of emergency services, calls for creation of an emergency operational area that would help cities in the event a municipality was unable to handle a local disaster and for establishment of control and emergency service groups that would go into action in a disaster.

Kirby told the group the state disaster office already has approved the portion of the plan outlining the county's role in dealing with an emergency in the unincorporated area. He was told, he said, the full plan is "on the right track."

One city councilman, Warren R. Perry of San Anselmo, said he found the plan "virtually overwhelming" because of its size and detail and believed it might be difficult defining clearly for government officials their areas of responsibility.

Corte Madera Mayor Holmes S. Norville, while joining with Perry in endorsing the goals of the plan, shared the San Anselman's concern, adding the proposal also failed to make clear whether municipal officials would remain in charge once outside aid were sought in an emergency.

Kirby fixed much of the blame for ambiguity on "state-mandated language," but believed there was room for modification. He also sought to assure Norville that it was the intention of the plan to protect the right of local officials to remain in charge in the event mutual aid is needed.

Samuel Butts, regional coordinator for the state disaster office, and Robert E. Spain, assistant superintendent of schools, stressed the need for coordination between city and county disaster officials and school district personnel. "I don't think there's a coordinated effort here now," Spain said.

Kirby said this would be worked on.

He also told Paul Jacobs, a representative of Marin Ecology Center, of the intention to include in the plan what steps to take in the event of an air pollution crisis.

The group agreed to meet again at 4 p.m. Dec. 2 in the Civic Center once cities formally review the plan.

She Shops While Car Is Burglarized

A woman's coat, a purse and a wallet containing credit cards were stolen from a car driven by a Novato girl while it was parked outside a San Rafael store yesterday.

Police reported that Brenda June Gray, 18, of 189 Montego Key, Novato, told them she was shopping in the Disco department store, 555 Francisco Boulevard, when the items were stolen shortly before 8 p.m.

Marin Firm Asks Oakland Bus Link

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — All-day bus service linking Marin and the East Bay has been proposed in an application by Marin Transit Systems Inc. to the Public Utilities Commission.

The Marin City-based company's application asked a permit to serve between San Anselmo and San Rafael via San Quentin to Richmond, Berkeley and Oakland. One-way fares would range from 50 cents to $1.50.

The company proposed running two buses on the service, operating midday as well as in peak commuter hours.

A PUC spokesman said that no hearing has been set yet on the application, but that the commission's staff said a hearing would be held after Nov. 1. The application indicated there may be a protest to the service, he said.

There is no competing service across the bridge, but the East Bay is served by the Alameda-Contra Costa County Transit District. Cecil J. Allen of San Anselmo operated a bus across the Richmond-San Rafael bridge for its opening in 1956 until last June, when he ceased operations for lack of business.

Allen had appealed unsuccessfully for a county subsidy to continue operations.

County Must Pay Davis, Magee Costs

If the court orders the payment of fees in the Angela Davis or Ruchell Magee cases, Marin has no choice but to cough up, even if the bills are for a pathologist from Vienna.

That, said Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, is the unequivocal advice given him by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

Mitchell said today he therefore paid $6,000 to Richard L. Graves, attorney for Magee, for expenses incurred during July and August. This payment brings to $20,000 the total amount paid to the attorney since May of this year.

Last Tuesday, Marin County Supervisors balked at paying for a Vienna pathologist whom Graves requested. Supervisors set up a four-man audit committee to review all such bills before they are paid.

"The facts are that neither the board of supervisors nor the audit committee has the authority to dispute a legal court order requiring your auditor-controller to pay such a claim," said Mitchell.

However, he will make it a point to submit each of the bills pertaining to the Davis-Magee cases to the supervisors for information purposes.

Palestinian Arab Student Reflects On Israeli Rule

A Palestinian student at the College of Marin, target of Arab wrath as the result of an interview in the Independent-Journal, said yesterday the story didn't accurately reflect his view.

Nayef S. Jaber said the quotation attributed to him that "the tragedy for the people of Palestine came from Arab governments," was wrong. He had meant merely to say that the Arab governments didn't help the Palestinians enough and didn't help them solve problems, Jaber said.

Jaber said Palestinians in the Old City of Jerusalem are treated as "second class" citizens and are discriminated against and that the Independent-Journal erred in quoting him as saying that Arabs under Israeli rule were happy and that there wasn't any discrimination.

As to his previous comment that workers were doing better under Israeli rule, Jaber yesterday remarked, "There is more work, but that is because Israel is building housing for Jewish newcomers."

He said his comment on Syrians was misinterpreted and that he regarded them as "aggressive," not "bloody," as the story said.

The quotation that the Palestinian guerrillas "are finished" was misleading and he simply meant that the guerrillas had left Jordan, not that they were "finished completely."

He explained that he served on the Israeli police force only because he wanted to live "peacefully."

The day after the interview appeared, two angry Arabs approached Jaber and threw at him a copy of the I-J on which a threat was written in Arabic.

Underground Blast Rocks Building; 33 Hurt

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (UPI) — Thirty-three persons were injured Thursday night in an underground explosion which rocked a three-story brick building and ripped up 125 feet of sidewalk.

Fourteen persons were hospitalized at Olympic Memorial Hospital. One critically injured man was flown by Coast Guard helicopter to Seattle for further treatment.

Two others were taken to the Coast Guard infirmary here and one of them, in a state of shock, was also flown to Seattle.

Officials were investigating the possibility of a gas explosion.

Giants Win Western Title In Dramatic Season Finale

Perry To Pitch Playoff Opener Against Pirates

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates will work out at Candlestick Park today by way of preparing for the National League playoffs which start Saturday, but for the San Francisco Giants, it's going to be a day of rest and reflection.

While the Pirates won the National League East easily, the Giants went down to the wire in San Diego Thursday night to nail down the N.L. West with a 5-1 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"I don't want a single man to lift a bat, throw a ball or even show up at the ball park," said Giants skipper Charlie Fox. "We've been through the wringer these last three weeks and we all can use a day away from baseball."

The Giants were about as emotionally spent as any ball club could be after winning the flag on the very last day of the season. They combined the hitting talents of old Willie Mays and young Dave Kingman and the gutty pitching of the slightly tarnished Juan Marichal to reach the playoffs opposite the Pirates.

Mays, his 40-year-old body aching from head to toe after a long and sometimes frustrating season, drove in San Francisco's first run in Thursday's climactic game with a 420-foot double, scored a run and later stole two bases.

The two thefts gave him 23 on the year, the most by a 40-year-old since Ty Cobb way back in 1927.

"Heck, I didn't even know they kept such a record," said Mays. "At this stage of my career setting records doesn't mean a thing. The only thing that counts is winning, and we won when a lot of people had written us off. To me this victory is probably the most gratifying of my career."

Kingman, a star at the University of Southern California a little more than a year ago, drilled a two-run homer, right after Mays had doubled in the fourth, and as things turned out that was all the help Marichal needed to win his fourth in a row and 18th of the year.

"I'm still not too sure what has happened," Kingman said. "It'll all sink in a little while, but I do know it feels pretty good."

Marichal probably was the happiest man in the Giants dressing room after Thursday night's victory in San Diego. He ran from player to player shaking hands and clapping people on the back but when he finally caught up to Mays the two old pros hugged each other unashamedly.

"Juan deserves a lot of credit for our winning," said Mays. "He showed what kind of a pitcher he is by winning when he had to win."

Marichal called the 1971 season, which at times seemed like the longest of his career, a most rewarding one.

"I had better years personally before," said the 32-year-old high-kicking righthander from the Dominican Republic, "But this year we won, and that's the most important thing. I won 26 games in 1968 but we finished second, so it really didn't mean much."

The Giants put Thursday night's game away in the fourth inning when they scored three times off Dave Roberts, regarded by some as the finest lefthander in the N.L. They added a pair of insurance runs off reliev er Al Severinsen in the ninth on doubles by Chris Speier and Ken Henderson and a balk by Severinsen.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, defeated the Houston Astros 2-1 in their season finale and wound up still a game behind the Giants, whom they challenged for the N.L. West lead ever since Sept. 4 when San Francisco went into a nose dive after leading by 8 1-2 games.

Thursday's victory was only the eighth in the last 24 games for the Giants but it proved to be enough to win the title. The Giants had been in first place since the third game of the year and they never fell out despite losing seven in a row and 11 of 12 games from Sept. 4 through Sept. 16.

But starting on Sept. 17 Marichal won his last four starts and that proved to be the difference.

"I don't care what his record is," said Fox, "for my money Marichal is the best pitcher in baseball. He's a true professional and when all the money is on

PORTRAIT OF GIANTS

Marin Tars Host Tough Butte Team

"I hope it's out of our system," said College of Marin football coach Dick Read after his team's 36-9 defeat to College of the Redwoods last week in Eureka. "We've got to come back"

This will be no easy task, considering the Tars' Saturday opposition — Butte College of Durham — a team that averaged 160 yards running and 220 yards passing and led the Golden Valley Conference in fewest points allowed last season. Butte is ranked sixth in the latest small junior college state rankings.

Kickoff for tomorrow's game on the Kentfield gridiron will be 1 p.m.

"We don't have enough team speed," commented Read. "We're going to have to move the ball in the air." This may be the case, as Marin's leading rusher has netted only 27 yards. Kevin Peak will start at quarterback, backed up by newcomer Mike Sanderson, who tallied the only touchdown against Redwoods last week. The Tars will have two ace receivers in the persons of Mike Corder and Neal Given, who replaces Tom McGrath at split end.

"We don't have a real breakaway back," said Read, as the backfield of Bob Sutherland, Gary Agee, and Leon Delisle gained only 56 yards, in last Saturday's contest. "We've made a lot of progress," said Read about his offensive line, even though Peak and Sanderson have been sacked 10 times during their last two games. Craig Cunningham will replace guard Art Hernberger, who is suffering from the flu, while Dennis Miller returns to center.

"They have a good, balanced attack," said Read, whose problem will be to stop the Butte passing game. "Perron (Dave), and Daniele (Bob) are pretty good people," lauded Read about two Tar safetys who will share the job of pass defense with cornerbacks Tony Cassin, and Tom McGrath. As before, linebackers will be Rick Puccinelli, and Chris Fenton. Starting linemen on defense will be Frank Pomilia, Chris Chapman, Ross Gondak, Ken Blasingame and Lynn Merritt.

Redwood Vs. Drake In League Battle

Redwood High School entertains Drake High tomorrow at 1 p.m. on the Larkspur school's field in what observers consider a crucial contest for both clubs.

The host Giants and Drake both possess Marin County Athletic League football title aspirations, but a loss in the opener could hurt the vanquished's chances.

With this in mind, the clubs are approaching this early crucial reflecting great intensity. The Giants, unbeaten in two starts, admittedly can not afford to take the visiting Pirates lightly.

Coach Phil Roark's vaunted running game of the Edralin brothers, Bill and Daryl, Jay Lehman and Mike Asiano will likely receive a stern test from coach Bob Franceschini's stout defense.

The Pirates, 0-2, have shown a hard hitting defensive unit, but the Green and White offense has been slow in untracking. "If we could only get our offense in gear," Francheschini said yesterday.

The coach's attack has suffered with the loss of starting quarterback Tom MacAusland, victimized by a knee injury in last week's battle with Petaluma. The first club signal caller will see some action behind Jim Tang, according to Franceschini.

With an uncertain field general picture, the mentor will have to maximize the contributions of runners Dan Nichelini, Phil Wilkinson and Rich Bozzio.

Despite the presence of this excellent rushing trio, Franceschini stressed passing during practice this week, hoping to ease the pressure on Wilkinson, Bozzio and Nichelini.

Unlike his Drake counterpart, Roark has as his all-important field general Bob Brown available to bark signals, not to mention a stingy defense. The Joel Johnson and Dan Young-bulwarked front is tough against the run, while the secondary of Katsumi Johnson, Daryl Edralin, Greg Skinner and Mike Skinner has repeatedly proven its worth.

The lineups:

Drake (Offense) TE Steve Urban, LT Dave McPherson, LG Mark Parachini, C Tom Perry, RG Jim Dibble, RT Don Seward, SE Dan Trimble, QB Jim Tang, FLK Dave Segale, FB Rick Bozzio, HB Phil Wilkinson. (Defense) LE Steve Wilgenbush, LT Bob Guastucci, LG Seward, RG George Pederson, RT Charles Hildreth, RE Gene Gilbert, LLB Bozzio, RLB Perry, LCB Mark Euless, RCB Dave DeMoss, S Phil Wilkinson.

Terra Linda Faces Tam In Opener

Defending champion Terra Linda and Tamalpais high schools clash tonight at 8 o'clock in a Marin County Athletic League football curtain raiser on the San Rafael High School field.

The heavily favored Trojans, 2-0, will attempt to retain its crown but must first get by the developing Tam Indians. The visiting Mill Valley aggregation from Tam sports a three quarterback system of Pat Locey, Mark Dawson and Brad Bann. The latter hit on a touchdown pass in his initial appearance against victorious Skyline High of Oakland.

In addition to the signal calling trio weapon, coach Mike Davlin also looks to speedy backs Alvin Price, Craig Marshall and Clifford Hall. The hard-nosed pair hope to welcome back halfback Tom Collins, out with a dislocated arm.

Another sideline case itching to play is all-league middle guard Herb Wade, a kidney infection victim. The tough-minded junior, though only 5-foot-10 and 165 pounds, admittedly relishes contact. "The tougher it is, the better I like it,'( he said on the sidelines at the Skyline tilt last Friday.

If it is violence he wants, Wade — and his teammates — will get just that from the crisp hitting Terra Linda group. Coach Don Lucas' team, seemingly always lacking size, com-

CROSS-TOWN FOOTBALL

Novato Vs. San Marin

Novato and San Marin high schools renew their crosstown rivalry in Marin County Athletic League competition when the two meet tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Although the contest will be held on the Hornets' battleground, San Marin, 0-2, will be the host. The Novato Black and Gold, 1-1, view this tilt as vital.

The Hornets have visions of dethroning MCAL king Terra Linda, but a loss to the young Mustangs would be an almost lethal blow. Conversely, the San Marin delegation is cast in the spoiler role and would like nothing better than ruining Novato's title plans.

The Mustangs will be limping into the football contest minus defensive tackles Rick Leslie and Dan Gustafson, safety Greg Mazeres and linebacker Greg Hunter. The latter has a sprained ankle, Gustafson, a shoulder wound, Leslie, a year-ending knee injury, and the coach has a cold.

"But don't feel sorry for us," Coach Bob Martin said, "we'll survive."

To dash the Novato hopes, the 22-man squad will rely on the throwing of sophomore quarterback Hoza Wright and the bull-like thrusts of fullback Fred Doar. If the pair receive the necessary blocking support and the defense continues its hastened development, Mustang fans could be leaving the field in a joyous mood.

Yet, it is likely that the high-powered Novato offense will finally explode against the underdogs. Until now, the Hornets have been relying on a stubborn defense, featuring stickouts like linemen Pat Karinen, lanky Russ Weklych, Greg Straw. The Rennier's, John and Mike, anchor the secondary.

While the defense continues carrying its hefty weight, the offense is gradually awakening. For example, tailback Leo Magers bolted 64-yards for the game's lone touchdown against

A's Must Stop O's Momentum

BALTIMORE (UPI)—If experience and momentum mean anything, the Baltimore Orioles should beat the Oakland A's in the American League Championship Series which begins here Saturday.

The Birds blitz into the playoffs riding an eleven-game winning streak, just as they did last year. Then Baltimore went on to take the playoffs in three games over Minnesota and the world series over Cincinnati in five.

Oakland was 6-5 the last 11 games of the season. The Orioles racked up 74 runs during that stretch. Oakland managed 43, being held to less than three runs in five of them and getting shut out twice.

"Don't mean a thing," snapped Oriole skipper Earl Weaver. "What you did yesterday has no bearing on today's game."

Golden Glove Third Baseman Brooks Robinson agrees:

"In the end you've got to win it on the field. Still, I gotta like the way we're playing right now."

Those who believe in omens can't disregard the winning streak, however. The Birds did it last year and won the world series. In 1969, they won only five of their last 14 games and the Mets took the series in five games.

Both clubs finished the season with 101 wins. Baltimore had three fewer losses to achieve the best percentage in baseball this year. It's the third season in a row the Birds have won 100 or more games. A record matched by only two other clubs in history.

This year, the A's achieved the team's highest victory total since the old Philadelphia Athletics won 107 in 1931.

"I think our clubs are on about a par," said A's leader Dick Williams, whose team flew into town Thursday night.

"The series with Oakland will be evenly matched," echoed weaver, who thinks the shoddy condition of the field will give his team the advantage the first two games.

"We have the better defense and faster hands," he explained.

Two muddy football games churned up the turf and three Oriole home games this week gave it little respite.

Vida Blue (24-8) starts for Oakland Saturday. He has had only a 7-5 record since the allstar break, but allowed the Orioles only one run in 18 innings this year. And, he held Milwaukee to three hits and no runs during his last win.

"He's throwing more breaking stuff now and looks very good," Williams said.

Dave McNally (21-5), one of Weaver's four 20-game winners, starts for Baltimore. He tossed a few pitches Thursday to test the arm which had him on the disabled list for three weeks early this season.

Mike Cuellar is scheduled to go against Jim Hunter on Sunday. Jim Palmer will take on Chuck Dobson when the series resumes in Oakland Tuesday.

The Orioles took the season series with Oakland 7-4, including the last five in a row. A rainout, one of 18 for the Orioles this year, was never made up.

Williams doesn't seem nervous about the fact that he plays the first two games on the road. "We set an American League record with 55 wins on the road," he said.

This will be Oakland's first playoff appearance while the Birds are going for their third straight title and their fourth world series appearance in six years.

Ali Is Trying For Bout With Mathis

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK — Muhammad Ali hopes to continue to wage his one-man battle against the heavyweight division on Nov. 17 in a 12-round bout in Houston's Astrodome against idle, overweight Buster Mathis.

Mathis has not fought since losing a 12-round decision to Jerry Quarry, one of the three ranking fighters he ever met, in March, 1969 in Madison Square Garden. However, the 27-year-old fighter has been training ever since the loss in case the opportunity came along to fight again.

In his other two bouts against ranking fighters, the bulky, but fast Mathis was stopped in 11 rounds by Joe Frazier in 1968 and won a decision over George Chuvalo in 1969. Aside from the losses to Frazier and Quarry, Mathis has 29 victories.

Tennis

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Billie Jean King, Rosemary Casals and Francoise Durr easily won their matches Thursday in the rain-delayed $18,000 Virginia Slims Thunderbird Tennis tournament.

Mrs. King, who needs only $2,000 to become the first woman athlete to earn more than $100,000 in a year, defeated Lita Liem of Indonesia 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Casals defeated Nancy Ornstein of Washington 6-0, 6-3, in the first round, then came to oust Kerry Harris of Australia 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Durr of France defeated Sally Holdsworth of England 6-0, 6-1. In the second round Miss Durr ousted Wendy Gilchrist of Australia by default.

Football

PHILADELPHIA — Jim Skaggs, veteran guard who suffered a strained knee ligament in training camp and has been on the inactive list, was activated Thursday by the Philadelphia Eagles for Sunday's game against the San Francisco 49ers.

Baseball

PHILADELPHIA — Larry Bowa, the Philadelphia Phillies shortstop, set a major league record Thursday when he finished the season with a .987 fielding mark and only 11 errors.

Bowa, 26, in his second year with the Phils, broke Ernie Banks major league mark of .985 with 12 errors set in 1959.

Bowa handled 843 chances in 158 games. He finished above Leo Cardenas of the Minnesota Twins who set the American League record Thursday by finishing the season with a .985 fielding mark with 11 errors in 153 games while handling 722 chances.

BOCCABELLA HITS HOMER

San Anselmo's John Boccabella homered and hit a sacrifice fly to plate two runs while his Montreal Expo teammates downed the visting Chicago Cubs yesterday 5-3 in the season finale for both clubs.

It was the third home run for the right-handed hitting catcher and alumnus of Marin Catholic High School.

WILDCAT SNAGS A REBOUND

Marin Catholic's Rich McGuire pulled down a rebound while teammate Mike Nivens (43) looked on enroute to the Wildcats' 19th straight Marin County Athletic League "C" basketball win, a 39-33 decision over visiting Redwood High School yesterday. In the other "C" contest, Terra Linda High School defeated San Rafael High School 39-31 on the loser's court.

Simpson May Fill In For Injured Taylor

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mike Simpson, a 9.4 sprinter from the University of Houston, is being groomed to fill in for cornerback Bruce Taylor of the San Francisco 49ers against Philadelphia Sunday.

Taylor, 1970 rookie of the year in the National Football Conference, is limping because of several sharp blows in the legs he sustained against New Orleans last week, that caused some internal bleeding.

Last year Simpson was invited to try out with the 49ers after being cut by the San Diego Chargers and he won a backup job in the 49ers secondary.

San Francisco coach Dick Nolan also announced that veteran tackle Charlie Krueger would start ahead of Stan Hindman at defensive tackle against the Eagles. Vic Washington and Ken Willard will be the running backs with Ted Kwalick at tight end.

Nolan said Taylor would make the trip to Philadelphia with the team and may even start if his injury improves. Taylor noted that he expects a large gathering of friends and relatives from his hometown of Perth Amboy, N.J., to be at the game.

Wild Time In Washington For Senators' Last Game

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Faced with the loss of their team to Texas after 71 years in the major leagues, the last loyal fans of the Washington Senators never got to see the final out.

American League baseball in the nation's capital came to an end Thursday night in the turmoil of a forfeited game to the New York Yankees in the ninth inning when several thousand fans streamed out of the stands onto the field preventing completion of the farewell game that was one putout away from a 7-5 victory for the Senators.

The crowd eruption sent players of both teams streaking for their dressing rooms and after a three-minute wait, head umpire John Odom declared the game forfeited to the Yankees with the score automatically becoming 9-0.

There were six arrests for disorderly conduct.

Until that point however, a turnout of 14,460 had paid valedictory to their team with big league class. An estimated 4,000 others crashed the gate after the fifth inning, a club official said.

The emotional high point came in the sixth inning when Frank Howard drilled the last of his 237 home runs in a Washington uniform to touch off a four-run Senator rally that tied the game.

He had been given a standing, cheering ovation on his previous two times at bat when he walked and failed to get the ball out of the infield.

The third time the crowd exploded to its feet in a roar as soon as the ball left his bat. He circled the bases in a tumult of sound and as he neared the dugout, Howard swept off his batting helmet in appreciation.

"Hondo, Hondo, Hondo," the throng chanted. "Hondo, Hondo, Hondo."

With play held up, the huge hero finally emerged from the dugout to doff his helmet again to the fans and skim it into the stands as a souvenir.

It wasn't enough for the frustrated spectators. They continued their foot-stomping and applause undiminished and the 6-foot-7 Howard was pushed from the dugout by his teammates, swabbing himself with a towel. Abeam with pride, the Giant first baseman raised his arms aloft in response and threw a kiss to his admirers.

Nor was the demonstrativeness of the farewell crowd confined to Howard. Every player in the opening line-up drew applause and cheers and when former starting catcher Paul Casanova came up to pinch-hit in the fifth inning, carrying with him a .203 batting average, he was awarded a standing ovation.

The fans came to the last game in an emotionally charged mood. The playing field was littered with confetti. They festooned the premises with banners berating owner Bob Short for moving the franchise.

One hand-painted banner read: "Nats to Texas—Bob Short to hell." Two of the fourletter variety were undraped during the game and hauled down by stadium police. Two streamers were unfurled from the right field upper stands— reading "Short Stinks."

They vanished for an inning and then a smaller one appeared. It said: "Short Still Stinks."

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine
Special features you'll enjoy:

One week from today the first Marin County Fair ever to be held on the new fairgrounds at the Marin Civic Center will open its gates for a four-day run. To salute that history-making event tomorrow's issue of the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine will be a fair-oriented edition. For instance there will be a story about the "miracle" in landscaping that transformed what was once virtually barren "desert" into a lush setting with trees and grass for the big event.

While next weekend's Marin County Fair is a groundbreaking event, it is at the same time a continuation of a long-standing tradition. Marinites have always enjoyed and staged colorful fairs, fiestas and festivals. And it is in these celebrations that the new county fair has its roots. Dorothy Gardiner has written a history of festivals and fiestas in Marin that goes will back into the 19th Century. And it, too, will be featured in your I-J supplement tomorrow.

It's Not Easy To Find A Buck

By AL GIDDINGS

WEBBER LAKE — Here it is Tuesday evening, and not a buck hanging in our camp in this hunting area near Truckee. We've got quite a hunting party. Everyone started out the first morning with high spirits. At the end of the day, the final tally was "no bucks," but Domingo Grossi of Inverness said he saw one — a small fork — that he said he just couldn't take home — it was too small.

Al Bacon of Monterey said he saw two that were too small; Ken Walker of Woodacre also said he saw one — too small also. Lee Richardson of Inverness missed one, spoiling his record of getting his buck on the first day for the past three years.

MARY AND I? We saw just one doe between us. Back in camp that first evening, everyone questioned what each group saw during the hunt for the day. When I said we saw five bucks, but didn't try for four and missed the other, they just raised their eyebrows, but said nothing. Two state game wardens passing through said they had checked eight bucks all day.

On Sunday we had a pretty good snow storm. By noon, the mountains were empty of hunters. I guess we had two or three inches of snow, but with the wind howling at 35 mph, all the camp-out hunters pulled out. We went to Reno for the day — that was a disaster for me!

ON THE WAY home, Domingo found a $5 chip in his pocket, so back we went to cash it. Monday Domingo left his tags at the cabin. He thinks he's hunting the ranch at Inverness! But I guess he'll make it. His wife Edith has been holding up pretty well. She has managed to survive the cold and the outhouse; but this morning Lee Richardson had some pine grubs for fishing. When she questioned him about these, he said when roasted they look and taste just like peanuts. She had her hat on the last I saw her!

We hunted Monday on one of the higher peaks of the area, and saw about 15 does. Tuesday Lee Richardson missed two bucks. So far neither Mary or I have seen a horn, but that's buck hunting. We lost Domingo for awhile; somehow he got back to camp before we did. He then got worried, but couldn't find the keys to his truck, so took Lee's car to look for us. Of course Lee had drained the radiator to prevent a freeze. We caught Domingo just in time only about a half mile from camp. The car was still cool.

Pushing for bucks each day up to now hasn't given us any fishing time. I think we'll call a fishing holiday. Everyone needs some leg rest, and a day to cool those hiking blisters.

KEEPING YOU up to date on ducks:

Six state and federal waterfowl areas will have deferred openings this year because of late crop harvests, the Department of Fish and Game announced.

The DFG also announced that applications for reservations to hunt the areas during the first half of the season have been shipped to license agents and should be available to sportsmen this week.

THE OTHER nine state and federal areas on which hunting is managed by the DFG will open on the opening date of the waterfowl season for their respective season zone.

Scheduled to open Oct. 9 are the state's Honey Lake and Imperial Wildlife areas and the federal Salton Sea refuge. One week later, Oct. 16, the state's Grizzly Island, Volta, Los Banos and Mendota wildlife areas and the federal San Luis and Kesterson national wildlife refuges will open.

The remaining areas will open on Oct. 30 — the state's Gray Lodge Wildlife Area and the Sacramento, Delevan, Colusa, Sutter and Merced national wildlife refuges.

Curtis To Start As Cal Receiver

BERKELEY (UPI) —Isaac Curtis, a 9.3 speedster, was tabbed Thursday to start at wide receiver for the California Bears at Ohio State Saturday.

Curtis, who normally is a running back and occasional passer, replaces Geoff DeLapp who will miss the game at Columbus with a knee strain.

Bears coach Ray Willsey also announced that two starters have come off the injured list and will play against the Buckeyes. They are tight end Bill Stowers and offensive right tackle Mike Vincent. Both missed last week's game against San Jose State with dislocated toes.

Dickey Trying Out As Punter

OAKLAND (UPI) —Eldridge Dickey may be the punter for the Oakland Raiders in Monday night's televised game with the Cleveland Browns.

Mike Eischeid, the regular punter, has a muscle strain above his right (kicking) knee and has missed a couple of days of practice this week. He also visited his expectant wife in Orange City, Iowa.

CAINS TIRE
WANTS YOU TO KNOW ABOUT TIRE MILEAGE GUARANTEES

Most of them are come on Gimmicks set up to help sell a tire easier. Where's the gimmick? It's really simple - Let's say a firm guarantees a tire to you for 40,000 miles & charges you $40.00 for the tires. Let's say you wore the tire out in 15,000 miles or 25,000 miles short of the guarantee.

If the guarantee were legitimate a new tire should cost you 15.20 or 38% of $40.00, because you only got 38% of the mileage you were guaranteed. Hope you can stay with me on this because it's even boring me & I'm writing it - But it's important. If you read most of your mileage guarantees you find that you are allowed only a set percentage off or a flat dollar discount, usually about 10 to 20% or $5 to $8 regardless of how fast the tread wear. In other words, when you buy the tire you are guaranteed nothing except a 10% discount when you buy the next set - regardless of how little mileage you receive.

Folks there are a few real mileage guarantees.
A few I know of are offered by Michelin - B.F. Goodrich on their radial only - Sears - on their radial only, Toyo on their radial only. Now Cains is offering a Glas-Belted tire with a legitimate 30,000 mile tread wear guarantee with NO NONSENSE - We call the tire the Prowler and it's made by the originator of Glas-Belted tires.
HOW DOES MY GUARANTEE WORK?
VERY SIMPLE & VERY HONEST. My tire is going to cost you $1.35 per 1,000 miles to drive regardless of why the tire fails including wearing out. Example: you buy a PROWLER GLAS-BELT and wear it out in 16,000 miles, a replacement costs $1.35 x 16,000 = $21.60 - total adjusted price. Should you break a tire say in 5,000 miles your replacement costs 1.35 x 5,000 = $6.75 total adjusted price. If anything can be more fair and more honest than this I'd like to hear about it.

HERE'S HOW MUCH THEY COST

| SIZE | REPLACES | COST | EX. TAX |
|---|---|---|---|
| 650-13 | 650-13 | 30.00 | 1.77 |
| E78-14 | 735-14 | 34.00 | 2.37 |

A Long Stay In First Place

SAN DIEGO — During the dramatic down-to-the-wire race of the Giants and Dodgers for the division flag in the National League West, there were moments of elation and depression in both enemy camps that prompted spontaneous statements which should be remembered.

When just one game separated the Giants and Dodgers as they entered their final three-game series in San Diego and Los Angeles, Billy Grabarkewitz quipped:

"HOW LONG has it been since a team was in first place for 161 games and second place for one?"

The little Dodger didn't have his facts quite right — but almost. The Giants went into first place April 12 after the seventh game of the 162-game campaign.

"Think of it as money," said Dick Dietz when he belted a grand slam homer in Game No. 159 at Cincinnati to maintain the one game lead of the Giants.

"MAYBE," ADDED Dietz, "I should wear the bandage all the time."

The Giant catcher referred to the head bandage that became necessary after he was beaned by a fast ball in Game 154 at Houston.

"I take no particular pleasure in beating the Giants," said George Foster after the ex-Giant hit his first career grand slam against them in Game 150 at Candlestick Park. "I wish them well except when they play us."

THE GIANTS played Foster and his new Cincinnati teammates again Games 157-158-159 at Riverfront Stadium. Foster again hit homers, a couple of solo shots, and he said:

"It's affecting them and it's affecting me. I feel pressure on me. If there's a close play that involves me I feel I have to make it. I have to play extra hard. I don't want anyone feeling that I helped them.

"It's really affecting a lot of guys over there. They can't eat and they're losing weight. I look at Bobby Bonds and it's like looking at my brother suffering."

BONDS AND Foster were roomies before Foster was traded to the Reds during Memorial Day weekend when the Giants were out in front by 10-½ games.

"We got the big lead," said Bonds, "and we tried to sit on it. The only help you get in a race like this is from yourself. I think we found that out."

Then, just before the final series with the Padres, Alan Gallagher had this to say:

"We had a meeting and decided we didn't want any part of backing in."

Mrs. Gondak Wins Again

Mrs. Charles Gondak won the Marin Country Club championship with a 249 yesterday, 16 strokes better than runnerup Mrs. Earl Isaac. It was her fourth title in the last six years.

Mrs. R. D. Warrington captured low net honors with a 230. Mrs. A. L. Schallock won the first flight with a 279; Mrs. C. R. Johnson took the second flight with a 302; and Mrs. T. T. Altermatt secured the third flight victory, posting a 300.

Roth To Join Goldstein Firm

Hadden W. Roth, former Marin Municipal Court judge, will join the firm of another former judge, Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., on Monday, he said yesterday.

The firm, named Goldstein, Roth, Kopp and Skinner, has offices in Holiday Plaza in Northgate.

Roth, who resigned last year from the bench, has been with the San Rafael firm of Bagley, Bianchi and Sheeks for the past several months.

Other partners in his new firm, which handles a general law practice, are David Skinner and Quentin Kopp.

Two Changes In Stanford Lineup

STANFORD (UPI) —Coach John Ralston of Stanford has announced two changes in his starting lineup Saturday against Duke at Stanford Stadium.

Jim Kehl will open at fullback in place of Hillary Shockley who is nursing a sore ankle, and John Ferguson, a 215-pound sophomore, will take over for 235-pound Roger Cowan at defensive tackle.

"Cowan was in the hospital and missed drills all this week because of a virus infection," said Ralston. "So Ferguson will get a chance at strong tackle."

Jackie Brown is the other running back. Don Bunce, as usual, will be the quarterback with John Winesberry on the flank.

Redwood Runners Defeat San Marin

Redwood High School yesterday defeated San Marin High School 18-45 in a varsity cross country meet on the winner's three-mile course at Phoenix Lake.

Mike Killeen and Eric Moller, both Redwood runners, tied for first at 15:58.6 while San Marin's Gary Lathrop took third with a 16:16 clocking.

the line I'll take my chances on the pro."

Steve Blass, who posted a 158 record for Pittsburgh during the regular season, has drawn the pitching assignment on Saturday for the start of the best-of-five N.L. championship playoffs. Gaylord Perry, who posted a big victory on Tuesday night, will pitch for the Giants. Gaylord had a 16-12 record in the regular campaign. Gametime is 1 p.m.

In the second playoff game on Sunday, also to be played in Candlestick Park, Dock Ellis (19-9) will pitch for the Pirates and John Cumberland (9-6) will go for the Giants. Monday is an off day and the playoffs will resume on Tuesday in Pittsburgh when Marichal will pitch against an as yet unnamed opponent. Danny Murtaugh, the Pittsburgh manager, hasn't made up his mind for sure but it could be Nelson Briles, who posted three complete game victories at the end of the season.

The Giants will go into the playoffs with Bobby Bonds more than likely on the shelf. Bobby, who led the Giants in homers (32) and runs batted in (102), did not play Thursday because of a pulled side muscle. Kingman replaced him in right field, and turned out to be a more than adequate fillin.

Fox, who won a title in his first full season as a big league skipper, said it seemed appropriate that someone such as Kingman helped win the title clincher.

"We've been hit by injuries all year long," said Fox, "but someone always bounced off the bench to play well and keep us from falling apart.

"That's been our big key to success, and we hope to carry it a couple of steps farther. Don't bet we won't. We're that kind of a ball club."

DOWNTOWN S.F. CALM AFTER WIN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Downtown San Francisco took the Giants' victory Thursday night in the National League West with sophisticated calm.

"It's nice," said John August, doorman at the St. Francis Hotel on Union Square. "But they've still got the playoffs with Pittsburgh before they can even get into the World Series."

The square was mostly deserted at 10 p.m. when the Giants made the last out at San Diego against the Padres, winning the division pennant by one game from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

There was not one automobile horn blowing and no screeching of whistles, although there were a few additional clangs of the cable car bells.

A neatly-dressed man, hanging to the side of such a car, remarked: "It just isn't like 1962 when the Giants won the whole National League."

Fred Butler, clerk in a night-hours grocery, declared the division pennant made him "very happy" because he won a "bundle" on it. But Butler is an Oakland Athletics fan and his season begins and ends with A's ace pitcher Vida Blue, emotionally.

Marin 'Cats Vs. Newman Footballers

Marin Catholic High School will attempt to notch its second successive victory over a Santa Rosa football team when it invades Cardinal Newman High tomorrow evening at 8:15.

The Wildcats, 1-2, will have no easy task against an aggregation which has gone undefeated since 1969. However, the visitors are not at a loss with the running of fullback Pat Parnow and the throwing of quarterback Steve Sherry.

Parnow, the Wildcat workhorse, collected three touchdowns against Piner last week and is hoping to equal the achievement this time out.

The lineup: Marin Catholic (offense) LE John Shallich, LT Jim Shallich, LG Tim Huber, C John Iavarone, RG Gino Pamilia, RT Paul Riccardi, RE Jack Stahl, QB Steve Sherry, HB Rick Cervisi, FB Pat Parnow, FLK Russ Knudson. (Defense) LE Jim Fillippi, LT Iavarone, LG Jim Shallich, RG Roger Slingsby, RT Steve Vanni, RE Stahl, LLB Pamilia, RLB Riccardi, LHB Cervisi, RHB Ben Partee, S Knudson.

He hopes to make a repeat performance, but Magers wants company in the end zone. Thus, the shifty back would welcome touchdown passes from All-League quarterback Marty Moroski, the return of injured running back Stan Conti and the continued fine play of receivers Charley Chung and Joe Powell, a 10.1 sprinter. However, Conti was ruled out at the last minute.

While San Marin would have to go a long way to match Powell's speed, the Mustangs are the Novato equals in enthusiasm.

REDWOOD TENNIS

Lutz Upsets Jan Kodes

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia is paying the price for beating Bob Lutz of Los Angeles in the U.S. Open at Forest Hills a month ago.

The unranked Lutz boomed an accurate first serve on both sides of Kodes and kept the Czechoslovakian off balance with well-placed volleys Thursday while upsetting the fifth-seeded foreigner 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. That put Lutz in the quarterfinals of the $50,000 Redwood Bank International Open tennis tournament against top-seeded Rod Laver today.

After bowing to Kodes at the U.S. Open, Lutz beat the Czechoslovakian 6-2, 6-1 in the finals of the Central California National Hardcourt championships a week later in Sacramento.

In other matches today at the Berkeley Tennis Club, Arthur Ashe met Cliff Drysdale and Ken Rosewall tackled Marty Riessen. At a noon match at the Golden Gateway in San Francisco, Tom Okker of the Netherlands went against Texan Cliff Richey.

Ashe, the sixth seed, had a rough afternoon Thursday as he was taken to a pair of tiebreakers by Rhodesian Andrew Pattison before advancing 7-6, 7-6 in a second-round match that was postponed by rain Wednesday. Then Ashe went three sets before eliminating Chile's Jaime Fillol 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Laver also was extended to three sets in defeating fellow Australian Roy Emerson 6-7, 6-4, 6-0.

Drysdale, seeded second, had to scramble for a 6-7, 6-3, 6-3 victory over Colin Dibley of Australia in another makeup match from Wednesday. Then Drysdale went on to eliminate Niki Pilic of Yugoslavia 7-5, 6-2.

In other matches, Marty Riessen downed Robert Maud of South Africa 6-3, 2-6, 6-4 while Richey defeated South African Ray Moore 4-6, 6-2, 6-1; third-seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands ousted Ray Ruffles of Australia 6-4, 7-6 and Australia's Ken Rosewall defeated Andres Gimeno of Spain 7-5, 6-3.

San Rafael Bulldogs In Sunnyvale

San Rafael High School visits Homestead High in Sunnyvale tonight at 8 o'clock in a non-league football encounter.

The invading Bulldogs, 2-0, will show Peninsula fans a vaunted running game featuring All-Marin County Athletic League plus quarterback Dirk Gansloser, fullback Mark Farrar and wingback Dave Urquhart.

This quartet claimed 379 yards rushing against Montgomery High of Santa Rosa last Saturday night in a stunning 51-15 massacre over the Sonoma County team.

In informing his team in what to look for, Muster said, "We'll have to stop their running game. They run hard."

The lineups:

Home Run Champ Melton Surprised

CHICAGO (UPI)—Because he had no goals, Bill Melton of the Chicago White Sox had to be surprised when he wound up as the American League's home run champion.

Melton tagged a fast ball thrown by Bill Parsons Thursday for his 33rd homer of the season, his third in 18 hours in a comeback which moved him one ahead of both Norm Cash of Detroit and Reggie Jackson of Oakland in the final countdown.

"I didn't set any goals when the season started," Melton said. "If I had, I don't know what they would have been. But 33 home runs feels good."

It was the second straight season in which Melton, playing his third year in the major leagues wound up with 33 homers.

His 1970 performance set a White Sox record, which he equalled this year and his home run Thursday gave the Sox a tie with the team record set in 1961 of 138 home runs.

THIS WEEK'S BUSINESS

Kaiser Declares Quarterly Dividend

Directors of Kaiser Cement and Gypsum Corp., Oakland have declared the regular quarterly dividends on common, preferred and preference stocks, which will be paid Oct. 30 to share owners on record Oct. 14.

Meanwhile, Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. has dropped its quarterly dividend 50 per cent to 12.5 cents per share, as a result of "depressed prices" in the aluminum industry and the company's lower earnings.

GOLDEN WEST FINANCIAL CORP. has received final approval from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to acquire Santa Cruz Savings and Loan Association and add to its wholly owned subsidiary, Golden West Savings and Loan Association. Consummation of the transaction is scheduled for Oct. 8.

DAI-ICHI BANK AND DAI-ICHI BANK of Japan will merge and the resulting bank will be known as the Dai-Ichi Kangyo Bank, with more than $12 billion in assets and 281 branch offices. The merger is a move to strengthen Japan's international competitive position in financial operations. Additional bank mergers in Japan are being anticipated as a means of reorganizing that country's banking industry and coping with world competition.

STANDARD BRANDS PAINT CO., which announced plans this year to open a store in San Rafael, may increase the company's authorized capitalization and declare a stock split at its directors meeting on Nov. 17. Meanwhile the regular quarterly cash dividend of 10 cents per share will be paid to shareholders on Nov. 5.

GENERAL EXPLORATION CO. has agreed to sell its Homewood Investment Co., owner of Kingswood Village Condominiums at Lake Tahoe to the Osmundsen Co., San Francisco, in order to strengthen its cash position.

SYNTEX CORP. of Palo Alto has announced net sales of $103.2 million for the fiscal year ended July 31. This compares with $89.5 million for the prior year. Net income was $22.1 million or $2.30 per share, compared with $12.2 million or $1.28 per share on a slightly smaller number of shares a year ago.

DAYLIN, INC., parent company of Disco Wonderworld Discount Stores, will acquire Floyds Discount Department Stores, an eight-store discount chain in the New York City area. Disco Wonderworld currently operates five department stores in California, two of which are in Marin. Daylin is a drug oriented, diversified retailer operating in over 500 locations in 38 states.

TIBURON VINTNERS, INC. showed net profits of $239,186, prior to extraordinary items, on sales of $3,488,658 for the fiscal year ended July 31. This compares with earnings of $89,779 on sales of $1,933,961 a year ago. Earnings of 44 cents per share reflected an increase of 52 per cent over the 29 cents last year on a fewer number of shares. This was the company's first annual earnings report issued since it became publicly owned a year ago.

WESTERN AIRLINES has ordered four McDonnell Douglas DC-10 aircraft which had been on option to American Airlines contingent upon successful consummation of a merger between American and Western. The merger is now pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board. Western will acquire the four aircraft from McDonnell Douglas if the merger is not completed. Delivery is scheduled for 1973.

FILM CORP. OF AMERICA, said to be the nation's largest mail order film processing firm, reported sales of $18.9 million for the six months ended Aug. 31 — up 23 per cent from last year's period.

Plantronics In Record Quarter

SANTA CRUZ (BW) — Pacific Plantronics Inc. has said its record net income for the first quarter of fiscal 1971 more than doubled profits from a year earlier.

The company earned $334,533, or 45 cents a share, for the three-month period against $154,242, or 21 cents a share, for the comparable quarter last year.

The voice and data communications equipment manufacturer's sales for the first quarter rose 25 per cent to $2,833,237 from $2,262,245 a year ago.

Both earnings and revenues for 1971's initial three months were the highest of any quarter in company history.

The Market Closes On A Strong Note

NEW YORK (UPI) —Stocks closed on a strong note in moderate trading today.

Much of the gain was attributed to bargain hunting, but many analysts commented there was little reason to believe today's gain was the start of a sustained advance in view of the many uncertainties that lie ahead.

Shortly before the final bell, the Dow Jones industrial average was up 6.79 at 893.98. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.56 at 98.90, and advances topped declines, 879 to 506.

Among the items overhanging the market were uncertainty about Phase Two of President Nixon's economic program, world monetary confusion, and a spreading longshoremen's strike which could close all the nation's sea ports.

Electronics, motors and oils showed scattered strength, while steels, chemicals, rails, airlines and aircrafts generally traded over narrow ranges.

Among the stocks on the most active list were Caterpillar Tractor, Pittston, Goodyear Tire, National Steel, International Telephone, Texaco, RCA and Pan American World Airways.

Restaurant Chain Earnings Are Up

NEWPORT BEACH, (BW) — Colony Kitchens Inc., restaurant chain based here and operating in four states, has reported earnings of 35 cents a share on 625,684 shares for the fiscal year ended June 30, compared with 28 cents on 572,472 shares the year before, a gain of 25 per cent.

Net sales were $8,475,578 against $6,403,321 in 1970, up 32.4 per cent. Earnings after taxes were $215,615 compared with $158,365, an increase of 36 per cent.

UP, UP AND AWAY. . .

The Oakland City Hall provides a dramatic backdrop for this giant twin-jet helicopter as it lifts the 4,700-pound, 300-square-feet-of-surface "B" portion of the United California Bank sign to its cloud-piercing position atop the bank building in downtown Oakland, about 300 feet above the ground.

New Rates For New Bumpers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Automobile Association says it will cut collision insurance premiums by 20 per cent for new cars with bumpers prescribed in a new state law.

The law requires that cars built after Jan. 1, 1973, and sold in this state be equipped with energy-absorbing devices so they can strike a barrier at five miles an hour without being damaged.

Richard Patton, vice president-general manager of the CSAA Inter Insurance Bureau, said Monday that the "average California motorists . . . should realize an annual saving of about $20 on his collision premium costs and saving for some car may range as high as $40."

Slots For Top Execs Opening Up

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Improving with the market and the economic recovery are openings for job-seeking executives, especially those with financial backgrounds, says California Business, the Western financial newsweekly.

Executive search offices in California report, though, most corporations with an opening in upper management are moving slowly and cautiously in hopes of matching the right man with the right job.

And while salaries haven't increased since the job market slump for executives over the past two years, titles have grown longer and fancier.

Most executive recruiting outfits say their billings are up over a year ago but the degree of enthusiasm varies from mild optimism to the comment of Robert Randolph, vice president of Howard Associates, San Francisco: "Jobs for top executives have definitely opened up, and it looks like pre-1969 days, again."

Most of the "headhunters" agree with Dr. Jean Kerrick, psychologist at Frederick Chusid & Co.'s Los Angeles office, who says "It's definitely still a buyer's market."

"The job pick-up isn't so much with the top levels as it is with staff positions and junior management areas," adds Jerry Brooks, account manager at Financial Search Associates, Los Angeles.

"It seems right now the demand is for corporate Indians, with chiefs to come later," Brooks added.

A large number of executives were bumped from well-paid top management positions with the market and economic squeeze of 1969-70.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Slick's Outlook Isn't Very Slick

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We own shares of Slick Corp. (ASE) which we bought at $29.90 a share. We have been thinking about selling this and investing in American Electric Power or Extendicare. What do you think? — F.W.

A. Primarily involved in the chemical and pollution control fields, Slick has been experiencing operating difficulties for some time. Since the latter part of 1969 both sales and earnings have moved decidedly lower. After reporting a deficit in the final quarter of 1970, Slick earned 7 cents a share for the first half of fiscal 1971 versus 15 cents in the like year earlier interim. Sales increased marginally during the period. Slick's near-term outlook is uninspiring and shares should be liquidated.

Since you did not state your investment goals, I can only give you information on the fundamental merits of each issue. American Electric Power (NYSE) is a moderate growth and high income issue, sporting a 6.3 per cent yield. The firm is one of the best of the utility holding companies; its subsidiaries serve an extremely high-industrialized area, mainly in the Midwest. American Electric has compiled an outstanding record of sales and earnings growth. And, selling at only 11x this year's anticipated net, shares are attractive for long-term, conservative investors.

Extendicare (NYSE), operator of nursing centers, hospitals and mobile home parks, also has an impressive growth record, chalking up good sales and earnings gains in each of the past four years. Quoted at roughly 31x 1971's estimated earnings, stock is best suited to the more speculative investor. Extendicare pays no cash dividend. While you have selected two issues with investment merit, the final choise is dependent on your personal investment aims.

Q. Could you publish the name and address of a firm which gives information on stocks that are worthless or obsolete? — B.F.

A. Gladly. R. M. Smythe & Co., 170 Broadway, N.Y., N.Y., 10038 may be able to assist you. The firm specializes in the appraisal of obsolete securities. A moderate fee is charged for this service.

PLANS RETIREMENT — R. A. (Al) Young of Mill Valley, president of the State Compensation Insurance Fund since 1963, will retire at the end of this year. An authority on workmen's compensation for more than 37 years, he has served as lecturer and faculty member of management schools and seminars.

Execs Like Outings On Yachts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Yachting parties costing anywhere from a few hundred dollars to $8,000 a day are becoming a promotional tool of business all over the free world.

The yachts may be either company owned or chartered. Companies that "own their own" charter their craft to other business firms through brokers when they aren't using them.

The boats range from cabin cruisers in the $30,000-$40,000 price range to the 300-foot sailing brig Antara, originally built for Germany's Krupp family and once-owned by Barbara Hutton, the Woolworth heiress.

Now owned by a Florida corporation, the Antara can be had for a cruising sales meeting, complete with crew and food and liquor for the guests, for a paltry $8,000 a day. She was chartered at that rate for a two week cruise in the Gulf of Mexico last year but this year has been undergoing refurbishing.

Just recently a Wall Street house, which prefers to remain unidentified, chartered five large yachts to take 200 clients on a cruise in Long Island Sound. The craft were chartered from Neal Heap's World Wide Yacht Enterprises, Inc.

Heap, who came to the United States from England 21 years ago, runs one of the few global chartering businesses. His firm owns no yachts and lists only craft furnished with a crew, but he can rent on short notice anything from a small sailing ketch with a Greek crew in the Aegean Sea to a craft big enough to carry a party of 50 across the Pacific.

Britain's Political Parties Will Meet

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

BRIGHTON, England (UPI) —Britain's two major political parties —the governing Conservatives and the opposition Laborites —are limbering up for their annual rank-and-file conventions. The battle raging over British entry into the Common Market and the Northern Ireland crisis are likely to keep sparks flying.

The Labor party meets at this big south coast resort Oct. 4-8. The Conservatives follow them here Oct. 13-16.

The third-ranking Liberal party held its conclave at Scarborough in mid-September. But, with only six members of parliament since the 1970 general election, the Liberals' standing has slumped so heavily that they attracted little public attention.

Unlike political conventions in the United States, the party "conferences," as they are known in Britain, are not held to nominate candidates for office.

They are annual affairs — nearly always held at a big seaside resort at this time of year —at which rank-and-file party workers get an opportunity to blow off steam and party leaders have to explain policies and outline plans for the coming political year.

Party chiefs such as Prime Minister Edward Heath and Labor opposition leader Harold Wilson are not even bound by resolutions passed by their party conferences.

In fact, the Labor party conference inevitably is dominated by the big trade unions, which provide much of the party's financial support and which control big block votes in the convention.

But the party conferences do at least provide a valuable sounding board for sizing up grass roots sentiment.

All indications are that the Common Market and the mounting violence in Northern Ireland will be the two most explosive issues at both the Conservative and Labor party gatherings.

Both parties are deeply divided in the great national debate over whether Britain should join the Common Market.

About one-half of the Labor party's top leadership, including Wilson, have come out against entry on the terms negotiated by the Conservative party government in June and July.

But many influential Labor leaders, including the party's deputy leader, Roy Jenkins, are campaigning openly and publicly in favor of joining.

Political experts expect a substantial majority vote against membership, if only because the biggest trade unions with the largest block votes in the party conference are against it.

Thus, the market membership issue is certain to touch off a bitter debate that will highlight the Labor party's split.

The Conservatives also are divided on joining the market, but much less so than the Laborites. They have scheduled a debate on it Oct. 13. Political experts predict at least a two-third majority of the Conservatives will vote in favor of joining.

The Northern Ireland bloodshed is certain to bring the two parties' rank-and-file to the boil, although no serious party splits are expected over it.

The Labor party will concentrate largely on criticizing the Conservative government's handling of the Ulster situation, particularly the instrument without trial of Irish Republican Army (IRA) suspects.

The Conservative conference is likely to produce demands for even stronger action to curb the IRA guerrillas.

In any event, the two gatherings will act as curtain-raisers for parliament, which reassembles Oct. 18 after a nine weeks' summer recess. The vote on market membership for Britain will come 10 days later.

Jail Sentence On Pot Charge

Sgt. George Milton Elsea, 26, of Hamilton Air Force Base, has been sentenced to 30 days in Marin County Jail for possessing marijuana.

Judge Robert A. Smallman of Marin Municipal Court placed him on probation for two years and gave him credit for seven days he already had spent in jail.

Elsea, originally charged with felony possession of the weed, pleaded guilty to a reduced misdemeanor count in July.

He was arrested May 11 when Novato police stopped his car because it didn't have a license plate. Police said they found three small bags of pot in the car.

'Sign-In' Set On Amendment

A "sign-in" to obtain signatures for the Jarvis amendment petition a property tax limitation measure — will be held from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Luckey Market in Fairfax.

John Winters of Larkspur, Marin County coordinator for the drive to get an amendment on the ballot which would limit property taxes to 1 per cent of market value of property, said he already has over 4,000 Marin signatures.

He said he hoped to go over the 5,000 quota set for Marin by Oct. 15, when the drive will close.

County Fair Will Display Moon Rock

Results of the United States space program will be displayed at the Marin County Fair, Oct. 8 through 11 at the Marin Civic Center.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will supply a piece of moon rock, a cutaway model of the Apollo command module in which American astronauts flew to the moon, a walk-through exhibit on "The Perfect Aircraft" and a display of "Benefits from Space," according to Marcelle McCoy, fair manager.

Marin camera enthusiasts will be able to photograph the four-ounce moon rock through its sealed glass case, Mrs. McCoy added. It will be on display in the exhibition hall of the Veterans Memorial Building.

Other attractions of the four-day fair will include competitions in floriculture and horticulture, art and craft exhibits, puppet shows, a circus, carnival and boat rides and special entertainment.

Bound Over In Auto Case

William Frank Howard, 27, of San Francisco, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a felony charge of car theft.

He is to appear in superior court Oct. 7.

Howard was arrested Sept. 11 after the California Highway Patrol attempted to stop him for a traffic violation on Highway 101 near Sausalito. Howard sped off, the highway patrol said, but his car spun out of control and went over an embankment. He was not injured, but a check revealed the car he was driving was stolen, officars said.

Oil Drum Full Of Explosives Discovered

A tense drama was played out last night off Lucas Valley Road when Marin narcotics agents, acting on a tip, found an oil drum filled with bombs, hand grenades and an automatic rifle.

Army demolition experts were testing the bombs today at Fort Cronkhite to determine what they are.

Two narcotics agents found the cache in a remote creek bed after an anonymous male caller gave directions to sheriff's Lt. James Schwedhelm after asking if he was "interested in some explosives."

Schwedhelm said he received the call about 4:30 p.m. yesterday.

The two drug abuse agents were soon joined by other sheriff's officers, Marin County firemen and bomb disposal squads from the Presidio of San Francisco and the San Francisco Police Department.

The 50-gallon oil drum was found, camouflaged by leaves and old newspapers, in a 10-foot gully off of Lucas Valley Road near Big Rock on the way to Nicasio.

With huge lights set up by the fire department casting an eerie aura around the heavily forested area, bomb demolition crews worked past 9 p.m. slowly removing the arsenal from the drum.

Hooks and long lines were used to pull three cardboard boxes, containing the weapons, from the drum, and with each slow move the officers present ducked behind trees as precaution against an explosion.

Schwedhelm said the boxes contained 17 pipe bombs, some already equipped with timers, two hand grenades and an automatic rifle, either an M-16 or an AR-15.

Orr Is Fired As Fairfax Police Chief

City Officials Will Not Talk; Details Sketchy

The firing was in the form of a "notice of dismissal" from City Administrator Robert E. Crowe.

Crowe today confirmed the dismissal but refused to detail charges against the chief. He said that he could not comment on whether the firing was on his own responsibility or by action of the city council.

Since all the action against Orr was taken behind closed doors and no open session was held at which any decision on the firing was reached or announced, details of the matter remained sketchy.

Crowe said that until he talks with Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet, that he cannot reveal what went on in three closed sessions in which the council and Crowe discussed Orr.

Van Vliet was in San Francisco on private business today and wasn't available for comment, Crowe said. Neither was Orr available for comment.

Named acting chief was Lt. Charles Grasso, who joined the Fairfax force in July 1957.

Crowe predicted that a special council session would be called by the mayor as soon as he and Crowe can confer. Apparently, at this session a decision will be made whether to reveal the charges against Orr.

Unofficially, the charges discussed in prior meetings involved Orr's failure to report juvenile alcohol purchases to the state Alcoholic Beverage Control board, neglecting to tell Crowe where he was during Orr's recent vacation, pulling a gun on a cadet in the police office two years ago and other infractions.

Orr was hired as chief in 1962 after 10 years on the San Anselmo police force.

Seven Indicted In Prison Crimes

By C. P. McCARTHY

The Marin County Grand Jury — winding up a marathon session from which three jurors reportedly decamped in disgust — today indicted six San Quentin inmates and missing attorney Stephen M. Bingham for murder and numerous other crimes committed Aug. 21 during Soledad Brother George Jackson's break for freedom.

One grand juror today leveled a scathing attack on the jury and said he was considering resigning.

The jurors listened for almost 20 hours as Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales presented his case over two days, and they deliberated another four hours before voting the seven indictments at about 1 a.m.

The inmates indicted were Louis N. Talamántes, Hugo A. Pinell, John Larry Spain, Fleeta Drumgo, David Johnson and Willie Tate.

They and Bingham were charged with five counts of murder in connection with the deaths of San Quentin guards Frank P. Deleon, Paul A. Krasenes and Jere R. Graham and inmates Johnny M. Lynn and Ronald L. Kane Aug. 21.

Bingham and the six inmates were also charged with conspiracy to commit escape, possession of a firearm by an inmate and kidnapping.

The six inmates are also charged in the 12-count indictment with assault on a noninmate by a prisoner serving a life sentence, assault by nonlifers and assault with intent to commit murder.

Union Shuts East Ports; Nixon Reviewing Walkout

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Atlantic seaboard longshoremen went on strike Friday, effectively closing all U.S. ports except for a few on the Gulf of Mexico.

Pacific Coast ports had been shut down by a longshoremen's strike for three months when most of 45,000 Atlantic port dock workers began their walkout shortly after midnight. Their action caught ships tied up from Portland, Maine, to Beaumont-Port Arthur, Tex., 78 in New York Harbor alone.

By midday the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) was spreading to ports where dockworkers previously had voted to stay on the job—New Orleans, Baton Rouge, and Lake Charles, La. Houston and Galveston, Tex., were the main ports that remained open.

President Nixon, encouraged by negotiation progress in a West Coast dock strike, held off invoking the Taft-Hartley Act today despite the spreading walkout.

"We do not feel there is a national emergency in existence," said Ronald L. Ziegler, presidential press secretary, at San Rafael High School has a non-league game tonight at Homestead High in Sunnyvale, and Marin Catholic plays at Cardinal Newman in Santa Rosa tomorrow night.

College of Marin plays host to Butte College in Kentfield tomorrow, 1 p.m. See details of all games in today's sports section.

Building Halt Urged In Novato

The Novato Planning Commission last night called for preparation of a resolution aimed at halting all building in Novato until a new general plan for the city has been completed.

The action came at a meeting marked by an outpouring of concern that the city's character and the residents' way of life was endangered by present development trends.

Earlier this year, the North Marin Federation of Homeowners' Association, alarmed over a "surge of townhouse and apartment projects" in Novato, had asked a moratorium on this type of building until the city's general play could be updated.

Last night, the city's planning director, Brian W. Mattson, recommended that a halt on all building be put into effect until a new general plan is drawn.

The council at the end of a three-hour public discussion voted to ask the planning staff to draw up such a moratorium resolution to be considered at the Oct. 11 meeting.

Behr Wild River Bill Rejected By Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An attempt to put Northern California's last free-flowing rivers off limits to dam builders has been rejected by the Senate.

A measure by Sen. Peter Behr, R-San Rafael, which would have declared the Eel, Klamath, and Trinity to be "wild rivers" was defeated 19-14 Thursday.

The bill was rejected by the Senate on the same vote in August, but needed 27 votes to pass at that time. With 21 votes needed yesterday, the measure was dead this session.

Behr took a $50,000 appropriation out of the bill to make it a 21 vote measure, but his effort went in vain.

In proposing the measure again, he said he was "perfectly ready for a prolonged debate."

But he said "the bill has been vigorously lobbied," and the lawmakers were already aware of the arguments for and against the bill.

Behr charged opponents of the bill with "falsely" arguing that it would place the rivers under the control of the federal government and end control by the state legislature.

"Steelhead and salmon have run in these rivers," he said, "now we have red herrings."

"These rivers are indeed presently threatened," he said, because the legislature has already given control of them to the U.S. Corps of Engineers and the state Department of Water Resources.

Without this bill, Behr asserted, the rivers are "at the mercy of state and federal bureaucrats."

But veteran Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, said there was no need for the bill.

Collier, whos district includes all three rivers, argued the rivers were now safe from unnecessary dam building.

He said the "wage and price freeze" meant there would be no dams on the Eel River "for many years to come," and he said the Klamath and Trinity Rivers already have small dams on them.

He also denied assertions that the bill would protect steelhead fishing on the rivers.

Collier said dams on the Klamath and Trinity improved the fishing and "fishing on the Eel River was very good."

Besides, he added, silt makes the Eel river "so dirty you wouldn't want to fish on it anyway."

Collier said that dams may be needed on the Eel in the future for flood control.

The need for flood protection, Collier said, meant he opposed the bill as "not best for the people in the area in which I live."

Sen. Gordon Cologne, R-Indio, charged the bill could cost California needed water in the future.

Cologne, one of the strongest Southern California proponents of water, said placing the rivers under the protection of federal Wild Rivers Law would mean losing them forever as a source of water.

He said he would not call Californa's current water situation "critical" but asserted future needs might mean the state would have to turn to the three free-flowing rivers. And, he said, the federal government might refuse to let California use them.

Pompidou Decries U.S. War Strikes

PARIS (UPI) — President Georges Pompidou Friday condemned U.S. air strikes into North Vietnam and charged that the South Vietnamese have not been allowed to hold "truly free" elections.

Pompidou, in a toast during a lavish lunch at the Elysee Palace for visiting Communist Chinese officials, repeated a demand that the United States get out of Vietnam.

SEWERAGE FIGHT

Big Districts Balk At Union

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Dissolution of virtually all sanitary districts in Marin and transfer of their duties to the two water districts won strong support last night from small sanitary districts, but opposition from big ones.

County Administrator John F. Barrows recommended the consolidation of the 11 districts last week to county supervisors and last night furnished copies of his report to the district officials.

His report concluded that consolidation would cut administrative costs and provide "more responsive and responsible government for the people served." Barrows noted that the Federal Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations concluded that water supply and sewage disposal were related, especially because of growing pressure for reuse of water.

The commission also reported "dramatic cost reductions per million gallons of sewage treated as the size of the plant is increased," Barrows said.

Citing public lack of interest in sewer services "except when that service fails," Barrows acknowledged that the public does not care which agency provides the service. He added that the sanitary districts had performed "in a most competent manner," and that his recommendation that they be dissolved did not reflect on their performance.

Barrows also suggested consolidating the Marin Municipal and North Marin County water districts, which would handle sewerage under his proposal, but said this should be under-

Senate Presses Nixon On Total Viet Drawback

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon faces the collective pressure of the U.S. Senate to withdraw from Vietnam by spring —totally and without regard to the future of the American-backed government in Saigon.

For the second time this year, members approved Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's amendment establishing a national policy for complete disengagement from Indochina within six months. The only condition attached is that North Vietnam must simultaneously release all U.S. prisoners of war and account for the missing.

The roll call vote was 57 for, 38 against, with California's senators, Alan Cranston and John Tunney, both Democrats, voting for the amendment.

The vote came Thursday,

THE FLAMES OF DISSENT — A South Vietnamese disabled war veteran uses his crutch to scatter a fire set by pro-Thieu demonstrators near a meeting held by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky. The Ky meeting was protesting the one-man — Thieu — presidential election scheduled for Sunday. Combat police used tear gas to disperse demonstrators protesting the meeting.

(UPI Telephoto)

More Anti-Thieu Demonstrations

SAIGON (UPI) — Demonstrations against the one-man presidential race of President Nguyen Van Thieu broke out today in Saigon and in Hue, 400 miles to the north. One demonstration in Saigon degenerated into a grim frolic in which 6-year-old children hurled firebombs.

In the ancient imperial capital of Hue, where police used teargas and fired rifles to break up crowds of rioting students and veterans, the demonstrations took on an antiAmerican tone. There were caricatures of President Nixon as a puppeteer manipulating Thieu and of Nixon riding in a cart dangling a carrot in front of Thieu, depicted as a donkey.

The Hue demonstrations began at the An Quang sect Buddhist school inside Hue's old imperial citadel, which was held by the Communists for 33 days during the 1968 Tet offensive. A group of 400 students marched out of the citadel into the city where they began burning election posters.

Students from the University of Hue began a second demonstration nearby. When they began stripping down election posters, police began firing tear gas cannisters and were met with a volley of rocks and firebombs. One policeman was injured.

Wounded veterans carrying firebombs joined the demonstrations.

In Saigon, an anti-Thieu demonstration at the An Quang pagoda, headquarters of militant Buddhists who are boycotting the election, got out of hand and 100 youths and small children began hurling Molotov cocktails. They scattered quickly when police fired tear gas.

Older demonstrators firebombed an American contracting company truck, the third truck the company has lost to firebombing this week. Police called in 200 reinforcements to prevent further outbreaks under Thieu's shoot-to-kill orders.

In the nearby Petrus Ky quarter, several hundred students and war veterans shouting "down with Thieu" built a barricade in the street. Police smothered the area with 60 rounds of tear gas but did not try immediately to storm the barricades.

Earlier today in Saigon, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said the people of South Vietnam should boycott Sunday's election to show they oppose Thieu's "tyranny."

South Viets, U.S. Air Support 'Break Back' Of Red Offensive

SAIGON (UPI)—A South Vietnamese commander said today government troops with massive U.S. air support had "broken the back" of a major North Vietnamese offensive along the Cambodian border designed to disrupt the South Vietnamese election Sunday.

But the North Vietnamese surrounded and kept up a heavy bombardment of an isolated American outpost on the Cambodian border. One GI has been killed and 32 wounded at the post, Fire Base Pace, since the Communist offensive began last Saturday.

B52s today hit North Vietnamese troop and storage positions three miles east and 10 miles south of Pace. Helicopter reconnaissance indicated that hundreds of NVA had been killed in the aerial bombardments, U.S. military sources said.

The overall situation along the Cambodian border 85 miles northwest of Saigon was so improved that American forces were able to withdraw a long range gun battery from Katum Fire Base 15 miles due east of Fire Base Pace.

"I think we've broken the back of the Communist offensive," said Maj. Gen. Nguyen Xuan Tinh, commander of the South Vietnamese 25th Infantry Division.

The big guns withdrawn from Katum were escorted toward Tay Ninh 50 miles north of Saigon by the 1,000-man 2nd Squadron of the American 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

American B52s today pounded North Vietnamese troop concentrations in support of the allied counteroffensive as the Communists kept up harassing attacks against South Vietnamese bases around Krek, a rubber plantation town which has been the center of the fighting for five days. But the tempo of the North Vietnamese shellings had fallen off sharply.

Carson Son Jailed On Dope Charges

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI)—Seaman Richard Carson, 19, son of television personality Johnny Carson, was arrested Thursday on marijuana possession charges.

Police said Carson, a petty officer first class, and Gary Golden, 21, Levittown, N.Y., were arrested driving on Interstate 95. Their car passed one occupied by three narcotics agents and "certain techniques used by Carson and his companion indicated marijuana was being used," officials said.

The men pleaded innocent to possession charges in Cranston District Court and were released.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

China Celebrates

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist China marked its 22nd anniversary today with subdued celebrations that gave no clue to the cause of what is believed to be a major leadership crisis.

The scrapping of some traditional main features of the national day activities in Peking heightened the mystery.

Instead of the state banquet usually given by the State Council Cabinet and hosted by Premier Chou En-Lai, two receptions were held Thursday night in Peking's Great Hall of the People.

One was given by the Foreign Ministry for foreign diplomats and delegations, with Vice Premier Li Hsien-nein and Vice President Tung Pi-wu acting as hosts, while the other was given by the foreign relations department of the Communist party Central Committee for "Marxist-Leninist delegations and friends from various countries." Hosts were Yao Wen-yuan, a ranking member of the Central Committee's political bureau, and Keng Piao, head of the party's foreign affairs department.

Irishman Shot

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Gunmen wounded a civilian today in a fresh outbreak of shooting in Belfast's Shankill Road area, security forces spokesmen said.

The spokesmen said the civilian entered Royal Victoria Hospital where doctors attended to a wound in his hip inflicted by a sniper's bullet.

Two bombs exploded in the Falls Road area, but caused no casualties, an army spokesman said.

The new incidents followed shootings last night and an assertion by Protestant militant leader Rev. Ian Paisley that "the Protestant loyalist community has come to the end of the road" in attacks by Irish Republican Army (IRA) gunmen.

Prisoners Freed

MADRID (UPI) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco today decreed a general amnesty of prisoners, including 426 political prisoners, to mark the 35th anniversary of his ascension to power.

The decree, issued in the official state bulletin, came as thousands of banner-waving Spaniards pressed into the Plaza del Oriente to pay homage to the aging chief of state in what was called the largest political rally in Spanish history.

The pardon affects all persons serving sentences in Spanish jails except those who have been condemned to death and had their sentences commuted.

More Unrest

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Mayor Hans Tanzler called today for the city's black leadership to help cool tension in black neighborhoods following the second straight night of racial disorder.

Tanzler placed a square-mile downtown area under a curfew last night after gangs of black youths tossed rocks and bottles at motorists and firebombed and looted stores.

"We have just got to have some leadership out of the black community," Tanzler said. "They have got to stand up and be counted. If the black leadership stands up and really helps, then law enforcement can stand up and do its job."

At least 35 persons were arrested during the disturbance which calmed down about an hour after Tanzler imposed the curfew at 9:30 p.m. Several persons.

Attempt Fails

BEIRUT (UPI) — An attempt against the life of Mustafa Barzani, the leader of Iraq's Kurdish minority, failed. But it is certain to produce increased instability wihin Iraq's already shaky political structure, diplomatic sources said today.

Baghdad Radio said Thursday Barzani, 67, escaped unhurt from the assassination attempt Wednesday. Three of his guards were killed and 10 were wounded.

Prison Riot

ASHKALON, Israel (UPI) — Nearly 500 Arab guerrilla prisoners revolted for two hours in Ashkalon jail yesterday and Israeli Prisoner Commissioner Arie Nir said the inmates apparently were inspired by the Attica, N.Y., uprising.

Nir appointed an investigation commission which began today its inquiry into the worst jail rioting in Israel since the 1967 war.

A guard and 10 guerrillas were injured in the riot in the jail, a squalid police station converted to hold 480 guerrillas in 20 cells.

Disney Debut

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Walt Disney World threw open its gates more than two hours ahead of schedule today and thousands of visitors streamed into the vast entertainment complex.

The first visitors to the $400 million showplace when it opened at 7:40 a.m. were a Lakeland, Fla., couple and two small children who spent the night in a small foreign car to be the first in line.

The state highway patrol had expected about 20,000 visitors on the first day.

Regent Upholds Angela's Firing

BERKELEY (UPI) —The Chairman of the University of California Board of Regents today accused a report by a group of professors criticizing the firing of black militant Angela Davis of "evident and pervasive bias."

Chairman William French Smith said the report Thursday by the American Association of University Professors assumed Miss Davis was not reappointed because she was a Communist.

French and Dewitt A. Higgs, immediate past chairman of the board, released a reply they sent in June to the association in answer to a draft copy of the report.

"One of the principal themes of the report is that the Regents were so incensed by the fact of Miss Davis' Communist Party membership that the stated bases for their action of not reappointing her were merely a pretext to support a predetermined result," the letter from French and Higgs said.

"One cannot avoid a similar conclusion concerning the investigating report," the two added.

French and Higgs said today that "the Regents' action was based upon entirely different grounds."

"What is most disturbing about the report is its evident and pervasive bias."

The two pointed out that the Dean of College and Letters and Science at UCLA contended the rehiring of Miss Davis would give it "sudden precedence over 52 already needed positions in nearly every department of the college."

They also said Miss Davis never presented the dean of humanities with "a detailed account and evaluation" of her progress toward a Phd.

"The investigating committee compounds its bias by a display of undue solicitude for Miss Davis," the two said.

The professors report, they said, claimed Miss Davis must have had less than "normal time for research on account of the earlier actions of the Regents."

"If her speaking engagements constituted distractions," they said, "they are no justification for failure to perform scholarly obligations."

$100,000 To Callaway First Wife; $1 To Last

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Fuller E. (Clay) Callaway III, the Georgia sportsman and jet-setter who took his own life, has left $100,000 to the first of three wives and $1 to the last one.

The will, filed for probate in San Mateo County superior court, had originally left $100,000 to his third wife, New York stage actress Annette Cash, when it was drawn up in May, 1965, but was changed a year later to reduce her amount to only $1.

Callaway, who was a record-setting yachtsman, died Sept. 21 at the age of 39 of an overdose of barbiturates in his lavish Atherton, mansion.

Callaway's first wife, Wanda, now Mrs. James D. Warren of Atherton, got $100,000 and her husband $10,000 in Callaway's will. His second wife, Pia Lindstrom, New York television personality who is the daughter of actress Ingrid Bergman, also received $10,000.

WALL COMES TUMBLING DOWN

Firemen fighting a blaze in an abandoned packing plant in Omaha, Neb., scramble for safety as one wall of the huge structure collapses into a pile of burning rubble. Two firemen were injured while fighting the blaze, which Fire Chief Vernon Van Scoy said appeared to have been deliberately set. The intense four-alarm fire lit up the night sky around Omaha for hours. (UPI Telephoto)

Dixie Seeks Accord On $16,000 Athletic Field

The Dixie School District board has authorized Supt. Clifford W. Campbell to work out a joint agreement with the Terra Linda Athletic Association and the San Rafael Recreation and Park Department for development of a multi-use athletic field at Vallecito School.

Campbell said the project authorized Wednesday night by the board calls for expenditure of $7,000 each by the school district and the City of San Rafael and $2,000 by the association.

The Dixie School District Board also:

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Decided to try outdoor education by setting up nature trips in Marin including field trips to Point Reyes National Seashore, Richardson Bay, Samuel F. Taylor Park, Bolinas Lagon and various hillsides in the county.

TELEVISION — Appropriated $807 for a contract with KQED to provide its educational television service and teacher manuals. The schools would receive the service through cable television in the elementary schools.

UNIFICATION — Set an Oct. 6 meeting between the San Rafael elementary and high school districts and the Dixie School District to discuss the election in June next year for the unification of the three districts. Campbell said statistics of the districts would be discussed as well as what information to get to voters on the election required by state law.

WORKSHOP — Hired Gerhard Lust for $80 to conduct two two-hour workshops to teach teachers how to use new gymnastic and exercise equipment the district has purchased.

JOB DESCRIPTIONS — Set up job descriptions for part-time teachers, teacher-assistants, and instructional aides.

SALARY DESCRIPTIONS — Said part-time teachers would be paid on the same schedule as full-time teachers except that their salaries would be pro-rated for the number of hours worked; set $4 per hour salary for teacher-assistants (the district has two), and placed instructional aides on a salary schedule from $2.70 an hour beginning to $3.31 an hour after four years.

DELEGATE — Chose Dorothy Brown as its candidate for delegate to the California School Boards Association Assembly.

Drug Abuse Is Meeting Topic

The Novato Citizens Advisory Committee on Human Needs will hold a town meeting on drug abuse at 8 p.m. Oct. 14 at Hill Junior High School, according to Mayor Joseph D. Gargiulo.

The committee, established by the city council early this year, has scheduled the meeting to get the views of residents, he said.

It will be the first of three scheduled public meetings. Emergency services will be discussed Nov. 17 and poverty on Dec. 8, both tentatively scheduled at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community House.

Window Is Forced Bar Burglarized

Burglars obtained more than $1,000 in loot from The Cellars bar, 534 Third Street, early yesterday, San Rafael police reported today.

Entry was made through a forced window. The burglars took $300 worth of liquor, $521 in cash, a $150 pair of binoculars and a box of golf balls valued at $64, police said.

Judge Orders Firm To Refund Vacation Fee

MARTINEZ (UPI) —A judge has ordered Vacations Limited, of Walnut Creek, to refund $9.95 "processing" charges to persons who were awarded "free" vacations by the firm.

Superior Judge Joseph Genser said that unless the refunds are made, James Lynch, president of the firm, and Gerald Swart, its owner, would be sent to jail for five days and fined $300 each.

The complaint filed by the Contra Costa County district attorney's office said the firm solicited persons through a "contest" in which everyone was a winner. The prize was a free vacation. However, according to the charges, the "processing fee" was imposed and many times the reservations promised were not made at hotels in Nevada resorts.

A land sale program was involved in the business.

Booze On Election Day Is Considered

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—A bill which would end the "dry blues" on election day by permitting bars to open is under consideration in the Michigan Legislature.

Election day dry laws date back to a time when it was feared unscrupulous candidates would attempt to trade drinks for a vote.

Planner — Base Use, Ecology Compatible

A new Marin County Planning Commissioner said yesterday that there can be substantial civilian use of Hamilton Air Force Base without harming the environment.

William B. Lynch, manager of North Bay operations for Coca Cola Bottling Co., told the Novato Chamber of Commerce the need to "make Hamilton more productive" has to be considered.

However, he said, he didn't mean "going in whole hog," and ruining the environment, but development within a sound plan for the environment.

Lynch spoke of the need to make Marin County "more economically viable" and said accessibility and air transportation are important to firms seeking locations.

Through the years people have become complacent about the economic stability at the base, but this cannot be assured, Lynch said.

In his business, he said, he can't rely on the volume of dollars from the base that have come in the past.

However, he said, there has been an increase in sales at the commissary and base exchange, indicating that more retired persons are shopping there.

Lynch cited the property tax burden and saw the need for the county and cities to develop new sources of revenue.

Employees such as teachers, policemen and firemen cannot afford to live where they work and "the young cannot find good stable employment," he said.

Lynch said the count is in a "transitional stage" and its master plan should be changed. He commented that the planning commission's role as a "jury" considering the merits of individual cases has "over the years" surpassed its "principal role of planning."

He noted plans for major shopping centers in Corte Madera and Novato, both of which would compete with Northgate, and felt that the county and cities will have to "find ways to share resources" and coordinate plans.

$250 Vandalism At New Homes Site

New homes under construction on Mahogany Drive, San Rafael, have sustained $250 vandalism damage, police reported today.

Contractor Horst Hanf said two windows and tiles on a swimming pool were broken sometime Wednesday night or Thursday morning.

Toronto's Outlay For Fighting VD

TORONTO (UPI) — Ontario will spend $2 million this year—$50,000 more than in 1970—to fight venereal disease, says Health Minister Thomas Wells.

Wells said the 9,368 cases reported in 1970 was the highest in the province since 1946 and that the increased budget would be used for establishment of three new clinics, free medication and a publicity campaign aimed at educating the public about venereal disease.

About 80 persons attended the special meeting of the supervisors in the Civic Center to hear Barrows' recommendation. Most of the audience was composed of sanitary district board members.

Arguing against consolidation, at least now, were spokesmen for Novato, Las Gallinas Valley, Ross Valley, Tiburon and the Sausalito-Marin City sanitary districts. The last two, however, said they expected to favor some future consolidation, perhaps preferring something less than countywide consolidation.

Thomas D. Hardcastle, chairman of the Novato district, said fragmentation of sanitary districts was "a South Marin problem." He noted that Novato voters two years ago "decisively" rejected consolidation of the sanitary and water districts, "so why kick a dead horse? We're doing fine up in North Marin."

Peter A. Ribar, a director of the Ross Valley Sanitary District, insisted that "we know our business," and that existing districts were best able to assure citizens that "when you push that lever, the toilet flushes."

Sesto F. Lucchi, a director of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, said consolidation would "just take away local control." He said local control was more important than economies from consolidation.

Lucchi argued that the Marin Municipal Water District was "too busy with water problems" to tackle sewerage as well.

But the president of the water district, Robert G. Anderson, declared he was "all for" consolidation. "We ought to go all the way," he said.

Anderson referred to existing sanitary districts as "little kingdoms."

William R. Seeger, general manager of the water district, took no position on consolidation, but declared he was disturbed "over continual delay at cleaning up Marin County." It made no difference how sewage pollution problems were solved, he said, adding, "but for Lord's sake, let's get going and do it!"

Seeger was irritated by anonymous hisses that greeted him when he stood up to speak, and at first sat down angrily, then rose again to make his remarks.

Support for consolidation also came from George A. Amaroli, a director of the North Marin County Water District. "It's time to stop running 21 sanitary districts in Marin County," he declared.

Mill Valley City Councilman Jerome C. Hauke also called for consolidation of the sanitary "fiefdoms."

Hauke criticized the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission for always "defending the small districts." He called upon the commission to "wipe them out." He noted that Barrows long has been the commission's administrative officer.

Other support for consolidation came from spokesmen for the Tamalpais Community Services District, Homestead Valley Sanitary District and Theodore C. Wellman, a member of the environmental committee of the Marin County Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

Wellman said that water supply and treatment of waste water "are going to have to be under one head." He suggested that Marin Municipal Water District may lose the Nov. 2 referendum on the new aqueduct from Sonoma County, thus may have to turn to recycling waste water sooner than planned.

Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. commented that it "seems crazy" to spend millions of dollars to import water from the Russian River "without talking about reclamation."

Arrigoni warned that unless the county consolidated the fragmented districts, the state will. (Legislation today is awaiting the governor's signature that would create a Bay Area sewerage agency to build regional facilities when local agencies fail to do so.)

Supervisor Arnold M. Baptiste suggested an alternative to consolidation could be joint power agreements among the sanitary districts. He said he will ask the full board of supervisors to send a questionnaire to all sanitary districts for their reactions to Barrows' proposed consolidation.

GRAPE FESTIVAL: GETTING READY

ban of San Rafael, Harold K. Graves Jr. of Mill Valley and James D. Kilty of San Anselmo left the Hall of Justice following the jury's vote on the indictments, but prior to the arrival of Judge E. Warren McGuire at about 1:20 a.m. to accept the indictments.

Grand jury foreman Milen C. Dempster told Judge McGuire that at least 12 of the jury's 19 members were present and had voted for the indictments.

Beban said today he was "disgusted" and was considering resigning from the jury.

He charged that the "society the grand jury represents is racist and paranoid" and that security measures at the Hall of Justice since the Aug. 7, 1970, shoot-out increased the paranoia.

"The good people of Marin whom this grand jury represents are inflicted with racist and economic bias," he said.

Judge McGuire scheduled arraignment of the six inmates for 9 a.m. Tuesday in his court.

Bingham, an East Bay attorney and son of a former Connecticut state senator, was previously charged by Bales in Marin Municipal Court with the five counts of murder.

The indictment eliminates the need for municipal court proceedings if and when Bingham is found.

The indictment lists eight overt acts to bolster the conspiracy charge.

It charges that Bingham smuggled an automatic pistol and ammunition to inmate George Jackson, who reportedly then launched the escape attempt in which he and the five others died.

The indictment says that Jackson, upon returning to the adjustment center from a visit with Bingham, pulled out the gun from a wig and took guard Urbano Rubiaco Jr. prisoner and ordered him to open the cells on the first floor of the adjustment center.

"Members of the conspiracy" then tied the hands and feet of three guards, including Krasenes and Deleon who were later killed when their throats were slashed.

Jackson took guard Charles C. Breckenridge prisoner and turned him over to Pinell and others who took him to a cell, according to the indictment.

Spain handcuffed Rubiaco and took him to the same cell, it said.

Spain and Jackson took guard Graham prisoner and Jackson shot and killed him with the pistol, the indictment said.

The other two guards and the inmates, who reportedly refused to go along with the escape attempt, were killed "by members of the conspiracy," the indictment charged.

Spain fled the adjustment center with Jackson, but dove into some bushes when guards opened fire. Jackson was killed, but Spain was not injured.

Talamantes is already awaiting trial in Marin Superior Court in connection with an assault on another prisoner in March 1970.

Alviso Annex Vote Held Valid

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The city of Alviso has lost another effort by some of its residents to remain independent of San Jose. Santa Clara County Superior Court Thursday found that the election by which Alviso voted to join San Jose was valid.

A group of residents had challenged the results on grounds that 22 persons voted illegally under inducements from San Jose.

A finding in an earlier trial which split the disputed votes was overturned by the state supreme court.

The vote in 1968 was 189 to 180 for consolidation with San Jose.

BUILDING

a freeze was set last night, but most speakers talked in terms of six or eight months.

The evening's theme was sounded by Guthrie R. Greene, a retired infantry colonel and president of the federation which represents 11 homeowners' groups in Novato.

Greene, who emphasized that "we are not opposed to housing for low and moderate income persons," declared the boom in townhouses and apartments in the past year, which he said had been built in accordance with the present general plan, adopted in 1967.

The colonel noted that "it is remarkable we came to the same conclusion as the planner (Mattson) without ever having any meetings with him."

Greene also asked that additional planning staff be hired and that more planning commission meetings be held in order to update the general plan, which he suggested should limit multiple housing.

He was joined by other speakers, mainly representing homeowners' groups, who, in the words of one, asked that "we reverse the trend — we've been letting the developers do our planning for us."

A San Marin resident wanted an annual limit on the number of building permits to be issued.

Only a few persons in the approximately 60-member audience spoke against a building moratorium.

Roger Strawick, who described himself as a "small builder," said that he understood the "fear that the way of life in Novato is going to change," but insisted there is no need to halt construction in order to update the general plan.

Planning commissioners present (Chairman Paul Oatis and James Picchi were absent) generally agreed with the homeowner groups, however.

Richard O'Connell said that the rate of growth in the past year "bothered" him, and John Schoonover, who chaired the session, said he thought the moratorium was needed.

Commissioner Beverly Ehreth said pointedly to the audience, that "you speak of the beauty of the land (in Novato), but it was much prettier before many of you came here."

She asked that citizens let the commission know what they want the city to become.

SENATE

three days before Sunday's South Vietnamese election in which President Nguyen Van Thieu is running unopposed.

The Thieu re-election was branded in Thursday's debate as a "Communist-style election" and a repudiation of all that the United States has fought for.

The Mansfield amendment was attached as a rider to the $21 billion military procurement bill. The language cannot become law until it is passed by the House, which rejected it in June, and the entire bill is signed by the President.

Key House members said they believed the Mansfield amendment probably would attract more support than it did when it was defeated 219 to 176 June 26. The leaders, however, declined to predict the outcome.

If Nixon vetoed the measure he would delay millions of dollars worth of new equipment for the armed services authorized in the procurement bill.

The amendment —unlike earlier antiwar proposals that have been rejected by the Senate—would not cut off appropriations for the war. But, if enacted, some members of Congress believe, it would constitutionally bind the President to execute the policy it lays down.

The amendment says: "It is hereby declared to be the policy of the United States to terminate at the earliest practicable date all military operations of the United States in Indochina and to provide for the prompt and orderly withdrawal of all United States military forces not later than six months after the date of enactment of this section subject to release of all American prisoners of war held by the government of North Vietnam and forces allied with such government."

Additionally, it urges the President to negotiate an immediate cease-fire by all parties.

The passage of the measure followed shouted exchanges across the center aisle and public confessions of guilt for the war and its casualties.

"We are all to blame," said Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., the Republican national chairman, charged that the same people who voted for the "declaration of war" in Vietnam seven years ago were now voting for a "declaration of peace."

"I object," he said. "The senator from Kansas may have voted for a declaration of war but the senator from Montana did not. The Gulf of Tonkin Resolution was not a declaration of war." "It's time Congress shared some of the blame," Dole said.

Mansfield said he was only trying to help the President remove "an albatross from around his neck" but Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott claimed the Democrats were trying to take credit "for doing what the President is already doing —ending the war."

The procurement bill, with the amendment in it, probably will be passed Wednesday. It then will go to a Senate-House conference to resolve differences with the House version, which contains no such amendment.

a news briefing at Key Biscayne, Fla., where Nixon is spending the weekend.

Last weekend, in Portland, Ore., Nixon said use of the Taft-Hartley Act, under which the president could ask the federal courts to order the strikers back to work for an 80-day cooling off period, would be "automatic" if the dock workers struck on the East Coast while the West Coast workers were out.

Negotiatiations to head off the strike continued past the Thursday midnight expiration of the ILA's contracts with various shipping associations, but even the good offices of assistant Labor Secretary W. J. Berry Jr. could not produce a settlement.

Meanwhile, most of the nation's soft coal miners invoked their traditional "no-contract, no-work" position today after negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new pact. The talks, seemingly at an impasse, were recessed for the weekend.

A federal mediator, who has been sitting in on negotiations between the miners' union and bituminous producers, said this afternoon the participants "were not even close" to agreement.

OBITUARIES

Longtime Resident P. Caletti

Peter Caletti, longtime San Rafael businessman and property owner, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness. He was 92.

Caletti was born in Tornavento, Italy, and in 1901 came to San Rafael, where he lived the rest of his life.

Proud of having passed his citizenship test with a 100 per cent grade, Caletti shared his knowledge with hundreds of other Italian immigrants, tutoring them before their tests. He also frequently went to court as a witness for new citizens.

Caletti acquired the Mission Inn and Apartments about 60 years ago and operated it until his retirement about 20 years ago. At the time he retired, he and his wife, Maria R. Caletti, moved to a home at 220 Laurel Place.

In recent years he had managed property he owned in San Rafael.

He was a member of San Rafael Elks Lodge No. 1108 for more than 45 years. He also belonged to Club Italia.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lillian C. Bence of Los Angeles, Marie P. Caletti of San Rafael and Mrs. Rose Catalano of San Francisco; two brothers, Ernest and Angelo Caletti of Petaluma; two grandchildren and a great--grandchild.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Monday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Entombment will be in Mount Tamalpais Mausoleum.

San Rafael Elks Lodge No. 1108 will hold services at 8 p.m. Sunday at Keaton's Chapel.

Rodman E. Luckin of Ignacio, former president of the Loma Verde Parent-Teacher Association, died yesterday in a local hospital following a long illness. He was 45.

Luckin, who lived at 417 Alameda Del Prado, took part in Boy Scout and Little League activities, in addition to parent-teacher work. He also was a member of Valley Baptist Church, San Rafael.

Luckin was a systems analyst for a San Mateo County lead company.

Born in Williamstown, N.J., Luckin had lived in Marin eight years. He attended the University of Pennsylvania and Rutgers University.

Survivors are his wife, Beverly; four sons, Craig, Gary, Jay and Scott, all at home; his mother, Anna I. Luckin, and a sister, Arlene E. Richner of West Hollywood, Fla.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be private.

REV. WALSH

Memorial service for Rev. Stanley H. Walsh of San Rafael, former pastor of Valley Baptist Church in Santa Venetia, will be at 4 p.m. Sunday at the church, 3 North San Pedro Raod.

Walsh, 61, died Wednesday in a Las Vegas hospital, apparently of a heart attack. He was returning from a vacation in Glen Canyon National Park, Ariz., when he suffered the attack.

He was born in Calgary, Alberta, and came to California in 1918. He served as pastor at Baptist churches in three California communities before coming to San Rafael: Soledad, Monterey County; Corning, Tehama County and Dixon, Solano County.

In 1956 Walsh moved to Marin and became pastor of the Bret Harte Baptist Church. A new sanctuary was built the next year in Santa Venetia and Reverend Walsh served as pastor of that church, renamed the Valley Baptist Church, until his retirement in 1963.

After his retirement Walsh acquired a realtor's license and worked for several Marin realty firms.

He is survived by his wife, Lillian, of the home address, 1027 Las Pavadas Avenue; a son, Paul, of Novato, and a daughter, Raedell Warren, of Mineral, Lassen County; a sister, Muriel Pieper, of Malibu, Los Angeles County, and a brother, Orville, of Oakland; and five grandchildren.

The family prefers contributions to the Valley Baptist Church in lieu of flowers.

C. A. KILGER

Carl A. Kilger, 76, owner of a San Francisco machine works and avid yachtsman, died unexpectedly yesterday at his home at 622 El Arroya Place, Novato.

Coroner's deputy Bill Thomas said that Kilger, who was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital, had a history of heart illness.

Born in San Francisco, Kilger had lived all his life in California, the past 14 years in Marin County.

Kilger first worked as a printer and then founded his own company in 1928, C. A. Kilger Machine Works, in San Francisco, a firm which manufactures and repairs printing presses and other machinery.

He was a member and rear commodore of the San Rafael Yacht Club and a charter member and director of the North Bay Yacht Club.

He also belonged to the Marin Rod and Gun Club and had been a member of Machinist Lodge No. 68 of San Franciscco for 50 years.

He and his wife, Gertrude M. Kilger, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1967.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Murielle F. O'Leary of Novato; two sisters, Agnes Condrin of Santa Rosa and Ruth Bruhn of San Francisco; a brother, Alex Kilger of San Francisco; two grandchildren and six-great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Church of the Redeemer, 121 Knight Drive, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private. Friends may call at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael until 9 p.m. today.

The family prefers memorial contributions to the Marin County Heart Association.

GERAARDT HOWARD

Memorial service for Geraardt M. (Bud) Howard of Belvedere, an industrialist and founder of the Belvedere Tennis Club, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the courtyard of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Belvedere.

Howard, 53, died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness.

He is survived by his wife, Jean; three children, Dana and Richard of Belvedere and Gregory A. Brown of Alaska; four sisters, Emmie Lou Phillips, Harriett Adams and Pauline Tennant, all of San Francisco, and Maxine Larson of Portland, and two brothers, Henry W. Howard of Hillsborough and Joseph C. Howard of San Mateo.

Leslie Bacon's Arrest In Bomb Case Ruled Illegal

LESLIE BACON
Wins appeal round

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Antiwar activist Leslie Bacon was illegally arrested in April in a Washington, D.C. commune and flown 3,000 miles to Seattle for questioning about the bombing of the U.S. Capitol, a federal appeals court ruled Thursday.

Miss Bacon, 19, arrested by the FBI as a "material witness" to the March 1 bombing, was granted a petition for habeas corpus, and her "invalid" arrest warrant was ordered quashed by the U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mike Rosen, one of Miss Bacon's attorneys, called the court decision "a great victory for civil liberties in this country."

The court ruling said the arrest warrant issued by Judge Goerge Boldt in Seattle April 22 was illegal since it assumed without proper basis that Miss Bacon, of Atherton, Calif., would not answer a subpoena.

A proper arrest warrant, the court said, must be based on probable cause that testimony of the witness is material and that it would be "impractical" to use a subpoena. Miss Bacon also was under subpoena during the grand jury questioning.

The court said the first test can be met by assertion by the U.S. attorney, but the second must be based on sufficient facts.

"Mere assertion will not do," the court said. "As a basis for Bacon's arrest, the warrant was invalid."

Rosen said the ruling would permit anyone subpoenaed as a "material witness" to go to the nearest U.S. court and challenge the original subpoena.

While in Seattle, Miss Bacon testified for several days but later refused to answer questions. She was granted "limited" immunity by a federal judge but again refused to testify further and was held in contempt.

Attica Convicts Accuse Guards Of Beatings Following Outbreak

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Three convicts accused of leading the Attica state prison rebellion have testified there was a gauntlet of guards who beat prisoners after their cellblock was recaptured.

One said inmate Elliott James (L.D.) Barkely, listed among the 42 persons killed during the rioting and recapture Sept. 9-13, was seen after the prison was attacked and retaken.

Inmates Frank Lott, Roger (Champ) Champen and Herbert X. Blyden appeared Thursday in U.S. District Court, asking that they not be returned to Attica. Judge John T. Curtin ordered the men back to the correctional facility pending further hearings Monday.

All three testified they had been threatened and beaten after the recapture, repeating a story told by James P. Watkins, 24, Buffalo, a National Guardsman and law student who said he was in the prison Sept. 13 when it was recaptured and saw prisoners stripped and forced to run a gauntlet of guards who beat them.

Lott was asked, "Did you know L.D. Barkley?"

"Oh, yeah, L.D. I knew good," he testified.

Asked if he saw him, Lott replied, "Yeah I saw him just after we were taken into custody." He said Barkley was standing behind him "when we were stripped down and searched" in an exercise yard.

Lott stuck by his testimony in cross-examination.

Assemblyman Arthur O. Eve, D-Buffalo, said he had also seen Barkley alive after the prison was stormed. Barkley was listed among the 42 guards and inmates killed in the recapturing of the prison.

Lott first told of the gauntlet. "There were officers on both sides and they hit us with sticks and belts," he said. "I was running pretty fast because they were really hitting." He said since the takeover he has been "constantly harassed by correction officers with threats of death."

Champen, a tall black who wore a plain black suit, white shirt, white socks and black shoes said he was told to "crawl on the ground" in the exercise yard and was "snatched up by the collar and was kicked in the throat and hit in my head."

On several occasions since the rioting, prison officials warned "they were going to kill me," he said.

Cairo Withholds Comment On Eban's Peace Proposal

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Arab leaders today held off comment on Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban's challenge for direct negotiations on a Middle East settlement although United Nations observers said some reaction was likely next week from Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad.

One Arab comment came from M.T. Mehdli of the American League for Arab Relations.

"The proposals represent the wrong things at the wrong time," he said. "Mr. Eban should talk not with Egypt but with the Palestinians whose home he has been occupying for years."

Eban disclosed in his policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly Thursday that Israel had proposed a Middle East conference on the estimated 1.6 million Palestinian refugees from three wars in the area.

Riad will deliver a policy speech to the General Assembly next week and observers said he would likely have something to say about Eban's direct talks on settling the Middle East crisis.

Eban outlined what he called "five roads to peace" including a five-year plan to solve the problem of the refugees.

Eban suggested a conference of Middle Eastern nations which have given relief aid to the Palestinian refugees and U.N. agencies "in order to chart a five-year plan for the solution of the refugee problem and the integration of refugees into productive life."

In Tel Aviv, the commander of the Israeli Air Force warned Thursday that his country's Arab forces were in for "more surprises" if they underrate the aerial might of the Jewish state.

"Those who think they are through with the Israeli Air Force are in for surprises if they decide to put us to the test," said Maj. Gen. Mordecai Hod.

Bank Error Almost Cost $100,000

CLEVELAND (UPI) — A $100,000 bank error slipped through Mrs. Michael Patrick's hands undetected this week, but it gave a teller the jitters.

Mrs. Patrick stopped at a branch of Central National Bank near her home in suburban Parma Wednesday and bought a $31.17 money order for an insurance payment.

Without looking at the order, she popped it into an evelope and put it in a mail box. When she got home the bank teller who made out the order called her.

"He sounded kind of nervous," she said. "He asked me if I had looked at the money order and I said, no, I had just stuck it in an envelope and mailed it."

She said he told her: "Well, it appears I made a mistake. Instead of $31.17 I made it out for $100,031.17."

The post office found the envelope for the bank before it was mailed to the insurance company.

IN GINGER'S WAKE

A houseboat is washed ashore by heavy waves caused by the remnants of Hurricane Ginger yesterday in Morehead City, N.C. Ginger stalled today in the state's lush eastern farm belt, already having taken a multi-million toll on area crops. Ginger exhausted most of its 90-mile-an-hour wind Thursday after moving inland from Morehead City, then plodded northwest toward Raleigh today, causing many reports of flooding on the coast.

Photos Entered In Riot Case

STANFORD (UPI) — More than 100 photographs were recorded for evidence Thursday at a hearing for H. Bruce Franklin, Stanford University faculty member accused of inciting students to violence.

Photographers said they took the pictures Feb. 10 when the university's computation center was shut down by anti-war demonstrators.

A faculty advisory board hearing the case is to recommend whether Franklin, an avowed Maoist-Marxist should be fired. The final decision is to be made by university president Richard W. Lyman who has suspended the associate professor of English.

Panel Approves Three Buildings

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The city Planning Commission gave its approval for three building projects Thursday, including a skyscraper for lower Market Street.

Other projects approved were for a master plan for the $100 million Pacific Medical Center in the Pacific Heights District and a school at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Judge Throws Out Phone Tax Challenge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Three suits challenging the legality of the 10 per cent telephone "war tax" have been thrown out of court by a federal judge who termed them "almost a fraud on the court."

Plaintiffs in the suits included Roger Kent, former chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and Urban Whitaker, former congressional candidate.

The protestors, who belong to a group called the Northern California Telephone War Tax Protest, claimed that a 10 per cent federal telephone tax was illegal because it was raised to its present rate to support an undeclared war.

Judge Robert H. Schnacke of U. S. District Court ordered the suits dismissed Wednesday, making these observations: "I look upon these actions as almost a fraud on the court. They are contrived; they are fictitious; they are pretended matters."

The judge also said that the protestors had "put together a fictitious type of arrangement that has already required substantial effort on the part of the United States in responding."

He concluded that "If I had the power to impose sanctions in a matter of this sort, I would do so."

The protestors had asked the court to prohibit the Internal Revenue Service from collecting the telephone excise tax from them until a ruling was made on the legality of the tax.

In the meantime, they had placed the tax money into trust funds with instructions the money would go to the government if the tax was declared legal or to the American Friends Service Committee if it was not.

Navy Will Buy 48 Top Fighters

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Navy will buy 48 more swingwing F14 Tomcat fighters from the Grumman Aerospace Corp.

The order was placed Thursday, one day after the Senate repulsed an attempt to block additional funds for the carrier lanes. Opponents contended during Senate debate the F14 can be outperformed by the plane it will replace, the F4 Phantom.

The Navy plans to buy 313 F14s at a total cost of $5.2 billion —$16.7 million per plane.

Car Theft Check

MANILA (UPI)—Civil aviation authorities are planning to install a closed circuit television system around the Manila International Airport parking lot to check an increasing number of car thefts in the area.

Hub Hires Interim Recreation Director

A San Anselmo park and recreation commissioner was hired last night as the city's part-time recreation director.

According to City Administrator Alfred C. Kaeppel, the city council named Commissioner Lawrence B. Gapinski to the $5-per-hour position.

Gapinski, who has been on the park and recreation commission for 17 months, was granted a leave of absence from commission duties so he could accept the position, Kaeppel said.

The new recreation director is employed as a lab administrator with Marin Medical Laboratories in San Rafael. He was appointed to the unpaid commission position in May 1970.

Kaeppel said Gapinski will act as director only until a full-time man is found. Currently, he said, the city is advertising for a director of both parks and recreation.

The position of recreation director was vacated yesterday by Frank L. Quinn who resigned in August after several years of service to the city.

Quinn came under fire during a recent budget hearing by the city council for promising jobs to students without means of funding the positions.

Kaeppel said he expects a full-time director to be hired by the first of the year. Deadline for application is Nov. 18, he said.

The council, which approved the hiring of Gapinski in closed session, also discussed the city employes' lawsuit against the city, he said.

Police officers, firemen and other employes have filed suit alleging the city failed to bargain in good faith during recent salary negotiations.

NYC Statehood Attempt Fails

NEW YORK (UPI)—The city clerk threw out a petition Thursday that would have put on the ballot in November the question of whether New York City should become a state.

City Clerk Herman Katz said although the petition had more than 55,000 signatures only about 35,000 were valid. The petition needed at least 45,000 valid signatures to get the proposal on the ballot.

The petitition, which was filed by a group headed by Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., would have asked the voters to approve the election of a commission to draft a new constitution to make the city a state.

Flood Zone Board Asks New Plan

The Novato flood control zone advisory board, faced with a $54,000 proposal from its consultants, has asked for a new proposal.

The consultants, Royston, Hanamoto, Beck and Abbey, San Francisco landscape architects, submitted a proposal Wednesday for three phases of work at a total cost of $54,000, reported Charles E. Murphy, Marin County flood control engineer.

The three phases were: gathering of information, development of environmental and flood control goals, and development of an alternative system.

Murphy said the board requested a proposal covering the first two phases plus an evaluation of the Army Corps of Engineers' plan to channel Warner Creek with regard to environmental impact.

Directors also pledged district cooperation with the Novato Citizens Creek Committee project to beautify Novato Creek in the area of the Novato downtown center.

Tentative Approval For Smaller Lots On Ridge

The Sausalito Planning Commission has given tentative approval to a request to reduce lot sizes on 160 acres of Wolfback Ridge, postponing formal action on the matter until its Oct. 6 meeting, planning director H. Eric Borgwardt reported.

Although the action, taken at an adjourned meeting Wednesday, would reduce lot sizes from 20,000 to 8,000 square feet, he said the planners specified that population density in the area must not exceed that which would be permitted if the larger lot size remained in effect.

In August planners denied the request for the change, which came from landowner Edward R. Fitzsimmons, but apparently changed their minds after the Sausalito City Council referred the matter back to the commission.

As soon as final action is taken, Borgwardt said the matter will again be turned over to the council, which ultimately will make the decision.

In other action, the commission tabled until its Oct. 20 meeting consideration of a development plan for the Sausalito Yacht Harbor. The planning director said the delay was designed to give architect Roland Mays time to prepare revised drawings of the plan, incorporating some new elements, including a hotel-boatel near Johnson and Humboldt streets.

The planners also completed review of regulations governing use of the central waterfront and resident commercial zones, two new zones in Sausalito. The proposed regulations will now be forwarded to the council, he said.

Bay Area Added To List On High Unemployment

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Raising the number to the highest level in a decade, the Labor Department added the San Francisco-Oakland and Gary-Hammond-East Chicago, Ind., areas Thursday to its list of major cities with "substantial unemployment."

The department also announced that it added six areas to its list of smaller cities experiencing that much joblessness, but at the same time removed four from it.

It said it made these changes based on unemployment figures mainly collected in mid-July. That was well before President Nixon's new economic program to stimulate more jobs and control inflation.

But nationwide, unemployment totaled 5.8 per cent of the work force in July and it had climbed to 6.1 per cent in September.

A city qualifies to go on the "substantial-unemployment" list when joblessness among its workers tops 6 per cent.

A business in an area included on the "substantial unemployment" lists receives a slight preference over companies in non-listed areas in bidding for federal contracts.

The highest number of major cities ever on the list was 101 in March and April of 1961. The two additions to the list Thursday raised the current total to 64, the highest since October of 1961 when 68 were listed.

Added to the list of smaller cities with "substantial unemployment" were Richmond, Ind.; Ann Arbor and South Haven, Mich.; Las Vegas, Nev.; Westerly, R.I.; and, Randolph, Utah.

Dropped from that list were Vernon, Ala.; Columbia, Ky.; Franklin-Tilton, N.H.; and, Rutledge, Tenn. This left 776 smaller cities on the list.

As for the major cities, the Labor Department said the increase in joblessness in San Francisco-Oakland was part to the dock strike.

In the Gary-Hammond Chicago area, the depar said steel payrolls wer sharply in recent month cause buyers had stoc steel in anticipation of a which never came.

Tortoises Being Moved From Danger Of New Road

MOJAVE (UPI)—The blundering, lumbering tortoise, an endangered species with prehistoric beginnings, is taking a beating from civilization along a new stretch of four-lane California Highway 58.

Today, state highway officials will carry out the second phase of an experiment to relocate a number of tortoises 60 miles north to a serene region where speeding traffic can't flatten them.

"Tortoises don't adapt very well, and although they've been around here for a few thousand years, we've got to put a highway through one of their areas," said a state highway official.

The tortoises that can be scooped up will be trucked to a huge federal wildlife management area at the China Lake Naval Weapons Test Center and a few will be wired with tiny radio transmitters.

A special "tortoise tracker" loop antenna will follow the plodding beasts to determine if the transplantation from their original habitat succeeded or if by some call they begin to migrate back.

"The big question is whether these friendly little animals will winter here, hibernate and remain on the wildlife management area," said the highway official.

Teams of Boy Scouts, state Fish and Game agents and even Navy personnel from China Lake will join the desert hunt through the mesquite and brush along the under-construction highway.

"We're trying to get about a dozen so they won't be bothered by civilization," said one highway official. People shoot them, make pets of them and run them over."

Skunk Train Outing Set By Parks Unit

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department will begin a series of family-style outings with a trip by bus and skunk train from San Rafael to Fort Bragg and Willits on Oct. 16.

Reservations must be ma with the department office the San Rafael City Hall befo 5 p.m. Oct. 8. Information available by calling the offi according to Albert J. Snyd Jr., parks and recreation rector.

Big Lettuce Grower Faces Boycott Again

SALINAS (UPI) —A boycott against the nation's largest lettuce producer may be resumed soon, an organizer for the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee said yesterday.

About 1,000 farm workers and their supporters held a demonstration march Wednesday to "show there is still a union here and we want a contract," according to Jan Peterson, a UFWOC organizer.

"If we don't get contracts, I guess we will have to go back to the boycott," Miss Peterson said.

A nationwide boycott sponsored by the farm workers' union against Bud Antle lettuce farms was suspended last spring when talks began between various parties in an effort to settle a union jurisdictional question.

The Antle firm's workers are under a long-standing Teamsters Union contract. The company refused to grant jurisdiction to UFWOC following agreement by UFWOC with other major lettuce growers.

The farm workers suspended their nationwide boycott efforts against Antle when high level talks began between AFL-CIO officials and Teamsters Union leaders in an effort to work out a settlement of the jurisdictional question.

Apparently the talks have gone slowly and Miss Peterson said the farm workers were tired of waiting.

The demonstrators Wednesday rallied in front of employer offices, shouting "boycott," and "We want contracts."

A spokesman said representative would be sent from Salinas soon to resume boycott operations in major cities.

Beggers' Sideline

KARACHI, Pakistan (UPI)— Three beggars arrested by police turned out to be landlords whose properties in one of Karachi's wealthier residential areas were reported by an official to "fetch a handsome monthly income" for them.

Move To Combat Oil Spills Gains In Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Resolutions urging strong measures to combat oil spills, possibly including state-level strike forces, were approved today by a Senate committee.

The Assembly measures, approved on a voice vote by the Governmental Organization Committee, were the outgrowth of recent oil spills in San Francisco Bay and Southern California.

The resolutions urged that local governments make contingency plans to fight oil spills, provisions be made for citizen volunteer efforts and feasibility of using high-speed strike forces to contain spills be studied.

The state Water Resources Board was also asked to gather all data in the state regarding oil spillage.

The resolutions, all proposed by members of the Assembly Environmental Quality Committee, were sent to the Senate Finance Committee.

Standard Fined $1,000 For Role In July Oil Spill

RICHMOND, Calif. (UPI) — Standard Oil Company was fined $1,000 Thursday on charges of being responsible for a 30,000-gallon oil spill last July 28.

The company had pleaded no contest.

Municipal Judge Charles H. Baldwin imposed the maximum fine and put the company on two years probation.

Standard Oil attorney Anthony Brown objected to terms of the probation which require the company "at the earliest practical time" to institute procedures which would prevent oil spills.

The objection was that Standard was already working under a schedule for operation improvements set up with the Coast Guard. The attorney said the local county probation action might conflict with this schedule.

"Probation officials are not qualified in these matters," Brown said.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Normandie On The Miracle Mile Blends Right In With Scenery

Attractive as it is in its stucco styling, it blends in with the Miracle Mile scenery and unless you were looking for a restaurant, or this restaurant in particular, you might pass it by without notice.

This is the Normandie at 2214 Fourth Street, San Rafael, petite French dining house now in business almost two years, during which time perhaps it has become almost as well-known outside the county as it has within.

Its menu ranges through some 16 entrees, most of which are entirely familiar items to everyone when they are stripped of their French nomenclature and given English subtitles. What cannot be translated into English is the French subtlety in flavoring. Take away the sauce and what you have left is a piece of fish or meat that may be excellent quality indeed and well cooked but is completely unsatisfying to a discriminating palate.

If you are a devotee of French cooking, you will enjoy the Normandie. If you are not, it may not impress you. Since it is not a showcase restaurant you don't go there to be seen.

High in favor among its hors d'oeuvre dishes is one under the name of "Palourdes Maison." Subtitle: Clams chef's style.

If you like escargots, you should enjoy this. And if you haven't yet worked up to the point of trying escargots, this could be the dish that breaks down your resistance. Clams are served on the half shell with a butter and garlic sauce — the same sauce that goes with escargots. It's proof again that taking away the sauce leaves something less enjoyable for its own sake alone.

I'd suggest a reservation on weekends at the Normandie. Sometimes the tables get crowded. During the middle of the week you shouldn't have too much trouble — the same as in most Marin restaurants. Closed Tuesdays.

REDWOOD RESTAURANT in Mill Valley is now open for lunches from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Closing day is Thursday.

Dinners are served throughout the week, except Thursdays, from 5 to 10 p.m.

Redwood has gotten well deserved credit for its Mexican dishes — but not enough has been said about its South American offerings, of which it has several — two from Brazil (a beef stew and squash dish called "carbonada" and shrimp thermidor) and a kind of meat pie or turnover called "Empanada" from Argentina.

Owners Bob Dean, Joeen Arnone and Leon Alvey also have added a new Brazilian dessert called "Quindins," a sort of South American version of flan.

Thanks to some unsolicited publicity from across the bay, these imaginative restaurateurs have been enjoying a flourishing business from out-of-town customers recently.

ADOLPH MOTTA, active partner in Bill and Adolph's West End Villa, San Rafael, has come in recently to make a few restaurant changes and one of them is a new lunch menu. Among other things it features a seafood omelet, a prime rib sandwich and steak.

Look for more changes soon — next in the dinner menu.

THE NEXT TIME you're out for breakfast and don't want a meal that's too filling, you might try apple pie. Order it with sausage — New England style.

Hospitality restaurant magazine carries the idea further and suggests for breakfast ideas: Ham and apple pie, chicken chiffon pie and also egg and potato pie. I don't know any Marin restaurant that specializes in the latter dishes, so you'll probably have to experiment with them at home.

SHAKEY'S PIZZA north of San Rafael is now featuring "chick and chips" — chicken pieces and "mojos," which are potatoes, sliced breaded and deepfried under pressure with chicken. The chicken, by the way, is marinated 24 hours with Shakey's own sauce.

There's a special on this combination, together with a pizza and salad, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays — all you can eat for $1.49 plus tax.

Now playing Friday and Saturday nights at Shakey's are Bo Bryant and Dick Fagerstrom on banjo and Jim Brennan on tuba.

A SURE SIGN that the drinking of wine with meals is gaining favor — California table wine shipments for the first six months of this year were up 28 per cent over the first half of last year. Table wines are the biggest seller of all wines.

Sparkling wines didn't do too bad either, gaining 19.8 per cent. Dessert wines (the musky drinkers are in this class) which used to be so popular are just holding their own against last year.

Incidentally, a pleasing and comparatively recent table wine in restaurants (at least, I haven't noticed it until recently) is Robert Mondavi's Fume Blanc. Quite dry, rather delicate.

THE MUSTARD SEED RESTAURANT, which closed about a year ago in the Strawberry Town and Country Village, has reopened again at Bermuda Palms, 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rfael.

Michael Peri and his associates are serving dinner from 5 to 9 p.m. and there is entertainment nightly.

JOHN STEWART is the featured entertainer tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday at the Lion's Share in San Anselmo. Also on the bill with him Sunday are Charlie Daniel and Jerry Corbitt.

AMERICANS LIKE THEIR WHISKY — many preferring the Scotch and Canadian blends. But it is still not known whether they will go for the new American "light whisky," which will not be permitted to enter the market until July 1 of next year.

At that time distillers will be permitted to sell it after four years of aging. This is the result of a 1969 change in regulations governing the making of distilled spirits which was calculated to compete with the lighter Scotch and Canadian blends.

Meanwhile, three major distillers are already selling in the San Rafael area and other key markets, products which the liquor industry believes have the taste characteristic of the coming American light whiskey.

The first to market such a product was Brown-Forman Distillers Corp. which filtered out the color from whisky to make it "white," with little taste or aroma. Four Roses blended whisky was recently changed in an attempt to produce a lighter taste. And now Barton Brands of Chicago is releasing a high-proof whisky said to have some of the light characteristics.

High or low, the "proof" still remains to be seen, next summer.

DON'T FORGET the big Columbus Day dinner to be held at Nero's Room, Nave Lanes, Ignacio on Monday night, Oct. 4.

Dinner times are 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. Make reservations. Dinner price is $3.75, which includes 35 different Italian dishes. And there will be wine and music.

Farming Loss Due To Strike At $100 Million

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California farmers already have suffered losses estimated at $100 million as a result of the 92-day old West Coast dock strike, an official of the Council of California Growers said today.

In a prepared statement, executive vice president O.W. Fillerup said additional losses are "mounting daily" and he cited state figures showing the tieup has cost the economy of California $1.5 billion.

He said rice growers in the state have had to pay nearly $1 million in extra freight costs to move shipments by rail to Canadian and Gulf Coast ports, while another $1 million was lost when Okinawa buyers cancelled an order which they filled from other suppliers.

Language School Sets Public Picnic

The German Language School of Marin will hold its fourth annual public picnic from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday in Gerstle Park, San Rafael. Games will be scheduled for children.

Proceeds from food sales will help support classes for students ranging from 4 years old through adult, held each Saturday morning at Santa Venetia School, according to Joseph F. Augustin, president of the nonprofit language school.

House Approves A New Antipoverty Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House has approved a new antipoverty bill that would reform the program of free legal services for the poor and create a multi-billion dollar plan of child care designed to help youngsters of working mothers.

The measure, approved Thursday on a 251-115 roll call vote, is similar to a Senate-passed bill, but differences will have to be worked out in a conference of House-Senate members.

The House bill would extend Office of Economic Opportunicty antipoverty programs for two years, until June 30, 1973, with a total two-year authorization of $5 billion, the same figure as in the Senate-passed measure.

OEO's Legal Services program, under fire from mayors and governors who have been brought into court by project attorneys representing minority groups, would be transferred to a private corporation run by a 17-member board of directors.

President Nixon, who favors the corporation setup but wants power to pick his own people for the board, compromised with the House bill which restricts his appointments to the board.

Shipstad Named In Dissolution

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — Roy L. Shipstad, co-owner of the internationally known Shipstad and Johnson Ice Follies, has been named in a divorce suit by his wife of 15 years.

The dissolution of marriage petition was filed Thursday in San Mateo County Superior Court. The Shipstads live in nearby Atherton.

Eat lupper at Dominic's.
For fashionable Marinites, Sunday brunch on Dominic's colorful, umbrella-shaded patio has become a tradition. But it has also become a problem. After all, when they feel like eating again, it's too early for supper, and too late for lunch. Thus, lupper. This meal, to be enjoyed between three to four-thirty in the afternoon, is not only a fine solution to the above problem, but, in all likelihood, the beginning of a new Bay Area tradition. And after lupper, what then? Why, dinkfast, of course.

Dinkfast, sir?
Yes. A martini, and a bowl of oatmeal.

The Underlining Issue — Celibacy

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The question of priestly celibacy cast a shadow over the Third World Synod of Roman Catholic Bishops today —despite the fact everybody involved has avoided using the word.

Pope Paul VI did not mention celibacy directly when he addressed 210 delegates Thursday during the solemn opening ceremony in the Sistine Chapel. Nor did an Italian bishop when he delivered a major, 85-minute report on the state of the church.

The word was not even likely to come up during today's discussions by the cardinals, bishops and other churchmen meeting in the new audience hall, but behind-the-scenes discussions revolved around the 700-year-old celibacy law that many Roman Catholics believe is chiefly responsible for sharp drops in the number of priests.

The synod can make recommendations to the Pope, but the pontiff is supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic church and only he can decree changes.

The Pope made it clear in earlier speeches that he would not welcome public airing of the issue, although he did indicate he was willing to permit married men to become priests in areas of the world where priests are desperately needed.

Many liberal churchmen want the Pope to drop the ban on married priests altogether and their campaign threatened to divert attention from the synod's discussion of other clerical crises.

The Pope warned delegates Thursday to reject or ignore outside pressures which could disturb their work or even upset its freedom to debate various aspects of the priesthood.

The 74-year-old pontiff said delegates faced dangerous pressures —"The pressures of opinions which are in doubtful conformity with the teachings of the faith, the pressure of tendencies which seem unconcerned with traditions which are authoritative and which now form part of the authentic vocation of the church ..."

Some Vatican sources said he was referring indirectly to the furore over celibacy.

Italian Bishop Enrico Bartoletti later said the 94 national bishops conferences around the world reported —without exception—that celibacy was a problem troubling priests.

Bartoletti, who delivered the opening state of the church address, obviously referred to celibacy when he denounced newepapers, radio and television for stirring up "scandal and disturbance" by publicizing the problems of the priesthood.

These problems are scheduled to take up about two weeks of the synod. Then delegates will turn to the second theme of the synod, justice in the world, for two more weeks.

The priesthood is the more dramatic topic, but justice is likely, Vatican sources said, to stir heated debate on whether the church should become more involved in battles to denounce or combat injustice.

Annual Exhibit To Open Oct. 10

The Marin Society of Artists's 43rd annual exhibit of arts and crafts will open Oct. 10 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The show will be open daily from 1 to 4 p.m. through Oct. 31.

Co-chairmen of the show, Pat J. Mayer and Nelcy Terics, said that $525 in merit awards will be presented. Jurors will be Trude Guermonprez, David Simpson, Ronald Cooper, Fred Bauer, Douglas McClellan and Eric Oback.

A preview reception for members, patrons and their friends will be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 9 in the gallery.

Veritities Destroyed By Misleading Labels

A writer for United Press International fell into a common trap the other day. Telling of plans by Street and Smith Publications to re-issue the Frank Merriwell series as paperbacks, he described Merriwell as a hero "whose deeds of derring-do helped shape the American ethic of fair play."

The trap into which the writer fell is one set by callous cynics who denigrate all values by the subtle method of giving them misleading labels.

"The American ethic of fair play," of course, is neither an American ethic nor did it start with Merriwell. It was taught to the youth of Rome and Greece before the time of Christ. It is one of the verities, and is embodied in the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

NO VERITIES EXIST, however, for the callous cynics, nor for the mis-educated fools who unthinkingly parrot their cynicisms. Writing today is full of examples.

Devotion to mother has become "momism" — an American weakness, according to these same denigrators. Patriotism has become "flag waving." Home, family, an honest day's work for an honest day's pay — all are sneered at as "middle-class values." And the great middle class itself has become "the bourgeoisie" in 1970s' imitation of Rousseau and the French Revolution.

The superficiality of the self-styled intellectuals who preach this sort of nihilism is laid bare when they refer — as they often do — to codes extending back at least to Old Testament times as "the Puritan ethic."

All forms of competition are sneered at by these pseudo-intelligentsia — and as a consequence, all forms of excellence. The results are to be seen in their "poetry" without poetic value and their "art" which has neither form nor substance.

The cynicism extends to teachers to whom a union contract is more important than teaching, to ministers of the Gospel who privately do not believe in a Supreme Being, or who use the pulpit to proclaim that "God is dead."

The lack of values implicit in this negativism is transmitted to youth who see nothing wrong in "ripping off" another person's property or in burning or killing as "gestures of protest."

ON THE ONE HAND, the "educated" sneer at the student who seeks after knowledge — instead of being content with mere slogans and prejudices — as a "conformist." On the other hand, the uneducated denigrate upholders of the law as "pigs."

Both are equally destructive of the values upon which civilization is built. And when all ideals are labeled false, all verities discarded, the educated has placed himself on the same low level as the most ignorant and degraded.

Let's forgive the UPI writer — in the spirit of fair play. After all, the trap was well laid.

Law Needed To Limit Late Payment Penalties

By MARY K. SHELL

SACRAMENTO (Capitol) — There oughta be a law against excessive penalty charges for late payments on home loans.

At least that's what you readers have said — most plainly — in response to our recent invitation to send in ideas on needed legislation.

A law to limit charges would win a popularity contest hands down with you readers. The request for this type of legislation was mentioned more than any other in letters we have received.

IN OUR COLUMN suggesting some kind of legal ceiling on these penalties, we referred to a practice of some savings and loan companies charging homeowners as much as 10 per cent of the amount due when payments are late.

We find that 10 per cent is the bottom of the scale of these "gravy" payments.

One reader from San Francisco would be happy to see the limit set at 10 per cent. His savings and loan company charges twice that amount for late payments.

Another reader in San Francisco writes that the savings and loan company that carries the mortgage on her home charges a 15 per cent penalty and if property taxes to the city and county are not made on time the "savings and loan returns the monthly mortgage payment until proof is supplied that the taxes have been paid."

When the loan company returns the payment, incidentally, it also slaps on its 15 per cent late charge.

Her commentary on the practice: "This has all the earmarks of a con game that should, in fact, be handled by the bunco squad of the police force."

ACCORDING TO a spokesman from the legal division of the state real estate commissioner's office, mortgage companies are the worst offenders and savings and loan companies are next in assessing these excessive late charges.

He reported his office instituted actions against seven mortgage comapnies in the Los Angeles area last year. Some companies were charging as much as $5 a day penalty on a $40 late payment.

These firms would not notify the homeowner that a portion of his payment was going to cover late charges, so each subsequent payment would also be late. Instead of lowering the amount owed, some homeowners ended deeper into debt, in spite of regular monthly payments.

THE LATE PENALTIES charged by savings and loan companies seem to range from 10 to 25 per cent (and in some instances higher). A check with several banks indicates their penalty is from 1 to 2 per cent. It was also learned that banks make it a point to notify borrowers when a payment is late and a penalty is not added if the amount due is paid within 15 days of the due date.

Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles, tried to do something about excessive home loan penalties this year. He introduced AB 959, which would have set a 10 per cent or $20 maximum limit.

The bill didn't get very far. In fact, it didn't even make it through one hearing. On May 12, it was killed by the Assembly Finance and Insurance Committee.

Debate On Mid-East Situation Proposed

We have read with enthusiasm both the original article in your Sept. 22 issue on Nayef S. Jaber and Mahmoud M. Shaheen, two students here at the College of Marin, and the reply in this column Sept. 28 from Abdul Alim El-Abayad of the Arab League Office. Clearly, the situation in the Middle East is one which requires the attention of every American citizen. In order, however, to facilitate the public airing of the various views which they hold, we propose that they agree to a public debate in the College of Marin's Fine Arts Theater. We have several dates that are open for such an enriching experience and we feel that it is in the interest of all Marin County residents that these views be discussed and open to public questioning. We sincerely hope that they will agree.

Telethon Combats Muscular Dystrophy

On behalf of our local chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, I want to express our deep gratitude to the concerned individuals — who responded so generously and wholeheartedly to Jerry Lewis' Labor Day Weekend Telethon for the benefit of our association. Of the fabulous final total of $8,025,387 in contributions and pledges raised on the nationwide telethon network of approximately 120 public-spirited TV stations, we're extremely proud that KNTV and KBHK-TV made considerable sacrifices to relay the show to viewers here. Speaking for the MD patients we serve and for the research scientists striving to find a cure for dystrophy and related crippling disorders, all I can say is "thank you!"

Dog Controllers Not Dog Haters

This is being written in connection with the article of Sept. 22 titled "Is Belvedere Going to the Dogs?"

The article calls attention to a petition presented at the meeting of the Belvedere City Council with 40 signatures, suggesting that the city revoke the existing leash law. Mayor Price pointed out that the city has no leash law. The article does not mention the fact that within the space of a very short time 102 residents had consented to urge rigid enforcement of existing dog controls.

I would like to call further attention to the lead sentence in the article which stated "Belvedere dog lovers and haters barked out their complaints last night about the city's cavorting canines in a two hour public hearing on dog control." A large percentage of the 102 persons who urged continuance of existing controls is comprised of persons who own dogs, but who take care of their dogs and do not permit them to become nuisances to others.

There are very few persons who dislike dogs, but there are many of us who dislike the permissiveness of the owners.

Another fact brought out at this meeting was that existing dog control laws are ambiguous and that they should be more clearly spelled out.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Protection Of Environment Picks Up Political Muscle

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration has been making some tough, pro-environment decisions in California in recent weeks, and an observer would not be cynical if he suspected the reason was more politics than ecology.

For example, take the decision to veto a permit for the proposed Southern Crossing bridge across San Francisco Bay. There was solid environmental justification for a decision at this time, yet the White House easily could have deferred action until after the scheduled June, 1972, referendum on the bridge proposal had been held. So why the bold move now?

For one thing, most local governmental bodies were on record opposing the bridge, and "returning power to the people" is a Nixon theme struggling to emerge. Also, a poll in the Bay Area last June found that the people were opposed to the bridge by a persuasive four-to-one margin. Furthermore, the referendum will be on the same ballot as presidential candidates in the primary election.

These are the facts, and many observers of the governmental process draw a political conclusion from them. Political pressure, after all, has become the weapon of the environmentalists. Our system of government is wholly political.

LOOK AT ANOTHER example. Since the January, 1969, blowout of an oil drilling platform in the Santa Barbara Channel, the continuing drilling has been a source of much political friction. Many candidates have made it a key issue. It has become to many a symbol of the sharpening confrontation among ecology, economics and politics.

Still, it was startling when Interior Secretary Morton three weeks ago overruled his advisers and, with the clearance of the White House, denied permits for two more drilling platforms. This does not banish drilling from the channel, but it does set a precedent for tough decisions that go against powerful special interests.

And the Environmental Protection Agency reversed its April decision when it ruled a few weeks ago that California may require that all, not just some, new cars sold in the state after January, 1973, meet exhaust emission pollution standards. It was another White House move that pleasantly surprised its ecologically oriented critics.

GOV. RONALD REAGAN appears to have picked up some signals from the White House. When he was secretly advised by the White House last February that the Southern Crossing proposal was in trouble, the governor began saying he was reconsidering his previous firm support for the bridge. And when the Simpson Timber Co. routinely received in June a state permit to clear-cut 145,796 acres of redwood trees, Reagan reacted like a charter member of the Sierra Club. The timber company gave up the permit.

One of the latest public opinion polls that help to understand how the California body politic responds to issues was taken this summer by Rep. Victor V. Veysey, a first-term Republican congressman representing Riverside and Imperial counties. This district, with its growing urban problems, heavy agricultural economy, Democratic registration edge moderate-to-conservative philosophy often is considered a political model of the state.

Veysey used unloaded questions on a wide range of issues. He also asked his constituents to rank national and local problems in the order of concern.

The fact that the environment was the top local problem, outranking law and order by better than two to one, is not lost on the White House, which called Veysey for more details. Nor is the poll's message lost on Governor Reagan, Veysey and any other citizen who wants to wield some political muscle.

Curious Response By Russia To Britain's Expulsion Of Spies

WASHINGTON — The curious response of the Russian government to Britain's expulsion of 105 Russian spies is amazing, bordering on the inexplicable.

The Soviet Union didn't deny the British accusation; it just rejected the protest.

The Russians didn't claim their spies were not operating in Britain; they only claimed that such Russian espionage activities weren't hurting Britain.

The Soviet Union never came near to admitting that massive Russian spying increases East-West tensions in Europe; instead it blandly contended that it was Britain's harassing of the Russian agents in Britain which created bad relations.

The Soviet Union made no offer to contain in the least way the activities of its operatives in Britain; instead it contended that it would be unfriendly if Britain didn't let them operate freely.

ALONG WITH ALL THIS, the Soviet Foreign Office also suggested:

That the British should have presented their complaints quietly so that they could be dealt with quietly. They did.

That the British shouldn't have delayed so long in communicating with Moscow on this matter. They didn't delay. Moscow ignored their letters for 12 months.

Finally, the Russians baldly argued that the British can have no other motive than to undermine detente and postpone the proposed East-West European security conference.

When Stalin tried to erase the independence of Yugoslavia, it was Tito who was branded the evil culprit because he didn't want Yugoslavia to become a Russian satellite.

When the Soviet Union was preparing to invade Czechoslovakia to bring down the Czech government, Moscow assured the world that it was the Czechs who were the bad guys.

When a Communist regime commits aggression, it is always the country which resists aggression which is the warmonger.

Thus it appears to be just more of the same for the Kremlin to assert that massive Soviet espionage does not imperil detente, but rather it is Britain's inconsiderate resistance to such espionage which messes up detente.

THIS SEEMS TO ME to explain Moscow's "you-did-it" response to Britain's expulsion of 105 Russian agents.

But a more perplexing puzzle remains: Why? Why has the Soviet Union simultaneously infiltrated such a huge, pervasive spy network in Britain at the very moment it appears to be genuinely interested in reducing the cold war in Europe?

Is the KGB, the Russian secret police, independent of the foreign office and the Kremlin — and out of control?

Does Moscow believe it can reduce tensions and increase them at the same time?

Is easing East-West tensions secondary in Russian policy and increasing espionage primary?

I AM NOT SUGGESTING that the Soviet Union is the only great power which uses diplomatic cover for intelligence gathering. But when the Soviet embassy and trade missions are found manned by such a high percentage of spies, it is only prudent for Britain to call a halt.

Real detente can be realized only by removing the causes of tension.

Moscow can't have it both ways — preach detente and practice massive cold war espionage.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Nominee Shirley Chisholm? She Has The Attributes

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

WASHINGTON — Shirley Chisholm for President?

It makes at least as much sense as any other candidacy based on all the ethnic formulae that have been used for ticket-making in the past. She would be a one-woman balanced ticket.

She is black. So are 11 per cent of her fellow Americans. She is Protestant. So are most American citizens. She is a woman. So are 53 per cent of America's registered voters.

What other contender for the Democratic presidential nomination can make all three of those statements? Because the answer is none, the New York congresswoman's well-publicized toying with the idea of running in four or more presidential primaries next year has to be taken seriously— at least for the time being.

She is not going to be nominated for President, but she can provoke a great deal of thought by those who have a genuine chance at the nomination, and particularly among other black politicians.

THE CONDITIONER, "for the time being," is necessary because Mrs. Chisholm, as is her habit, is independently approaching her decision on running. While an all-star collection of other black politicians was meeting in Illinois last week end to talk about holding the black vote together next year, she was off in Massachusetts talking about her own plans in terms strong enough to cause at least one reporter to believe she was formally announcing.

When the Chicago conference was over, its participants styled themselves the National Assembly for a Black Political Strategy, and said they were going to have more meetings as the campaign develops. What they did in their week-end sessions was classified secret. But one of the things that kept cropping up was what to do about Shirley Chisholm.

Her intention, she says, is to run in the Florida, North Carolina, Wisconsin and California primaries — assuming her support comes together, in both organization and money. And by being even that vaguely specific at this early date, she is anticipating any other black candidate who may enter the competition with the backing of the new NABPS mentioned above or of the Black Congressional Caucus of which she is a conspicuous member.

She has to be reckoned with. If she goes in first, any black candidate who follows her into those selected primaries can be accused of spreading the vote there. That would apply even if he comes from the organization whose stated reason for being is to keep the black vote solid in order to arrive at the Miami Beach Democratic convention in a strong bargaining position on both platform and candidates.

THE STATES SHE HAS chosen as targets, in addition to her home state of New York, vary drastically in their voter makeup. Statistics say she would have her best chance in Florida, where every Democrat even suspected of presidential ambition already is lining up support — and therefore where the vote will be split the most ways.

With a dozen other candidates on the primary ballot, anyone who could draw a nearly solid black response might conceivably win there, although black registration is only about an eighth of white registration in the state.

In North Carolina, that proportion is higher — almost a fifth of white registration. But in Wisconsin it is tiny, and in California not much greater.

Mrs. Chisholm insists on giving priority to the fact that she is a woman rather than a black, however. She would have enthusiastic backing from Women's Lib, and that would cut across racial lines. In addition, she is a fluent Spanish-speaker, which could be important in the Mexican-American wards of California. She also sits well with the newly registered college students and antiwar groups.

THEN THERE'S the matter of experience. Very few people outside Brooklyn ever heard about the lady from Bedford-Stuyvesant before she became the first bladk woman elected to Congress in 1968. But she had served a term in the state legislature before that. Compare that to Mr. Agnew's record before Mr. Nixon tapped him as his running mate.

All of which says that she is not to be taken so lightly as the abstract idea of a black woman running for President would indicate. Unless her brothers interested in racial solidarity next year make a public move soon, it may be the outspoken Mrs. Chisholm who does the talking for them at Miami — indeed, who takes the lead in trying to make Edmund Muskie eat his words about a black candidate for the vice presidency.

Private School At Manzanita Would Partly Fulfill Purpose

Last year Manzanita School in Marin City was filled with children and all the colorful trapping of kindergarten classes. This year it stands empty and unused, since the Sausalito School District board has decided not to use the facility for classes, having moved all pupils to Bayside and Martin Luther King schools.

In recent weeks, the Marin City Learning Center, a private school started by a group of Marin City parents, asked permission to conduct its classes at Manzanita. Currently the school and its 50 pupils are located in temporary quarters in the Village Baptist Church in Marin City.

Predictably, the Sausalito school board has turned down the learning center's request "unequivocably." One trustee, Robert A. Thompson, said he opposed use of Manzanita by the learning center because the private school was "de facto segregated," since most of its students are black. Supporters of the new school say white students are welcome and that some do attend. They also note that the center staff is integrated.

ACTUALLY, THE REASONS for the board's denial are probably much more basic than social concern about de facto segregation. For quite a while it has been fairly obvious to everyone who attends school board meetings that the majority of the board has no love for the people who started (and are actively involved) in the learning center.

Most of these persons have been frequent critics of the school district and a school board (particularly the Sausalito board) is not inclined to look favorably on its critics or do them any favors.

In addition, the learning center has taken pupils away from the district, which can ill afford to lose any pupils in the face of its continued decline in enrollment, and that is bound to make trustees somewhat disgruntled.

Now the board is talking about declaring the Manzanita property surplus and leasingor selling it. The district has even offered it to the county as a sheriff's substation, but was turned down because such a station is already planned for construction in Marin City.

WHEN THE Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency gave the Sausalito School District the land on which Manzanita sits (and other property in Marin City), the purpose of the grant was for education. The district has promised to build an elementary school in Marin City in exchange for the land, but that school was never built.

Because of the terms of the land grant, it does not seem right that Manzanita be used for any purpose other than education. To lease it as business or office space would be in opposition to the spirit of the agreement between the district and the authority and redevelopment agency.

First Review Held On Countywide Plan

Will Marin's proposed countywide general plan assure clean industries and tourism, a housing mix for all economic levels, and preservation of open areas and environment?

These were some of the questions asked last night by a gathering of about 70 persons at the first of a series of hearings on the preliminary countywide general plan. Sponsored by Marin's City-County Planning Council, the meeting was held at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. auditorium in San Rafael, with Larkspur Councilman Benton A. Sifford as chairman.

The general concepts of the countywide general plan were outlined by County Planning Director Werner Von Gundell and his aides, Sol Silver, Marjorie Macris, and Robert Harrison.

If growth were allowed to continue under existing master plans of various communities, Marin would end up with a population of 750,000, requiring a highway with 18 lanes, in addition to a well-designed transit system, said Von Gundell.

In order to forestall this type of congestion, the preliminary countywide plan seeks to limit growth to 120,000 in the next 20 years, or a total population of 330,000 by 1990.

Development would be concentrated in the eastern urban corridor along Highway 101. Civic Center-Northgate area will be the center of activity. Other major urban centers will be Novato and Larkspur-Corte Madera. Central Marin would be kept relatively rural and open.

Olema Valley and the slopes to the east of Tomales Bay would have resort-commercial development.

The shoreline along Tomales Bay and Bolinas Lagoon would be developed carefully and guarded with the same care that the Bay Conservation and Development Commission protects the bay shoreline.

Carol Staley, representing the League of Women Voters of Central Marin, said her group endorses the city-centered concept and preservation of rural areas. She asked for a variety of transportation facilities, including bicycle paths, and for a balance between land use and necessary services such as schools, water, sanitation and transportation.

Here are some of the other comments and questions posed by other individuals, and replies by county planners:

Question (submitted in writing): Is it realistic to expect high quality commercial and clean industry in view of high taxes, high land cost, and lack of moderate cost housing? Won't Marin continue to be a bedroom community for the affluent?

Von Gundell: Large industries are unlikely; just industrial parks with offices and service type industry. The general plan and the housing policy attempts to generate a housing mix, but if market conditions control development, Marin will continue to be the bedroom community for the affluent.

Question: How can the county prevent agricultural land from being developed?

Von Gundell: By zoning which would limit development to one home in three acres or one home in 20 to 30 acres.

Charles Bruce, Larkspur author: The county needs a model building ordinance that requires each developer to provide a minimum amount of open space. The plan should break up existing segregation in Marin City and disperse the blacks elsewhere in the county.

Communal living should be recognized as an existing fact, and more than one family allowed to live in single family homes, said Bruce.

Von Gundell: The county's housing policy makes an attempt to provide a housing mix and break up segregation. The requirement for open space dedication by developers and other details are matters that a broad general plan cannot cover.

Question: Even if a certain percentage of new housing must be moderate cost units, what assurance is there that they will stay moderate cost after the first owner moves out?

Von Gundell: In public housing, conditions can be attached. In other housing, the cost of the housing may be high, but financing can be subsidized to help low income families obtain such housing. Or a nonprofit group can purchase the housing and subsidize rents.

Chairman Sifford announced that the next public hearing on the countywide general plan will be at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 at Tamalpais High School, rooms 123 and 124.

Firefighting Aircraft Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Air Force is testing huge C-130 cargo-carrying aircraft for possible use in fighting fires from the air, Rep. Barry Goldwater, R-Calif., reported today.

Goldwater said he had been advised Air National Guard aircraft based at the Van Nuys, Calif., Airport were being used for the tests at Edwards Air Force Base.

Each aircraft is equipped with five 500-gallon tanks carrying fire-retarding chemicals under gas pressure to provide for quicker release of the retardants when the aircraft passes over the fire.

Panel Backs Bill Allowing Road Closing

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill enabling smaller cities to close streets clogged with tourist traffic cleared the Assembly Transportation Committee yesterday.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, now goes to the lower house floor.

The legislation (SB 1355) was sought by the City of Sausalito, which has discussed plans to close the community's southern entrance during peak periods, requiring visitors to enter through northern Sausalito, park and take a shuttle bus to the downtown area.

Only city residents and emergency vehicles would be allowed to use the closed streets.

The committee vote on the bill was 9-1. Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, lone dissenter, was against restriction of public traffic.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Town And Country Club Once Available At Bargain

I thought you might be interested in this yarn. During the seven years I was secretary-manager of Marvelous Marin, Inc., one of my jobs was to help groups, who were planning to spend a day or so in the county, to program their events.

One that always gave me a lot of satisfaction and pleasure was the senior day of the graduating class of the University of California at Berkeley. More than half would spend the day at the Marin Town and Country Club, swimming, playing tennis, etc. The rest would rent horses and ride the trails on the mountain or go bass fishing on San Pablo Bay. This would be followed with a great barbecue on the club grounds — followed by a moonlight dance at the Larkspur Bowl.

They were fine young people, I can tell you. The club grounds impressed me so much that when I heard that Max Friedman might be willing to sell the property, I arranged to meet him and talk it over.

This was about 1943 or '44, after I had been elected county supervisor. After much urging, I induced the board to come out and go over the property. It could have been purchased for 10 cents on the tax rate for two years — a bargain. They gave me the horse laugh. So ended a dream.

THERE APPEARS to be a genuine and determined effort to form or bring into being a recreation district encompassing the entire county. I hope they succeed. For years, in private personal conversation and at board of supervisors' meetings I have urged that this be done.

There is a different orientation involved, that exists at the supervisor level, and that of those who are really informed and sincere advocates of parks and recreation. This should be recognized and provision made for such informed ones to go direct to the voters of the county.

I am convinced, after listening to those who are constantly shouting for "open spaces," that in most cases this is simply a cliche, the supposedly "in" thing to do.

THE TRUE recreationists are people oriented. They think and plan the use desirable land can be put to for the benefit of people, not merely to be gazed at and gloated over.

What I have just said seems to be the situation regarding the Point Reyes National Seashore. The gloaters want to seal it off and keep the people out. They want it for themselves and themselves only.

My fist is in the air. Power to the real recreationists — may they prevail!

Only Reduced Charge Is Filed In Pot Case

Joseph Wood Azevedo, 20, of Tiburon, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on misdemeanor charges of possessing marijuana and marijuana paraphernalia.

He is to plead to the charges Monday.

Azevedo was arrested Tuesday by Larkspur police after a routine traffic stop developed into a fight.

Azevedo was booked on suspicion of battery on a police officer, as well as the marijuana charges, but the battery charge was not filed against him.

Police said Azevedo began swinging at officers when they attempted to cite him for having no license plates on the vehicle he was driving.

When they took him to Marin County Jail, officers said, they found marijuana in his jacket pocket, along with a brass holder used for smoking the weed.

National Drug Abuse Prevention Week is October 3-9.

And it's no cause for celebration.
Not hardly.

But the alternative isn't another stern lecture on drug abuse.

Everyone is well aware of the problem and its insidious by-products.

So, what's there to do?

We have a suggestion.

Begin.

The President of the United States already has.

The new White House Special Action Office is at work right now developing and coordinating programs of research, rehabilitation and treatment, and preventive education.

We must pry open the rusted channels of communication and, ultimately, understanding; to dig out the causes that motivate a human being toward drugs for a momentary escape from his existence.

But the effort will demand involvement. It needs the interaction of people working together. And not in the same old ways.

We have been provided with new tools, a positive direction and reachable goals.

It's a place to begin. Send a postcard now. You'll get back practical information that answers the question of "what's there to do?"

There are specific programs to involve groups; ideas for you to initiate on your own or within your family.

You have in your hands the opportunity to do something right and worthwhile.

No miracles. No easy solutions, because there aren't any.

But if enough of us get together and start to work on the beginning, we will find an answer to the enigma of drug abuse.

Once and for all.

Bigger Bus Considered On Two Runs

Peak hour patronage on the bus run between Novato and Greenbrae may be heavy enough to warrant use of a larger bus, Golden Gate Bridge District officials reported today.

Marin Transit Systems Inc., the Marin City-based company operating the service under a contract with the district, currently is authorized payment of $15 an hour to operate a 23-passenger minibus, but the number of standees apparently has been increasing.

District officials said they were considering authorization of 41-passenger bus by the company, on the peak runs, which would boost the hourly payments to $17.50.

The bridge district's payments to the company come largely from county subsidies through the district. These subsidies will have totaled $117,000 in almost two years by the time the bridge district takes over all scheduled bus service in the county on Dec. 1.

District officials said a count on the 6:42 a.m. bus from Novato on Sept. 23 found 48 passengers using the run. At any one time, the maximum aboard was 35 passengers.

Of the 48, 23 went to the College of Marin.

Total traffic on the hourly Central Marin service in August was 12,974, little changed from the 12,713 in July.

Farm Fire Controls Start Today

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The annual agricultural burning season starts today, the Bay Area Pollution Control District said.

For the first time, controls will extend to burning stubble and hay by field crop farmers limiting their burning as well to meteorological conditions permitting maximum ventilation so smoke from the fires does not create pollution problems.

The field stubble burning season will run through Dec. 31, while the season for prunings and attrition losses from fruit and nut trees will run from Dec. 1 to next April 30.

Farmers will be advised daily whether to burn on KCBS Radio (740 kc) and KEEN Radio (1370 kc). The KCBS broadcasts will be at 8:59 and 9:05 a.m., except on Sunday there will be no 9:05 broadcast. The KEEN broadcasts will be at 9 and 9:30 a.m.

Fires must be started by 9:30 a.m., no new material may be added after two hours before sunset, and wind speed must be at least five miles an hour at the site and be blowing away from populated areas.

Flood Zone Aides To See Master Plan

Members of the advisory board for Flood Control Zone 7 — Santa Venetia — will review a proposed master plan for zone flood control at a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the McPhail School library.

Charles E. Murphy, county flood control engineer, has prepared the zone plan for approval by the advisory board.

Increase In Skin Cancer Is Forecast

NEW YORK (UPI)—Within the next year an estimated estimated 130,000 Americans will be found to have skin cancer, Dr. Norman Goldstein, assistant professor of dermatology at the University of Hawaii School of Medicine, reports in CUTIS, a journal devoted to reports on skin disorders.

In most cases the cause can be directly attributed to sunlight.

Novato Townhouse Plan Due Review Wednesday

The Novato Plan Review Committee will review site, architectural and landscaping plans for Boise Cascade Building Co.'s 214-unit townhouse project at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Novato Community House.

The project is sought for the former Oliva Ranch on the north side of Novato Boulevard opposite Grande Vista. The committee had hoped to review the plans Wednesday night but continued the matter until next Wednesday.

In other action, the committee granted Harry Robbins a permit for a Dudd's Casual Clothing sign on a building east of Highway 101, adjacent to Perry's Delicatessen, and granted a permit for a free-standing home savings and loan sign at 1450 Grant Avenue.

ASTECTOMY SERVICE

Volunteers On Call In Marin

By BARBARA HOSMER

Often the need for breast urgery comes up suddenly and an be a frightening, threateng prospect to women. Few now that there is a group of omen just like themselves in arin who are ready to help.

When such surgery is needed ithout much notice there is ttle time for a woman to make b or household arrangements, nd that's when the volunteers f the Marin Mastectomy Serves can step in to help. Numbering some 200 women in arin who have had breast emoval surgery themselves, hey know exactly what is needed and get in and do the baby-tting, household work and riving of the patient that may e needed.

One of the important things hat the women do is help the ost operative patient select a rosthesis and brassiere fitted o the individual and reassure er while along on the buying rip. They first visit the patient n the hospital, "preferably earing a sweater," says Boney Cockburn of San Anselmo, ho started the Marin group ome 14 years ago. Then they nd out what they can do to be f service — whether running rrands or taking a child to the entist.

WHEN THE patient goes ome they continue to help her ith her household and drive er to doctor and treatment ppointments. They also arange for her to meet other omen who have had mastectoies.

"We arrange to have her ttend meetings if she wishes, nd to join our swimming and kating groups, and quicky she will be returning the ervice to some other new ember," Mrs. Cockburn said.

The whole service is volunary and free and the members ive some 200 to 300 hours a onth in Marin, she added. othing is required of the memers, although nearly all want o help, Mrs. Cockburn said.

"Just the knowledge that here is a group of women in he county ready to help if eeded makes the patient's hosital stay more realxed," Mrs. ockburn remarked.

The Mastectomy Service embers are called by the atient's doctor when she has he mastectomy and the voluneers go to the hospital to meet er. Women who have had surgery outside of Marin and require service are referred to he volunteer service by the arin Branch of the American ancer Society, with whom the ervice has worked closely for ts 14 years of existence.

Mrs. Cockburn began Mastecomy Services 15 years ago in outhern California because she ad needed some help at the ime of her own breast surgery.

"I DID not think that I was nique, and as I met other omen who had had mastectomies I found that nearly all require at the very least advice about prostheses." She started the Marin group the following year when the Cockburns came to live in the county, and since then the group here has had letters from women in other areas interested in starting similar services.

The service takes no money — "we wouldn't have any place to put it if someone gave us some" — and members bear the cost of gasoline for the driving and make available needed stationary and postage.

The group has a pamphlet written by women who have had breast surgery, giving information, experiences and reassurance to the new patient:

"You may be worried. You may feel 'singled out' and resentful, or simply depressed and uncomfortable. We remember that we felt this way too. It is usual and temporary."

Their pamphlet also assures the woman that she can wear the same clothes, evening dress and swim suit she has always worn, that her scar will heal and her arm overcome stiffness.

They also stress the need for arm activity and list arm and limbering exercises suggested by doctors. The pamphlet is presented to patients through cooperation of the Marin Medical Society, which has given official approval to the women's service.

WITH BREAST surgery a common means of removing cancer, the mastectomy service women wish others to know that it will not change their lives. They believe their reassuring approach to the subject has encouraged women to seek medical help when they first become aware of a breast abnormality so that early detection of cancer can make cure available.

Members of the group get together for swimming weekly and lunches, and some are tennis players, bowlers, golfers and ice skaters.

On Oct. 27 they will present a fashion show with a definite purpose — to show that women who have had breast removal can wear any type of clothing from swim suits that lace down the front to the waist to low-cut evening wear. Mastectomy Service members model.

The first such show was held at a members' home last year with the emphasis on active sportswear.

"We realized how terribly valuable it is for women to see who haven't had the surgery. They are amazed," Mrs. Cockburn said.

The group invites doctors, their wives, nurses and other medical staff as well as others interested in the subject. They expect some 100 guests for the upcoming show at the home of Mrs. Rudolph E. Lindquist in San Rafael.

Marin Soroptimists Will Be Convention Hostesses

A large group of Marin ounty Soroptimist Club memers will serve as official hostsses tomorrow when the ational Soroptimists celebrate heir 50th anniversary in Oakand.

The special "golden jubilee pilgrimage" will be held at Goodman Hall in Jack London Square in Oakland, where the first Soroptimist club was chartered 50 years ago.

The Marin Soroptimists will wear costumes of the 1920s to celebeate the 1921 chartering. Hostesses are Ezilda Torre, Marin Club president; Kathryn Vincilione, Marlus Kehm, Peggy Land, Claudia Goldthwaite, Carolyn Fooshee, Hazel Barbano, Dorene Peterson, Kathryn Kelly, Helen Elrod, Florence Huber and Esther Dearth.

Attending the celebration, which will feature the Sixth Army Band, a parade of clubs by charter dates and an address by Miss Ethel Lord of Morristown, N.J., the national president, will be the national vice president and members of clubs from throughout the Southwest region. Violet Richardson Ward of Berkeley, founder-president of the first club, will be an honored guest. A bronze bust of Mrs. Ward will be dedicated and each club will place a history capsule in the base of the bust, to be opened in 50 years. Oakland officials will also attend the celebration, which will begin with a brunch at 9:30 a.m.

Film Industry Hit For Playing Into Male Hands

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI)—A ormer star of the silent screen ays the U.S. movie industry is altering because too many picures are aimed at men.

Lillian Gish told a lecture udience Tuesday that women omprise 85 per cent of movie udiences but that subject apeal has been toward male nterests.

"Women are not interested in the popular themes such as ar, murder, violence or autos hasing each other around the rack," said Miss Gish, 72.

"Once our nation led the orld in the number of movies roduced," she said. "Today e rank ninth in the world, ehind even Taiwan, thanks to oor films."

A MARINITE'S INVOLVEMENT

Researcher's Plea For Government Funding

By PAT BALMES

"We have to get people to encourage government spending for medical research," says Dr. Lynn Spitler of Tiburon.

The physician researches transferring normal cellular immunity from a well donor to a child who, lacking this immunity, suffers from infections which bring death in early childhood.

University of California Medical Center's research team of Lynn, Dr. Alan Levin and their chief, Dr. H. Hugh Fudenberg, has the means of giving people the ability to reject abnormal tissue by drawing blood from a person who has immunity, isolating "transfer factor" and giving it to a person not immune.

Their completely experimental work at the University of California in San Francisco originated several years ago and they took their first patient in 1969.

"WE KNOW now we can help children with infections," says the Tiburon doctor, who has received requests for transfer factor from university hospitals as far away as Switzerland, Sweden and France. She projects that it may enable cancer patients to reject their tumors.

"It's too soon to say for cancer. We chose the children first because we know that those kids are going to die. Now they are alive, well and going to school," says the researcher. Her patients will receive booster shots every six months.

"There are people who have immunity to certain kinds of cancers. We can measure their ability. We can give a substance prepared from an immune person's cells to a cancer patient," says Dr. Spitler, relaxed at her Reedlands home.

She adds with frustration,

"We anticipate that only a small percentage of President Nixon's cancer research funds will be used for extra- mural research. A large percentage will go into administration when it should be put into personnel doing research. One hundred million dollars sounds great, but it is not doing what it is supposed to."

Dr. Spitler is also working under a multiple sclerosis grant. Those patients may become allergic to their own nervous systems; their cells may react against their own nervous systems and cause disease. She is trying to suppress cellular immunity reaction so multiple sclerosis does not occur. Her team is now experimenting with animals who have a related disease.

LYNN'S DAY begins at the Spitlers' Tiburon home by waking the children, Diane, 2, and Paul, 1, "to love and play with them" before the babysitter arrives and the researcher leaves for her laboratory.

Her day is spent predominantly in research, but she also teaches residents, interns and medical students cellular immunity and internal medicine and cares for patients with related defects: multiple sclerosis, cancer and diagnosed and undetermined-cause infections. Her work is "full time, plus."

"You cannot do it and limit the time you spend. I often get tied up late at night because of experiments or people who really want to see me," she says.

"I really enjoy research. When I was a little kid I used to work out puzzles. I like the challenge of thinking about it and working it out."

The doctor is the daughter of Mrs. O. J. Dykman of Grand Rapids, Mich. Her father died when she was seven.

"My mother was good and always gave her support to whatever I wanted to do," says Dr. Spitler, adding that her mother's name, Cornelia, means "my children are my jewels."

To earn money to go to college, she worked as a waitress during high school and continued the "lucrative" part-time work during college, working at resorts in summer.

"I made it through medical school by working as a waitress and by scholarships," says the graduate of University of Michigan and its medical school. She interned at Highland Alameda County Hospital and did her two-year residency in internal medicine at University of California, San Francisco.

THEN SHE received a year's fellowship to work in New York with transfer factor's discoverer, Dr. H. Sherwood Lawrence.

Lynn had already signed the contract to work in New York when she met San Francisco attorney Harley Spitler.

RESEARCH Dr. Lynn Spitler of Tiburon spends time each morning playing with her children, Diane, 2 and Paul, 1, before leaving for her University of California Medical Center laboratory. The cellular immunity researcher also teaches residents, interns and medical students and treats patients.

"He said, 'come back' and so I did," says Lynn. They were married in 1967.

She received more fellowships in 1968 to work on cellular immunity at University of California, San Francisco.

"I was pregnant when I was doing a lot of this research. I like research; I always liked medicine," says Lynn. "A clue is that I get a lot of help from my husband. You could not do a lot of work without that.

"Number one in my life is here at home with my children. I would stop work if my children were unhappy. On weekends I don't work, except to read medical journals and write papers," says Lynn.

She relaxes at the family's swimming pool and has planted a garden. The grand prize winner of Sunny Hills' bridge tournament last year, she also likes to read novels on vacations while her husband hikes.

THE RESEARCHER travels to medical conventions across the country to speak on aspects of her cellular immunity research.

"We kind of have to; it's a way of telling people about our work," she explains.

In December Dr. Spitler will address the American Society of Hemotology in San Francisco.

Asked about newspaper reports of an important breakthrough in research on leukemia, she says,

"Those reports were premature and blown up. Treatment of leukemia is improving and we do have some long-term survival, but it is still too early to speak in terms of cure for most leukemia patients."

New Women's Group Goal: Communication

"We have formed an organization to inform the public that we do much more than cooking and sewing," says Mrs. Robert L. Cornett of San Rafael, president of the newly formed Marin County Home Economics Educators Association.

The group's purpose is to promote communication between teachers, schools, the districts and the community, says the home economics teacher at San Rafael High School.

Membership is open to any woman with a degree in home economics, and monthly meetings are held to discuss individualized learning methods, curriculum planning and exchange ideas, according to Nora Lee Cornett.

"We deal in consumer education and buying, diets and exercise, family life, grooming, textile information, wardrobe planning, pattern designing and alternations and classes for boys, geared to their needs and interests — crafts, such as stitchery, macrame, knitting and weaving," she says.

Mrs. Cornett is a native of Fresno and a graduate of Fresno State College. She has a 12-year-old daughter, Robyn. The family has lived in Marin for six years.

MRS. ROBERT CORNETT
Group president

Sewing, gourmet and camp cooking, hiking, camping and nature study are Mrs. Cornett's hobbies.

Mrs. Neta Browne of Vallecito Junior High School is secretary of the new association, and members of the advisory board are Mmes. Sue Chelini of Redwood High School, Virginia Maloney of Sinaloa Junior High School and Marcelett Henry of Tamalpais High School.

Church's New Women's Club Elects President

Newly organized Women's Club of St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon has named Mrs. Robin Taylor of Belvedere president.

Loretta Taylor, a native Californian, attended Dominican Upper School in San Rafael, University of California and Parsons School of Interior Design in New York.

The Taylors have lived in Marin six years. Their children are Adrian, 16, Christopher, 14, and Alysanne, 3.

Active as interior decorator, Mrs. Taylor was with W. and J. Sloane in San Francisco and is now designing privately both commercial and residential interiors.

She is a frequent traveler to Europe, particularly to her husband's London home, where she buys antiques for her work and home, an Edwardian summer mansion named "La Folie" which she is restoring.

The new president says that ultimate purpose of the new women's club is to foster friendship, seek out and develop programs to meet parish needs.

MRS. ROBIN TAYLOR
"Foster friendship"

Planned are a Christmas boutique on Nov. 21, a gourmet demonstration, organization of a bridge group, spiritual discussions and an Altar Society.

Women of St. Hilary's parish and friends may join.

Other new officers are Mmes. Lee Snyder, vice president; Robert Trieber, secretary; and Millie Mullan, treasurer.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Block Parties: In San Antonio, They Really Have A Good Time

DEAR HELEN:

Those block parties mentioned in HHU sound interesting. Please tell us more about how to organize one. — WANTING TO KNOW OUR NEIGHBORS

DEAR WTKON:

Here's a letter that explains block parties, July 4th style:

DEAR HELEN:

T.W. and R.O. who yearn for old-fashioned block parties should move to San Antonio, Texas!

Last year we had our fifth annual Independence Day "block" parade and street dance. Of course we live on a very unusual street: no one sticks a nose in your business, but if you need help, everyone is there! We live on the best block, in the best town in the whole U.S.A.

How do we get a block party going? Everybody cooperates. We formally write to the City Traffic Engineer and request permission to have a street dance. He agrees to close off the street for the evening.

At 8 p.m. the children of the neighborhood march in a "dress-up" parade. They carry flags and sing patriotic songs befitting July 4th. In the middle of the block, we have taped music on one side, and snacks, cheese, tamales, all manner of "pot-luck" food on the other. When the children arrive there, adults join in their songs. Then we eat, dance, play, talk — and you can be sure that no one here would dream of taking a vacation away from home on this holiday!

In our small way, we're reaffirming faith in our country — and having a wonderful time. — MRS. L.W.H., LANTANA DR., SAN ANTONIO, TEX.

NOTE FROM HELEN:

But block parties can be given ANY time of the year —for no other reason than to discover your neighbors are human too. They're kind of "grass-roots country club" without the whopping overhead. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

You've printed so many letters about couples who regret getting married and having children young that I thought I would write about a couple who doesn't regret it at all!

My husband and I were married when I was just 17 and he was 19, not only because I was pregnant, but because we wanted to. Well, our baby died at birth, and all the parents wanted us to get an annulment, which we would not do.

We moved away, and have been married for nine years now. We have two wonderful children, aged four and six, and we couldn't be happier. We've got each other and our kids! — COLETTE

DEAR HELEN:

Tell that person who got trapped into sending $10 to "earn money being a new products researcher" that she has lots of company. I complained to the U.S. Attorney for that district, and also to the U.S. Postal Service inspector, and have learned since that this company is now in bankruptcy, after being investigated (and evidently found wanting). I got my money back, but doubt that others will be so lucky. As you said, Helen, 10 bucks is a small price to pay if you've learned a good lesson — never trust a mail-order company that insists you pay out money to make money. — A. F.

DEAR READERS:

That now defunct company really got its ads around! I've been flooded with letters, all naming the same outfit (who shall be nameless) as the culprit. — H.

Study Shows California Texts Portray Girls As Stereotypes

By LIZ LAGUE

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — "Not only do textbooks fail to help prepare girls for future realities, they contribute subtly and significantly to the formation of negative self images," according to the state Commission on the Status of Women.

"The stereotype of women pictured in textbooks," the report continues, "is not an accurate reflection of reality. Three million women in California work outside their homes — but are rarely depicted."

A 1968 commission survey of California teen-age girls found that 42 per cent of them doubted their ability to be successful in chosen fields of work, and most do not see themselves as achievers. Only one-third planned on college, and only three per cent foresaw need for retraining or education later in their lives.

SUCH STATISTICS indicate the need for incentive among girls if they are to adapt to a future in which, according to the U. S. Labor Department, half of them will be full-time members of the work force for up to 30 years.

Studies have shown that children begin to develop self image and self confidence, or the lack of them, at a very early age. The commission states that "a recent review of California elementary school textbooks reveals that 75 per cent of the main characters in stories are male, and that girls are most often presented as helpless, unoriginal and lacking curiosity."

These findings are supported by Drs. Sandra and Daryl Bem, associate professors of psychology at Stanford University. The Bems recently spoke on women's roles in American society.

"FIVE TIMES as many males as females are mentioned in the titles of children's books," say the Bems, "contributing to the homogenization of American women."

They believe women are unconsciously molded to fill only one role. "The major consensus is that most women end up full-time housewives. The important point is not the role (housewife) itself, but that so many women end up in the same role."

The solution, they feel, is to make people aware of their unconscious assumptions and to provide adequate role models.

ON BEING BLACK

Pointers On How To Avoid Substandard Food Goods

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Aw, c'mon lady!" The store manager was obviously exasperated as he read the consumer bill I had just presented to him.

The neighborhood supermarket services a large black clientele, and upon a comparison of notes with several regular shoppers, it was determined that much of their produce is substandard. However, many of the people in the area — people with limited incomes — do not take time to return these foodstuffs and get their money back. Excuses range from "Oh well, another lemon," to "You can't get your money back anyway."

The fact is you can get your money back and if enough people started returning rotten merchandise and presenting consumer bills to the store, a greater effort would have to be put forth by the store to make sure that its shelves were stocked with top-quality food.

THE ULTIMATE pressure on any store to shape up, of course, is for the consumer to take his business elsewhere. But in many low-income areas, transportation is limited and the consumer is forced to shop locally. No matter, though, if a store is in business it should be forced (unfortunately this is necessary in many cases) to stock its shelves with merchandise that meets health standards.

Currently, there is much national concern about consumer rights, and there are several consumer groups in operation. In our area there is the Bay Area Consumer Protection Coordinating Committee, which channels consumer complaints to appropriate agencies for action.

After one year of operation, this committee reports that few complaints come from the consumer living in the low-income areas. A vicious cycle remains in motion — the low-income consumer does not complain, probably because he has been conditioned to expect and accept this type of business in his neighborhood. And because he does not complain, stores in these areas have no qualms about shelving outdated and rancid merchandise.

SINCE FOOD prices are staggeringly high, people with limited incomes cannot afford such low-quality merchandise.

As a small measure of protection for your family's health and nutrition, here are a few basic steps that shoppers should take: Inspect what you are buying. Look at and smell produce and meats. Check out expiration dates on packaged foods such as lucnh meats and hot dogs and other perishables, such as milk, eggs, frozen juices and biscuit tubes. These dates are required by law. If no date appears, assume the article is as old as dirt and don't buy it.

Before using, carefully inspect contents of packaged cake mixes, flour and sugar. Don't buy rusty or bulging canned goods. Be extremely suspicious of baby food.

This cautiousness is annoying but, unfortunately, because an item is on the store's shelf does not automatically make it fit for human consumption.

Food prices are too high and nutritional levels and incomes are too low for people to be subjected to such shabby consumer concern.

If you don't have money to throw away (and who does?), start now to protect yourself. Inspect foodstuffs carefully and don't hesitate to return all substandard goods. And, for added impetus, pencil out a consumer bill and whip that on 'em!

Consumer Bill

Study Shows Pill Causes Gene Damage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A team of scientists has found evidence that women taking birth control pills appear more likely than non-users and men to suffer breakage of chromosomes, the threadlike bodies which carry genes controlling heredity.

But the researchers conducting a study for the National Institutes of Health (NIH) caution that the project is not over yet and that its implications for human health still are unclear.

"Our data show a small but significant increase in chromosomal abberations in women who are taking oral contraceptives," said the study by L. Gayle Littlefield, a geneticist, and her colleagues at Oak Ridge (Tenn.) Associated Universities.

John Zweig, Jo LaBorde Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Leo LaBorde of Amarillo, Tex., announce the engagement of their daughter, Jo Carol LaBorde, to John Zweig, son of Mrs. Walter Zwieg of Kentfield and the late Mr. Zwieg.

Jeanne Toncre Slates Talk On Enjoying Being On Television

JEANNE TONCRE
Television talk

"Television? Relax — You May Enjoy It," is the subject Jeanne Toncre, director of women's community affairs for KRON-TV, has chosen for her talk at Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Mill Valley Community Church Club. It will be held at noon in the parish hall.

Mrs. Toncre is president of the Golden Gate Chapter of American Women in Radio and Television and, as woman's community affairs director, conducts publicity clinics throughout the Bay Area. She also produces a weekly teenage panel show, Youth Inquires, and has done freelance publicity for Marin groups.

A native of New Orleans, Jeanne Toncre attended Louisiana State University and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York.

Her experience in television broadcasting has included work as a publicity director, assistant production manager, on-the-air personality and copywriter.

For five years she lived in Venezuela, where she was editor of the Creole Petroleum Co. weekly newspaper and columnist for the Caracas Daily Journal.

THE OLD Mill Branch of Marin General Hospital Volunteers earned $400 for the hospital at its recent "Night in Tahiti" party, according to Mrs. George Gustafson of Mill Valley.

THE CIVICS and conservation section of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. Mrs. Lyman Emerson is chairman.

This will be a planning meeting for those interested in the Mill Valley community and its problems. Mrs. Emerson will discuss the meetings and sessions she attended this summer in Washington, D.C.

PLANS FOR the Tomales High School Parent-Teacher-Student Group meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the school include a panel discussion.

Panel members will be Richard V. Godino, deputy Marin County counsel; Charles McCully, superintendent of the Shoreline Unified School District; Bert Broemmel, Marin County assessor; and Supervisor Louis H. Baar. Discussions will center on the Williamson Act (agriculture preserve and open space) and its impact on the school district and the background of the Point Reyes National Seashore and the impact of its acquisition on the Shoreline school district.

PARADISE HARBOR Yacht Club in Tiburon plans its second annual "Li'l Vallejo" race and overnight. Tomorrow at 10 a.m. 30 boats will race to a barbecue steak dinner for 116 at Vallejo Yacht Club, where a trophy will be presented by cruise master Ronn Hill. Members, families and friends will stay overnight and cruise home Sunday.

THE GOOD Shepherd Lutheran Church of Novato will have an auction and rummage sale at Lee Brothers Market parking lot, Seventh Street and Grant Avenue in Novato, at noon tomorrow.

Items for sale include oil paintings and tools. Proceeds will be used to renovate the community room at the church, which is used by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire groups.

Items to be auctioned will be available for inspection starting at 10 a.m.

Couple Is Married In Afternoon Rites

Deborah Mick became the bride of John Halligan Sunday in an afternoon ceremony at St. Raphael's Catholic Church in San Rafael. A reception followed in the parish hall of Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Mick of San Rafael are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John Halligan of San Rafael and the late Mr. Halligan.

Laura Kane of Larkspur was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Sandra de Marta of San Rafael and Vicky Basil of Kentfield.

James Lee served as best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Pete Maffia and the bridegroom's brother, James Halligan. All are residents of San Rafael.

Deborah was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Bay Cities College of Medical-Dental Assistants. She also attended Sonoma State College. Ronald Mick is her brother. The bride is employed by Heller's Baby News Store in San Rafael.

A graduate of San Rafael High School, John served in the Navy and is now employed by a painting firm in San Rafael. He is also the brother of Jean, Mary and Robert Halligan. Mr. and Mrs. J. Emmet Halligan of San Rafael are his grandparents.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel the couple will live in San Rafael.

Missionary League Picks Mrs. Beyer As President

Mrs. Ernest B. Beyer, new president of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Mill Valley's Peace Lutheran Church, is a one-year-member of the group. It is the only organization she has joined.

Her conception of its aims includes fostering of Christian knowledge, encouraging Christian fellowship and engaging in church, charity and missionary work. She says the group welcomes women other than members of the church.

The new president says that special efforts and projects for the year will be to assist Good Shepherd Home for the Mentally Retarded in Terra Bella, delinquency prevention ministry among teen-agers, printing and distributing religious material for the deaf and blind and getting parish assistants and social workers in several California districts.

A native of Detroit, Mich., Lila Mae Beyer holds a B.S. degree in nursing from the University of Michigan School of Nursing in Ann Arbor and is employed part-time at the Permanente Medical Center in San Francisco.

She and her husband, a chemist with the Food and Drug Administration, have lived in Marin five years. They have one two-year-old daughter, Lisa Louise.

Mrs. Beyer's other interests are sewing, biking and hiking.

Other new officers of the league are Mmes. Kenneth Behnken, vice president; Sam Winters, secretary; Wilbur Reece, treasurer; and Lin Frasson and James Eddy, members-at-large.

An Enlightened Period In Fashions

Fashion has reached an awareness of enlightment where age, true age is concerned, says Rudi Gernreich.

"At last a woman over 25 no longer feels a moral obligation to look like a teen-ager," he says.

Mrs. Wallerstein To Get Teaching Award

Mrs. Robert Wallerstein of Belvedere will receive the University of California's Distinguished Teaching Award for academic year 1970-71 at the fall term opening meeting Thursday morning at the Greek Theatre on the Berkeley campus.

The Berkeley campus-wide honor to the school of social welfare lecturer reads, "You are nominated by your colleagues and students in recognition of your dedication to, and excellence in, teaching."

The $1,500 award is divided into three equal parts: the lecturer's prize, funds for her use in implementing ideas in further improving undergraduate education and a gift to the social welfare department.

Judith Wallerstein, mother of three children, came to Marin five years ago. She had been lecturer and senior children's therapist for 17 years at Menninger Clinic, Topeka, Kan., a large psychiatric training center.

Her husband, Dr. Wallerstein, is director of the psychiatry department at Mount Zion Hospital and clinical professor of psychiatry at the University of California's medical school, both in San Francisco.

A well balanced diet contains food from all four food groups developed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The groups: eggs, poultry, meat fish; milk and other dairy products; fruits and vegetables; whole grain or enriched bread and cereals.

Nothing Dangerous About Play, But The Odds Are About 3 to 1

There's nothing dangerous about the play that makes today's contract as long as you remember that the odds are 3 to 1 against it in any normal hand. You should use the backward finesse only when you are sure that a normal finesse will lose. This is very seldom indeed, since you can very seldom be so sure about the location of a queen.

Opening lead — ♡ K

HEART ROUNDS

West led three rounds of hearts, and South ruffed the third. South led trumps at once, and East took the ace of trumps and got out safely with a trump.

Now South needed the rest of the tricks, and he tried to avoid losing a club trick by leading a club to dummy's king and then returning a club for a finesse with the jack. West won with the queen of clubs, and South was down one.

"Do you suppose it's something I ate?" South asked mournfully. "I haven't won a finesse all evening."

SNIFF AT SOUTH

In our wisdom, we can sniff at South. He should have known that the normal club finesse would fail. Any other plan was better.

After East showed up with the ace of spades there was no chance that he would also hold the queen of clubs. He failed to respond to the opening bid, and East would have raised hearts or bid one notrump if he held six points in high cards.

GET COUNT

After drawing trumps, South should cash the three diamonds, ending in his hand. By that time he knows that West started with only five hearts and only one spade. This leaves room for seven cards in diamonds and clubs. This means that the queen of clubs will not drop under the ace and king.

South must lead the jack of clubs for a backward finesse. West covers with the queen, and dummy's king wins. Now declarer returns a club from dummy to take a finesse with the nine of clubs. Since East has the ten, this finesse works and the contract comes in.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠- K Q 9 8
♥- 9 5 3
♦- A Q 10
♣- K 6 3.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one club or one diamond.

If you open with one spade, your partner will probably bid two of a different suit, and you will have to make the overbid of two notrump. If you bid a minor suit, and your partner bids one of a suit, you can bid one notrump to show that you have only a minimum opening bid. (If partner bids one spade, however, you will raise to two spades.)

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON GREB

Guess who was born today and became famous.

1. The U.S. Navy holds high regard for this particular American whose birthday we celebrate today. During the War of 1812, he was the courageous naval captain who, though mortally wounded during a fight between his vessel and that of the British, urged his officers and men, "Don't give up the ship": (A) James Lawrence; (B) John Barry; (C) David Farragut.

2. At age eight, this next celebrity was caught in a London air raid and started singing. People in the bomb shelter liked it; so her mother sent this songbird to voice school, which led to roles like Eliza Dolittle in "My Fair Lady," Maria in "The Sound of Music," and the title part in "Mary Poppins": (A) Connie Stevens; (B) Julie Andrews; (C) Audrey Hepburn.

3. What prolific American fiction writer is 78 today? The granddaughter of missionaries, she grew up in Brooklyn and produced a new book every six months during her active career, including titles like "The Office Wife" and "The Juniper Tree": (A) Agatha Christie; (B) Pearl Buck; (C) Faith Baldwin.

4. What Russian-born concert pianist made his American debut at the age of 24 with the New York Philharmonic? His recent recordings were rated seventh in popularity in a nationwide pool of college students: (A) Vladimir Horowitz; (B) Henry Mancini; (C) Rudolf Serkin.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from California and National Parent-Teacher Association Magazine and Parent's Magazine. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Blue Water, White Death" — An outstanding documentary that records a 12,000-mile sea trek of white killer sharks.

"Endless Summer" — A beautiful exciting travel film of surfing around the world.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Andromeda Strain" — Scientists race against time in a fantastic underground labratory in trying to identify a mysterious fatal disease from outer space. The death of people and animals could be upsetting for younger children. Very tense.

"Colossus, Forbin Project" — National security is being controlled by a computer. It develops a strange unprogrammed potential and joins forces with a similar Russian computer and threatens mankind with extinction unless obeyed.

"Hellstrom Chronicle" — Fascinating and incredibly detailed study of the insect world is nothing short of miraculous. It conveys a new awareness of the world we inhabit.

"Lord of the Flies" — A group of British school boys, marooned on an uninhabited tropical island by a plane crash, regress to ancient savagery. Well acted, and film conveys author Golding's comment on human frailty.

"Omega Man" — A brilliant scientist survives a world bacteriological war uninfected. Victims with the disease become ghoulish psychotics determined to kill. A grim heavy-handed science fiction tale.

"Rio Lobo" — John Wayne is a Yankee colonel who after the war seeks an informer in a gold shipment robbery. Usual action-packed western.

"Walkabout" — An exciting adventure of two English children lost in the wilds of Australia is brilliantly presented. A stunningly photographed nature essay and a highly moral fable is perfect for discussion groups. A study guide is available, call the library for address.

"Wait Until Dark" — Hair-raising thriller, very well acted about a blind woman who is caught in the web of a heroin delivery that has gone astray.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Anderson Tapes" — An ex-convict unaware that his every move is filmed and taped plans to rob an entire apartment building of its treasures. Much foul language, sex scenes and a savagely brutal violent ending.

"Dr. Strangelove" — A merciless satire holds a deadly serious subject up to ridicule. It deals with the horrifying possibilities of nuclear holocaust resulting from a combination of human frailty and machine over man. Devastatingly cynical.

"Little Big Man" — A tragicomic view of history of Indian-white relation as seen through the eyes of a 121-year-old ex-gunfighter. Some sex scenes and much brutal violence. Well acted.

"Man Called Sledge" — Excessively violent and repellent view of American west. A successful gold robbery misfires when the thieves double cross each other.

"Panic in Needle Park" — Superb acting help to shatter any romantic delusion about the drug scene. A bit overlong but compassionate love story in the tragic world of drugs. Brutally honest view.

"Summer of '42" — Three adolescent boys at a summer resort during World War II read a medical book to learn about sex. They pick up girls and follow instruction in the book. Beautifully filmed very low-key drama.

"Vanishing Point" — A boring pointless film about a man's compulsion to drive a car from Denver to San Francisco in 15 hours, breaking all rules along the way. Sex, violence, nudity and cursing in generous portions.

"Who is Harry Kellerman" — A very successful rock song writer, approaching middle age doesn't like himself at all. A confusing glimpes of back flashes, fantasies and episodes rather boringly try to explain why. Interesting photography.

ADULTS ONLY

"Carnal Knowledge" — The sex lives of two men from college days to middle age done in a two dimensional, cynical, satirical style does become tiresome. Fine performances from cast, language and sex are explicit.

"Doctors' Wives" — Marital and extra-marital sex in medical circles with operating room gore as added attraction.

"Light At the Edge of the World" — This is not a pleasant Jules Verne tale. A lighthouse near Cape Horn lures ships onto the rocks where a band of murderers slaughter all the passengers and animals. A savagely violent bloodbath.

"Love Machine" — Adaptation of Susann's bestseller leaves much to be desired. An oversexed TV newscaster becomes president of the network by bedding down with everyone. Some of the serious dramatic moments are quite funny.

"McCabe and Mrs. Miller" — A mining town at the turn of the century is victimized by a petty crook who sets up a brothel. Story is tasteless in the name of realism. Much brutality, vulgarity and nudity.

A Call For Study Centers In Slum Areas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Children of slum-dwelling parents with low IQs can develop high intelligence levels if enrolled in "intensive enrichment programs" at an early age, John G. Veneman, undersecretary of the Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) department believes.

Veneman cited an HEW study showing rapid improvement in slum children's IQs Wednesday in rejecting a proposal by William Shockley, a Stanford University physicist, that the government help pay for sterilization of persons with low intelligence.

"All my instincts tell me that the way to attack mental retardation is at its roots, not through its victims," Veneman said in remarks prepared for delivery at a mental retardation forum in Honolulu.

Teen Programs At Two Schools

An evening recreation program for teen-agers will be offered at Neil Cummins and San Clemente schools, the Town of Corte Madera has announced.

The evening program will open in school gymnasiums on Tuesdays at Neil Cummins and Thursdays at San Clemente from 7 to 9 p.m.

The program will include team sports, table tennis, music, arts and crafts under the supervision of an advisor and volunteers. Additional information may be obtained by phoning town hall.

'Road Shows' On Education Set

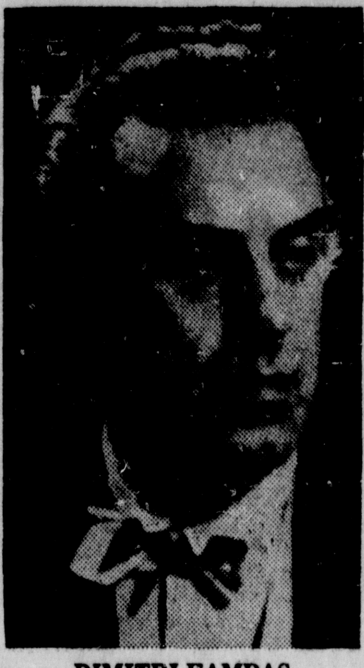
Lanny Berry, special assistant in the Tamalpais High School District, will take part in 11 "road show" presentations on special educational programs during October and early November.

He will discuss "Project Breakthrough," an educational program for black persons developed by the Tamalpais district with federal funds. The lectures by Berry and eight other speakers will be sponsored by the Association of California School Administrators as part of a statewide series of professional development conferences.

The "road shows" will begin Tuesday in Arcata and end Nov. 3 in Anaheim; the only presentation in the northern Bay Area will be Oct. 13 at Richmond High School.



DIMITRI FAMPAS
To perform Monday

Guiatrist Will Play On Monday

Guitarist Dimitri Fampas will give a recital in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael, Monday at 8 p.m. His program will include works by Mudarra, Bach, Sor and Albeniz.

Fampas is on his first tour of the United States. He has performed in most European capitals and has participated in the committee of International Festivals of Pilsen and Milan.

Dinner, Dance Benefits Center

A benefit dinner and dance for the Forest Meadows Development Center in San Rafael has netted between $1,500 and $1,700, a center spokesman said today.

Marlys Kehm, principal at the school for physically and educationally handicapped children, said Tuesday is dinner sponsored by Deer Park Villa restaurant in Fairfax drew more than 500 persons.

The restaurant staged the benefit assisted by volunteer ticket sellers from among the school's parents. It was the second year the restaurant has sponsored the event.

Dr. Hicks Is Rehired As County Clinical Physician

Dr. Marilyn K. Hicks, former assistant health officer before county merger of all health care services, has been rehired as clinical physician at the County Health Clinic, 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

The board of supervisors set her salary for the part-time position at $11,058 for the rest of the fiscal year. The vote was 3 to 2 with Louis H. Baar and John F. McInnis dissenting.

The Independent-Journal erred in reporting on Wednesday that her position as clinical physician had been turned down by the 3 to 2 vote because a four-fiths vote was needed for the $11,058 appropriation. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said a four-fifths vote is needed for a new appropriation, but in this case, the funds will come from within the department of health care services, and therefore a majority vote only was needed.

150 Toys Are Banned By FDA

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) said today it has banned 150 toys as hazardous this year and has nearly finished inspecting 122 toy factories.

In addition, the FDA said, manufacturers have modified about 60 types of toys to eliminate hazards pointed out by the agency.

The 150 banned toys fall into five classes banned by the FDA under the 1969 Toy Safety Act.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
THIRD SECTION SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1971

TEACHERS, CLASSES PRAISED

Dominican's Male Minority Enthusiastic But Thirsty

By MARY LEYDECKER

The first group of young men admitted as undergraduates at Dominican College in San Rafael may be the most turned on students in the county.

Their enthusiasm for the "fantastic teaching and small classes" undoubtedly will cause their numbers to rise. (This fall there are 19 men undergraduates out of a total of about 400.)

About eight of them gathered for lunch one day this week and it was hard to find any complaints.

Asked about gripes, two friends, Clay Roni of Tiburon and Phil Walters of Mill Valley, both juniors in the music department, finally said laughingly they had two.

First was lack of drinking fountains and second was a shortage of clocks.

The other young men at the table quickly agreed. One said, "You have to come down two floors to get a drink of water."

"I don't have a watch and I never know what time it is," another said.

School officials promised more drinking fountains but indicated the men students probably will have to learn to live in a somewhat timeless world.

"I guess we've all been institutionalized to clock watching," Roni agreed.

While their reasons for coming to Dominican are as varied as their hair styles, the young men were unanimous in their serious search for an education.

"This is an ideal place to learn," one said, and another added, "You can concentrate more on school here because there are no other problems."

Roni, who attended College of Marin for two years, said that "I was just another number there — everything was computerized."

The youths praised the conveniences made possible by a small student body, the spacious library and expressed a belief that Dominican "is more personalized" than other schools they had attended.

"It's the first time I've ever had an instructor take an interest in me," a young man said.

As for the church's influence on the school, Walters said, "Except for the symbols (crosses and saint's pictures) and the nuns' habits," there is no reminder of the Roman Catholic church.

"They (the 20 nuns on the 90-member faculty) never mention religion unless you ask them about it," he said.

Marc Gartman, a political science major whose home is in San Rafael, transferred to Dominican after a year at the University of Nevada because he wanted to live at home. "I like Marin," he said.

Mark Jordan, another San Rafael resident who is majoring in music, said smilingly that he had wanted to go away to school but couldn't swing it financially.

"You still can, Mark," replied Gary Fishel, who at 22 seemed to be the "papa" of the group not only because he was probably the oldest but also because he was the first and only young man at Dominican last year.

Asked how it felt to be a member of the pioneer male group at the longtime women's college, Fishel replied thoughtfully that "It's probably harder on the girls than it is on us. They're having to share the fantastic teaching and small classes with us."

Sandra Michael, blond 21-year-old student body president, disagreed with Fishel. "We should have done it sooner," she said. She denied that the school "has changed."

She did tell the boys with a grin, however, that having two young men on the students' softball team made a big difference in a recent game against the faculty.

As for the youths' views of the young women in the classes, Roni compared them favorably with their counterparts at College of Marin. "They're biologically the same, I guess," he said, "but they're sure different."

Another young man, Patrick Loomis, 20-year-old junior from the State of Washington, said the college "is still being ruled by females."

Loomis, however, is taking the femininity in stride. The tall music major has a work scholarship in which his job is to organize a glee club.

At the first meeting, he said, about eight girls showed up. He described them as "pretty headstrong." However by the second session, attended by a larger group, "they did pretty well."

Loomis's one attempt so far to take part in student government was a failure. "They were going to elect a day student representative," he said, "but by the time I got to the meeting, the representative had been elected and it was a female."

All the young men at Dominican this year are day students, but the college this week announced plans to convert one of the existing dormitories, or at least a section of one, for men next fall.

Most youths live at home, but Loomis rents a room in a nearby home. Another young man, Doug Van Aman, has a job as a baby sitter for a family with children 9, 7 and 2.

"I only have to babysit a couple of nights a week and I get free room and board," he said, adding he knew about children because of a younger sister.

Most of the youths thought the girls at the school were as interested in getting an education as they are, but 18-year-old Christopher Jones, a math major from San Anselmo, disagreed.

Jones, who sports a bushy beard, round glasses and a full head of hair, said, "I don't know what some of those girls are doing here."

The little cluster of young men in the big dining room was a reminder they were only a small island of masculinity in a feminine world by a loud chorus of "Happy Birthday to You" sung in the best boarding school tradition to a young woman.

"They seem to have a birthday every day," one of the youths said in a rather fatherly fashion.

Judge's Son Gets Probation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The son of a Superior Court judge has been placed on three years probation for selling 12,950 LSD tablets to an undercover agent.

U.S. District Judge Robert F. Peckham granted probation Thursday to Sheldon K. Perluss, 25, son of Judge Irving H. Perluss of Sacramento.

"He realizes he has made a very grave mistake," said Peckham. "He is contrite and he is in need of continued psychiatric treatment."

Perluss pleaded guilty to selling the tablets to a federal agent and testified for the government against two other drug sellers. He has been in custody 80 days undergoing psychiatric evaluation.

Wife Held In Knifing Of Spouse

Jean Jacqueline Spoel, 41, of 47 Redwood Avenue was booked into Marin County Jail at 9:10 p.m. on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Her 61-year-old husband, Leedert, was admitted to Marin General Hospital where he was listed in satisfactory condition today from a gaping wound in the area of his left groin.

Officers said the stabbing occurred at about 6:15 p.m., shortly after Spoel, a seaman, returned home from Oakland.

Officers said Mrs. Spoel told them she argued with her husband, and picked up the French chef's knife, but could remember nothing more.

Spoel was found lying in a pool of blood outside a neighbor's apartment where he went to summon help.

Officers said a trail of blood led through the Spoel apartment.

Mrs. Spoel remained in jail in lieu of $15,000 bail and was scheduled to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Annadel Is Not State Park Yet

The celebration sponsored by the Citizens Committee for Annadel Park tomorrow and Saturday at the parksite near Santa Rosa will not actually be the grand opening of a state park, according to Robert Howard, executive director for the California State Parks Foundation.

Information supplied to the Independent-Journal to accompany a photograph printed yesterday erred in saying the land had already become a state park, Howard said. He explained that the nonprofit parks foundation has obtained an option on the land, through fund support from the citizens committee and other sources. The 4,100 acre wilderness is not yet state property, Howard said.

The weekend affair actually is simply an opening of the site to the public, Howard said today.

Cotati 'Must Replace' Its Waterworks

The Cotati City Council heard last night that the city's entire water system is aged, decayed and must be replaced.

City engineer Paul Schock told the council that the whole city should be repiped since leaks are abundant and repair work can no longer solve the problem.

He said that pressure is also a big problem since most of the city is served by only four-inch water lines. Schock said the small pipes and accompanying low pressure do not provide adequate water supply for fighting major fires and represent a hazard.

He estimated installation of new pipes would cost $362,000 and that a new well would also be needed at an estimated cost of $50,000.

The council said it would study the water plan further, but told Schock to immediately replace the four-inch water line at Old Redwood Highway and Gravenstein Highway with a six-inch line so that work could be done in conjunction with the street widening project there.

The council said it would meet in special session Monday at 6:30 p.m. to consider awarding a contract for the work.

After hearing the water system report, the council went behind closed doors to discuss personnel problems. The meeting was requested by Lester Petersen, who was appointed to the council in August.

Oregon Logger Sentenced For W. Marin Violations

What may have been the final chapter in a long controversial logging operation on Bolinas Ridge ended yesterday with the sentencing of one of the owners of an Oregon lumber company.

George E. Walker, of North Bend, Ore., having pleaded no contest earlier this week to seven misdemeanor charges, was fined $1,000, placed on probation for three years and ordered to pay the county the cost of putting out fires his firm was logging last year.

Fourteen other counts were dismissed as were all 21 counts against two codefendants, Robert L. Matthews and Jerald R. Humbert, both also of North Bend and partners in Walker's Lumber company.

The no contest plea has the same effect in the criminal court as a guilty plea but prevents the use of that plea against the defendant in any civil suit.

He was represented by San Rafael attorney William O. Weissich who reached agreement on the outcome of the case with Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas.

The charges were filed last year at the request of the county counsel's office which accused the lumber company of uncontrolled burning in connection with their logging operation on the Ethel Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge.

Walker, Matthews and Humbert were accused of allowing unattended fires on the ranch, endangering neighboring Marin Municipal Water District lands and burning ground cover and seedling trees.

Rather than piling slag and debris and burning it under controlled conditions, the county counsel's office said, they merely set fire to the entire area.

The 21 charges against were actually restatements of three offenses alleged to have occurred on seven consecutive days in April 1970.

They were charged with having an outdoor fire in the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, having an uncontrolled fire and burning within a state responsibility area on each of the seven days.

Walker pleaded no contest to each of the seven counts of having an outdoor fire within the air pollution district each day from April 7 to April 13, 1970.

County firemen using bulldozers extinguished 14 fires on the property within the seven days. Thomas estimated the costs, which Walker will have to repay to the county, at between $2,000 and $2,500.

Thomas said he agreed to the dismissal of the cases against Matthews and Humbert because he had no evidence that the two had any control over the Bolinas Ridge operation or had even been in California.

Firemen's Ball Set Saturday

The Corte Madera Fire Department will stage its 17th Annual Firemen's Ball tomorrow at the town's recreation center on Tamalpais Drive.

The event, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will feature the music of the Maury Wolohan Band of San Francisco.

Last year, more than 400 persons attended the dance which raises funds for the department's health and welfare fund.

While tickets have been mailed to nearly every household in the town, a department spokesman said, those who did not receive them may purchase tickets at the door.

SWEEPING VIEW

Of the Valley, Sausalito & San Francisco. We have an exciting typical Mill Valley home in a best weather area. Altho it has 3 plus bedrooms, 3 baths, a large formal dining room, it's just a bit different. One of the bedrooms and one bath are on the lower level, ideal for a maid, or an in-law or teen-ager. Let us show this $77,500 charmer.

LOVELY IMMACULATE HOME

We have one for sale with an asking price of $44,950. This would be a great rental at $375 per month or a total of $4,500 a year. But why rent? We can obtain an 80% loan & the owner will carry back a 10% second, if needed. So with 10% down plus closing costs, this home can be yours to buy instead of to rent. After the down payment is made, & buyer takes title, the monthly payments on the loan & taxes will be approximately $383 a month, almost all of which is tax deductible. 3 bdrms., 2 baths, family room, all in excellent condition.

A MOST CONVENIENT LOCATION

For this 3 bedrooms, 1½ bath home with an asking price of $34,500. This home also has a formal dining room, electric kitchen, plus an interesting level backyard. Why not ask to see it?

COZY 6-ROOM HOME IN THE HILLS

2 bdrms., AEK, living room with fireplace, HW floors, large all purpose room could be used as 3rd bdrm., if needed. W/W carpets, drapes, curtains, washer, dryer, included in sale price. Home in excellent condition. Sunshine, seclusion & trees, lot size 63 ft x 155 ft. Exclusive. $38,500.

LOVELY HOME NEEDS NEW OWNER

For only $60,000 a 4 bdrm. home with 2,400 sq. ft. of living area, built on large, landscaped lot. 2 story living room. 2 baths, beamed ceiling, full dining room, huge fireplace. Also pool site. Immediate occupancy. Owners transferred to Florida.

MILL VALLEY
The building season is nearly over for 1971. We have the following exclusive lot listings. Since the building ban is in effect, why not buy now & hold for investment.

1. Beautiful down-slope lot on Ralston Ave. Sewer & water at property line. On city-maintained street. $10,000.
2. 16,000 plus sq. ft. on Marion Ave. All utilities on city-maintained street. $9,500.
3. Beautiful Cascade area. All utilities. $14,500 including bond.
4. On Morningsun Ave. Upslope lot. County maintained street. All Utilities. In Almonte Sanitary District. $10,000.
5. Close-in on Circle Ave., upslope lot. Sewer main at property line. Water main extension required. $16,000.
6. Almost 10,000 sq. ft. in this view site on Bolsa Ave. Sewer & water at property line. Seller will finance with a reasonable down payment. Get control of this desirable bldg. site until the building ban is lifted, it will then be worth much more than the $7,500 asking price.
7. New exclusive on Middle Ridge 1 acre City view. Extension of Summit Ave. sewer line required. Water at property line. Undergrounding of utilities. $32,000 including Summit Ave. & Fern Canyon Rd. street improvements bonds which can be assumed. This lot is a dilly, snap it up. Terms or exchange.
8. On Ross Ave. downslope, water at property line, sewer main extension required, street paving required under city ordinance. $10,000. Not many of these left, take a look see.

WE HAVE OTHER LOT LISTINGS, NOT SUBJECT TO THE SEWER CONNECTION BAN. CALL US FOR PARTICULARS.

No. 1394 Oct. 1, 1971

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT DECLARING THE NECESSITY FOR SAID DISTRICT TO EXECUTE A CONTRACT WITH SONOMA COUNTY WATER AGENCY BY WHICH THE DISTRICT MAY INCUR LIABILITY EXCEEDING IN ANY YEAR THE INCOME OR REVENUE FOR SUCH YEAR; CALLING A SPECIAL DISTRICT ELECTION FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF THE DISTRICT THE MEASURE OF AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION OF SAID CONTRACT AND INCURRING SUCH LIABILITY; STATING SAID MEASURE; FIXING THE DATE OF SAID ELECTION, PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER OF HOLDING THE SAME AND FOR NOTICE THEREOF; AND CONSOLIDATING SAID SPECIAL DISTRICT ELECTION WITH THE MARIN COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 2, 1971

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors (the "board") of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district") has required its General Manager and Chief Engineer to file with the board the Russian River Water Plan dated 1969 (including the portions thereof relating to the Russian River Project and the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct) and has also required its financing consultants, Stone & Youngberg Municipal Financing Consultants, Inc. to file with the board a report entitled "Financing of the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct" dated March 8, 1971, including in said reports estimates of the shares of the costs of the proposed improvements therein described to be paid for by the district and estimates of the bonded indebtedness or other liability of the district required therefor and said reports have been filed with the board and have heretofore been and are hereby approved by the board; and

WHEREAS, the board has determined that the most economical means of acquiring and paying for the district's share of the capacity of the Russian River Project and of Stages I, II and III of the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct (all as described and provided for in said reports) is to execute a contract with Sonoma County Water Agency, containing the substance of the draft thereof heretofore discussed by the board; and the substance of said draft of said contract has been and is hereby approved by the board, subject to such changes as counsel for the district and its bond counsel shall determine to be necessary; and said draft is hereby ordered to be filed with the minutes of this meeting and available for public inspection; and the board deems it necessary to acquire and pay for said capacities, to execute said contract and to incur the liability provided for in said contract, which liability may exceed in any year of the term of said contract the income or revenue of the district for such year, and

WHEREAS, the board has determined, pursuant to law, to submit to the qualified voters of the district the measure hereinafter set forth of whether the district shall be authorized to execute said contract and to incur said liability;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District as follows:

SECTION 1. The board deems it necessary and hereby declares the necessity for the district (a) to acquire and pay for the district's share of the capacity of the Russian River Project and of Stages I, II and III of the Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct (all as described and provided for in the reports hereinabove referred to) by executing a contract with Sonoma County Water Agency containing the substance of the draft thereof hereinabove referred to and by incurring the liability provided for in said contract and (b) to submit to the qualified voters of the district the measure hereinafter set forth of whether the district shall be authorized to execute said contract and to incur said liability.

SECTION 2. A special district election (the "election") shall be held and the same is hereby called and ordered to be held in the district on Tuesday, the 2nd day of November, 1971, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the district the following measure (the "measure") to wit:

| MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT MEASURE (B) | | |
|---|---|---|
| MEASURE (B): (Contract and liability approval) Shall Marin Municipal Water District be authorized to execute a contract with Sonoma County Water Agency (containing the substance of the draft on file with the district) for acquisition, (a) by payments (now estimated to aggregate $11,500,000 plus interest thereon) over a 50 year period, of the district's share of the capacity of the proposed Russian River Project when constructed, and (b) by payments (now estimated to aggregate $23,800,000, plus interest thereon) over not to exceed 50 years, of right of use of the district's share of the capacity of Stages I, II and III of the proposed Sonoma-Marin Aqueduct from the Russian River to Petaluma; and for payment by the district of its share of maintenance and operation costs of said project and aqueduct; by which contract the district will incur liability which may exceed in any one or more years of the term of such contract the district's income or revenue for such year or years? | YES | |
| | NO | |

SECTION 3. If a majority of the votes cast at the election is in favor of the measure, then the board will be authorized to execute said contract and to incur said liability.

SECTION 4.

(a) The board does hereby submit the measure to the qualified voters of the district at the election and designates and refers to the measure as the measure to be set forth in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at the election.

(b) The election shall be held and conducted and the votes thereat canvassed and the returns thereof made and the result thereof ascertained and determined as herein provided; and in all particulars not prescribed by this resolution, the election shall be held according to the provisions of law governing elections in the district.

(c) All persons qualified to vote at municipal water district elections in the district upon the date of the election shall be qualified to vote upon the measure.

(d) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(e) The election shall be and is hereby consolidated with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held on the 2nd day of November, 1971, pursuant to the applicable provisions of the California Education Code and Elections Code. All of the territory of the district is located within the boundaries of Marin Community College District. The election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the area of the district for the election hereby called shall be the same as those selected and designated by the County Clerk of Marin County for said Marin Community College District Bond Election and to be set forth in the order designating precincts, polling places and officers of election for said Marin Community College District Bond Election, dated October 1, 1971, signed by the County Clerk of said County, and filed in his office, to which order reference is hereby specifically made for the designation of the precincts, polling places and officers of election for the election; provided, however, that no person not a qualified elector of the district shall be permitted to vote at the election. The County Clerk of Marin County is hereby authorized to canvass or cause to be canvassed the returns of the election with respect to the votes cast in the district and to certify the results to the board.

(f) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said Marin Community College District Bond Election and the election hereby consolidated therewith, which in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon shall state the measure. Data-vote punch card ballots will be used in the precincts and by absent voters at said elections. Each voter to vote for the measure shall punch the card ballot in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of the measure, and to vote against the measure shall punch the card ballot in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of the measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth the measure shall be issued to qualified electors of the district entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and shall likewise be canvassed or caused to be canvassed by the County Clerk of Marin County.

(g) The returns of the election shall be made, the votes canvassed and the results thereof ascertained and declared in accordance with the provisions of the California Education Code and Elections Code so far as may be applicable, except as otherwise provided herein.

The board shall meet forthwith after the canvass of the returns of the election by the County Clerk of Marin County and the certification of the results thereof to the board and the board shall confirm said canvass and declare the results of the election and the Secretary of the board, as soon as said result is declared, shall enter in the records of the board a statement of such results. No irregularities or informalities in conducting the election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have otherwise been fairly conducted.

SECTION 5. The Secretary of the Board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election. No other notice of the election need be given.

SECTION 6. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the Board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

RESOLUTION NO. 4741

RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF MARIN MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT RATIFYING, CONFIRMING AND READOPTING RESOLUTION NOS. 4730 AND 4731 AND RESCINDING RESOLUTION NOS. 4732 AND 4733, ALL ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 8, 1971; APPROVING SUBSTANCE OF 9/22/71 DRAFT OF CONTRACT WITH SONOMA COUNTY WATER AGENCY; AND DIRECTING PUBLICATION OF THIS RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors (the "board") of Marin Municipal Water District (the "district") heretofore on September 8, 1971, adopted (a) its Resolution No. 4730 (the "resolution") entitled "Resolution of the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District declaring the necessity for said District to execute a Contract with Sonoma County Water Agency by which the District may incur liability exceeding in any year the income or revenue for such year; calling a Special District Election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the District the measure of authorizing the execution of said Contract and incurring such liability; stating said measure; fixing the date of said election, providing for the manner of holding the same and for notice thereof; and consolidating said Special District Election with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held November 2, 1971" and (b) its Resolution No. 4731 (the "consolidating resolution") entitled "Resolution of the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District requesting the County Superintendent of Schools of Marin County to order the consolidation of a Special District Election with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held November 2, 1971, and requesting the County Clerk of Marin County to conduct and canvass said Election"; and

WHEREAS, California Statutes 1971, Chapter 771, (the "statute") was passed by the Legislature as an urgency statute, to go into immediate effect, and was thereafter signed by the Governor and became effective on September 23, 1971; and the statute authorizes and requires the election (the "election") called and provided for in the resolution; and

WHEREAS, in order to save the district the cost of holding the election separately, it was necessary to adopt the resolution and the consolidating resolution and to publish a notice concerning arguments before the statute became effective, so that arrangements could be made for consolidating the election with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held on November 2, 1971, and so that sample ballots containing the measure to be submitted at the election and arguments could be printed in time for mailing and so that official ballots for absent voters and for use at the precincts could be printed;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of Marin Municipal Water District as follows:

SECTION 1. The resolution and the consolidating resolution are hereby ratified, confirmed and readopted effective as of the date of adoption of this resolution and are hereby referred to and incorporated herein by this reference.

SECTION 2. The draft of that certain contract marked "9/22/71 Draft" (the substance of which was heretofore approved by minute order of the board entered in the minutes of the regular meeting of the board held on September 22, 1971) and entitled "Contract Between Sonoma County Water Agency and Marin Municipal Water District" is hereby approved as to substance and is hereby designated as the draft of contract referred to in the second paragraph of the recitals of the resolution and in the measure set forth in the resolution. The secretary of the board is hereby directed to file copies of said "9/22/71 Draft" with the minutes of the meeting at which this resolution is adopted and with the minutes of the meetings of the board held on September 8 and September 22, 1971, respectively.

SECTION 3. Resolution Nos. 4732 and 4733 heretofore adopted by the board on September 8, 1971, relating, respectively, to the calling of a revenue bond election in the district and to the consolidation thereof with the Marin Community College District Bond Election to be held on November 2, 1971, are hereby RESCINDED.

SECTION 4. The publication by the Secretary of the board on September 17, 1971, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL of the notice fixing Friday, September 24, 1971 as the final date for submission of arguments on the measure set forth in the resolution and the text of said notice are hereby approved and ratified.

SECTION 5. The Secretary of the board is hereby directed, upon the adoption of this resolution, to cause this resolution to be published immediately following the resolution, once each week for two weeks in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, the last publication to be made not less than two weeks prior to the date of the election.

SECTION 6. This resolution shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the board and shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 24th day of September, 1971, by the following vote:

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Poor Circulation In Feet Magnifies Trivial Injuries

Normal feet can and do take a lot of punishment. When cut or bruised rapid healing is the rule. They can be placed in hot or cold water without danger and should a blister develop from a tight shoe, recovery usually is speedy. Even a poor job of paring a callus is not necessarily serious.

BUT THE same is not true when poor circulation exists. Even a trivial injury may lead to gangrene. After 60, handle your feet with kid gloves. We emphasize these warnings because most victims of poor circulation are not bothered until they hurt a foot. I have seen hundreds of elderly men and women who date all their troubles to the time they stubbed a toe or were stepped on while riding the bus or subway.

Excessive heat also is hazardous. An example is the middle-aged diabetic with poor circulation who sprained his ankle and decided to soak it in hot water. Within 24 hours, the foot was gangrenous. Heat was the culprit; his circulation was so sluggish that the tissues could not get enough blood to deal with an ordinary increase in temperature. As a result, they burn easily. An elderly woman with an infected callus was told to soak the foot in water "as hot as she could stand." The foot was soaked and by the next day it became red, then black.

THE USE of strong chemicals to eliminate ringworm may have the same aftermath. We can be thankful that ringworm remedies are now safer for "bloodless" feet. Cleanliness is one of the best methods of preventing infection. Daily foot baths in tepid water and soap are beneficial. In addition, they keep the skin soft and doscourage corns and calluses. Nightly applications of lanolin or olive oil also have a softening effect. ing effect.

Blisters are avoided by wearing properly fitted shoes and hose. Wool hosiery is best because it acts as a cushion. Wrinkling should be guarded against and when holes appear, the hose should be thrown away, not darned. This is not an extravagance because rough spots are a common source of trouble.

(Questions on medical questions will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent Journal.)

HIS EARS POP

B. K. L. writes: My ears pop whenever I get a bad cold. Why does this happen?

REPLY

Because the swollen membranes at the back of the throat obstruct the openings of the eustachian tubes that lead to the ears. The obstruction is not complete and whenever the tubes open momentarily, air rushes in and produces the popping sound.

RETURN OF ADHESIONS

U.J.M. writes: If abdominal adhesions are removed, will they grow back again?

REPLY

They might. These adhesions are of no concern unless they tug on or pinch off the intestine.

INFANTILE UTERUS

Mrs. D. D. writes: Can a woman with a small uterus carry a baby safely?

REPLY

Yes, but women with an infantile uterus may have difficulty getting pregnant. Much depends on the menstrual history.

LIFTING AND PRESSURE

B.D. writes: Does weight-lifting cause high blood pressure?

REPLY

No, altho the pressure might go up temporarily while the person is exerting himself.

Mill Valley Firemen Fight Pair Of Blazes

Mill Valley firemen battled two structual fires last night but in both cases there was heavy damage to the buildings before the blazes were extinguished.

Firemen were first called at 7:30 p.m. to the home of Bonnie Allen at 95 Lovell Avenue, where they said the small house was completely in flames when they arrived.

The house was gutted but firemen had no estimate of the damage or the cause of the fire. Mrs. Allen was not home, they said.

At 11:10 p.m. a fire broke out in an office building at 20 Sunnyside Avenue which gutted two rooms and caused smoke and heat damage to four others.

Again, there was no estimate of damage and the cause was not known.

Injured Youth Still Critical

I-J Special Report

NAPA — More than three months after a horseback riding mishap, 19-year-old Leonard Strikker of Tamalpais Valley remained in critical condition today with head injuries in Queen of the Valley Hospital.

A hospital described Strikker's condition as "static."

Strikker, 19, of 302 Bell Lane, was thrown from a horse which then fell on him while riding June 19 on a Napa Valley ranch.

The youth has won numerous awards in horse shows in recent years.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Taxpayers' Association Says Manpower Concept Is Wrong

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The California Taxpayers' Association says an eight month study it conducted shows that current manpower programs are failing to cut the unemployment ranks because they are based on the wrong concept.

In releasing the study Thursday, the association said the biggest barrier to employment is a lack of jobs. It added that "personality disfunctions are primarily a result of, rather than a cause of unemployment."

The study said the programs, including the state Work Incentive (WIN) Program, rely heavily on the concept that people are unemployed mainly because of personal barriers such as lack of motivation, lack of child care centers and inadequate transportation.

It said programs started in the early 1960s, such as War on Poverty plans, were found to be "counter-productive and with high expectations and low yield."

The WIN program, which is 30-months-old, "appears to be no more successful than its predecessors," the Cal-Tax staff concluded.

The conclusions were based on a study of the Alameda County Welfare Deaprtment and welfare related programs.

Based upon Alameda County, the study said, the county welfare department's manpower programs have been more effective than WIN in eliminating Aid to Families with Dependent Children cases.

In 1966, it said, 453 AFDC cases were closed to the department. In 29 months, the WIN program closed only 250 cases.

Cal-Tax concluded the most effective manpower strategy would be to concentrate on the employment market and not on the unemployed.

CONSUMERS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A council of California economistssays an improvement in consumer confidence should appear fairly strong by the middle of 1972 but no major changes are expected for the rest of this year.

The Economic Advisory Council of the California Chamber of Commerce said Thursday the state's economy should show "measurable improvement" before the middle of next year if President Nixon's wage-price freeze is relaxed.

However, the council said in a prepared statement that consumer confidence will not receive a "substantial jolt" during the remainder of 1971.

It said that basic economic difficulties are "presently severe enough" that a period of consolidation will be necessary before the consumer will be in a position to significantly expand his purchases.

By the end of the second quarter of next year, most council members feel, the nation should be on the way to a good employment recovery.

The council said the wage-price freeze, combined with the 10 per cent import tax, is likely to have a slightly depressing effect on the California economy for the rest of the year.

FUNERAL REFORM

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate has concurred an Assembly amendment and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan legislation proposing a measure of funeral "reform."

The upper chamber accepted the Assembly amendments Thursday on a 28-1 vote. The bill is sponsored by Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills.

It would prohibit crematories from requiring that human remains be cremated in a casket and would require funeral directors to provide a list of prices and fees before agreeing or contracting on funeral services.

The bill also would require that prices be posted conspicuously on caskets.

PLANE NOISE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill banning the sue of aircraft within the state which exceed federal noise limits for subsonic jet transports was approved Thursday by the Senate Health and Welfare Committee.

The measure by Assemblyman John Burton, D-San Francisco, was sent to the floor of the senate on a voice vote.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on August 17, 1971, the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District duly and regularly adopt the following resolution:

RESOLUTION NO. 901

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT DECLARING THE NECESSITY FOR INCURRING A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS, STATING THE PURPOSE OF THE DEBT AND THE AMOUNT THEREOF AND FIXING THE TIME AND PLACE OF A HEARING BY THE BOARD ON THE QUESTION OF WHETHER THE WHOLE OR ONLY A PORTION OF THE DISTRICT WILL BE BENEFITED BY THE ACCOMPLISHMENT OF THE PURPOSE AND IF ONLY A PORTION OF THE DISTRICT WILL BE BENEFITED WHAT PORTION WILL BE SO BENEFITED.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Directors of North Marin County Water District in regular meeting assembled this 17th day of August, 1971, as follows:

1. This Board hereby declares that it is necessary for the District to incur an indebtedness by the issuance of general obligation bonds in order to provide water service for domestic, commercial, industrial and other beneficial uses on lands within the District.

2. The purpose for which the proposed indebtedness is to be incurred is to provide financing for the North Marin County Water District's portion of the costs incurred by Sonoma County Water Agency for importing supplemental water supplies from the Russian River to the North Marin County Water District, including all costs and estimated costs incidental to or connected with the acquisition, construction, improving and financing of said project, and including all engineering, inspection, legal and fiscal agents fees, costs of the bond election and of the issuance of said bonds and bond interest estimated to accrue during the construction period and for a period not to exceed 12 months after completion of construction.

3. The amount of the proposed debt is the sum of $1,600,000. (one million, six hundred thousand dollars).

4. This Board of Directors hereby fixes Wednesday, the 8th day of September, 1971, at the hour of 8:00 P.M., PSDT, at the offices of this District at 999 Atherton Avenue, in the City of Novato, County of Marin, State of California, as the time and place for a public hearing by this Board of Directors on the questions:

(a) Will the whole or only a portion of North Marin County Water District be benefited by the accomplishment of the aforementioned purpose?

(b) If only a portion of said District will be benefited what portion will be so benefited?

5. It is the present intention of this Board of Directors, subject to the determination to be made at said hearing, to exclude from any improvement district to be formed which describes the area to be benefited by said indebtedness all portions of North Marin County Water District located in the western part of Marin County, being those territories denominated Annexations 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, and 8 and known as Olema, Point Reyes Station, Inverness Park, Oceana Marin, and the territories of North Marin County Water District on the east shore of Tomales Bay.

6. If this Board of Directors cannot hear all interested persons desiring to be heard at the time and place aforementioned said hearing may be continued from day to day until all such persons shall be heard.

7. The Secretary of this District be, and he hereby is, authorized and directed to cause a notice of the aforementioned hearing together with a copy of this resolution to be published in the Novato Advance, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the District, for at least two weeks before the time fixed for the hearing and in the manner prescribed by law.

FURTHER NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the public hearing referred to in the foregoing resolution will be held at the time and place specified in the resolution, that is, at the hour of 8:00 P.M., PDST, on Wednesday, September 8, 1971, at the office of said District at 999 Atherton Avenue, City of Novato, County of Marin, State of California. At that time and place any person interested, including all persons owning property in the District, will be heard upon the questions stated in the resolution.

Dated: August 18, 1971

If you could convince the Soviets that you were HENRY SHAPIRO of United Press International you'd get in. But since you can't, better let Shapiro do it for you . . . and then write a dispatch which you can read in the I-J.

For more than 30 years Shapiro has been manager of UPI'S Moscow Bureau. He is the dean of Western correspondents there. His abilities, his writing and his honors are known and respected throughout the world — even by the Russians!

His assignment is perhaps the most difficult of any correspondent. He must maintain a delicate balance within a totalitarian world yet report to you, the reader, on events often unreported within the USSR itself. He must maintain accreditation yet maintain credibility with his audience for reliable reporting.

Such talents have enabled Henry Shapiro to cover every major event in the USSR since the treason trials of the Thirties, the siege of Leningrad, Stalin's death, Khrushchev's rise and fall from power, the Soviet space flights — the entire spectrum of the USSR.

When you read Shapiro's dispatches in the I-J you can be sure you are receiving authoritative information. He's your man in the Kremlin. In fact, one of the few men who comes out with the news . . . because he's "in."

NEWSMAN HURT

Prediction Comes All Too True

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Television newsman Harry Martin may think twice before again asking anyone who claims to have extrasensory perception to make a prediction about him.

Martin made such a request Wednesday while interviewing Mrs. Mary Lou Smith of Orangevale during a news show on KCRA-TV. Mrs. Smith said she has used her "powers" to help locate missing persons and help neighbors find lost articles.

Martin asked Mrs. Smith to tell him something about himself. She said she had a vision of Martin in what resembled a hospital bed with his arms and legs raised like he was in a cast.

Five hours later, Martin was involved in a three-car accident while driving home from work.

He was hospitalized with a broken ankle, cracked ribs and cuts and bruises. He is confined to a bed with his ankle in a cast and in a raised position.

Couple Injured In 3-Car Wreck

Two Novato residents have suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident at Grant Avenue and First Street, according to Novato police.

Thomas Louis Nowak, 31, of 764 Sutro Avenue, one of the drivers, suffered a cut left arm, and his passenger, Rose K. Nowak, of the same address, suffered multiple scrapes and bruises. They were treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael.

The Nowak car and a car driven by Hal Kenneth Colen, 18, of 429 Ely Boulevard, Petaluma, collided in the intersection at 6 p.m. The Colen car then struck a stopped vehicle driven by Cynthia Hope Beade, 26, of 1221 Vallejo Street, Novato, Police reported.

Board Members Charged With Stealing Liquor

The King County grand jury indictment charged all three members of the Washington State Liquor Control Board and a former board member with grand larceny, fraudulent appropriation by a public officer, and using their positions to obtain special privileges.

Basically, the charges alleged the four unlawfully and willingly appropriated liquor for their own use and for the use of their families and friends.

Accused were Liquor Board Chairman Jack C. Hood, board members Leroy M. Hittle and Donald D. Eldridge, and former board member Garland Sponburgh.

Fire Prevention Week Observations

National Fire Prevention Week — Sunday through Oct. 9 — will be observed with a series of fire safety talks in Marin County schools, the county fire chiefs association reported yesterday. Most of the stations also will hold open house hours daily, according to the association.

The Fire-O-Rama held in past years will be shelved this year due to spectator competition from the World Series and professional football games, the chiefs decided earlier this week. The major demonstration effort will be saved for Fire Prevention Day next May, they explained.

Bomb Hoax At College Of Marin

College of Marin buildings were cleared for a half hour yesterday after a college switchboard operator was told a bomb had been planted on the campus. A building-by-building search produced no bomb.

According to Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, between 1,000 and 1,500 students were evacuated at 2:30 p.m. from the buildings while sheriff's deputies hunted for the bomb.

The switchboard operator told officers she received the call at 1:30 p.m. from a male voice which warned a bomb would detonate at 2:45 p.m.

The students, who appeared to take the threat in stride, spent the half hour sprawled on campus lawns under a pleasant fall sun. Some remained outside after the "all clear" buzzer was sounded at 3 p.m.

College President John A. Grasham said nine sheriff's deputies searched campus buildings for an hour after the threat was received and before clearing the buildings as an added precautionary measure when no bomb was found.

Six Cities Win Safety Awards

The California State Auto Association has presented pedestrian safety awards to six cities at the meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen in Tiburon.

Robert W. Graver of the Marin office of CSAA and Jack Craemer, a director, made the awards to Mill Valley, San Anselmo, Larkspur, Novato, Corte Madera and Sausalito at Wednesday night's meeting.

None of the honored cities reported any pedestrian fatalities in the last year; both Mill Valley and San Anselmo had pedestrian injury rates well below the norm for cities of their size.

Larkspur was honored for avoiding pedestrian fatalities for 20 years; Sausalito for 16 years without a pedestrian death, Novato, 10 and Corte Madera, six years.

Police officials of most of the cities honored accepted the safety award placques.

Innovative Classes Slated At College

Additional information on the non-credit courses may be obtained by phoning the associated students office through the college switchboard.

First College Times Issue Hits Stands

This semester's first issue of the College of Marin Times was released yesterday as a 16-page tabloid covering a wide range of subjects.

Edited by Peter Menkin, the Times will continue this semester as a weekly publication supported by the Associated Students of the College of Marin.

The first issue devotes two pages to the drama department's summer trip to Edinburgh, Scotland; a page to drug addiction in the military (complete with a cartoon of Sgt. Smack and Easy Co. which depicts a formation of men ordered to "present arms" for an injection of heroin); a page to movie reviews and another to editorial comment.

"By count, excluding ushers, there were as many as 12 people under the age of 25 in the building," the veterans memorial article says.

While last semester's Times confined itself largely to campus issues and interests, this semester's deals with subjects of "off-campus" interest to students as well.

One column deals with dreams and invites readers to submit their own. It warns, however, that dreams are quickly forgotten and advises potential dream-writers to take a large pad and pencil to bed.

A second column deals with mental telepathy, hypnotism, faith healing, precognition, psychokinesis and witchcraft along with other exotic subjects. The column advises readers of a class in tarot, palmistry and advance astrology.

"The more people who become involved the less chance these emerging powers can be used in evil ways," the column states.

Round One On Disaster Proposal

Marin County moved a step closer yesterday toward obtaining an updated plan for coping with disasters such as the killer earthquake that hit the Los Angeles area in February.

County and city officials, together with representatives of school districts, the state disaster office, hospitals and public utilities, met in the Civic Center for review of a proposal for revising the county's 11-year-old civil defense plan.

That plan, state and county officials have said, would leave Marin unprepared to handle a major emergency. (Details of the plan were published Wednesday in the Independent-Journal)

Amid scattered concern over some aspects of the new plan, prepared by Frank E. Kirby, acting county coordinator of emergency services, the group informally agreed to turn the proposal over to Marin's 11 cities for approval in concept and signing of new mutual aid pacts.

The proposal, aimed at better disaster planning and improved mobilization of emergency services, calls for creation of an emergency operational area that would help cities in the event a municipality was unable to handle a local disaster and for establishment of control and emergency service groups that would go into action in a disaster.

Kirby told the group the state disaster office already has approved the portion of the plan outlining the county's role in dealing with an emergency in the unincorporated area. He was told, he said, the full plan is "on the right track."

One city councilman, Warren R. Perry of San Anselmo, said he found the plan "virtually overwhelming" because of its size and detail and believed it might be difficult defining clearly for government officials their areas of responsibility.

Corte Madera Mayor Holmes S. Norville, while joining with Perry in endorsing the goals of the plan, shared the San Anselman's concern, adding the proposal also failed to make clear whether municipal officials would remain in charge once outside aid were sought in an emergency.

Kirby fixed much of the blame for ambiguity on "state-mandated language," but believed there was room for modification. He also sought to assure Norville that it was the intention of the plan to protect the right of local officials to remain in charge in the event mutual aid is needed.

Samuel Butts, regional coordinator for the state disaster office, and Robert E. Spain, assistant superintendent of schools, stressed the need for coordination between city and county disaster officials and school district personnel. "I don't think there's a coordinated effort here now," Spain said.

Kirby said this would be worked on.

He also told Paul Jacobs, a representative of Marin Ecology Center, of the intention to include in the plan what steps to take in the event of an air pollution crisis.

The group agreed to meet again at 4 p.m. Dec. 2 in the Civic Center once cities formally review the plan.

She Shops While Car Is Burglarized

A woman's coat, a purse and a wallet containing credit cards were stolen from a car driven by a Novato girl while it was parked outside a San Rafael store yesterday.

Police reported that Brenda June Gray, 18, of 189 Montego Key, Novato, told them she was shopping in the Disco department store, 555 Francisco Boulevard, when the items were stolen shortly before 8 p.m.

Marin Firm Asks Oakland Bus Link

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — All-day bus service linking Marin and the East Bay has been proposed in an application by Marin Transit Systems Inc. to the Public Utilities Commission.

The Marin City-based company's application asked a permit to serve between San Anselmo and San Rafael via San Quentin to Richmond, Berkeley and Oakland. One-way fares would range from 50 cents to $1.50.

The company proposed running two buses on the service, operating midday as well as in peak commuter hours.

A PUC spokesman said that no hearing has been set yet on the application, but that the commission's staff said a hearing would be held after Nov. 1. The application indicated there may be a protest to the service, he said.

There is no competing service across the bridge, but the East Bay is served by the Alameda-Contra Costa County Transit District. Cecil J. Allen of San Anselmo operated a bus across the Richmond-San Rafael bridge for its opening in 1956 until last June, when he ceased operations for lack of business.

Allen had appealed unsuccessfully for a county subsidy to continue operations.

County Must Pay Davis, Magee Costs

If the court orders the payment of fees in the Angela Davis or Ruchell Magee cases, Marin has no choice but to cough up, even if the bills are for a pathologist from Vienna.

That, said Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell, is the unequivocal advice given him by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

Mitchell said today he therefore paid $6,000 to Richard L. Graves, attorney for Magee, for expenses incurred during July and August. This payment brings to $20,000 the total amount paid to the attorney since May of this year.

Last Tuesday, Marin County Supervisors balked at paying for a Vienna pathologist whom Graves requested. Supervisors set up a four-man audit committee to review all such bills before they are paid.

"The facts are that neither the board of supervisors nor the audit committee has the authority to dispute a legal court order requiring your auditor-controller to pay such a claim," said Mitchell.

However, he will make it a point to submit each of the bills pertaining to the Davis-Magee cases to the supervisors for information purposes.

Palestinian Arab Student Reflects On Israeli Rule

A Palestinian student at the College of Marin, target of Arab wrath as the result of an interview in the Independent-Journal, said yesterday the story didn't accurately reflect his view.

Nayef S. Jaber said the quotation attributed to him that "the tragedy for the people of Palestine came from Arab governments," was wrong. He had meant merely to say that the Arab governments didn't help the Palestinians enough and didn't help them solve problems, Jaber said.

Jaber said Palestinians in the Old City of Jerusalem are treated as "second class" citizens and are discriminated against and that the Independent-Journal erred in quoting him as saying that Arabs under Israeli rule were happy and that there wasn't any discrimination.

As to his previous comment that workers were doing better under Israeli rule, Jaber yesterday remarked, "There is more work, but that is because Israel is building housing for Jewish newcomers."

He said his comment on Syrians was misinterpreted and that he regarded them as "aggressive," not "bloody," as the story said.

The quotation that the Palestinian guerrillas "are finished" was misleading and he simply meant that the guerrillas had left Jordan, not that they were "finished completely."

He explained that he served on the Israeli police force only because he wanted to live "peacefully."

The day after the interview appeared, two angry Arabs approached Jaber and threw at him a copy of the I-J on which a threat was written in Arabic.

Underground Blast Rocks Building; 33 Hurt

PORT ANGELES, Wash. (UPI) — Thirty-three persons were injured Thursday night in an underground explosion which rocked a three-story brick building and ripped up 125 feet of sidewalk.

Fourteen persons were hospitalized at Olympic Memorial Hospital. One critically injured man was flown by Coast Guard helicopter to Seattle for further treatment.

Two others were taken to the Coast Guard infirmary here and one of them, in a state of shock, was also flown to Seattle.

Officials were investigating the possibility of a gas explosion.

Perry To Pitch Playoff Opener Against Pirates

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates will work out at Candlestick Park today by way of preparing for the National League playoffs which start Saturday, but for the San Francisco Giants, it's going to be a day of rest and reflection.

While the Pirates won the National League East easily, the Giants went down to the wire in San Diego Thursday night to nail down the N.L. West with a 5-1 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"I don't want a single man to lift a bat, throw a ball or even show up at the ball park," said Giants skipper Charlie Fox. "We've been through the wringer these last three weeks and we all can use a day away from baseball."

The Giants were about as emotionally spent as any ball club could be after winning the flag on the very last day of the season. They combined the hitting talents of old Willie Mays and young Dave Kingman and the gutty pitching of the slightly tarnished Juan Marichal to reach the playoffs opposite the Pirates.

Mays, his 40-year-old body aching from head to toe after a long and sometimes frustrating season, drove in San Francisco's first run in Thursday's climactic game with a 420-foot double, scored a run and later stole two bases.

The two thefts gave him 23 on the year, the most by a 40-year-old since Ty Cobb way back in 1927.

"Heck, I didn't even know they kept such a record," said Mays. "At this stage of my career setting records doesn't mean a thing. The only thing that counts is winning, and we won when a lot of people had written us off. To me this victory is probably the most gratifying of my career."

Kingman, a star at the University of Southern California a little more than a year ago, drilled a two-run homer, right after Mays had doubled in the fourth, and as things turned out that was all the help Marichal needed to win his fourth in a row and 18th of the year.

"I'm still not too sure what has happened," Kingman said. "It'll all sink in a little while, but I do know it feels pretty good."

Marichal probably was the happiest man in the Giants dressing room after Thursday night's victory in San Diego. He ran from player to player shaking hands and clapping people on the back but when he finally caught up to Mays the two old pros hugged each other unashamedly.

"Juan deserves a lot of credit for our winning," said Mays. "He showed what kind of a pitcher he is by winning when he had to win."

Marichal called the 1971 season, which at times seemed like the longest of his career, a most rewarding one.

"I had better years personally before," said the 32-year-old high-kicking righthander from the Dominican Republic, "But this year we won, and that's the most important thing. I won 26 games in 1968 but we finished second, so it really didn't mean much."

The Giants put Thursday night's game away in the fourth inning when they scored three times off Dave Roberts, regarded by some as the finest lefthander in the N.L. They added a pair of insurance runs off reliever Al Severinsen in the ninth on doubles by Chris Speier and Ken Henderson and a balk by Severinsen.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, defeated the Houston Astros 2-1 in their season finale and wound up still a game behind the Giants, whom they challenged for the N.L. West lead ever since Sept. 4 when San Francisco went into a nose dive after leading by 8 1-2 games.

Thursday's victory was only the eighth in the last 24 games for the Giants but it proved to be enough to win the title. The Giants had been in first place since the third game of the year and they never fell out despite losing seven in a row and 11 of 12 games from Sept. 4 through Sept. 16.

But starting on Sept. 17 Marichal won his last four starts and that proved to be the difference.

"I don't care what his record is," said Fox, "for my money Marichal is the best pitcher in baseball. He's a true professional and when all the money is on

PORTRAIT OF GIANTS

Marin Tars Host Tough Butte Team

"I hope it's out of our system," said College of Marin football coach Dick Read after his team's 36-9 defeat to College of the Redwoods last week in Eureka. "We've got to come back"

This will be no easy task, considering the Tars' Saturday opposition — Butte College of Durham — a team that averaged 160 yards running and 220 yards passing and led the Golden Valley Conference in fewest points allowed last season. Butte is ranked sixth in the latest small junior college state rankings.

Kickoff for tomorrow's game on the Kentfield gridiron will be 1 p.m.

"We don't have enough team speed," commented Read. "We're going to have to move the ball in the air." This may be the case, as Marin's leading rusher has netted only 27 yards. Kevin Peak will start at quarterback, backed up by newcomer Mike Sanderson, who tallied the only touchdown against Redwoods last week. The Tars will have two ace receivers in the persons of Mike Corder and Neal Given, who replaces Tom McGrath at split end.

"We don't have a real breakaway back," said Read, as the backfield of Bob Sutherland, Gary Agee, and Leon Delisle gained only 56 yards, in last Saturday's contest. "We've made a lot of progress," said Read about his offensive line, even though Peak and Sanderson have been sacked 10 times during their last two games. Craig Cunningham will replace guard Art Hernberger, who is suffering from the flu, while Dennis Miller returns to center.

"They have a good, balanced attack," said Read, whose problem will be to stop the Butte passing game. "Perron (Dave), and Daniele (Bob) are pretty good people," lauded Read about two Tar safetys who will share the job of pass defense with cornerbacks Tony Cassin, and Tom McGrath. As before, linebackers will be Rick Puccinelli, and Chris Fenton. Starting linemen on defense will be Frank Pomilia, Chris Chapman, Ross Gondak, Ken Blasingame and Lynn Merritt.

Redwood Vs. Drake In League Battle

Redwood High School entertains Drake High tomorrow at 1 p.m. on the Larkspur school's field in what observers consider a crucial contest for both clubs.

The host Giants and Drake both possess Marin County Athletic League football title aspirations, but a loss in the opener could hurt the vanquished's chances.

With this in mind, the clubs are approaching this early crucial reflecting great intensity. The Giants, unbeaten in two starts, admittedly can not afford to take the visiting Pirates lightly.

Coach Phil Roark's vaunted running game of the Edralin brothers, Bill and Daryl, Jay Lehman and Mike Asiano will likely receive a stern test from coach Bob Franceschini's stout defense.

The Pirates, 0-2, have shown a hard hitting defensive unit, but the Green and White offense has been slow in untracking. "If we could only get our offense in gear," Francheschini said yesterday.

The coach's attack has suffered with the loss of starting quarterback Tom MacAusland, victimized by a knee injury in last week's battle with Petaluma. The first club signal caller will see some action behind Jim Tang, according to Franceschini.

With an uncertain field general picture, the mentor will have to maximize the contributions of runners Dan Nichelini, Phil Wilkinson and Rich Bozzio.

Despite the presence of this excellent rushing trio, Franceschini stressed passing during practice this week, hoping to ease the pressure on Wilkinson, Bozzio and Nichelini.

Unlike his Drake counterpart, Roark has as his all-important field general Bob Brown available to bark signals, not to mention a stingy defense. The Joel Johnson and Dan Young-bulwarked front is tough against the run, while the secondary of Katsumi Johnson, Daryl Edralin, Greg Skinner and Mike Skinner has repeatedly proven its worth.

The lineups:

Drake (Offense) TE Steve Urban, LT Dave McPherson, LG Mark Parachini, C Tom Perry, RG Jim Dibble, RT Don Seward, SE Dan Trimble, QB Jim Tang, FLK Dave Segale, FB Rick Bozzio, HB Phil Wilkinson. (Defense) LE Steve Wilgenbush, LT Bob Guastucci, LG Seward, RG George Pederson, RT Charles Hildreth, RE Gene Gilbert, LLB Bozzio, RLB Perry, LCB Mark Euless, RCB Dave DeMoss, S Phil Wilkinson.

Terra Linda Faces Tam In Opener

Defending champion Terra Linda and Tamalpais high schools clash tonight at 8 o'clock in a Marin County Athletic League football curtain raiser on the San Rafael High School field.

The heavily favored Trojans, 2-0, will attempt to retain its crown but must first get by the developing Tam Indians. The visiting Mill Valley aggregation from Tam sports a three quarterback system of Pat Locey, Mark Dawson and Brad Bann. The latter hit on a touchdown pass in his initial appearance against victorious Skyline High of Oakland.

In addition to the signal calling trio weapon, coach Mike Davlin also looks to speedy backs Alvin Price, Craig Marshall and Clifford Hall. The hard-nosed pair hope to welcome back halfback Tom Collins, out with a dislocated arm.

Another sideline case itching to play is all-league middle guard Herb Wade, a kidney infection victim. The tough-minded junior, though only 5-foot-10 and 165 pounds, admittedly relishes contact. "The tougher it is, the better I like it,'( he said on the sidelines at the Skyline tilt last Friday.

If it is violence he wants, Wade — and his teammates — will get just that from the crisp hitting Terra Linda group. Coach Don Lucas' team, seemingly always lacking size, com-

CROSS-TOWN FOOTBALL

Novato Vs. San Marin

Novato and San Marin high schools renew their crosstown rivalry in Marin County Athletic League competition when the two meet tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Although the contest will be held on the Hornets' battleground, San Marin, 0-2, will be the host. The Novato Black and Gold, 1-1, view this tilt as vital.

The Hornets have visions of dethroning MCAL king Terra Linda, but a loss to the young Mustangs would be an almost lethal blow. Conversely, the San Marin delegation is cast in the spoiler role and would like nothing better than ruining Novato's title plans.

The Mustangs will be limping into the football contest minus defensive tackles Rick Leslie and Dan Gustafson, safety Greg Mazeres and linebacker Greg Hunter. The latter has a sprained ankle, Gustafson, a shoulder wound, Leslie, a year-ending knee injury, and the coach has a cold.

"But don't feel sorry for us," Coach Bob Martin said, "we'll survive."

To dash the Novato hopes, the 22-man squad will rely on the throwing of sophomore quarterback Hoza Wright and the bull-like thrusts of fullback Fred Doar. If the pair receive the necessary blocking support and the defense continues its hastened development, Mustang fans could be leaving the field in a joyous mood.

Yet, it is likely that the high-powered Novato offense will finally explode against the underdogs. Until now, the Hornets have been relying on a stubborn defense, featuring stickouts like linemen Pat Karinen, lanky Russ Weklych, Greg Straw. The Rennier's, John and Mike, anchor the secondary.

While the defense continues carrying its hefty weight, the offense is gradually awakening. For example, tailback Leo Magers bolted 64-yards for the game's lone touchdown against

A's Must Stop O's Momentum

BALTIMORE (UPI)—If experience and momentum mean anything, the Baltimore Orioles should beat the Oakland A's in the American League Championship Series which begins here Saturday.

The Birds blitz into the playoffs riding an eleven-game winning streak, just as they did last year. Then Baltimore went on to take the playoffs in three games over Minnesota and the world series over Cincinnati in five.

Oakland was 6-5 the last 11 games of the season. The Orioles racked up 74 runs during that stretch. Oakland managed 43, being held to less than three runs in five of them and getting shut out twice.

"Don't mean a thing," snapped Oriole skipper Earl Weaver. "What you did yesterday has no bearing on today's game."

Golden Glove Third Baseman Brooks Robinson agrees:

"In the end you've got to win it on the field. Still, I gotta like the way we're playing right now."

Those who believe in omens can't disregard the winning streak, however. The Birds did it last year and won the world series. In 1969, they won only five of their last 14 games and the Mets took the series in five games.

Both clubs finished the season with 101 wins. Baltimore had three fewer losses to achieve the best percentage in baseball this year. It's the third season in a row the Birds have won 100 or more games. A record matched by only two other clubs in history.

This year, the A's achieved the team's highest victory total since the old Philadelphia Athletics won 107 in 1931.

"I think our clubs are on about a par," said A's leader Dick Williams, whose team flew into town Thursday night.

"The series with Oakland will be evenly matched," echoed weaver, who thinks the shoddy condition of the field will give his team the advantage the first two games.

"We have the better defense and faster hands," he explained.

Two muddy football games churned up the turf and three Oriole home games this week gave it little respite.

Vida Blue (24-8) starts for Oakland Saturday. He has had only a 7-5 record since the allstar break, but allowed the Orioles only one run in 18 innings this year. And, he held Milwaukee to three hits and no runs during his last win.

"He's throwing more breaking stuff now and looks very good," Williams said.

Dave McNally (21-5), one of Weaver's four 20-game winners, starts for Baltimore. He tossed a few pitches Thursday to test the arm which had him on the disabled list for three weeks early this season.

Mike Cuellar is scheduled to go against Jim Hunter on Sunday. Jim Palmer will take on Chuck Dobson when the series resumes in Oakland Tuesday.

The Orioles took the season series with Oakland 7-4, including the last five in a row. A rainout, one of 18 for the Orioles this year, was never made up.

Williams doesn't seem nervous about the fact that he plays the first two games on the road. "We set an American League record with 55 wins on the road," he said.

This will be Oakland's first playoff appearance while the Birds are going for their third straight title and their fourth world series appearance in six years.

Ali Is Trying For Bout With Mathis

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK — Muhammad Ali hopes to continue to wage his one-man battle against the heavyweight division on Nov. 17 in a 12-round bout in Houston's Astrodome against idle, overweight Buster Mathis.

Mathis has not fought since losing a 12-round decision to Jerry Quarry, one of the three ranking fighters he ever met, in March, 1969 in Madison Square Garden. However, the 27-year-old fighter has been training ever since the loss in case the opportunity came along to fight again.

In his other two bouts against ranking fighters, the bulky, but fast Mathis was stopped in 11 rounds by Joe Frazier in 1968 and won a decision over George Chuvalo in 1969. Aside from the losses to Frazier and Quarry, Mathis has 29 victories.

Tennis

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Billie Jean King, Rosemary Casals and Francoise Durr easily won their matches Thursday in the rain-delayed $18,000 Virginia Slims Thunderbird Tennis tournament.

Mrs. King, who needs only $2,000 to become the first woman athlete to earn more than $100,000 in a year, defeated Lita Liem of Indonesia 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Casals defeated Nancy Ornstein of Washington 6-0, 6-3, in the first round, then came to oust Kerry Harris of Australia 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Durr of France defeated Sally Holdsworth of England 6-0, 6-1. In the second round Miss Durr ousted Wendy Gilchrist of Australia by default.

Football

PHILADELPHIA — Jim Skaggs, veteran guard who suffered a strained knee ligament in training camp and has been on the inactive list, was activated Thursday by the Philadelphia Eagles for Sunday's game against the San Francisco 49ers.

Baseball

PHILADELPHIA — Larry Bowa, the Philadelphia Phillies shortstop, set a major league record Thursday when he finished the season with a .987 fielding mark and only 11 errors.

Bowa, 26, in his second year with the Phils, broke Ernie Banks major league mark of .985 with 12 errors set in 1959.

Bowa handled 843 chances in 158 games. He finished above Leo Cardenas of the Minnesota Twins who set the American League record Thursday by finishing the season with a .985 fielding mark with 11 errors in 153 games while handling 722 chances.

BOCCABELLA HITS HOMER

San Anselmo's John Boccabella homered and hit a sacrifice fly to plate two runs while his Montreal Expo teammates downed the visting Chicago Cubs yesterday 5-3 in the season finale for both clubs.

It was the third home run for the right-handed hitting catcher and alumnus of Marin Catholic High School.

Simpson May Fill In For Injured Taylor

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mike Simpson, a 9.4 sprinter from the University of Houston, is being groomed to fill in for cornerback Bruce Taylor of the San Francisco 49ers against Philadelphia Sunday.

Taylor, 1970 rookie of the year in the National Football Conference, is limping because of several sharp blows in the legs he sustained against New Orleans last week, that caused some internal bleeding.

Last year Simpson was invited to try out with the 49ers after being cut by the San Diego Chargers and he won a backup job in the 49ers secondary.

San Francisco coach Dick Nolan also announced that veteran tackle Charlie Krueger would start ahead of Stan Hindman at defensive tackle against the Eagles. Vic Washington and Ken Willard will be the running backs with Ted Kwalick at tight end.

Nolan said Taylor would make the trip to Philadelphia with the team and may even start if his injury improves. Taylor noted that he expects a large gathering of friends and relatives from his hometown of Perth Amboy, N.J., to be at the game.

Wild Time In Washington For Senators' Last Game

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Faced with the loss of their team to Texas after 71 years in the major leagues, the last loyal fans of the Washington Senators never got to see the final out.

American League baseball in the nation's capital came to an end Thursday night in the turmoil of a forfeited game to the New York Yankees in the ninth inning when several thousand fans streamed out of the stands onto the field preventing completion of the farewell game that was one putout away from a 7-5 victory for the Senators.

The crowd eruption sent players of both teams streaking for their dressing rooms and after a three-minute wait, head umpire John Odom declared the game forfeited to the Yankees with the score automatically becoming 9-0.

There were six arrests for disorderly conduct.

Until that point however, a turnout of 14,460 had paid valedictory to their team with big league class. An estimated 4,000 others crashed the gate after the fifth inning, a club official said.

The emotional high point came in the sixth inning when Frank Howard drilled the last of his 237 home runs in a Washington uniform to touch off a four-run Senator rally that tied the game.

He had been given a standing, cheering ovation on his previous two times at bat when he walked and failed to get the ball out of the infield.

The third time the crowd exploded to its feet in a roar as soon as the ball left his bat. He circled the bases in a tumult of sound and as he neared the dugout, Howard swept off his batting helmet in appreciation.

"Hondo, Hondo, Hondo," the throng chanted. "Hondo, Hondo, Hondo."

With play held up, the huge hero finally emerged from the dugout to doff his helmet again to the fans and skim it into the stands as a souvenir.

It wasn't enough for the frustrated spectators. They continued their foot-stomping and applause undiminished and the 6-foot-7 Howard was pushed from the dugout by his teammates, swabbing himself with a towel. Abeam with pride, the Giant first baseman raised his arms aloft in response and threw a kiss to his admirers.

Nor was the demonstrativeness of the farewell crowd confined to Howard. Every player in the opening line-up drew applause and cheers and when former starting catcher Paul Casanova came up to pinch-hit in the fifth inning, carrying with him a .203 batting average, he was awarded a standing ovation.

The fans came to the last game in an emotionally charged mood. The playing field was littered with confetti. They festooned the premises with banners berating owner Bob Short for moving the franchise.

One hand-painted banner read: "Nats to Texas—Bob Short to hell." Two of the fourletter variety were undraped during the game and hauled down by stadium police. Two streamers were unfurled from the right field upper stands— reading "Short Stinks."

They vanished for an inning and then a smaller one appeared. It said: "Short Still Stinks."

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Special features you'll enjoy:

One week from today the first Marin County Fair ever to be held on the new fairgrounds at the Marin Civic Center will open its gates for a four-day run. To salute that history-making event tomorrow's issue of the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine will be a fair-oriented edition. For instance there will be a story about the "miracle" in landscaping that transformed what was once virtually barren "desert" into a lush setting with trees and grass for the big event.

While next weekend's Marin County Fair is a groundbreaking event, it is at the same time a continuation of a long-standing tradition. Marinites have always enjoyed and staged colorful fairs, fiestas and festivals. And it is in these celebrations that the new county fair has its roots. Dorothy Gardiner has written a history of festivals and fiestas in Marin that goes will back into the 19th Century. And it, too, will be featured in your I-J supplement tomorrow.

FISH AND GAME

It's Not Easy To Find A Buck

By AL GIDDINGS

WEBBER LAKE — Here it is Tuesday evening, and not a buck hanging in our camp in this hunting area near Truckee. We've got quite a hunting party. Everyone started out the first morning with high spirits. At the end of the day, the final tally was "no bucks," but Domingo Grossi of Inverness said he saw one — a small fork — that he said he just couldn't take home — it was too small.

Al Bacon of Monterey said he saw two that were too small; Ken Walker of Woodacre also said he saw one — too small also. Lee Richardson of Inverness missed one, spoiling his record of getting his buck on the first day for the past three years.

MARY AND I? We saw just one doe between us. Back in camp that first evening, everyone questioned what each group saw during the hunt for the day. When I said we saw five bucks, but didn't try for four and missed the other, they just raised their eyebrows, but said nothing. Two state game wardens passing through said they had checked eight bucks all day.

On Sunday we had a pretty good snow storm. By noon, the mountains were empty of hunters. I guess we had two or three inches of snow, but with the wind howling at 35 mph, all the camp-out hunters pulled out. We went to Reno for the day — that was a disaster for me!

ON THE WAY home, Domingo found a $5 chip in his pocket, so back we went to cash it. Monday Domingo left his tags at the cabin. He thinks he's hunting the ranch at Inverness! But I guess he'll make it. His wife Edith has been holding up pretty well. She has managed to survive the cold and the outhouse; but this morning Lee Richardson had some pine grubs for fishing. When she questioned him about these, he said when roasted they look and taste just like peanuts. She had her hat on the last I saw her!

We hunted Monday on one of the higher peaks of the area, and saw about 15 does. Tuesday Lee Richardson missed two bucks. So far neither Mary or I have seen a horn, but that's buck hunting. We lost Domingo for awhile; somehow he got back to camp before we did. He then got worried, but couldn't find the keys to his truck, so took Lee's car to look for us. Of course Lee had drained the radiator to prevent a freeze. We caught Domingo just in time only about a half mile from camp. The car was still cool.

Pushing for bucks each day up to now hasn't given us any fishing time. I think we'll call a fishing holiday. Everyone needs some leg rest, and a day to cool those hiking blisters.

KEEPING YOU up to date on ducks:

Six state and federal waterfowl areas will have deferred openings this year because of late crop harvests, the Department of Fish and Game announced.

The DFG also announced that applications for reservations to hunt the areas during the first half of the season have been shipped to license agents and should be available to sportsmen this week.

THE OTHER nine state and federal areas on which hunting is managed by the DFG will open on the opening date of the waterfowl season for their respective season zone.

Scheduled to open Oct. 9 are the state's Honey Lake and Imperial Wildlife areas and the federal Salton Sea refuge. One week later, Oct. 16, the state's Grizzly Island, Volta, Los Banos and Mendota wildlife areas and the federal San Luis and Kesterson national wildlife refuges will open.

The remaining areas will open on Oct. 30 — the state's Gray Lodge Wildlife Area and the Sacramento, Delevan, Colusa, Sutter and Merced national wildlife refuges.

Curtis To Start As Cal Receiver

BERKELEY (UPI) —Isaac Curtis, a 9.3 speedster, was tabbed Thursday to start at wide receiver for the California Bears at Ohio State Saturday.

Curtis, who normally is a running back and occasional passer, replaces Geoff DeLapp who will miss the game at Columbus with a knee strain.

Bears coach Ray Willsey also announced that two starters have come off the injured list and will play against the Buckeyes. They are tight end Bill Stowers and offensive right tackle Mike Vincent. Both missed last week's game against San Jose State with dislocated toes.

Dickey Trying Out As Punter

OAKLAND (UPI) —Eldridge Dickey may be the punter for the Oakland Raiders in Monday night's televised game with the Cleveland Browns.

Mike Eischeid, the regular punter, has a muscle strain above his right (kicking) knee and has missed a couple of days of practice this week. He also visited his expectant wife in Orange City, Iowa.

CAINS TIRE

WANTS YOU TO KNOW ABOUT TIRE MILEAGE GUARANTEES

Most of them are come on Gimmicks set up to help sell a tire easier. Where's the gimmick? It's really simple - Let's say a firm guarantees a tire to you for 40,000 miles & charges you $40.00 for the tires. Let's say you wore the tire out in 15,000 miles or 25,000 miles short of the guarantee.

If the guarantee were legitimate a new tire should cost you 15.20 or 38% of $40.00, because you only got 38% of the mileage you were guaranteed. Hope you can stay with me on this because it's even boring me & I'm writing it - But it's important. If you read most of your mileage guarantees you find that you are allowed only a set percentage off or a flat dollar discount, usually about 10 to 20% or $5 to $8 regardless of how fast the tread wear. In other words, when you buy the tire you are guaranteed nothing except a 10% discount when you buy the next set - regardless of how little mileage you receive.

Folks there are a few real mileage guarantees.

A few I know of are offered by Michelin - B.F. Goodrich on their radial only - Sears - on their radial only, Toyo on their radial only. Now Cains is offering a Glas-Belted tire with a legitimate 30,000 mile tread wear guarantee with NO NONSENSE - We call the tire the Prowler and it's made by the originator of Glas-Belted tires.

HOW DOES MY GUARANTEE WORK?

VERY SIMPLE & VERY HONEST. My tire is going to cost you $1.35 per 1,000 miles to drive regardless of why the tire fails including wearing out. Example: you buy a PROWLER GLAS-BELT and wear it out in 16,000 miles, a replacement costs $1.35 x 16,000 = $21.60 - total adjusted price. Should you break a tire say in 5,000 miles your replacement costs 1.35 x 5,000 = $6.75 total adjusted price. If anything can be more fair and more honest than this I'd like to hear about it.

HERE'S HOW MUCH THEY COST

| SIZE | REPLACES | COST | EX. TAX |
|---|---|---|---|
| 650-13 | 650-13 | 30.00 | 1.77 |
| E78-14 | 735-14 | 34.00 | 2.37 |

JACK HANLEY

A Long Stay In First Place

SAN DIEGO — During the dramatic down-to-the-wire race of the Giants and Dodgers for the division flag in the National League West, there were moments of elation and depression in both enemy camps that prompted spontaneous statements which should be remembered.

When just one game separated the Giants and Dodgers as they entered their final three-game series in San Diego and Los Angeles, Billy Grabarkewitz quipped:

"HOW LONG has it been since a team was in first place for 161 games and second place for one?"

The little Dodger didn't have his facts quite right — but almost. The Giants went into first place April 12 after the seventh game of the 162-game campaign.

"Think of it as money," said Dick Dietz when he belted a grand slam homer in Game No. 159 at Cincinnati to maintain the one game lead of the Giants.

"MAYBE," ADDED Dietz, "I should wear the bandage all the time."

The Giant catcher referred to the head bandage that became necessary after he was beaned by a fast ball in Game 154 at Houston.

"I take no particular pleasure in beating the Giants," said George Foster after the ex-Giant hit his first career grand slam against them in Game 150 at Candlestick Park. "I wish them well except when they play us."

THE GIANTS played Foster and his new Cincinnati teammates again Games 157-158-159 at Riverfront Stadium. Foster again hit homers, a couple of solo shots, and he said:

"It's affecting them and it's affecting me. I feel pressure on me. If there's a close play that involves me I feel I have to make it. I have to play extra hard. I don't want anyone feeling that I helped them.

"It's really affecting a lot of guys over there. They can't eat and they're losing weight. I look at Bobby Bonds and it's like looking at my brother suffering."

BONDS AND Foster were roomies before Foster was traded to the Reds during Memorial Day weekend when the Giants were out in front by 10-½ games.

"We got the big lead," said Bonds, "and we tried to sit on it. The only help you get in a race like this is from yourself. I think we found that out."

Then, just before the final series with the Padres, Alan Gallagher had this to say:

"We had a meeting and decided we didn't want any part of backing in."

Mrs. Gondak Wins Again

Mrs. Charles Gondak won the Marin Country Club championship with a 249 yesterday, 16 strokes better than runnerup Mrs. Earl Isaac. It was her fourth title in the last six years.

Mrs. R. D. Warrington captured low net honors with a 230. Mrs. A. L. Schallock won the first flight with a 279; Mrs. C. R. Johnson took the second flight with a 302; and Mrs. T. T. Altermatt secured the third flight victory, posting a 300.

Roth To Join Goldstein Firm

Hadden W. Roth, former Marin Municipal Court judge, will join the firm of another former judge, Alvin H. Goldstein Jr., on Monday, he said yesterday.

The firm, named Goldstein, Roth, Kopp and Skinner, has offices in Holiday Plaza in Northgate.

Roth, who resigned last year from the bench, has been with the San Rafael firm of Bagley, Bianchi and Sheeks for the past several months.

Other partners in his new firm, which handles a general law practice, are David Skinner and Quentin Kopp.

Two Changes In Stanford Lineup

STANFORD (UPI) —Coach John Ralston of Stanford has announced two changes in his starting lineup Saturday against Duke at Stanford Stadium.

Jim Kehl will open at fullback in place of Hillary Shockley who is nursing a sore ankle, and John Ferguson, a 215-pound sophomore, will take over for 235-pound Roger Cowan at defensive tackle.

"Cowan was in the hospital and missed drills all this week because of a virus infection," said Ralston. "So Ferguson will get a chance at strong tackle."

Jackie Brown is the other running back. Don Bunce, as usual, will be the quarterback with John Winesberry on the flank.

Redwood Runners Defeat San Marin

Redwood High School yesterday defeated San Marin High School 18-45 in a varsity cross country meet on the winner's three-mile course at Phoenix Lake.

Mike Killeen and Eric Moller, both Redwood runners, tied for first at 15:58.6 while San Marin's Gary Lathrop took third with a 16:16 clocking.

the line I'll take my chances on the pro."

Steve Blass, who posted a 158 record for Pittsburgh during the regular season, has drawn the pitching assignment on Saturday for the start of the best-of-five N.L. championship playoffs. Gaylord Perry, who posted a big victory on Tuesday night, will pitch for the Giants. Gaylord had a 16-12 record in the regular campaign. Gametime is 1 p.m.

In the second playoff game on Sunday, also to be played in Candlestick Park, Dock Ellis (19-9) will pitch for the Pirates and John Cumberland (9-6) will go for the Giants. Monday is an off day and the playoffs will resume on Tuesday in Pittsburgh when Marichal will pitch against an as yet unnamed opponent. Danny Murtaugh, the Pittsburgh manager, hasn't made up his mind for sure but it could be Nelson Briles, who posted three complete game victories at the end of the season.

The Giants will go into the playoffs with Bobby Bonds more than likely on the shelf. Bobby, who led the Giants in homers (32) and runs batted in (102), did not play Thursday because of a pulled side muscle. Kingman replaced him in right field, and turned out to be a more than adequate fillin.

Fox, who won a title in his first full season as a big league skipper, said it seemed appropriate that someone such as Kingman helped win the title clincher.

"We've been hit by injuries all year long," said Fox, "but someone always bounced off the bench to play well and keep us from falling apart.

"That's been our big key to success, and we hope to carry it a couple of steps farther. Don't bet we won't. We're that kind of a ball club."

No Triples For Yaz

BOSTON (UPI) —Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox won the 1970 American League slugging title for the third time in six years. The hard-hitting Yaz had 40 homers and 29 doubles but no triples among his 186 hits.

DOWNTOWN S.F. CALM AFTER WIN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Downtown San Francisco took the Giants' victory Thursday night in the National League West with sophisticated calm.

"It's nice," said John August, doorman at the St. Francis Hotel on Union Square. "But they've still got the playoffs with Pittsburgh before they can even get into the World Series."

The square was mostly deserted at 10 p.m. when the Giants made the last out at San Diego against the Padres, winning the division pennant by one game from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

There was not one automobile horn blowing and no screeching of whistles, although there were a few additional clangs of the cable car bells.

A neatly-dressed man, hanging to the side of such a car, remarked: "It just isn't like 1962 when the Giants won the whole National League."

Fred Butler, clerk in a night-hours grocery, declared the division pennant made him "very happy" because he won a "bundle" on it. But Butler is an Oakland Athletics fan and his season begins and ends with A's ace pitcher Vida Blue, emotionally.

Marin 'Cats Vs. Newman Footballers

Marin Catholic High School will attempt to notch its second successive victory over a Santa Rosa football team when it invades Cardinal Newman High tomorrow evening at 8:15.

The Wildcats, 1-2, will have no easy task against an aggregation which has gone undefeated since 1969. However, the visitors are not at a loss with the running of fullback Pat Parnow and the throwing of quarterback Steve Sherry.

Parnow, the Wildcat workhorse, collected three touchdowns against Piner last week and is hoping to equal the achievement this time out.

The lineup: Marin Catholic (offense) LE John Shallich, LT Jim Shallich. LG Tim Huber, C John Iavarone, RG Gino Pamilia, RT Paul Riccardi, RE Jack Stahl, QB Steve Sherry, HB Rick Cervisi, FB Pat Parnow, FLK Russ Knudson. (Defense) LE Jim Fillippi, LT Iavarone, LG Jim Shallich, RG Roger Slingsby, RT Steve Vanni, RE Stahl, LLB Pamilia, RLB Riccardi, LHB Cervisi, RHB Ben Partee, S Knudson.

He hopes to make a repeat performance, but Magers wants company in the end zone. Thus, the shifty back would welcome touchdown passes from All-League quarterback Marty Moroski, the return of injured running back Stan Conti and the continued fine play of receivers Charley Chung and Joe Powell, a 10.1 sprinter. However, Conti was ruled out at the last minute.

While San Marin would have to go a long way to match Powell's speed, the Mustangs are the Novato equals in enthusiasm.

REDWOOD TENNIS

Lutz Upsets Jan Kodes

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia is paying the price for beating Bob Lutz of Los Angeles in the U.S. Open at Forest Hills a month ago.

The unranked Lutz boomed an accurate first serve on both sides of Kodes and kept the Czechoslovakian off balance with well-placed volleys Thursday while upsetting the fifth-seeded foreigner 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. That put Lutz in the quarterfinals of the $50,000 Redwood Bank International Open tennis tournament against top-seeded Rod Laver today.

After bowing to Kodes at the U.S. Open, Lutz beat the Czechoslovakian 6-2, 6-1 in the finals of the Central California National Hardcourt championships a week later in Sacramento.

In other matches today at the Berkeley Tennis Club, Arthur Ashe met Cliff Drysdale and Ken Rosewall tackled Marty Riessen. At a noon match at the Golden Gateway in San Francisco, Tom Okker of the Netherlands went against Texan Cliff Richey.

Ashe, the sixth seed, had a rough afternoon Thursday as he was taken to a pair of tiebreakers by Rhodesian Andrew Pattison before advancing 7-6, 7-6 in a second-round match that was postponed by rain Wednesday. Then Ashe went three sets before eliminating Chile's Jaime Fillol 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Laver also was extended to three sets in defeating fellow Australian Roy Emerson 6-7, 6-4, 6-0.

Drysdale, seeded second, had to scramble for a 6-7, 6-3, 6-3 victory over Colin Dibley of Australia in another makeup match from Wednesday. Then Drysdale went on to eliminate Niki Pilic of Yugoslavia 7-5, 6-2.

In other matches, Marty Riessen downed Robert Maud of South Africa 6-3, 2-6, 6-4 while Richey defeated South African Ray Moore 4-6, 6-2, 6-1; third-seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands ousted Ray Ruffles of Australia 6-4, 7-6 and Australia's Ken Rosewall defeated Andres Gimeno of Spain 7-5, 6-3.

San Rafael Bulldogs In Sunnyvale

San Rafael High School visits Homestead High in Sunnyvale tonight at 8 o'clock in a non-league football encounter.

The invading Bulldogs, 2-0, will show Peninsula fans a vaunted running game featuring All-Marin County Athletic League plus quarterback Dirk Gansloser, fullback Mark Farrar and wingback Dave Urquhart.

This quartet claimed 379 yards rushing against Montgomery High of Santa Rosa last Saturday night in a stunning 51-15 massacre over the Sonoma County team.

Coach Bob Muster predicted a much tougher contest this time out, noting "they're big and strong and come right at you."

In informing his team in what to look for, Muster said, "We'll have to stop their running game. They run hard."

The lineups:

San Rafael (Offense) LE Duke Bessee, LT John Lechner, LG Kevin Henderson, C Mart St. Gaudns, RG Dirk Correnti, RT Larry Simelink, RE Chris Valentino, Q B Dirk Gansloser, LHB Scott Duncan, RHB Dave Urquhart, FB Mark Farrar. (Defense) LE Bessee, LT Bill Lechner, LG Mike Sinclair, RG John Lechner, RT Henderson, RE Valentino, MLB Mike Cook, LHB Jim Grigg, RHB Craig Bacharach, LS Duncan, RS Urquhart.

Home Run Champ Melton Surprised

CHICAGO (UPI)—Because he had no goals, Bill Melton of the Chicago White Sox had to be surprised when he wound up as the American League's home run champion.

Melton tagged a fast ball thrown by Bill Parsons Thursday for his 33rd homer of the season, his third in 18 hours in a comeback which moved him one ahead of both Norm Cash of Detroit and Reggie Jackson of Oakland in the final countdown.

"I didn't set any goals when the season started," Melton said. "If I had, I don't know what they would have been. But 33 home runs feels good."

It was the second straight season in which Melton, playing his third year in the major leagues wound up with 33 homers.

His 1970 performance set a White Sox record, which he equalled this year and his home run Thursday gave the Sox a tie with the team record set in 1961 of 138 home runs.

THIS WEEK'S BUSINESS

Kaiser Declares Quarterly Dividend

Directors of Kaiser Cement and Gypsum Corp., Oakland have declared the regular quarterly dividends on common, preferred and preference stocks, which will be paid Oct. 30 to share owners on record Oct. 14.

Meanwhile, Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. has dropped its quarterly dividend 50 per cent to 12.5 cents per share, as a result of "depressed prices" in the aluminum industry and the company's lower earnings.

GOLDEN WEST FINANCIAL CORP. has received final approval from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to acquire Santa Cruz Savings and Loan Association and add to its wholly owned subsidiary, Golden West Savings and Loan Association. Consummation of the transaction is scheduled for Oct. 8.

DAI-ICHI BANK AND DAI-ICHI BANK of Japan will merge and the resulting bank will be known as the Dai-Ichi Kangyo Bank, with more than $12 billion in assets and 281 branch offices. The merger is a move to strengthen Japan's international competitive position in financial operations. Additional bank mergers in Japan are being anticipated as a means of reorganizing that country's banking industry and coping with world competition.

STANDARD BRANDS PAINT CO., which announced plans this year to open a store in San Rafael, may increase the company's authorized capitalization and declare a stock split at its directors meeting on Nov. 17. Meanwhile the regular quarterly cash dividend of 10 cents per share will be paid to shareholders on Nov. 5.

GENERAL EXPLORATION CO. has agreed to sell its Homewood Investment Co., owner of Kingswood Village Condominiums at Lake Tahoe to the Osmundsen Co., San Francisco, in order to strengthen its cash position.

SYNTEX CORP. of Palo Alto has announced net sales of $103.2 million for the fiscal year ended July 31. This compares with $89.5 million for the prior year. Net income was $22.1 million or $2.30 per share, compared with $12.2 million or $1.28 per share on a slightly smaller number of shares a year ago.

DAYLIN, INC., parent company of Disco Wonderworld Discount Stores, will acquire Floyds Discount Department Stores, an eight-store discount chain in the New York City area. Disco Wonderworld currently operates five department stores in California, two of which are in Marin. Daylin is a drug oriented, diversified retailer operating in over 500 locations in 38 states.

TIBURON VINTNERS, INC. showed net profits of $239,186, prior to extraordinary items, on sales of $3,488,658 for the fiscal year ended July 31. This compares with earnings of $89,779 on sales of $1,933,961 a year ago. Earnings of 44 cents per share reflected an increase of 52 per cent over the 29 cents last year on a fewer number of shares. This was the company's first annual earnings report issued since it became publicly owned a year ago.

WESTERN AIRLINES has ordered four McDonnell Douglas DC-10 aircraft which had been on option to American Airlines contingent upon successful consummation of a merger between American and Western. The merger is now pending before the Civil Aeronautics Board. Western will acquire the four aircraft from McDonnell Douglas if the merger is not completed. Delivery is scheduled for 1973.

FILM CORP. OF AMERICA, said to be the nation's largest mail order film processing firm, reported sales of $18.9 million for the six months ended Aug. 31 — up 23 per cent from last year's period.

Plantronics In Record Quarter

SANTA CRUZ (BW) — Pacific Plantronics Inc. has said its record net income for the first quarter of fiscal 1971 more than doubled profits from a year earlier.

The company earned $334,533, or 45 cents a share, for the three-month period against $154,242, or 21 cents a share, for the comparable quarter last year.

The voice and data communications equipment manufacturer's sales for the first quarter rose 25 per cent to $2,833,237 from $2,262,245 a year ago.

Both earnings and revenues for 1971's initial three months were the highest of any quarter in company history.

The Market Closes On A Strong Note

NEW YORK (UPI) —Stocks closed on a strong note in moderate trading today.

Much of the gain was attributed to bargain hunting, but many analysts commented there was little reason to believe today's gain was the start of a sustained advance in view of the many uncertainties that lie ahead.

Shortly before the final bell, the Dow Jones industrial average was up 6.79 at 893.98. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.56 at 98.90, and advances topped declines, 879 to 506.

Among the items overhanging the market were uncertainty about Phase Two of President Nixon's economic program, world monetary confusion, and a spreading longshoremen's strike which could close all the nation's sea ports.

Electronics, motors and oils showed scattered strength, while steels, chemicals, rails, airlines and aircrafts generally traded over narrow ranges.

Among the stocks on the most active list were Caterpillar Tractor, Pittston, Goodyear Tire, National Steel, International Telephone, Texaco, RCA and Pan American World Airways.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Restaurant Chain Earnings Are Up

NEWPORT BEACH, (BW) — Colony Kitchens Inc., restaurant chain based here and operating in four states, has reported earnings of 35 cents a share on 625,684 shares for the fiscal year ended June 30, compared with 28 cents on 572,472 shares the year before, a gain of 25 per cent.

Net sales were $8,475,578 against $6,403,321 in 1970, up 32.4 per cent. Earnings after taxes were $215,615 compared with $158,365, an increase of 36 per cent.

UP, UP AND AWAY. . .

The Oakland City Hall provides a dramatic backdrop for this giant twin-jet helicopter as it lifts the 4,700-pound, 300-square-feet-of-surface "B" portion of the United California Bank sign to its cloud-piercing position atop the bank building in downtown Oakland, about 300 feet above the ground.

New Rates For New Bumpers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Automobile Association says it will cut collision insurance premiums by 20 per cent for new cars with bumpers prescribed in a new state law.

The law requires that cars built after Jan. 1, 1973, and sold in this state be equipped with energy-absorbing devices so they can strike a barrier at five miles an hour without being damaged.

Richard Patton, vice president-general manager of the CSAA Inter Insurance Bureau, said Monday that the "average California motorists . . . should realize an annual saving of about $20 on his collision premium costs and saving for some car may range as high as $40."

Slots For Top Execs Opening Up

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Improving with the market and the economic recovery are openings for job-seeking executives, especially those with financial backgrounds, says California Business, the Western financial newsweekly.

Executive search offices in California report, though, most corporations with an opening in upper management are moving slowly and cautiously in hopes of matching the right man with the right job.

And while salaries haven't increased since the job market slump for executives over the past two years, titles have grown longer and fancier.

Most executive recruiting outfits say their billings are up over a year ago but the degree of enthusiasm varies from mild optimism to the comment of Robert Randolph, vice president of Howard Associates, San Francisco: "Jobs for top executives have definitely opened up, and it looks like pre-1969 days, again."

Most of the "headhunters" agree with Dr. Jean Kerrick, psychologist at Frederick Chusid & Co.'s Los Angeles office, who says "It's definitely still a buyer's market."

"The job pick-up isn't so much with the top levels as it is with staff positions and junior management areas," adds Jerry Brooks, account manager at Financial Search Associates, Los Angeles.

"It seems right now the demand is for corporate Indians, with chiefs to come later," Brooks added.

A large number of executives were bumped from well-paid top management positions with the market and economic squeeze of 1969-70.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Slick's Outlook Isn't Very Slick

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We own shares of Slick Corp. (ASE) which we bought at $29.90 a share. We have been thinking about selling this and investing in American Electric Power or Extendicare. What do you think? — F.W.

A. Primarily involved in the chemical and pollution control fields, Slick has been experiencing operating difficulties for some time. Since the latter part of 1969 both sales and earnings have moved decidedly lower. After reporting a deficit in the final quarter of 1970, Slick earned 7 cents a share for the first half of fiscal 1971 versus 15 cents in the like year earlier interim. Sales increased marginally during the period. Slick's near-term outlook is uninspiring and shares should be liquidated.

Since you did not state your investment goals, I can only give you information on the fundamental merits of each issue. American Electric Power (NYSE) is a moderate growth and high income issue, sporting a 6.3 per cent yield. The firm is one of the best of the utility holding companies; its subsidiaries serve an extremely high-industrialized area, mainly in the Midwest. American Electric has compiled an outstanding record of sales and earnings growth. And, selling at only 11x this year's anticipated net, shares are attractive for long-term, conservative investors.

Extendicare (NYSE), operator of nursing centers, hospitals and mobile home parks, also has an impressive growth record, chalking up good sales and earnings gains in each of the past four years. Quoted at roughly 31x 1971's estimated earnings, stock is best suited to the more speculative investor. Extendicare pays no cash dividend. While you have selected two issues with investment merit, the final choise is dependent on your personal investment aims.

Q. Could you publish the name and address of a firm which gives information on stocks that are worthless or obsolete? — B.F.

A. Gladly. R. M. Smythe & Co., 170 Broadway, N.Y., N.Y., 10038 may be able to assist you. The firm specializes in the appraisal of obsolete securities. A moderate fee is charged for this service.

PLANS RETIREMENT — R. A. (Al) Young of Mill Valley, president of the State Compensation Insurance Fund since 1963, will retire at the end of this year. An authority on workmen's compensation for more than 37 years, he has served as lecturer and faculty member of management schools and seminars.

Execs Like Outings On Yachts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Yachting parties costing anywhere from a few hundred dollars to $8,000 a day are becoming a promotional tool of business all over the free world.

The yachts may be either company owned or chartered. Companies that "own their own" charter their craft to other business firms through brokers when they aren't using them.

The boats range from cabin cruisers in the $30,000-$40,000 price range to the 300-foot sailing brig Antara, originally built for Germany's Krupp family and once-owned by Barbara Hutton, the Woolworth heiress.

Now owned by a Florida corporation, the Antara can be had for a cruising sales meeting, complete with crew and food and liquor for the guests, for a paltry $8,000 a day. She was chartered at that rate for a two week cruise in the Gulf of Mexico last year but this year has been undergoing refurbishing.

Just recently a Wall Street house, which prefers to remain unidentified, chartered five large yachts to take 200 clients on a cruise in Long Island Sound. The craft were chartered from Neal Heap's World Wide Yacht Enterprises, Inc.

Heap, who came to the United States from England 21 years ago, runs one of the few global chartering businesses. His firm owns no yachts and lists only craft furnished with a crew, but he can rent on short notice anything from a small sailing ketch with a Greek crew in the Aegean Sea to a craft big enough to carry a party of 50 across the Pacific.

Britain's Political Parties Will Meet

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

BRIGHTON, England (UPI) —Britain's two major political parties —the governing Conservatives and the opposition Laborites —are limbering up for their annual rank-and-file conventions. The battle raging over British entry into the Common Market and the Northern Ireland crisis are likely to keep sparks flying.

The Labor party meets at this big south coast resort Oct. 4-8. The Conservatives follow them here Oct. 13-16.

The third-ranking Liberal party held its conclave at Scarborough in mid-September. But, with only six members of parliament since the 1970 general election, the Liberals' standing has slumped so heavily that they attracted little public attention.

Unlike political conventions in the United States, the party "conferences," as they are known in Britain, are not held to nominate candidates for office.

They are annual affairs — nearly always held at a big seaside resort at this time of year —at which rank-and-file party workers get an opportunity to blow off steam and party leaders have to explain policies and outline plans for the coming political year.

Party chiefs such as Prime Minister Edward Heath and Labor opposition leader Harold Wilson are not even bound by resolutions passed by their party conferences.

In fact, the Labor party conference inevitably is dominated by the big trade unions, which provide much of the party's financial support and which control big block votes in the convention.

But the party conferences do at least provide a valuable sounding board for sizing up grass roots sentiment.

All indications are that the Common Market and the mounting violence in Northern Ireland will be the two most explosive issues at both the Conservative and Labor party gatherings.

Both parties are deeply divided in the great national debate over whether Britain should join the Common Market.

About one-half of the Labor party's top leadership, including Wilson, have come out against entry on the terms negotiated by the Conservative party government in June and July.

But many influential Labor leaders, including the party's deputy leader, Roy Jenkins, are campaigning openly and publicly in favor of joining.

Political experts expect a substantial majority vote against membership, if only because the biggest trade unions with the largest block votes in the party conference are against it.

Thus, the market membership issue is certain to touch off a bitter debate that will highlight the Labor party's split.

The Conservatives also are divided on joining the market, but much less so than the Laborites. They have scheduled a debate on it Oct. 13. Political experts predict at least a two-third majority of the Conservatives will vote in favor of joining.

The Northern Ireland bloodshed is certain to bring the two parties' rank-and-file to the boil, although no serious party splits are expected over it.

The Labor party will concentrate largely on criticizing the Conservative government's handling of the Ulster situation, particularly the instrument without trial of Irish Republican Army (IRA) suspects.

The Conservative conference is likely to produce demands for even stronger action to curb the IRA guerrillas.

In any event, the two gatherings will act as curtain-raisers for parliament, which reassembles Oct. 18 after a nine weeks' summer recess. The vote on market membership for Britain will come 10 days later.

Jail Sentence On Pot Charge

Sgt. George Milton Elsea, 26, of Hamilton Air Force Base, has been sentenced to 30 days in Marin County Jail for possessing marijuana.

Judge Robert A. Smallman of Marin Municipal Court placed him on probation for two years and gave him credit for seven days he already had spent in jail.

Elsea, originally charged with felony possession of the weed, pleaded guilty to a reduced misdemeanor count in July.

He was arrested May 11 when Novato police stopped his car because it didn't have a license plate. Police said they found three small bags of pot in the car.

'Sign-In' Set On Amendment

A "sign-in" to obtain signatures for the Jarvis amendment petition a property tax limitation measure — will be held from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Luckey Market in Fairfax.

John Winters of Larkspur, Marin County coordinator for the drive to get an amendment on the ballot which would limit property taxes to 1 per cent of market value of property, said he already has over 4,000 Marin signatures.

He said he hoped to go over the 5,000 quota set for Marin by Oct. 15, when the drive will close.

County Fair Will Display Moon Rock

Results of the United States space program will be displayed at the Marin County Fair, Oct. 8 through 11 at the Marin Civic Center.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will supply a piece of moon rock, a cutaway model of the Apollo command module in which American astronauts flew to the moon, a walk-through exhibit on "The Perfect Aircraft" and a display of "Benefits from Space," according to Marcelle McCoy, fair manager.

Marin camera enthusiasts will be able to photograph the four-ounce moon rock through its sealed glass case, Mrs. McCoy added. It will be on display in the exhibition hall of the Veterans Memorial Building.

Other attractions of the four-day fair will include competitions in floriculture and horticulture, art and craft exhibits, puppet shows, a circus, carnival and boat rides and special entertainment.

Bound Over In Auto Case

William Frank Howard, 27, of San Francisco, has been bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a felony charge of car theft.

He is to appear in superior court Oct. 7.

Howard was arrested Sept. 11 after the California Highway Patrol attempted to stop him for a traffic violation on Highway 101 near Sausalito. Howard sped off, the highway patrol said, but his car spun out of control and went over an embankment. He was not injured, but a check revealed the car he was driving was stolen, officars said.
